

U. S. STOPS AID TO 4,500 FULTON RELIEF CASES, REFERS 'UNEMPLOYABLES' TO COUNTY BOARD

Judge Orders Whitley Injunction To Stay in Force

ACTION OF SIBLEY FOLLOWS HEARING ON NRA COMPLAINT

Temporary Order to Remain in Force Until Hearing is Held on Permanent Injunction,
Probably Not for Months

HEARING FEATURED BY COX'S AFFIDAVIT

Engineer Said Wage Scale Inserted in Whi-ley Contracts by Wilburn
Over His Protests.

A federal temporary injunction restraining John Whitley from violating the wage and hour provisions of the NRA construction code was continued in effect Saturday by Circuit Judge Samuel H. Sibley after a sensational hearing which included an affidavit by the state highway engineer that supplemental clauses had been inserted in Whitley's contracts after they had been approved by the highway board.

The temporary injunction is to remain in force and effect until a hearing will be held on the permanent injunction. No date for this hearing has been set but it was indicated Saturday that it might not be held for several months.

State Engineer M. E. Cox said in an affidavit that Chairman Eugene Wilburn, of the board, had inserted over 100 clauses in contracts given Whitley for two road contracts, a clause setting the wages at the same level as those prevailing in the communities where the work was done.

Counsel for Whitley, LaGrange, Ga., contractor, had contended that one section of the NRA construction code provided exemption for contractors in some sections while "competent authority" had established local minimum wages.

This local minimum wage scale, Whitley's counsel contend, was provided by the state highway board's ruling that in so far as wholly state aid jobs are concerned, the wages prevailing in the communities where the work is being done shall be paid.

Clause Ruled Illegal.

Judge Sibley, who was sitting in federal district court in the absence of District Judge E. Marvin Underwood, ruled that this clause containing minimum wage scale language is not binding on any contractor. He held also that Chairman Eugene Wilburn had no authority to attach the wage clause to the contracts, and upheld the government's contention that the clauses were not in Whitley's contracts but had been added later.

"The clause in fact is little meaning," Judge Sibley said. "It could not possibly benefit the state, but could benefit only Whitley."

Judge Sibley made no ruling on Whitley's contention that sections of

Rescued from Cult, Child Dies in Hour

LONGVIEW, Texas, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Juanita Arrington, 4-year-old daughter of a Gladewater family, died of pneumonia in a hospital today—two hours after she had been wrested by officers from weird religious leaders.

Her parents, William and Besiege Arrington, were charged with negligent homicide. Fred Erisman, assistant district attorney, commented: "This seems to be a matter of the grand jury to go into."

Physicians and officers told of the child's condition before her removal by cultists who shook her and prayed in weird tones.

Erisman said the child's parents would not be arrested on the homicide charge until after the child's funeral.

MILL OPERATORS HOLD PEACE KEY TO STRIKE THREAT

Textile Workers Planning Effort To Force Manu- facturers to Submit to Round-Table Parleys.

By the Associated Press.

Planning to announce it only 12 hours before the men quit work, leaders of the United Textile Workers of America met in secret session Saturday to set a date for the impending textile strike, affecting approximately 250,000 workers.

It was within the executive committee's power to call the strike any time "before September 1." They were armed with authority to call out a quarter million silk and rayon workers to reinforce the union's 500,000-man plant workers.

Hoped that the strike could be delayed by negotiation were brightened, however, with the announcement that the textile industry's NRA industrial relations board would call both sides in next week to discuss the situation.

Meanwhile, the textile union's convention in New York, with about $1,000,000 on hand, voted down a proposal to raise $15,000 a month as a strike wage chest.

Larger picket lines patrolled the New Kensington plant of the American Woolen Company, but two little girls crashed the blockade at the company's branch in Alcoa, Tenn. Marmi Hood, 5, and even Rees Hedge, 4, were delivered to the plant, each bearing $2.26 in postage stamps, as parcel post packages to their fathers, whom they had hidden inside the plant workers' dormitory.

The textile union's convention in New York, with about $1,000,000 on hand, voted down a proposal to raise $15,000 a month as a strike wage chest.

Meanwhile, the textile union's convention in New York, with about $1,000,000 on hand, voted down a proposal to raise $15,000 a month as a strike wage chest.

The boys, with their ages and addresses selected to appear before the judges Friday following in alphabetical order:

Walter Clinton Broach, 16, Richland.

Earle Cocke Jr., 13, 28 Peachtree way, Atlanta.

Ben Cogburn, 13, 18 Ridgeland way, Atlanta.

Claude Davidson, 16, 305 N. Lewis street, LaGrange.

Pat Moore Dobbins, 16, 307 E. Lawrence street, Marietta.

John A. Enterkin, 17, 115 E. Broad street, Douglasville.

George F. Hannan, 13, Atco.

John Head, 13, 654 Boulevard, N. E., Atlanta.

Alex Hitz Jr., 13, 2520 Brookwood dr., N. E., Atlanta.

William E. Howell, 16, Zebulon.

Homer Gray Hutchinson, 17, Canton.

William McNeil, 15, Fairburn.

Walker Lawrence Newton Jr., 16, Route 3, Madison.

J. R. Potts, 15, 1211 N. Madison street, Albany.

Harry W. Trimble, 16, 1440 S. Mil-edge avenue, Athens.

Louis Carter, Troupdale, 15, 193

Continued in Page 2, Column 6.

TECHWOOD RAISING BIDS REQUESTED

Early Letting of University Demolition Project Contract Is Expected.

Bids for demolition of old buildings in the Techwood area were asked Saturday by D. A. Calhoun, supervising projects manager of Techwood, Inc., low-cost housing project being prosecuted here by the federal emergency administration of public works.

Contract for raising the buildings in the university area is expected to be let within the next few days, as bids were opened August 15 and already had been forwarded to Washington officials for scrutiny.

Techwood officials said it is preferable to let the contracts as soon as possible, but that actual construction can begin on both university and Techwood early this fall unless unforeseen delays occur.

There are 137 frame houses in Techwood and a block of brick stores which will be removed before construction of the low-cost housing development can be undertaken.

The area affected by the new request for bids is bounded by Fair, Maher, Larkin, Dorsey and Lawless streets and Greenberry avenue.

A total of more than $5,000,000 on the development is provided under plans already evolved by the federal government. Work will be provided for more than 1,000 workers for about a year.

SIBLEY UPHOLDS WHITLEY ORDER

Continued From First Page.

the construction code are unconstitutional, leaving that, he said, to the United States supreme court, which will soon rule on the issue.

He held, however, that Whitley and all other contractors who have not signed it, even though they have not signed it, and even though their work is on projects constructed entirely with state money.

One of Whitley's contentions was that he had never signed the code, and had never received a Blue Eagle. The judge also upheld the government's contention that the roads on which Whitley was working at the time he was temporarily enjoined a workman's compensation and highway systems, and as such can be regulated by the federal government.

Judge Sibley was definite in his statement that the highway board had no authority to insert the wage clause in contracts, adding that so far as he could tell, the clause could not be considered a legal part of the contract.

The clause had no heading, he said, as should have had under the law, being merely typewritten on a blank piece of paper and pasted to the contract.

Many Affidavits Offered.

During the two days of the hearings, more than a score of affidavits were submitted by both sides. Some by former Whitley employees, some that the contractor had paid wages as low as eight and one-half cents an hour for working days as long as 18 hours. The NRA wage minimum is 40 cents an hour for working days not to exceed eight hours any 24. Contractors who have competed for the highway contract offered affidavits that they had no knowledge of the highway board's minimum wage clause. The defense offered one affidavit that another contractor in the state had paid less than NRA minimum wages.

In an affidavit offered in the case, State Engineer Cox stated that the wage provisions were inserted

Drowning Fish Saved By Air in Aquarium

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The idea of fish drowning never occurred to Joe Kaplan until he saw them with his own eyes.

Now he has provided an "electric lung" for his aquarium to save his fish.

The tropical toy fish, Kaplan explained, were in a period of overproduction and there wasn't enough air to go around. The water plants couldn't furnish enough and the fish were drowning in their native element.

The "lung" is a porous stone on the end of a rubber tube. An electric motor pumps air through the stone, providing oxygen enough for all.

ed in the two Whitley contracts "about a week" after the awards were made to the Whitley contract and that the provisions were not given the other contractors when they entered their bids.

Chairman Wilburn testified that the wage clause was written into the contracts before they were signed by him. Mr. Cox, in a subsequent affidavit, made Saturday, bore out Chairman Wilburn's in his stand that the changes were made before the contracts were signed, but repeated that the provisions were written in after the awards were made.

Geiger, special counsel of the litigation division of the NRA, who handled the government's case, said in his final argument that "this court holds the future of the construction code in the balance" and said "the code is doomed" if Judge Sibley dismissed the injunction.

"We have seen in this courtroom," Geiger added, "the sorry spectacle of the interstate highway board going to any lengths in an effort to sustain this defendant."

All three of the state highway board members, as well as the engineer and the secretary-treasurer, attended the court sessions under subpoenas by the government. In addition to Chairman Wilburn, John Heck, a member of the board, was present.

Heck was in full force and effect at the time Whitley signed.

controversy arises, is already gone. It has been performed by the state. Whitley can do nothing more on it. The other one, according to the testimony, has only about a week to run. Actually, there is nothing involved except Whitley's right to help labor for a week, but the questions are big questions, important ones, and I suppose it is my duty to decide them.

NRA Before Court.

"The general validity of the NRA is before the supreme court to be argued at its October term and in two months' time we suppose we will know all about it. I would be loath under these circumstances, to enter into any general discussion about it. I really think the last section of Title V makes it improper that it provide that the provisions of the chapter or the application thereof, to anyone or circumstances, be held invalid, and that the remainder of the chapter and the application of such provision or other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby. I think that pins me down to taking this act and the provisions which are directly involved, and trying to see what the persons in the circumstances directly involved in to see whether or not they can be sustained as to those questions and, under those circumstances,

"Now, I say that particularly because it seems to me that an effort by the congress to regulate the industry involved, a branch of the industry, it is, in a case of contractors who execute work on public roads, which are public roads of the state, and also post roads of the United States and also arteries of interstate traffic. I do not regard these as new roads. They have long been both public roads and, under the evidence, I am bound to say, between the state and the United States, to improve and develop; perhaps some re-location was involved, but in the big idea it was the improvement of the old roads so as to make them more effective for all purposes that they serve.

U. S. Helps Pay.

"Now, the United States helped for the initial stages of that development. The particular contract that is here involved is a separate contract, but yet a part of that original plan, and these very contracts contain references, both in the proposal and the contracts, to the aid of the United States and to the United States legislation on the part of the board, and nothing so far as to recite that the United States could sue, in its own behalf, as well as the state of Georgia, for the use of the United States, concerning this work. It all goes to show that the work we are dealing with is a work of the state and the United States and the state are co-operating and have an interest. It is public work and to the public work both to the state and to the United States.

"Now, this code undertakes to regulate this work by prescribing maximum hours of labor and minimum rates of pay and contemplated to be put in the code and be enforced, and there is no question of the code going beyond the facts. The case must be viewed as though congress had passed this with reference to work of the class with which we are dealing, and the constitutional question is, could congress regulate the hours of labor and the rates of pay on work in which it had an interest as a post road or as an artery of interstate commerce.

Congress Regulation.

"When you read all the decisions that have been made, I cannot say the question is absolutely clear, but my best judgment is that congress could regulate those matters, if it was not a final decision. The case is still to be tried on its merits. The fact may be decided, and the constitutional question is, could congress regulate the hours of labor and the rates of pay on work in which it had an interest as a post road or as an artery of interstate commerce.

"On the question of preliminary injunction, I might well decide the case as a discretionary matter. It is not a final decision. The case is still to be tried on its merits. The fact may be decided, and the constitutional question is, could congress regulate the hours of labor and the rates of pay on work in which it had an interest as a post road or as an artery of interstate commerce.

Plain English.

"The first doubt about this exception is on the words: 'have been established—they are not to be established but have been established,' with no time mentioned. Does it mean 'have been established,' when this code goes into effect, and the parties are allowed to fulfill their obligation in a contract without embarrassment, or is it intended to allow the state and federal agencies, for the future, to make contracts in disregard of the code provisions? Now, those were private contracts, and there were no restrictions to those in existence at the time the code goes in effect, and no new contracts with labor unions could be made contrary to the code; the difference in language is rather slight. The idea was there was a difference in intent, and if there was an idea to let the state agency make a contract different from those two par-

A. C. L. ACCEPTS TAX ASSESSMENT

Road Follows Southern and Seaboard in Agreement With State.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad Saturday reached an agreement with the state of Georgia to accept its 1933 tax assessment for this year's tax rating. In doing so they joined with the Southern Railway and the Seaboard Air Line, which earlier had agreed to accept the tax assessment of the state.

"The three roads, together with the Central of Georgia, have now accepted the 18 per cent reduction in class freight rates ordered by the public service commission would become effective on Monday. Forty other lines in the state also were expected to publish the decreased tariffs, effective August 20.

The Central of Georgia did not accept it, the proposal was to do so as did the other three large carriers. Attorneys said this road would, for the time being, rest on an injunction obtained from Federal Judge William H. Barrett against arbitrations on its assessment.

In making the agreement with the state the A. C. L. will pay state taxes on its gross earnings of $14,000,000 on its property instead of the $25,000,000 valuation made by state officials when the road joined other rail carriers in a fight against the rate reduction orders of the public service commission.

Railroad officials said that under the agreements made with the state, Georgia will receive $15,000 greater than those originally returned by the companies for this year.

In regard to the 18 per cent class rate reduction the roads deserved the right to go before the interstate commission to overturn the rates, but the state commission had a 27 per cent rate reduction ordered by the commission. That might make a great difference in his bid and he would not be a just competitor at all. In fact, I do not know whether a contract let under these circumstances would really be a valid contract.

"Anyway, let's see now what happened in these proposals. I do not think this condition was attached to either proposal when it was made. I do not think witness swears they were attached when made. Several years ago they were attached before the code was made. One of the proposals refers to a special provision hereto attached, and I have tried to see what was attached. The physical evidence looks like that none of these was attached that are in here now. These three clips now fasten on the papers together and fasten the bond contract and special conditions and the proposal. Of course, they were not in there when the proposal was filed, there was no bond, there was no contract, they could not have been attached then. There are physical marks on the proposal which show that three other fasteners have been in there and they are now. Then the bond contract and special conditions and the proposal. Of course, they were not attached to it although there is a reference to attached conditions.

No Reference to Conditions.

"Now, the other proposal contains no reference to attached conditions. It has exactly similar terms and forms attached and those marks do not indicate several conditions, but unfortunately the particular condition that we are worrying about has not got any such marks on it, it has been attached on one of the others and the marks do not go through the pasting, and just looking at the testimony while the witness is giving it, it is conceivable, when the advancement for bids, made and when the proposals were accepted, and a contract made, if they are very much alike, it is not necessary to attach several conditions, but unfortunately the particular condition that they made is one in which the state furnishes all the money. Now, the code itself, that was adopted, contains a provision by way of exception on which reliance can be placed in the light of what we see here. I conclude, as a matter of fact, the proposals were not made with this condition a part of them. They were accepted by the board on its minutes of June 7, the very day they are dated; according to the state highway commission, those conditions came later, some days later, and he at first objected to their being put into the contract.

"I think that he is right about it. I do not think they had any right to go in there. I do not think the chairman clearly had any right to put them in. I do not think they are a binding part of the contract. If he had been against Mr. Whitley, I do not think he could have been made to accept them, and that is the only reason I think he had any right to do without that. When the state of Georgia gets mixed up in it the matter becomes more doubtful, because, in regulating these matters, the United States in a measure, controls the expenditure of state money, and that is a serious thing to contemplate. I do not see that there is any possibility of the court lacking jurisdiction, although what the merits of the case develop, it is not clear to me that the court has jurisdiction to sustain the motion to dismiss is overruled.

"On the question of preliminary injunction, I might well decide the case as a discretionary matter. It is not a final decision. The case is still to be tried on its merits. The fact may be decided, and the constitutional question is, could congress regulate the hours of labor and the rates of pay on work in which it had an interest as a post road or as an artery of interstate commerce.

Plain English.

"The first doubt about this exception is on the words: 'have been established—they are not to be established but have been established,' with no time mentioned. Does it mean 'have been established,' when this code goes into effect, and the parties are allowed to fulfill their obligation in a contract without embarrassment, or is it intended to allow the state and federal agencies, for the future, to make contracts in disregard of the code provisions? Now, those were private contracts, and there were no restrictions to those in existence at the time the code goes in effect, and no new contracts with labor unions could be made contrary to the code; the difference in language is rather slight. The idea was there was a difference in intent, and if there was an idea to let the state agency make a contract different from those two particulars than what the code provides, that would bring us up to the question of whether that was done in this case and that is really the only question that I have been bothered by.

CASE LEFT UNCERTAIN.

"The case is left rather uncertain to me as to what the law of Georgia is about public contracts in general and what the law is about the contract by this highway board. The original act invests them with power to make contracts, and that is what they do. I do not know what the state statistics are as to how public contracts must be made. I think they would attach to this party and they would have to be made that way. I was under the impression that they had to be by competitive bids above a certain amount, but no statute to that effect has been produced. In this state, however, competitive bids were invited and that seemed to be the practice of the state.

"The three roads, together with the Central of Georgia, have now accepted the 18 per cent reduction in class freight rates ordered by the public service commission would become effective on Monday. Forty other lines in the state also were expected to publish the decreased tariffs, effective August 20.

The Central of Georgia did not accept it, the proposal was to do so as did the other three large carriers. Attorneys said this road would, for the time being, rest on an injunction obtained from Federal Judge William H. Barrett against arbitrations on its assessment.

"In making the agreement with the state, Georgia will receive $15,000 greater than those originally returned by the companies for this year.

In regard to the 18 per cent class rate reduction the roads deserved the right to go before the interstate commission to overturn the rates, but the state commission had a 27 per cent rate reduction ordered by the commission. That might make a great difference in his bid and he would not be a just competitor at all. In fact, I do not know whether a contract let under these circumstances would really be a valid contract.

"Anyway, let's see now what happened in these proposals. I do not think this condition was attached to either proposal when it was made. I do not think witness swears they were attached when made. Several years ago they were attached before the code was made. One of the proposals refers to a special provision hereto attached, and I have tried to see what was attached. The physical evidence looks like that none of these was attached that are in here now. These three clips now fasten on the papers together and fasten the bond contract and special conditions and the proposal. Of course, they were not in there when the proposal was filed, there was no bond, there was no contract, they could not have been attached then. There are physical marks on the proposal which show that three other fasteners have been in there and they are now. Then the bond contract and special conditions and the proposal. Of course, they were not attached to it although there is a reference to attached conditions.

"Now, the other proposal contains no reference to attached conditions. It has exactly similar terms and forms attached and those marks do not indicate several conditions, but unfortunately the particular condition that we are worrying about has not got any such marks on it, it has been attached on one of the others and the marks do not go through the pasting, and just looking at the testimony while the witness is giving it, it is conceivable, when the advancement for bids, made and when the proposals were accepted, and a contract made, if they are very much alike, it is not necessary to attach several conditions, but unfortunately the particular condition that they made is one in which the state furnishes all the money. Now, the code itself, that was adopted, contains a provision by way of exception on which reliance can be placed in the light of what we see here. I conclude, as a matter of fact, the proposals were not made with this condition a part of them. They were accepted by the board on its minutes of June 7, the very day they are dated; according to the state highway commission, those conditions came later, some days later, and he at first objected to their being put into the contract.

"I think that he is right about it. I do not think they had any right to go in there. I do not think the chairman clearly had any right to put them in. I do not think they are a binding part of the contract. If he had been against Mr. Whitley, I do not think he could have been made to accept them, and that is the only reason I think he had any right to do without that. When the state of Georgia gets mixed up in it the matter becomes more doubtful, because, in regulating these matters, the United States in a measure, controls the expenditure of state money, and that is a serious thing to contemplate. I do not see that there is any possibility of the court lacking jurisdiction, although what the merits of the case develop, it is not clear to me that the court has jurisdiction to sustain the motion to dismiss is overruled.

"On the question of preliminary injunction, I might well decide the case as a discretionary matter. It is not a final decision. The case is still to be tried on its merits. The fact may be decided, and the constitutional question is, could congress regulate the hours of labor and the rates of pay on work in which it had an interest as a post road or as an artery of interstate commerce.

Plain English.

"The first doubt about this exception is on the words: 'have been established—they are not to be established but have been established,' with no time mentioned. Does it mean 'have been established,' when this code goes into effect, and the parties are allowed to fulfill their obligation in a contract without embarrassment, or is it intended to allow the state and federal agencies, for the future, to make contracts in disregard of the code provisions? Now, those were private contracts, and there were no restrictions to those in existence at the time the code goes in effect, and no new contracts with labor unions could be made contrary to the code; the difference in language is rather slight. The idea was there was a difference in intent, and if there was an idea to let the state agency make a contract different from those two par-

DEMOCRATS FACE NEW VOTING TESTS

Important Primaries in Five States Slated Next Two Weeks.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Important primaries in five states in which candidates will be selected for senate seats in Wyoming, California and Mississippi, will wind up August 24, preparatory contests within the next two weeks.

Immediately after the primaries, delegates to the American Federation of Labor, asking for higher wages and shorter hours for auto workers, NRA will be held on September 1.

Representative Joseph C. O'Mahoney will be nominated by Wyoming Democrats next Tuesday. Senator Hiram Johnson, of San Francisco, is expected by administration leaders to receive both the republican and democratic nominations, the following Tuesday. O'Mahoney is unopposed. Johnson, a representative of the American Federation of Labor, has been nominated by Wyoming Republicans.

Representative Vincent Carter has three opponents for the Wyoming republican senatorial nomination.

With the American Federation of Labor asking for higher wages and shorter hours for auto workers, NRA will be held on September 1.

Representative Joseph C. O'Mahoney will be nominated by Wyoming Democrats next Tuesday. Senator Hiram Johnson, of San Francisco, is expected by administration leaders to receive both the republican and democratic nominations, the following Tuesday. O'Mahoney is unopposed. Johnson, a representative of the American Federation of Labor, has been nominated by Wyoming Republicans.

Representative Vincent Carter has three opponents for the Wyoming republican senatorial nomination.

With the American Federation of Labor asking for higher wages and shorter hours for auto workers, NRA will be held on September 1.

Representative Vincent Carter has three opponents for the Wyoming republican senatorial nomination.

RFC LOANS AVAILABLE FOR GEORGIA MINERS

Money Available for Producers of Metallic Ores, Cooke Announces.

Seeking to give new impetus to the mining industry of the state, the Atlanta office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced Saturday that loans will be available for miners of metallic ores, upon adequate security.

The RFC will make loans upon security based on mineral acreage to recognized and established corporations engaged in the business of mining, milling, or smelting of ore, according to Erle Cooke, head of the RFC here. Loans will ordinarily be made for a period of not in excess of five years, he said, and interest will probably not exceed 6 per cent.

According to Cooke, there are only four metal mines in Georgia being actively mined. They are iron, manganese, gold and aluminum. There are a number of gold mines in Lumpkin, White, Harrelson, Paulding, Cherokee and Forsyth counties, while iron is mined principally in Polk county, aluminum ore in Sumter, and manganese in Bartow county.

All applications for loans will be filed direct with the RFC in Washington on forms furnished by the Washington office. Preliminary information can be obtained at the Atlanta agency.

Safe Robbers Enter Piedmont Road Store

A $250 safe robbery, an attempted safe-blowing and a large number of burglaries, one reported by John H. Hudson, assistant solicitor-general, engaged the attention of police Saturday.

Vigil entered a grocery store at 1585 Piedmont road and placed a charge of nitroglycerine in the safe but failed to set it off. They took $1 from a cash register, however, and then tunneled through a wall into the store next door at 1578 Piedmont road and blew open the safe, getting $250. Residents said they heard the explosion about 4:30 a.m.

Solicitor Hudson reported that his home at 1711 Gordon street, S. W., was ransacked by burglars who got a small amount of change, a pen knife and a watch. C. H. Nix, who lives next door, was also visited by the burglars who took a knife and a pair of pants.

Craig & Seitzer drug store, at 1199 Lucile avenue, S. W., lost cigars and cigarettes to burglars. Some of the loot was recovered from a vacant field nearby. Cay Roberts lost 16 chickens from his home at 513 West Hunter street; R. B. Davours, 694 Pryor street, S. W., lost six chickens, and F. A. Ferrell, 873 Argonne avenue, N. E., lost a dozen chickens.

FULTON COUNTY DETENTION HOME RAPPED IN REPORT

Pointing out the need of local protection for criminal youths against older criminals, R. A. Chappelle, United States probation officer here, declared in his annual report Saturday that the Fulton county detention home is little better than a common jail.

He deplored the fact that the Georgia legislature had recently declared unconstitutional and expressed the hope that the next assembly would pass an adequate law. He said that the government made provision for youthful offenders in the federal courts, but that it was up to local communities to protect their juvenile offenders.

Referring to the Fulton county detention home, the report said:

"The present institution is a disgrace to any civilized community. Its only claim of merit is the fact that it offers segregation of children from adults, and no disciplined adult criminals. The cost of a short stretch of paved road would be sufficient to support an adequate juvenile court and detention home. It would pay large dividends in the saving of our young people from lives of crime. Let me bear in mind that the maintenance of a prison costs the taxpayer from 20 cents to $1 a day. It is to our interest to invest a small amount in the prevention of crime. I know of no place where the adage 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure' is more applicable."

PRESTON TO ADDRESS B.Y.P.U. SCHOOL HERE

William Hall Preston, of Nashville, state B. Y. P. U. secretary of Tennessee, will be among speakers on the program of the 1934 B. Y. P. U. training school which opens on August 27 at the First Baptist church. He will speak during the first night's session. Other addresses will be made by Dr. John H. Hill, of Nashville; Dr. Louie D. Newton and others.

The junior school will begin on Monday morning, the 27th, at 9 o'clock and classes will be held each day thereafter from that time until 11:25 a.m. The intermediate, senior and adult sessions will open at 6:30 o'clock that night and continue until 9 o'clock each night during the week.

SUPERFEX DEALERS HOLD MEETING HERE

Georgia dealers of the Perfection Oil Stove Co., manufacturers of Superfex refrigerators attended a sales meeting held by the company at the Henry Grady hotel Saturday and discussed plans for the coming year.

J. E. Varner, Georgia distributor, presided over the convention. Models were shown to the dealers.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Army orders Col. Edward L. Quigley, ordnance department, to Washington. Major Livingston Watrous, adjutant general, to Fort Benning, Ga. Miss Major Clarke Blane, medical corps, to army medical center.

Major Alexander C. Sullivan, field artillery, to various posts.

Captain Clay L. Hopper, signal corps, relieved from duty at headquarters, fourth corps area, to Fort Harrison, and ordered to Governor's Island.

Second Lieutenant Robert M. Lowe, air corps, promoted to captain of flying.

First Lieutenant Charles E. Bassett and Russell J. Minty, air corps, to University of Michigan.

First Lieutenant Auguste E. R. Taylor, field artillery, to Yale University.

Second Lieutenant Gradyon C. Easman, air corps, promoted to captain.

Captain Harry G. Armstrong, medical corps, to Wright Field.

First Lieutenant George P. Harrison, field artillery, to Walter Reed General hospital.

An army retiring board appointed to meet at headquarters, sixth corps area, Chicago, for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it. Coloneys and dress blues, Captains Edward Davis, cavalry; Charles O. Thomas Jr., cavalry; Robert Sterrett, quartermaster corps; Captain John H. H. medical corps; Captain Garland T. Brown, ordnance.

Majors Herbert L. Quickel and Royal E. Starnes, medical corps, detailed as medical examiners and witnesses before army retiring board appointed to meet at Chicago.

Second Lieutenant Houston P. Hauser Jr., promoted to captain.

Ticker Service Expense Denied U. S. Officials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP) High government officials who have been getting news hot off the wires through a ticker service at $75 a month—government money—will have to pay for the service themselves or else eliminate it.

They include Postmaster General Farley, Secretary Morgenthau, Attorney-General Cummings and Hugh S. Johnson.

Comptroller General J. R. McFarland decided today he had ruled federal funds could not be employed to cover the cost of the service. The ruling applied specifically only to Farley's ticker, but officials said it would cover all others secured by government officers.

Seeking to give new impetus to the mining industry of the state, the Atlanta office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced Saturday that loans will be available for miners of metallic ores, upon adequate security.

The RFC will make loans upon security based on mineral acreage to recognized and established corporations engaged in the business of mining, milling, or smelting of ore, according to Erle Cooke, head of the RFC here.

Loans will ordinarily be made for a period of not in excess of five years, he said, and interest will probably not exceed 6 per cent.

According to Cooke, there are only four metal mines in Georgia being actively mined. They are iron, manganese, gold and aluminum.

There are a number of gold mines in Lumpkin, White, Harrelson, Paulding, Cherokee and Forsyth counties, while iron is mined principally in Polk county, aluminum ore in Sumter, and manganese in Bartow county.

All applications for loans will be filed direct with the RFC in Washington on forms furnished by the Washington office.

Preliminary information can be obtained at the Atlanta agency.

Safe Robbers Enter Piedmont Road Store

A $250 safe robbery, an attempted safe-blowing and a large number of burglaries, one reported by John H. Hudson, assistant solicitor-general, engaged the attention of police Saturday.

Vigil entered a grocery store at 1585 Piedmont road and placed a charge of nitroglycerine in the safe but failed to set it off. They took $1 from a cash register, however, and then tunneled through a wall into the store next door at 1578 Piedmont road and blew open the safe, getting $250.

Residents said they heard the explosion about 4:30 a.m.

Solicitor Hudson reported that his home at 1711 Gordon street, S. W., was ransacked by burglars who got a small amount of change, a pen knife and a watch.

Craig & Seitzer drug store, at 1199 Lucile avenue, S. W., lost cigars and cigarettes to burglars. Some of the loot was recovered from a vacant field nearby.

Cay Roberts lost 16 chickens from his home at 513 West Hunter street; R. B. Davours, 694 Pryor street, S. W., lost six chickens, and F. A. Ferrell, 873 Argonne avenue, N. E., lost a dozen chickens.

FULTON COUNTY DETENTION HOME RAPPED IN REPORT

Pointing out the need of local protection for criminal youths against older criminals, R. A. Chappelle, United States probation officer here, declared in his annual report Saturday that the Fulton county detention home is little better than a common jail.

He deplored the fact that the Georgia legislature had recently declared unconstitutional and expressed the hope that the next assembly would pass an adequate law. He said that the government made provision for youthful offenders in the federal courts, but that it was up to local communities to protect their juvenile offenders.

Referring to the Fulton county detention home, the report said:

"The present institution is a disgrace to any civilized community. Its only claim of merit is the fact that it offers segregation of children from adults, and no disciplined adult criminals. The cost of a short stretch of paved road would be sufficient to support an adequate juvenile court and detention home. It would pay large dividends in the saving of our young people from lives of crime. Let me bear in mind that the maintenance of a prison costs the taxpayer from 20 cents to $1 a day. It is to our interest to invest a small amount in the prevention of crime. I know of no place where the adage 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure' is more applicable."

PRESTON TO ADDRESS B.Y.P.U. SCHOOL HERE

William Hall Preston, of Nashville, state B. Y. P. U. secretary of Tennessee, will be among speakers on the program of the 1934 B. Y. P. U. training school which opens on August 27 at the First Baptist church.

He will speak during the first night's session. Other addresses will be made by Dr. John H. Hill, of Nashville; Dr. Louie D. Newton and others.

The junior school will begin on Monday morning, the 27th, at 9 o'clock and classes will be held each day thereafter from that time until 11:25 a.m. The intermediate, senior and adult sessions will open at 6:30 o'clock that night and continue until 9 o'clock each night during the week.

SUPERFEX DEALERS HOLD MEETING HERE

Georgia dealers of the Perfection Oil Stove Co., manufacturers of Superfex refrigerators attended a sales meeting held by the company at the Henry Grady hotel Saturday and discussed plans for the coming year.

J. E. Varner, Georgia distributor, presided over the convention. Models were shown to the dealers.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Army orders

Col. Edward L. Quigley, ordnance department, to Washington. Major Livingston Watrous, adjutant general, to Fort Benning, Ga.

Major Clarke Blane, medical corps, to army medical center.

Major Alexander C. Sullivan, field artillery, to various posts.

Captain Clay L. Hopper, signal corps, relieved from duty at headquarters, fourth corps area, to Fort Harrison, and ordered to Governor's Island.

Second Lieutenant Robert M. Lowe, air corps, promoted to captain of flying.

First Lieutenant Charles E. Bassett and Russell J. Minty, air corps, to University of Michigan.

First Lieutenant Auguste E. R. Taylor, field artillery, to Yale University.

Second Lieutenant Gradyon C. Easman, air corps, promoted to captain.

Captain Harry G. Armstrong, medical corps, to Wright Field.

First Lieutenant George P. Harrison, field artillery, to Walter Reed General hospital.

An army retiring board appointed to meet at headquarters, sixth corps area, Chicago, for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it. Coloneys and dress blues, Captains Edward Davis, cavalry; Charles O. Thomas Jr., cavalry; Robert Sterrett, quartermaster corps; Captain John H. H. medical corps; Captain Garland T. Brown, ordnance.

Majors Herbert L. Quickel and Royal E. Starnes, medical corps, detailed as medical examiners and witnesses before army retiring board appointed to meet at Chicago.

Second Lieutenant Houston P. Hauser Jr., promoted to captain.

New Sewing Center Opened On Second Floor of Davison's

Miss Mary George, left, discusses plans for the new sewing center to be opened Monday at Davison-Paxton's with Mrs. Max E. Land, president of the Atlanta Woman's Club. Mrs. Land introduced Miss George at a pre-tea held Friday afternoon for 400 prominent Atlanta women interested in sewing.

"Although the drug stores in these larger cities are setting a fast pace in store layouts, operations and general service," said Mr. Ernest, "I am proud to say that the Lane group of stores will compare most favorably with the finest and most outstanding stores in the country."

"In general appearance and maintenance, I have found that we do not have to take a back seat for any of them. That sounds like a pretty good-sized order, but we can definitely back up that statement."

"One of the biggest jobs I had during the trip," said Mr. Ernest, "was the supervision of the erection of the new large unit in Knoxville. The new store, in appearance and design, compares admirably with the very finest drug stores in the United States. Business conditions in Knoxville have been constantly improving particularly with the help of the new project in the vicinity. In fact, surprising as some may think, there is a definite shortage of houses in Knoxville—a sign which points to a much looked for return of prosperity."

Mr. Ernest will be busy the next few weeks co-ordinating the information gathered on this extensive tour and wherever possible, to inject some of the many new ideas he gathered while on the trip.

"The first opportunity to use these additional ideas will be in the installation of the new store in Savannah, scheduled sometime this fall," said Mr. Ernest. "This new unit will be the last word in modern, high grade drug store equipment and will be a model of fitness from every point of efficiency and operation."

Alabama Leaders Split On TVA Tax Authority

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Divergent views widened into open differences today as Attorney-General Thomas E. Knight Jr. declared, and Governor B. M. Miller denied, that Alabama has authority to tax the Tennessee Valley Authority for its public utilities operations in this state.

Dictating a statement over long distance from Selma to his office here, Knight stated "I believe that the sale of goods, wares and merchandise, even though it be hydro-electric power, is an activity of the government in the nature of a private business."

Governor Miller, who last night declared the attorney-general had no instructions to speak for the state in the matter of TVA taxation, stated

"the TVA is an agency of the federal government and Alabama has no right to tax it. We want no taxes from the TVA except those provided by Congress."

Mr. George was able to give au-

Contractors Score State Road-Building

Elimination of Private Companies Wasteful, Inefficient, Says Resolution.

Resolutions scoring the policy of the state highway board of constructing state roads with its own forces, to the elimination of private contractors, the government's 15 per cent preferential in the purchase of materials, and complications of the code governing contractors, were adopted Saturday at the closing session of the two-day convention of southeastern contractors held in Atlanta.

The contractors pointed out in the resolution directed at the highway board that a continuance of the present policy would result in increased construction costs and would be wasteful, extravagant and inefficient.

Continuance of the 15 per cent preference in private materials to be used in government construction would make it impossible for general contractors to compete for government work against the government, which eventually would result in the government doing all its own work to the elimination of all general contractors, one of the resolutions set out.

The contractors set out in a resolution that they favored a code to govern their industry and would abide by the provisions of such a code but seek simplification and rigid enforcement of all code provisions on all industry activities, whether government or private. Unless this was accomplished, the resolution set out, reputations contractors cannot survive.

Buildings To Be Razored In Courthouse Block

Razing of all buildings in the courthouse block owned by the county and not used for official purposes has been definitely decided by the county commission, it was announced Saturday by George F. Longino, chairman, who said that the buildings will be given to the county's tenants this week.

The buildings to be razed include six stores on Hunter street and a brick residence facing on Mitchell street.

Under the plan adopted the grounds will be filled in by convict labor and a modern parking lot established with individual stalls. The remaining space will be landscaped with trees and shrubbery.

THOMAS L. BROOKE FUNERAL RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Thomas L. Brooke, 80, retired railway employee with more than 50 years of service, who died Friday at his residence, 2581 Woodward way, will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from Spring Hill with the Rev. S. A. Capelidge officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Brooke had been ill for six weeks. He had been retired from the N. C. & St. L. and the W. & A. railroads for the past nine years, the oldest office employee in point of service at the time of his retirement.

Over Seas

By CHARLES E. HARPER,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Germany's 45,000,000 voters, whipped into a frenzy of enthusiasm by all the arts of propaganda, are expected to give Adolf Hitler another resounding endorsement today.

In Germany itself failure to vote in the plebiscite in which Chancellor Hitler asks approval of his action in taking over the office of reichspraesident is regarded akin to treason.

But some of the voting will take place in distant parts of the world. Germans on German ships sailing the high seas will cast ballots. Thousands in foreign lands are going back to the fatherland to do their duty at the polling places, and it was expected that some Germans abroad would take short cruises into international waters and vote aboard ships.

In most respects the plebiscite today will duplicate the referendum of last November when Hitler demanded and got a rubber stamp approval of his decision to take Germany out of the League of Nations and the disarmament congress.

The November referendum provided Dr. Joseph Goebbels, Hitler minister, with an opportunity to demonstrate the efficiency of his vast propaganda machine, an engine which has been steamed up again to arouse the voters today.

The vote last November, in which the Hitler foreign policy was approved by 93.5 per cent of all casting ballots, was declared by the Nazi party to be "the miracle of Germany becoming one people." Observers also pronounced it an unprecedented achievement in getting a nation to act almost with unanimity on a controversial question.

To bring about this result Dr. Goebbels and Nazi chiefs resorted to every conceivable means of bringing voters to the polls and, once getting them there, making their vote as Hitler dictated.

The newspapers gave inspired support to the intensive campaign which preceded the balloting. The radio and day repeated the Hitler plea for "peace with honor and equality among nations." Handbills fluttered everywhere. Automobiles carried about bearing signs on which was the single word "Ja," the word voters were asked to check on ballots giving approval to Hitler's policies and to his selection of reichspraesident.

Storm troops paraded with bands. Even the blind were not overlooked. Hitler's policies and his expectation of the voters were published in Braille, the blind might vote right.

On election day voters were awakened by bugles, ruffle of drums and ringing of church bells. Swastikas and Nazi flags were unfurled everywhere.

As voting was drawing to a close Nazi committees went from house to house in all the larger cities to see that every possible vote was being cast. Not even in the concentration camps, where political and other prisoners were detained, was election day overlooked. The prisoners eligible voted—and by large majorities voted as Hitler wished.

In the chancellery that night Hitler heard that more than 90 per cent of the certified voters had cast ballots.

On the question of withdrawal from Geneva, and general sanctification of his foreign policies, 40,583,430 voted approval and only 2,052,100 opposed his wishes. The Nazi candidate for the reichspraesident received 39,621,437 votes, but there were no opposing candidates.

The election marked the complete disappearance of other German political parties, including the socialist, communist, and Catholic center-right. Hitler dominated the Reichstag and the majority of propoganda delivered the vote to him.

Hoover's Nephew Hurt in Plane Crash

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Central Telegraph office here announced today it had been informed that an airplane piloted by John Hoover, who said he is a nephew of former President Hoover, of the United States, crashed in the department of Santander, slightly injuring Hoover. The plane had come to Colombia from Los Angeles.

Jewish Conference To Meet at Geneva

GENEVA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Improvement of the situation of Jews in Germany and Russia will be an objective of a world congress of Jewish leaders, which began here Monday night. The new delegates represent nearly 40 Jewish organizations in 24 countries.

Outstanding subjects on the agenda also include a report on the status of the boycott against Germany, recommended by a similar conference last year, and a demand for the protection of Jews in the Saar region.

One of the aims of the conference, a spokesman for the permanent committee of Jewish delegations here stated, is that the condition of Jews remaining in Germany continues "intolerable" and that his organization sees no indications of more favorable treatment.

A campaign to combat what is termed anti-Semitic propaganda will be sought during the conference.

Bomb Kills Woman In Havana Store

HAVANA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Two bombs wrapped to look like parcels exploded early tonight in Havana's largest department store during a rush hour, killing one person and wounding 13, including five women.

The one known victim was a woman, fashionably dressed, about 20, who could not be identified. The man who planted the bombs was first reported dead but was among those seriously injured. Physicians said he had not died.

Among the wounded was Carlos Arias, manager of one of the Royal Bank of Canada's local branches. There were no Americans among the victims although many were in the store at the time of the blast.

Police said the bombing was on account of labor trouble, claiming they had information that anarchist employees had been carrying on a campaign against the store, sending warnings to customers they had better remain away.

Evans Motors Feature on Air

Eula, Dolly and Marjorie, known as the "Three of Hearts," WGST stars, broadcasting from the showrooms of the Evans Motors Company, 232-240 Peachtree street, N. E. This is a regular Friday feature at 8 p. m. Evans Motors Company are distributors of Willys and Austin automobiles.

TWO PRINCESSES HEAVILY GUARDED

U. S. STOPS AID TO FULTON CASES

Granddaughters of King of England Kept Inside Glamis Castle.

Failure to Pay Portion of Relief Cited by Miss Shepperson.

Continued From First Page.

she lists who are not classed as physically disabled, must be more than 50 years old.

"Unemployables" as distinguished from those persons work on the budget-relief plan, have been provided by the relief administration clothing, groceries, medicines and other necessities, and it is the task of their pilots to carry the warfare immediately to the civilian centers of "the enemy," simulating combined attack to spread terror behind the lines.

The task of jockeying for the maneuver is barren and almost entirely lacking in roads and other means of communication. The objective of the war games is to determine whether in the present stage of military advancement such county lends itself better to offensive or defensive action.

Much interest is centered in the performance of the new "celery" or fast divisions, equipped with light artillery, and give. They have been perfected since Premier Mussolini personally took charge of the war ministry and are intended for rapid offensive action.

Among other new units to be tried are regiments of light, easily maneuverable tanks built with an emphasis on speed to maintain warfare.

Particular attention is to be paid to defensive arrangements against gas and air attacks.

Simultaneously with the holding of the maneuvers in this region troops in other parts of the country will wind up their summer encampments with exercises on a smaller scale.

point out that the Georgia emergency relief administration has spent large sums of money in Fulton county, including the city of Atlanta, during 1934. Of this sum of money, up to August 15, we have only received 5 percent of the amount due us.

"It and when you pay us the $600 which is due, you will only have paid 6 per cent to the entire relief situation in this county."

Federal funds are being reduced each month and it is absolutely necessary that local government participate according to plan.

The city of Atlanta is contributing $40,000 monthly regularly, and it will be necessary for us to contribute $75,000 which is due and for us to be assured that we will receive $25,000 regularly each month.

"Not a single cent of the money furnished by the city or county goes to salaries. All goes for actual relief of your citizens."

"Our action is effective at once as we are faced with an immediate deficit. Unless you have some other solution to suggest we will have to notify this afternoon all 4,539 relief cases in Fulton county outside the city of Atlanta of our great regret for the necessity of this action."

Regret Delay.

Just what the county will do about the situation is in doubt. Walter C. Hendrix, chairman of the public works committee, said Saturday afternoon that he would continue his efforts to get in touch with Miss Shepperson, and arrange a conference for Sunday morning if possible.

"We can't know exactly what to expect Monday morning," Mr. Hendrix said, "and we want the people to know where they stand. These people are without relief, and they must know where to go."

It was agreed at Saturday's conference that the county offer to raise the $175,000 for the relief fund.

Miss Shepperson, in her letter to the commissioners, held the commissioners responsible for the situation, which she said made her action necessary.

Meeting To Be Called.

Other possibilities suggested included the idea of the county taking over its own relief and breaking finally with the FERA.

"In that event," Mr. Hendrix said, "I think the county should establish a bureau immediately and investigate each individual, with the aid of county police and others, and see that every eligible family is taken off the list."

Paul S. Etheridge, chairman of the finance committee, estimated that in the event the county should take such a step, the cost of caring for 4,539 unemployed would be far in excess of the $25,000 per month requested by Miss Shepperson.

Tentative suggestions were made, however, that the county offer to pay a $30,000 retainer at this time and request a 30-day respite in order to have additional time to study the matter.

Breathless in Haste.

Other possibilities suggested included the idea of the county taking over its own relief and breaking finally with the FERA.

"In that event," Mr. Hendrix said, "I think the county should establish a bureau immediately and investigate each individual, with the aid of county police and others, and see that every eligible family is taken off the list."

Paul S. Etheridge, chairman of the finance committee, estimated that in the event the county should take such a step, the cost of caring for 4,539 unemployed would be far in excess of the $25,000 per month requested by Miss Shepperson.

Payment of the $25,000 per month would necessarily mean it was said, that other agencies would have to cut in their appropriations.

Outside Aid Suggested.

It was suggested that in the event the county must raise the $175,000 at this time, all Fulton county municipalities outside the city of Atlanta will be asked to contribute their share. Such towns, it was pointed out, are not contributing anything at present.

Miss Shepperson set forth that the emergency relief administration now has a deficit in its budget due to the fact that the Fulton county appropriation has been discontinued.

It was suggested, out of a statement issued with the release of her letter that the relief administration has been able to meet the needs of the clients residing within the city limits because the city has regularly continued its appropriation, which amounts to $40,000 a month.

Major Longineau said the county will not necessarily mean it was said, that other agencies would have to cut in their appropriations.

Meeting To Be Called.

Mr. Hendrix said that he soon as a conference with Miss Shepperson shall have been arranged, a meeting of the board will be held to consider what action will be taken by the county.

Families affected by the drastic action of the relief administrator all reside outside the city of Atlanta.

According to Mr. Longineau, many of them are residents of municipalities which are not contributing anything at all toward their support.

Miss Shepperson set forth that the emergency relief administration now has a deficit in its budget due to the fact that the Fulton county appropriation has been discontinued.

It was suggested, out of a statement issued with the release of her letter that the relief administration has been able to meet the needs of the clients residing within the city limits because the city has regularly continued its appropriation, which amounts to $40,000 a month.

Major Carmichael said that East Point will co-operate with Fulton county in meeting the emergency to the extent to the limit of its ability.

The judges Saturday asked the board to appear at the Community Chest and other agencies. We have been greatly interested in Miss Shepperson's work and want to see it continued. We have always co-operated with the county in any way possible, and to obtain financial aid in raising this fund, we will go along with them and help raise it."

Gloey Hailey, chairman of the aims and benevolence committee of city council, said that such an application was granted.

Mr. Hendrix added that in his opinion the 3,500 increase shown in Atlanta's population by the United States unofficial census published last week is due not to improved economic conditions, but to an influx of persons seeking to live on relief funds.

Families Moving In.

Atlanta showed a decrease in population for the two preceding years.

Mr. Hailey said, "and I am convinced that numerous families are moving into the city for no other purpose than to obtain relief.

Not only, but families already living in the city have imported relatives from other countries, and even other states, in order to live on the public funds.

"The present situation demonstrates just what I have been hammering at for six months," Mr. Hailey said, "and that is that there must be a

ITALIANS MOBILIZE FOR 'HOSTILITIES'

Cabinet Turns Out To Take Part in Huge Annual War Maneuvers.

SCARPERIA DEL MUGELLO, TUSCANY, Italy, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's whole cabinet turned out in leather boots and dashing swords today to take part in the annual war maneuvers.

One hundred thousand soldiers divided into two rival camps, spread along either side of an imaginary boundary line where "hostilities" are to break out at dawn.

The cabinet ministers and many of their undersecretaries came from Rome in response to Il Duce's orders to take part in what would be called upon to fill in case of a real war.

The modish Fulvio Surchi, undersecretary for foreign affairs, wore the uniform of an officer of the king's lancers. Other cabinet members commanded artillery, infantry and cavalry regiments.

The mimic war will break "almost without warning," as would be the case, military experts here believed, in the event of real hostilities.

The two rival armies are charged with the task of jockeying for the offensive, forming concentrations of airplanes on each side, and it is the task of their pilots to carry the warfare immediately to the civilian centers of "the enemy," simulating combined attack to spread terror behind the lines.

The task of the plotter is to as royal as possible to the maneuver, lacking in roads and other means of communication. The objective of the war games is to determine whether in the present stage of military advancement such county lends itself better to offensive or defensive action.

Much interest is centered in the performance of the new "celery" or fast divisions, equipped with light artillery, and give. They have been perfected since Premier Mussolini personally took charge of the war ministry and are intended for rapid offensive action.

Among other new units to be tried are regiments of light, easily maneuverable tanks built with an emphasis on speed to maintain warfare.

Particular attention is to be paid to defensive arrangements against gas and air attacks.

Simultaneously with the holding of the maneuvers in this region troops in other parts of the country will wind up their summer encampments with exercises on a smaller scale.

close co-operation between federal, county and city interests in this matter.

Miss Shepperson and Miss Barker have consistently refused to recognize us as interested parties, and the whole situation is just a natural outgrowth of the lack of co-operation which has existed."

Co-operation Promised.

E. D. Barrett, mayor of College Park, said Saturday afternoon that he has no idea at this time what that city will be able to do if called upon to come to the county's assistance, since he has no knowledge of the county's resources.

"It is the hope of the county that local government will participate according to plan.

The city of Atlanta is contributing $40,000 monthly regularly, and it will be necessary for us to contribute $75,000 which is due and for us to be assured that we will receive $25,000 regularly each month.

"Not a single cent of the money furnished by the city or county goes to salaries. All goes for actual relief of your citizens."

Our action is effective at once as we are faced with an immediate deficit. Unless you have some other solution to suggest we will have to notify this afternoon all 4,539 relief cases in Fulton county outside the city of Atlanta of our great regret for the necessity of this action."

Regret Delay.

Just what the county will do about the situation is in doubt. Walter C. Hendrix, chairman of the public works committee, said Saturday afternoon that he would continue his efforts to get in touch with Miss Shepperson, and arrange a conference for Sunday morning if possible.

"We can't know exactly what to expect Monday morning," Mr. Hendrix said, "and we want the people to know where they stand. These people are without relief, and they must know where to go."

It was agreed at Saturday's conference that the county offer to raise the $175,000 for the relief fund.

Miss Shepperson, in her letter to the commissioners, held the commissioners responsible for the situation, which she said made her action necessary.

Meeting To Be Called.

Other possibilities suggested included

Food Prices Rise Materially; Greater Increases Foreseen

Many Executives See Bright Side to Drouth Through Substantial Reduction of Surpluses.

By BEN BASSETT.
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 18.—(AP)—

The drouth has come to the city. The grocer and butcher are posting higher prices and predicting greater increases. Scarred farmlands of the west, struck by the worst growing conditions in weather bureau annals, offer the reason.

A survey today disclosed the "materially higher" prices predicted for 1935 by Secretary Wallace already are evident in the areas that supply most of the nation's foodstuffs.

Interviewed were scores of executives in two-score distributors, processors and department store managers selected at random in drouth-stricken states. Many of the executives saw a bright side to the drouth—it's reduction of surpluses, as an example. Nearly all forecast higher prices in the staples they market.

Even when prices have hurried away the farmer's profits, some of the businessmen said their sales were compounding favorably with 1933. "We don't look for things to go to pieces as they did in the worst of the depression," a Cheyenne, Wyo., distributor commented, at the same time pointing out commodity prices had turned apprehensive.

While the department of agriculture has announced "there will be plenty of food," the executive council of the American Federation of Labor views the present itself as "gravely apprehensive" as to the effect of drouth-influenced prices upon the urban workingman.

President Roosevelt has made it plain he sees no reason for a sky-high increase in food prices. He intends to have an pricing.

The drouth generally has weakened live stock herds, but producers claimed definite signs to recovery in higher prices for such products as hogs, which in Kansas City Friday regained the peak of September, 1931. P. E. Tovrea, Phoenix, Ariz., packer, said, however, the advance in hog prices was "due to the government purchases and the government's reduction plan, and not to drouth conditions."

"Cattle and sheep will advance from this fall," Tovrea added.

"Meat prices, especially for qualified cuts, are bound to go," Robert M. Owtrey, Topeka, Kan., manager of a packing company asserted. G. A. Waldron, manager of a similar plant at Butte, Mont., said prices there had been "ruined" by the drouth and relief donations by the government. He noted increased prices for butter, eggs, ham and bacon.

Milk Prices Advance.
With farmers forced in many cases to haul water for their dairy herds, retail milk prices have advanced as much as 3 cents a quart in some cities of the drouth area. In addition, the agricultural adjustment administration has invoked higher milk prices in many communities to bring better return to the producer. W. E. Lott, manager of co-operative creameries in the Imperial valley of California, foresaw a boost in the price of all dairy products next winter.

Increased demand or higher prices for canned goods and cereals was shown in most states. Iowa's canning industry was reported in a "deplorable condition" by Garth Carrier, of Vinton, canning company president. The pea crop there was oversupplied.

Emory Will Confer 47 Degrees At Convocation Next Thursday

Emory University will confer 47 degrees, including one honorary degree, at the summer convocation exercise in Glen Memorial auditorium at 8 o'clock next Thursday night. It was announced Saturday that the exercises will conclude the summer session, which has been characterized by an increase of 33 per cent in registration over last year.

Rev. Emily Boss Blackard, of Baltimore, will preside at the convocation and dress will consist of the honor degree of doctor of divinity. Mr. Blackard is pastor of the Alpheus W. Wilson Memorial Methodist church in Baltimore.

Mr. Blackard received his A. B. degree from Emory in 1921 and his bachelors of divinity degree in 1923. He then went to Yale University, where he received both the B. D. and M. A. degrees and where he completed residence requirements for the Ph. D.

Before coming to Baltimore he was a pastor in New Haven, Conn., and Kansas City, Mo.

In October Mr. Blackard's church in Baltimore will be host to the sesquicentennial session of the Baltimore conference, which will be attended by the entire College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Students who have earned degrees at the Emory convocation are:

Bachelor of Business Administration: S. Carlton Finn, Atlanta.

Bachelor of Science: Augustus Smith Batts, Hawkinsville, Ga.; Mac Morris Blumenthal, Atlanta; James Edward Thompson, Atlanta; J. Walton Whitworth, Clarkesville, Ga.

Bachelor of Philosophy: Hoke S.

Emory University.

America's First White Child Birth Commemorated at N. C. Celebration

MANTEO, N. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—

Prize for North Carolina was given yesterday by Governor George C. Peery, of Virginia, who linked the two states as scenes of the first settlements of English-speaking people on the continent and added a prediction that the people of the nation soon would "emerge from economic ills and come into a richer and fuller life."

The governor was one of the principal speakers commemorating the birth of America's first white child, Virginia Dare—born here soon after the first English settlement in the new world was made on Roanoke island, 350 years ago.

The birthday observance came on the second day of the three-day celebration of the 350th anniversary in progress here with a program of pageants, speeches and sporting events.

Governor Peery touched lightly on historical facts of the first settlement and said:

"In Virginia we rightfully lay claim to the first permanent settlement of English-speaking people in the western world (at Jamestown) prior to North Carolina. We must award the distinction of the landing of the first colonists to

"While an atmosphere of success and of conquest is lent to the English colonies in Virginia," he said, "the characteristics of romance and high adventure are lent to the planting of the lost colony of Roanoke and to the birth of Virginia Dare in North Carolina. To each and to both of these events may likewise be attached an air of mystery which and better order will result which will mean fuller and richer life to all our normal, he said.

Edward Lehman, of Wichita, Kan., declared staple vegetables "probably will show an advance of about 33 1/3 per cent when the new crop has been canned." P. P. Whetstone, Oklahoma City wholesale dealer, reported a 15 per cent increase in canned goods prices. Sam Asher, Cheyenne, Wyo., noted "short delivery" from canneries. W. K. Brown, Denver, said prices had risen 10 to 15 per cent in the last 30 days.

At Columbus, Ohio, however, John Amicon, fruit and vegetable distributor, saw "no indication of higher prices in our business."

Bread Buyer To Pay More.
Charles R. McLane, Great Bread Mills, flour mills president, predicted the bread buyer soon will pay more.

J. B. Schramm, treasurer for an Indianapolis wholesale distributor, expressed belief the drouth "will have very little effect on the price of goods canned in Indiana." He noted that Indiana farmers are getting more for what they do have."

General Robert F. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Company, in a foreword to the new fall and winter catalog of the mail order house, said prices were being reduced somewhat as a "real sacrifice of profit" to stimulate business in drouth-stricken areas.

"Prices, despite an advance in raw materials, wage rates and increased expense in practically every direction, are in most cases below those of our spring catalog and in many cases lower than a year ago," the foreword says.

The company's sales for the week ending August 14, 1934, showed a 5.8 per cent increase over a year ago, the smallest percentage of gain since July 16, 1933—this being regarded as indicating the cumulative effects of the drouth.

Among department store executives, J. E. Miller, of Lincoln, Neb., said the drouth would tend to hold down prices in his store so far as possible.

"If farmers have nothing to sell they can buy little," he commented, adding reserve buying power within cities might force bigger price tags.

Sharp Price Rise Seen.

C. E. Wright, of Salt Lake City, said the law of supply and demand still holds true, "but prices are sharp." At Columbus, however, Robert Lazarus declared "things seem pretty well stabilized between the low and high . . . we are not convinced that prices are going up."

M. N. Wilchinski, Des Moines, noted an increase in the price of cotton goods. C. C. Anderson, of Boise, Idaho, found his "old stand off" and frowns improved business.

C. A. Shinn, Denver, expected "cotton and wool fabrics to go up this fall, with silks probably remaining at present levels."

"Most Omaha retailers feel the drouth has been a blessing in disguise in that it is raising prices of many products," said T. Hupp, secretary of the Nebraska city association of retailers, declared. "We believe we will have a very fine retail business here this fall."

Carl Heine, Wichita, Kan., foresees no increase in prices "for the next 30 days at least."

W. Simons, Dallas, expressed conviction prices of commodities other than foodstuffs would not be affected "unless the drouth should continue a long time." A. H. Bailey, secretary of the Wholesale Merchants' Association, there, said the drouth had curtailed volume.

Lambert Gill, St. Paul, found "prices are generally stable." Frank Maxfield, St. Louis, saw "an encouraging side" in the reduction of oversupplies.

Run-of-the-Mill* of Utica Percale SHEETS (Beauticale)

ALABAMA PRESS TRAIN ARRIVES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The "Alabama press special," bearing editors and publishers of that state to the World's Fair and the annual convention of the Alabama Press Association, arrived here today with a passenger list of 222.

With the arrival of the visitors, the active newspapermen began their meeting at the Hotel Sherman. There they were welcomed by Kenneth F. Baldwin, of Bloomington, Iowa, president of National Editorial Association.

Jesse B. Adams, of Azark, Ala., president of the state association, called the meeting to order and gave his annual address. The paper's editor, W. W. Remus, chairman, while the association must make its by-laws to comply with its provisions were discussed by C. A. Baumgart, national administration manager for divisions A-2 and A-5 of the code.

Another Davison

BOOK SALE

Is Going Full Tilt!

Publisher's Close-Outs of Fiction, Biography, Travel, Essays, Adventures, Histories, Classics, Children's Books at Fractions of Their Original Prices!

400 Books 33¢
Orig. 75c to 2.50!

150 Children's Books 49¢
Orig. $1 to $2!

Other Books 59¢ to 2.98

BOOK SHOP—STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA — affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Davison's has the Atlanta
Official School Supplies

Kindergarten

1 Pkg. Drawing Paper .30c
1 Box Crayons 25c
1 Pr. 4-in. Scissors 20c

First Grade

1 Pkg. Drawing Paper .30c
1 Box Crayons 15c
1 Pr. 4-in. Scissors 20c
1 Pencil Tablet 5c
1 12-in. Ruler 3c
1 Pencil Eraser 5c

Third Grade

1 Pkg. Drawing Paper .30c
1 Box Crayons 15c
1 Pr. 4-in. Scissors 20c
1 Pencil Tablet 5c
1 Pkg. Penn'ship Paper .30c
1 12-in. Ruler 3c
1 Pencil Eraser 5c
2 No. 2 Pencils, each .5c

Fifth Grade

1 Pkg. Drawing Paper .30c
1 Box Crayons 15c
1 Pr. 4-in. Scissors 20c
1 Pencil Tablet 5c
1 Pkg. Penn'ship Paper .30c
1 12-in. Ruler 3c
1 Pencil Eraser 5c
2 No. 2 Pencils, each .5c
1 Composition 10c

Sixth Grade

1 Pkg. Drawing Paper .30c
1 Box Colored Pencils, 10c
1 Pr. 4-in. Scissors 20c
1 Pencil Tablet 5c
1 Pkg. Penn'ship Paper .30c
1 12-in. Ruler 3c
2 No. 2 Pencils, each .5c
1 Composition Book 10c
1 Box Water Colors 35c

STATIONERY
STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA — affiliated with MACY'S, New York

DAVISON'S AUGUST SALE OF Linens and Bedding

Run-of-the-Mill* of Utica Percale SHEETS
(Beauticale)

40% less than they would sell for if perfect!

1.99

Such an exceptional value that Davison's, in order to bring it to you, relaxes the adamant rule of never selling imperfect merchandise above the basement. Extra length single or double sheets of a beautiful, linen-like quality that will last for years and years. 72x108 and 81x108. These sheets will be sold inside an "Economy Fence" so that you cannot confuse them with our usual all-perfect merchandise.

*Run-of-the-Mill means slight imperfections which in no way impair the wearing quality of the merchandise.

Run-of-the-Mill Percale Cases, 45x38½,

49c

Big Solid Color Bath
TOWELS
17¢

Usually would be 29c!

Big, extra strong and extra long-wearing towels, made in Georgia. A special process called "underweaving" insures the extra strength and durability. Beautiful pastel colors with white borders. 20x40-in.

18x36 COTTON HUCK FACE TOWELS,
6 for $1

Extra Large
All-Wool

BLANKETS

6.99

Replacement price 10.94!

Beautiful, pure wool blankets in a soft fluffy weave. 72x84 size. Bound with heavy satin. Two-tone—blue and rose, rose and green, green and peach, blue and coral, lavender and green.

LINENS AND BEDDING, SECOND FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA — affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Another Shipment of Those Fast-Selling

LAPIN SWINGER COATS

$48 reinforced against wear and tear by the famous new Ramozide Process.

Our last shipment was a complete sell-out. Since then we've been keeping the wires hot trying to get more. They're here! Three knockout styles—one with ripple jabot collar (sketched), one with Ascot scarf, one with ripple Johnny collar. The Ramozide Process reinforces the belts and lengthens the life of your coat. Take your choice of Nutria, Black or a new Blue Fox shade.

Davison's Easy Payment Plan

★ CHARGE CUSTOMERS may buy now and pay in November!

★ CASH PURCHASES require only 10% down payment, payable in 6 equal payments, payable in full by November 1st.

FUR COATS—THIRD FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA — affiliated with MACY'S, New York

PITTMAN ATTACKS TALMADGE RECORD

Candidate Speaks at Marietta and Winder, Excoriating Governor.

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—Judge Claude Pittman today attacked Governor Talmadge's farm record and charged Hugh Howell, whom he called the executive's "personal advisor," to the stump.

LeCraw will speak at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the English Avenue school in the fifth ward and indicated Saturday that he would speak at the same time. "Major Key terms me a little country boy." He has labeled the Tuesday night meeting the "New Deal rally."

Key and Murphy will vie for crowds in widely separated sections of the city Thursday night when both deliver addresses.

The mayor will speak at Kirkwood school at 8 o'clock in the twelfth ward, and Murphy will speak at the same time at the Joel Chandler Har- ris school in the seventh ward.

All city commissioners have been invited to all three meetings.

H. H. Hutchins, candidate for coun- cil from the thirteenth ward, an- nounced a rally at 8 o'clock Monday night at the home of L. J. Howard, 1376 Morningside drive, N. E. There will be a watermelon cutting.

Mayoralty Contest Holds City Spotlight

The three-cornered mayoralty con- test will draw local political atten- tion this week when Mayor James Key, Roy LeCraw and J. Charlie Murphy, the contenders, again take the stump.

LeCraw will speak at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the English Avenue school in the fifth ward and indicated Saturday that he would speak at the same time. "Major Key terms me a little country boy." He has labeled the Tuesday night meeting the "New Deal rally."

Key and Murphy will vie for crowds in widely separated sections of the city Thursday night when both deliver addresses.

The mayor will speak at Kirkwood school at 8 o'clock in the twelfth ward, and Murphy will speak at the same time at the Joel Chandler Har- ris school in the seventh ward.

All city commissioners have been invited to all three meetings.

H. H. Hutchins, candidate for coun- cil from the thirteenth ward, an- nounced a rally at 8 o'clock Monday night at the home of L. J. Howard, 1376 Morningside drive, N. E. There will be a watermelon cutting.

OPPONENTS' CHARGES ANSWERED BY ROBERTS

Farm Commissioner Candidate Denies He Voted for Hoover in 1928.

Columbus Roberts, of Columbus, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, Saturday issued a statement through his campaign manager, Wal- ter C. Perkins, in answer to charges that he had voted for Herbert Hoover in 1928.

"Some days ago," said Mr. Gilliam, "one of the political writers of an Atlanta newspaper made the state- ment in an article giving a general survey of the gubernatorial contest that I had recently added several planks to my platform. That was an introduction to the campaign. Up to this moment I have conducted my campaign on which I started, with nothing added and nothing subtracted.

CAMPAIGN REFORM URGED BY GILLIAM

Candidate Voices Satiric
Disgust at Methods
Adopted by Opponents.

DUBLIN, Ga., Aug. 18.—Closing a week of strenuous campaigning with a speech this afternoon in the Lawrence county courthouse, Ed A. Gilliam, candidate for governor, sounded a call for a "new deal" in the method of conducting political campaigns under the auspices of the democratic party of Georgia.

He came out squarely and emphatically in favor of a system under which the democratic state executive committee of Georgia would have complete discretion in the regulation of the campaign activities of all candidates for statewide offices.

That is to say, candidates for democratic nominations in democratic state primaries.

He declared that campaigns in democratic state primaries have "sunk to the level of cheap circuses" and that the "time has come for the democratic party organization in Georgia to assert its authority and take full control in the interest of decency, dignity and constructive politics."

"Some days ago," said Mr. Gilliam, "one of the political writers of an Atlanta newspaper made the state- ment in an article giving a general survey of the gubernatorial contest that I had recently added several planks to my platform. That was an introduction to the campaign. Up to this moment I have conducted my campaign on which I started, with nothing added and nothing subtracted.

One Plank Added.

"It can now be stated by any political writer who may be interested that Ed Gilliam has added one plank to his original platform, while the rest of the platform is considered. That is to say, we are for the democratic state executive committee of Georgia to take full control, direction and regulation of all campaigns for statewide offices, in the interest of decency, dignity, orderly procedure and constructive treatment of all issues which may be involved.

"Political campaigns in Georgia have sunk to the level of cheap circuses," said Mr. Gilliam. "The campaign manager and the party constituents are not engaged in slingin' mud around us. We love and respect a candidate who refuses to stoop to such unworthy tactics."

"We are engaged in the serious and responsible work of selecting a government of our state. In passing the qualifications of the candidates, there are two things that we want to know: First, what their records have been in the past; and, second, what they propose to do in the future.

"I sent him in reply this letter:

"I myself in person, (not a man picture) am a man of honor, no outlook, no ambitions, no money,

no debts, no enemies, no friends,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

no wife, no children, no home,

no business, no office, no job,

no money, no debts, no enemies,

</

Rioters Quelled By Prison Guards

1,000 Reformatory Inmates Fire Printshop, Battle for Freedom.

PONTIAC, Ill., Aug. 18.—(UP)—A baseball game turned into a bloody riot today at the state reformatory. Prisoners beat guards, guards shot prisoners. Buildings at the institution were fired.

When the rioting was quelled, the casualties and damage were:

Four guards beaten and hospitalized.

One prisoner dead.

Twenty-two prisoners shot and wounded.

One building destroyed and two others damaged by fire; loss $102,000.

The prisoners, most of them youthful offenders, suddenly attacked guards with clubs and pieces of plank as they were marching back to their cells after a ball game.

The reform school was in turmoil. Guards retreated to the walls and began firing into the ranks of their attackers. The prison became a hellish as inmates shouted and screamed.

Prearranged Break.

Prison officials could ascribe no specific reason for the outbreak. The riot, they believed, had been prearranged. The prisoners were unarmed except for hastily-improvised weapons.

The guards, backed against the wall, fired round after round into the mob. The inmates retreated before the withering fire.

The prisoners in their cells screamed in terror. There was no time for the guards to fight the blaze. Police and fire departments from Pontiac were summoned.

The fighting became general as the prisoners scattered. They raced about the grounds attacking guards and seeking some avenue of escape. Prison officials announced that none got away.

Extra guards and police came to the scene at the height of the rioting. Slowly the prisoners were forced back into their cell blocks. Stragglers were rounded up and placed behind bars.

Guard Is Beaten.

Burt Davenport, captain of the prison guards, attempted to rally his forces against the overwhelming mass of screaming, half-naked, and nearly beaten. He was taken to the prison hospital, blood streaming from his face and arms.

Several of the prisoners were seriously injured. Dr. John H. Ryan, prison chaplain, said, "Many others were slightly wounded."

"It was an unfortunate outbreak," Dr. Ryan said.

In describing the battle, one of the wounded guards said:

"They hit me from behind with a club, or maybe it was a bat. They were breaking up window frames and using them to beat the guards."

He was standing in the yard, holding a handkerchief to the wound in his head while most of the shooting was going on.

"So far as I could tell, none of the inmates was armed with a gun."

Four Guards Injured.

Four guards were confined to the prison hospital.

The new Captain Davenport, J. W. Castillo, Roy K. Shepherd and Michael Rabine.

The identity of the wounded prisoners and the extent of their injuries was not disclosed. Prison officials said, however, that no lives had been lost.

Thousands of persons gathered outside the prison walls, attracted by the smoke and the hellish firing and screaming. A heavy pall of smoke from the prison hung over the southern part of Pontiac.

The reformatory is used for the housing of youthful prisoners not considered hardened enough for the state penitentiary.

Agitation was started recently against crowded conditions at the institution.

2,000 in Institution.

The institution houses approximately 2,000. Less than half that number were allowed to leave to attend the ball game. The remainder in their cells set up a din of shouting, encouraging their fellow inmates.

Almost at the moment when it

Talmadge Is Carried Away from Speakers' Stand After Address at Gainesville

seemed the prisoners would overwhelm the guard and gain possession of the prison, the ranks of the rioters broke and guards regained control.

While sporadic clashes continued inside the prison, the Pontiac fire department fought the stubborn flames in the prison print shop. Their efforts prevented a spread of the fire to other buildings.

GREATEST CROWD HEARS TALMADGE AT GAINESVILLE

Continued From First Page.

spoke the large Gainesville city park was a sea of faces. The speaker's stand was placed at the bottom of a hill and up all sides of the hill stood thousands of Georgians. When the chief executive appeared he was greeted by an ovation and it was nearly 10 minutes before Judge J. B. Jones, veteran Hall county jurist, could get order and silence.

The governor's speech in their screams of terror. There was no time for the guards to fight the blaze. Police and fire departments from Pontiac were summoned.

The fighting became general as the prisoners scattered. They raced about the grounds attacking guards and seeking some avenue of escape. Prison officials announced that none got away.

Extra guards and police came to the scene at the height of the rioting.

Slowly the prisoners were forced back into their cell blocks. Stragglers were rounded up and placed behind bars.

Guard Is Beaten.

Burt Davenport, captain of the prison guards, attempted to rally his forces against the overwhelming mass of screaming, half-naked, and nearly beaten.

He was taken to the prison hospital, blood streaming from his face and arms.

Several of the prisoners were seriously injured. Dr. John H. Ryan, prison chaplain, said, "Many others were slightly wounded."

"It was an unfortunate outbreak," Dr. Ryan said.

In describing the battle, one of the wounded guards said:

"They hit me from behind with a club, or maybe it was a bat. They were breaking up window frames and using them to beat the guards."

He was standing in the yard, holding a handkerchief to the wound in his head while most of the shooting was going on.

"So far as I could tell, none of the inmates was armed with a gun."

Four Guards Injured.

Four guards were confined to the prison hospital.

The new Captain Davenport, J. W. Castillo, Roy K. Shepherd and Michael Rabine.

The identity of the wounded prisoners and the extent of their injuries was not disclosed. Prison officials said, however, that no lives had been lost.

Thousands of persons gathered outside the prison walls, attracted by the smoke and the hellish firing and screaming. A heavy pall of smoke from the prison hung over the southern part of Pontiac.

The reformatory is used for the housing of youthful prisoners not considered hardened enough for the state penitentiary.

Agitation was started recently against crowded conditions at the institution.

2,000 in Institution.

The institution houses approximately 2,000. Less than half that number were allowed to leave to attend the ball game. The remainder in their cells set up a din of shouting, encouraging their fellow inmates.

Almost at the moment when it was

MADAM MINGY, PALMIST

Give advice on all affairs—love, marriage and business, occupations of all kinds.

Special Readings 50c

Satisfaction Guaranteed 638 McDonough Blvd. (Take Federal Phone for sign.)

Prints rooms for white and colored. Reading Daily and Sunday. A. M. to P. M.

Any Garment 25¢

Wool Suits—Sport Pants—Dresses and Coats

Snappy Curb Service

"TWO-BIT" CLEANERS

457 Peachtree—Across from Prior Tire Co.

FAMOUS LAW SCHOOL

OPENS 88TH YEAR—SEPTEMBER 17, 1934.

CO-EDUCATIONAL—NO AGE LIMIT.

Courses With LL.B. Degree In One Or Two Years . . . to meet your State Bar Requirements.

Cumberland University Law School is noted for its illustrious alumni: 2 Justices of U. S. Supreme Court; 40 Justices of State Supreme Courts; 12 Federal Judges; 160 District Judges; 15 Governors; 60 U. S. Congressmen and Senators. Courses of study cover more than 10,000 pages of living law—including the entire field of American Law. Text book assignments, with daily classroom recitations, and Moot Court practice.

Largest Enrollment in History Last Year. Knowledge of law is more-needed today than ever before.

Spend the most profitable year of your life, in healthful Tennessee, amid ideal surroundings. You can live cheaper in Lebanon than you can at home; $212.50 pays your room and board from September until June in dormitory. Students may live in private homes or apartments.

Tuition and fees for one year $260 in advance. Reduced for second year students. Write Dean of Law for catalogue and information.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

LEBONON, TENNESSEE.

This advertisement won't appear again soon—Write us today. Tear this advertisement out and send it to a friend who is interested in law.

Any Garment 25¢

Wool Suits—Sport Pants—Dresses and Coats

Snappy Curb Service

"TWO-BIT" CLEANERS

457 Peachtree—Across from Prior Tire Co.

OPEN 88TH YEAR—SEPTEMBER 17, 1934.

CO-EDUCATIONAL—NO AGE LIMIT.

Courses With LL.B. Degree In One Or Two Years . . . to meet your State Bar Requirements.

Cumberland University Law School is noted for its illustrious alumni: 2 Justices of U. S. Supreme Court; 40 Justices of State Supreme Courts; 12 Federal Judges; 160 District Judges; 15 Governors; 60 U. S. Congressmen and Senators. Courses of study cover more than 10,000 pages of living law—including the entire field of American Law. Text book assignments, with daily classroom recitations, and Moot Court practice.

Largest Enrollment in History Last Year. Knowledge of law is more-needed today than ever before.

Spend the most profitable year of your life, in healthful Tennessee, amid ideal surroundings. You can live cheaper in Lebanon than you can at home; $212.50 pays your room and board from September until June in dormitory. Students may live in private homes or apartments.

Tuition and fees for one year $260 in advance. Reduced for second year students. Write Dean of Law for catalogue and information.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

LEBONON, TENNESSEE.

This advertisement won't appear again soon—Write us today. Tear this advertisement out and send it to a friend who is interested in law.

Any Garment 25¢

Wool Suits—Sport Pants—Dresses and Coats

Snappy Curb Service

"TWO-BIT" CLEANERS

457 Peachtree—Across from Prior Tire Co.

OPEN 88TH YEAR—SEPTEMBER 17, 1934.

CO-EDUCATIONAL—NO AGE LIMIT.

Courses With LL.B. Degree In One Or Two Years . . . to meet your State Bar Requirements.

Cumberland University Law School is noted for its illustrious alumni: 2 Justices of U. S. Supreme Court; 40 Justices of State Supreme Courts; 12 Federal Judges; 160 District Judges; 15 Governors; 60 U. S. Congressmen and Senators. Courses of study cover more than 10,000 pages of living law—including the entire field of American Law. Text book assignments, with daily classroom recitations, and Moot Court practice.

Largest Enrollment in History Last Year. Knowledge of law is more-needed today than ever before.

Spend the most profitable year of your life, in healthful Tennessee, amid ideal surroundings. You can live cheaper in Lebanon than you can at home; $212.50 pays your room and board from September until June in dormitory. Students may live in private homes or apartments.

Tuition and fees for one year $260 in advance. Reduced for second year students. Write Dean of Law for catalogue and information.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

LEBONON, TENNESSEE.

This advertisement won't appear again soon—Write us today. Tear this advertisement out and send it to a friend who is interested in law.

Any Garment 25¢

Wool Suits—Sport Pants—Dresses and Coats

Snappy Curb Service

"TWO-BIT" CLEANERS

457 Peachtree—Across from Prior Tire Co.

OPEN 88TH YEAR—SEPTEMBER 17, 1934.

CO-EDUCATIONAL—NO AGE LIMIT.

Courses With LL.B. Degree In One Or Two Years . . . to meet your State Bar Requirements.

Cumberland University Law School is noted for its illustrious alumni: 2 Justices of U. S. Supreme Court; 40 Justices of State Supreme Courts; 12 Federal Judges; 160 District Judges; 15 Governors; 60 U. S. Congressmen and Senators. Courses of study cover more than 10,000 pages of living law—including the entire field of American Law. Text book assignments, with daily classroom recitations, and Moot Court practice.

Largest Enrollment in History Last Year. Knowledge of law is more-needed today than ever before.

Spend the most profitable year of your life, in healthful Tennessee, amid ideal surroundings. You can live cheaper in Lebanon than you can at home; $212.50 pays your room and board from September until June in dormitory. Students may live in private homes or apartments.

Tuition and fees for one year $260 in advance. Reduced for second year students. Write Dean of Law for catalogue and information.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

LEBONON, TENNESSEE.

This advertisement won't appear again soon—Write us today. Tear this advertisement out and send it to a friend who is interested in law.

Any Garment 25¢

Wool Suits—Sport Pants—Dresses and Coats

Snappy Curb Service

"TWO-BIT" CLEANERS

457 Peachtree—Across from Prior Tire Co.

OPEN 88TH YEAR—SEPTEMBER 17, 1934.

LEADER OF UNION SEES STRIKE END AT COLUMBUS MILL

E. B. Newberry Predicts
U. S. Labor Board Will Settle Walkout Satisfactorily.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—The 2,000 striking textile workers of the Eagle and Phenix mills today had E. B. Newberry's prediction that the United States department of labor would settle the walkout satisfactorily.

Newberry is secretary of the local textile union and made his prediction last night at a meeting of several hundred strikers in Phenix City, Ala., just across the Chattahoochee river from Columbus.

The gathering also heard Dr. R. B. McCann, a Scale, Ala., physician, urge the strikers to carry on their fight to a successful conclusion.

The Eagle and Phenix mills were idle today because of the usual weekend closing down. The mills yesterday paid off with strikers and the approximately 200 workers who stayed at their machines after others refused to work Thursday, and closed down at noon until Monday morning.

Newberry told workers he had wired President Roosevelt and the department of labor asking that conciliators be sent here to mediate the differences between the strikers and the mills. The strikers charge intimidation.

Newberry told the assembled strikers that he requested Governor Talmadge to call out the state militia to "keep members of the union from being shot down like dogs by machine guns in the Eagle and Phenix yard. He said this was the first time in the history of the state that such a request had been made by union workers."

All officials have said they expected to continue to run the plants as long as workers desired to return to their machines, and that workers could return to their work when they desired.

FOUR FRONT-PAGE ARTICLES PLACED IN ATHENS SCHOOL

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 18.—Four newspaper front pages, unusual historic interest, have been framed and placed in the main lecture room of the Henry W. Grady school of journalism, the University of Georgia. They are:

The New York Times of Monday, April 17, 1865, telling of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln; the Chicago Tribune of October 11, 1871, describing the great Chicago fire; the New York Times of Thursday, March 5, 1855, giving an account of the destruction of Groves Cleveland, and the Chicago Tribune of Monday, May 2, 1858, narrating Dewey's sea victory.

Already in this room were a framed photostatic copy of Louis Seibold's famous two-page interview with President Woodrow Wilson at the time of his breakdown which the New York World published on June 12, 1920; Arthur Brisbane's "How to Be a Better Reporter," and "The Journalist's Creed," by Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism and president of the University of Missouri.

The appearance of these papers which have been recently added to the Gray collection is altogether different from that of the original front page of the Gray school plans to add other significant front pages to its collection. In addition to these newspapers, the school has in its reading room autographed photographs of a number of distinguished journalists who have addressed its students, including Mark Sullivan, Drew Pearson, Emily Woodard, Marley E. Pew and others.

NEW NAME PROPOSED FOR STATE HIGHWAY

WASHINGTON, Ga., Aug. 18.—With the naming of state highway route 10, to be completed and celebrated next month in a motorcade from Atlanta to Augusta, deferred until after the celebration, a late move is that it be named for a historical event rather than for a district. The name is proposed by the 50-year-old East Wilkes Club proposing "The Kettle Creek Battle route."

In resolutions adopted by the farmers' club it was declared that the most outstanding event in east Georgia took place in the "Hornets' Nest," when 800 patriot patriots, under the leadership of General Elijah Clark, vanquished the British army and thus established American independence.

We hereby memorialize the Washington chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to use their good offices in having this highway designated "The Kettle Creek Battle Route" in honor of the valor displayed by the men supporting General Washington," the resolution concluded.

VALDOSTA CLAY FOUND TO HAVE FINE QUALITY

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—A citizen of Ohio skilled in the use of clays for manufacturing ornamentals, has for some time been in correspondence with the local chamber of commerce about the clays found in the Valdosta area.

Early this week the Ohioan dropped in to have a personal look at the clay deposits, and he was shown several, from which he secured samples and tested them. He stated that it is the best and easiest clay to work he had ever found, and he arranged for a shipment of considerable quantity to his home town for manufacturing plaques and other clay ornamentals. It is stated that if the clay develops in a large way as it has in the few samples he made while here, he will come to Valdosta to reside.

TEACHERS IN BROOKS RECEIVE FULL PAYMENT

QUITMAN, Ga., Aug. 18.—Despite the fact that the county lost $7,000 school funds when the state tax rate was reduced one mill, the city and Brooks county school teachers have been paid in full for the first time in several years. This was due to the new law the school system is getting a grant of government money amounting to $19,669.19 for the purpose of paying back due teachers' salaries.

The opening date for the Quitman schools is set for September 10. Barwick High school will open September 3. High school pupils from the grammar schools at Nankin, Palmetto and East Side will attend Quimman school.

Winner in Athens Style Show

The winner in the style show for farm women held at the College of Agriculture has been announced. On the left is shown the winner, Mrs. Dewey Thurmond, of Clarke county, who was awarded the prize for her costume, a sport outfit. In center, Mrs. Ocie Hamilton, of Araby, Crisp county, is shown in an evening dress entered in the contest, and at right Mrs. W. D. Wallace, of Chamblee, DeKalb county, is wearing a dinner dress. Photo by Turner Hiers.

Life Along Savannah River Stirs As Cotton Crop Moves to Market

By BILL BORING.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—Augusta is chafing their peculiar ditties—farmers are repairing the high-sided wagons—black smoke curls from the stacks of the gins—it's cotton picking time along the old Savannah River.

The first bale was ginned in Richmond county Thursday. It was trucked to town by E. L. Moye, Reid, haged and bound, it weighed 485 pounds and was worth about $65 in the local market. Last year the same bale wouldn't have brought half that much.

The first bale was ginned in Adairton county several days ago. At an auction it sold for a premium.

Farmers of Burke, Glascock, Jenkins, Hancock, Lincoln, Wilkes, Columbia, Jefferson and other counties of this section co-operated almost 100 per cent with the government's reduced campaign and planted cotton which have enabled them to finance their crops with a minimum of borrowing.

Growers estimate this year's crop to be from one-third to one-half of normal. The reasons: Continued rainy weather during the early planting season, boll weevil damage and the failure of many farmers to plant up to full acreage allotments.

For the first time in the memory of many of the older planters, however, there are not kicking about the short crop.

They smile and say: "Isn't that what Uncle Sam want-ed?"

MAKER UNIVERSITY
ENDS SUMMER SESSION

MACON, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—Mercer University will close its twenty-one annual summer school Sunday and Monday. Programs featuring local speakers.

Dr. J. A. Harmon, pastor of Central Methodist church, will deliver the commencement sermon Sunday morning before 25 graduates in the Tattnall Square Baptist church, Dr. Spright Dowell, Mercer president, announced today.

Kyle T. Alfriend, executive secretary of the Georgia Education Association, will speak at the graduation exercises in the university chapel Monday morning.

MASONS AT SAVANNAH PLAN CELEBRATIONS

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 18.—Savannah Masons are making plans for the observance of some interesting occasions in Masonic circles. Ancient Landmark lodge of the order in Savannah is preparing to celebrate its 75th anniversary early in the fall. The date has not been chosen but it will probably take place sometime in November. The 75th anniversary of the lodge occurred during the past few weeks but it was decided to wait until the voting age men 21 are present.

The grand master and other prominent Masons will be in attendance.

The Masons of the city are also looking forward with much interest to the first district convention of Masons at Springfield on September 4.

The district worshipful master and he is planning an interesting program for this occasion. The Springfield lodge is to be host to about 30 lodges at this time.

On September 19 the convention of the twelfth district will be held at Macon. Dr. Williams, of Waycross, is the district worshipful master for this event. There will be a large delegation on hand from the Savannah lodges.

COBB COUNTY DIGEST SHOWS PROPERTY GAIN

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—The Cobb county tax assessors have made their annual report to the county officials after serving as equalizers since May 2. The board was composed of A. P. Jones, chairman; F. J. Allard, Mr. Morgan and R. S. Trotter, clerk.

He had been in decline before for several years, but he has put his affairs at the hospital until a few months ago. He had trained more than 100 men as pharmacists.

E. WOOTEN.

MILLIDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 18.—J. J. Wooten, pharmacist at the Millidgeville state hospital for the past 19 years, died today following an extensive illness.

Dr. Williams, of Waycross, is the district worshipful master for this event. There will be a large delegation on hand from the Savannah lodges.

FIVE PERSONS HURT ON MONTEZUMA ROAD

MONTEZUMA, Ga., Aug. 18.—Five people were brought to hospital here this afternoon for treatment following a head-on collision between two automobiles at Hunt's store on the highway near Oglethorpe, Ga., on the old road.

The injured are H. F. Lawson, son face and hands; Riley Binford, driver of one of the cars, cuts and bruises; Hillard Cromer, cut in back and face; J. O. Kelly, cut on arms and leg; Kelly Bearden, driver of other car, and Mrs. H. F. Lawson were unharmed. Their children, none of whom are in the Binford car, were unharmed. The injuries are considered serious.

The Binford car was passing a wagon and met the other car, it was said. Binford's car was wrecked.

TWIGGS GRAND JURY TO PROBE SLAYING

MACON, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—After state witnesses testified that John P. Moore clubbed Appleton Harris to death with a rifle and shotgun and submerged him in the water of a lake near a fishing camp, a three-judge justice of the peace court ordered Moore committed to the adjourned October grand jury of the Twiggs superior court.

The hearing was held yesterday and Moore in his statement to the court said he had not intended to kill Harris, but to scare him. "I expected him to shoot me the next minute," The defense claimed Harris died of pneumonia after lying on the ground all night.

The trouble took place April 13 at the fishing camp where Harris was caretaker. Harris died April 14.

Final arrangements had not been completed today.

ALFONSO JONES,

BONITA, Ga., Aug. 18.—Alfonso Hunter Jones, 72, resident of Bonita, passed away this morning after an extended illness.

Mr. Jones had been ill for several years. He was a member of the Twiggs Masonic Lodge No. 10 of this city, a Mason, member of the old fashioned fire department and a member of the bonita post of the American Legion.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. C. D. Dargan, of Greenville, Fla., and Mrs. W. E. Williams, of Bonita, two sons, C. Hunter Jones, of Twigs, and Mrs. Anna Thomas, of Scottsboro, Tenn., and one brother, John T. Jones of Bonita, Fla.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed today.

TEACHERS IN BROOKS RECEIVE FULL PAYMENT

QUITMAN, Ga., Aug. 18.—Despite the fact that the county lost $7,000 school funds when the state tax rate was reduced one mill, the city and Brooks county school teachers have been paid in full for the first time in several years. This was due to the new law the school system is getting a grant of government money amounting to $19,669.19 for the purpose of paying back due teachers' salaries.

The opening date for the Quitman schools is set for September 10. Barwick High school will open September 3. High school pupils from the grammar schools at Nankin, Palmetto and East Side will attend Quimman school.

ACCIDENTS ARE FATAL TO THREE GEORGians

Woman Dies Following Plunge Into Pit at Macon Bridge.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—Mrs. Charles S. Joyner, wife of a former city alderman, died in a hospital early this morning from injuries received last night when she was plunged into a pit at the Spring street bridge, now under reconstruction.

Her husband and Miss Charlotte Joyner, a daughter by a former marriage, also plunged into the pit when the concrete pavement gave way, were injured.

The three had gone for a hike after dinner last night and were viewing the new construction work when the pavement collapsed. A huge piece of concrete crushed Mrs. Joyner against concrete pilings some 25 feet below.

Mr. Joyner is agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in this territory.

TIFFTON MAN KILLED AS AUTO OVERTURNS

TIFFTON, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—One man was killed and two seriously injured in the overturning of an automobile on the highway a mile west of here at noon today. Mrs. V. L. Linton Flower died an hour after the accident. George Stevens was badly crushed, sustaining internal injuries and Ike Seibert was scalped with hot oil from the engine.

Flower's back was broken and his hip crushed.

COLUMBUS MAN DIES IN BUTLER ACCIDENT

BUTLER, Ga., Aug. 18.—The badly mangled body of a man, apparently about 26 years of age, identified as that of Joe Smith, of Columbus, type-writer representative, was found near the roadside on Route 20, about 10 o'clock last night. According to indications, Smith, who was traveling north, was struck by a passing car when he stepped from his automobile by a car traveling south, and which failed to stop after striking him.

The front lights of the Smith car were dimmed and his coat was torn by passing automobiles. The body was brought to local undertakers and relatives in Columbus were notified.

FAMILY AT GRIFFIN CASTS 20 VOTES ON ELECTION DAY

GRIFFIN, Ga., Aug. 18.—(P)—As insight into the future, at the time it began farming with a blind horse bought on credit for $10, would have had to wait until the joys in the life of E. E. Cook.

Eighteen children—what a lot of mouths to feed. Seventeen of them one hundred and seventh birthday. She is still able to get about and talk to her white friends. Her memory, however, is becoming keen. She was sold as a slave when nine years old to a planter in Mississippi. Later she was sold to a Kentuckian. She came to Georgia in 1870.

Nine of the children have reached the voting age and 11 are present. Cook, for office, can count 20 votes.

Nine of the children are boys. There are 21 grand-children in the family.

Three years ago the family crowded into a truck and visited the Southern Fair in Atlanta where they won a $50 prize for having the largest family present at the fair.

'ASSURED OF ELECTION', ASSERTS HOWELL COBB

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 18.—Howell Cobb is assured of election this year," his campaign headquarters here announced today. Reports received from all parts of the state are most encouraging, the announcement stated. Mr. Cobb said today he has been doing much work in late November and added he has found much enthusiastic support in that part of the state.

"In the 1932 race, which Mr. Cobb lost by a narrow margin under the unit plan, the Albany man was first popular vote, Mr. Yeoman second, Dr. Duckworth third and Mr. Huddleston fourth. Indications now point to a reversal of the Duckworth and Huddleston positions.

Joe Cobb is the oldest surviving child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Dock) Cobb, who were pioneer citizens of Henry county. Mrs. Cobb was Miss Nancy Ann Cooper prior to her marriage. From this union there were 14 children, all born and reared in Henry county. Only six are now living.

There are 98 descendants widely scattered throughout the country. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

BABB Reunion.

McDONOUGH, Ga., Aug. 18.—Friends and relatives of the Babb descendants will meet in McDonough, Ga., Saturday, Aug. 26, at 10:30 a. m. The reunion will bring together the descendants of Joseph B. Babb and Sarah Baker Babb on the ground upon which they settled in 1834. All persons bearing the name of Babb or related to the Babb family are invited.

Glynn R. Abram, of Lithonia, is president of the association, and Bond Almond, Atlanta, secretary.

Bondurant to Close TOBACCO SALES SOON

MOULTRIE, Ga., Aug. 18.—The Moultrie tobacco sales will end Saturday, Aug. 26, at 10:30 a. m. The firm will then turn its attention to cotton ginning by the producer for delivery of certificates allowing tax exemptions.

Donelson said he had received the following telegram from the revenue office:

"Ginners may attack bale tags to cotton ginned by them for producer pending issuance exemption certificate if satisfactory arrangements are made with producer for delivery of certificates or payment of tax."

Donelson said the Memphis Cotton Exchange had requested the ruling from the Bureau of Internal Revenue that ginners may take cotton to gins immediately without waiting for formal certificates allowing tax exemptions.

They were given to ginners by the producer for delivery of certificates or payment of tax

POPE'S FOLLOWERS MEET IN NASHVILLE

Expected To Join G. O. P.
In Effort To 'Purify' Tennessee Party.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 18.—(UPI)—Plans of Lewis S. Pope will gather here Tuesday in what has been designated a "straight democratic convention" for the purpose of nominating a candidate to oppose Governor Hill McAlister in the November election and considering a fusion with Tennessee republicans.

The fusion movement, started by the republican state executive committee, has for its purpose the joining of republicans and Pope democrats in support of Bea W. Hooper, republican, for the United States senate against Senator K. D. McKellar, democrat, the republicans in return to have the candidacy of a Pope man for governor.

In a vigorous statement published today, former Governor Hooper cited his own experience as a fusionist and said both parties as well as the entire state were benefited. Referring to his election as governor in 1910 and 1912 with democratic support, Hooper declared:

"Personally, I have engaged in this fusion movement twice. Tennessee twice, and in the light of history I can assert with emphasis that fusion benefited everybody concerned in it and wrought powerfully for the well-being of the state."

"The democrats who participated in it were not politically ostracized but they were subsequently honored with the highest offices in Tennessee from the Fusion State Partnership and the supreme bench on down."

The republican invitation for a combine with Pope supporters, while not specifically referred to in the call for the Tuesday convention, possibly will be acted on at that meeting. The call, after charging that "every kind of fraud was perpetrated" in the August 2 primary, said that unless some action is taken to become slaves of a corrupt political conspiracy and of a machine that will dominate all of our elections and lay tribute on every business in the state."

The meeting was arranged, the call said, "for the purpose of considering the deplored political situation of the state, of planning the destruction of the nefarious political machines which dominate the democratic party." The purpose was also to reorganize the organization of the democratic party free from machine domination and the control of predatory interests, of nominating a straight democrat to oppose Governor McAlister in the general election, and of making such other nominations and taking such other steps as the convention deems advisable.

Leaders most active in the movement said they might in the formal convention program had not been arranged, but that there would be several speakers and delegations from probably every county. It was regarded as likely that Pope himself would be one of the principal speakers and possibly that he would call the meeting to order.

The names of Pope, Circuit Judge

Albert T. L. Coleman, of Lewisburg;

Albert Williams, a schoolteacher;

and former state official, and E. W. Carmack, Murfreesboro daily newspaper publisher and son of the late United States Senator Carmack, have been advanced as likely nominees against McAlister.

Some Fires Checked, Others Break Out

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 18.—(UPI)

Forest fires were checked in some sectors of the northwest today only to slip from man's grasp in others.

Blown up by a breeze and rising temperatures, a fire in Boise Basin, about 40 miles northeast of Boise, Idaho, swept through 6,000 acres of timber and brush land today after destroying a lumber camp and a mine and driving 60 loggers in flight before it.

The fire started in operations of the Boise Pavette Lumber Company. Four hundred men being unable to cope with the flames, another 100 were sent out by the Ogden (Utah) forest service office.

In the Selway forest of central Idaho, fire fighters lined up parts of the winding King Creek trail to slip out of bounds. In the Lochsa river basin many little fires became few big ones on Coldwater and Handy creeks, where yesterday the flames swept over a fire fighters' camp just as they evacuated it.

In the Kaniksu forest of northern Idaho 1,100 men were battling a burn of 30 miles perimeter.

ROCK SPRINGS CLEANERS
Not the Biggest But the Best
14 NORTH AVE., N. E.
MEN'S SUITS,
LADIES' DRESSES
(Any Kind)
In Today—Out Tomorrow
"Beautifully Dry Cleaned"
CASH AND CARRY HE. 7158

25¢

St. Angela Academy Aiken, S. C.

Resident and Day School for Girls

Conducted by

The Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy

College Preparatory, General and Secretarial Courses Offered

(Accredited by the State of South Carolina)

Music Department

Kindergarten

For Terms, Apply to the Directress

Four Prominent Screen Stars Linked With 'Red' Activities

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 18.—(UPI)—Injunction proceedings to restrain movie stars from advocating or giving financial aid to communism and threatening to do so by the names of Alister, district attorney, as the names of Miss Velez, Dolores Del Rio and Ramon Novarro joined that of James Cagney in the investigation.

The district attorney announced he would seek an injunction against Cagney next week and would take similar action against the other Hollywood players if an inquiry in Los Angeles showed they had any connection with radicalism.

Miss Velez, Miss Del Rio's husband and Cagney joined in denying the charges. Novarro was not available for comment.

James Steffens, noted editor and author, branded as "absurd as Dr. Wirt's now famous remarks about the brain trust" the reports naming Cagney for comment. He said the movie "tough guy" had done no more than aid strike sufferers in the Soviet Union.

Detective Ray Kunz, a member of the police "red" squad, said the names of the two Mexican actresses and Novarro were found on a slip of paper in the effects of Caroline Becker, secretary of the Cannery and Agricultural Workers' Union, a Communist organization.

In a defense, Miss Velez supported the assertions of her husband, Johnnie Weismuller, that she did not know the meaning of the term communist. "Me a communist; ho, I don't even know what the blazes a communist is," she said. "I'm not so dumb that I would have anything to do with something like that." And I'm no Bolshevik either."

Miss Del Rio's husband, Cedric Gibbons, art director at Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studios, said:

"My wife has no connection with any communist movement. She is not interested in radical activities and has never contributed funds to any organization. We have no idea why her name should appear on a 'list' in the possession of any communist."

Weissmiller declared "silly and ridiculous" any attempt to link his wife with radicalism.

"Why, Lupe doesn't even know what the word communism means," said a man safely say for her, and I know she's never given money to any such cause."

"Why did that guy (the Sacramento district attorney) use her name? How about me and a hundred others in Hollywood? Why didn't he pick on us?"

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"Why did that guy (the Sacramento district attorney) use her name? How about me and a hundred others in Hollywood? Why didn't he pick on us?"

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

"We give money to needy people, especially on the basis of who we know for a quarter for something to eat. But we have never given money to any such organization."

LABATT KIDNAPING NO NEARER SOLVED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 18.—(UPI)—After relating a story of being held prisoner for three days in an automobile, Rev. R. H. Askew, 28-year-old disciple of Aimee Semple McPherson, tonight started back to the church structure which was blown up when Askew was killed unless $25,000 was paid.

Guards surrounded the Los Angeles temple of Aimee Semple McPherson, Four-Square gospel leader, when a note mailed to temple officials said the church structure would be blown up unless $25,000 was paid.

Police questioned Askew for six hours regarding his account of being held captive by three men who sought $25,000 ransom.

Askew denied writing any of the ransom notes or any knowledge of them except "they (the abductors) asked if my wife or Sister Aimee didn't have money."

The preacher apparently had not been kidnapped unless ill forced to enter town with his captors. When he entered the police headquarters. After he disengaged services.

She wired him money for train fare and he was to leave at 9:30 p. m. on the Nashville-Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, via Atlanta.

Division Chief W. A. Rorer, department of justice, stated:

"We are through with Askew. There are several angles to investigate."

The 28-year-old preacher appeared dazed when talking with Mrs. Askew.

After Askew completed the conversation with his wife, Nashville chief of detectives asked if the kidnappers were held ill force.

Moody & Latimer, attorneys for Gibson, based their plea on the grounds that Gibson had been refused a commitment hearing at Jonesboro.

"No, I was kidnapped," Askew replied, in a bewildered manner.

"It all seems very strange. My head is in a whirl. What day is it? What state is this?

"A few weeks ago, I had a dream that those who kidnapped me while I was carrying a load up a hill. The dream must've come true."

The youthful preacher walked into the local police station this morning and asked officers to notify Mrs. Askew that he had been released.

Askew said he was freed after his captors were told that his family and associates would not meet demands for $25,000 ransom.

During the period of his disappearance, Askew's 50-year-old wife at Goldsboro received threatening notes

Kidnapped Carolina Minister Is Released Near Nashville

him into a "large green automobile" with three men.

The three paid the first stranger some money, held a pistol on Askew and drove away.

For the greater part of the journey, the three men he was driving with slept tablets given him by the men. Askew's description of the car and the abductors was vague. One of the men, he said, was about 45 years old, looked like a Mexican, and spoke with a foreign accent. The other two were about 25 years old.

He remained being in Richmond, Va., Washington, D. C., and Knoxville, Tenn., while a prisoner. Most of the time he remained in a semistarvation on the floor of the car.

Shortly after coming today, the treasury said that for the first time since repeal, consumption and imports of liquor were $1,900,408.

Imports for the months were: Distilled liquors, 359,429 gallons; wines, 257,068 gallons, and sparkling wines, 20,330 gallons.

The treasury said that for the first time since repeal, consumption and imports of liquor were equal.

Clark Howell Is Finely Fitted To Head Aviation Probe, Washington Newspaper Feels

The following review of the high points of the business and public life of Clark Howell, recently appointed by President Roosevelt as chairman of committee of leading American citizens to investigate aviation conditions, is from the United States News, of Washington. The News, which is edited by David Lawrence, is the outstanding chronicler of the doings of the federal government. The article appeared in connection with a large layout of pictures of Mr. Howell, the entire feature occupying almost a full page.

FROM THE UNITED STATES NEWS.

General Sherman stood up, his six feet and four inches towering above the little group about him. He pulled up his coat sleeve, lifted his left hand and extended his fingers.

"You ask me, captain, why I took Atlanta? This is the answer!" and he began counting off the cities of the south, beginning with Norfolk at the thumb and ending with New Orleans at the little finger.

"It is true," the general continued, "that you have no navigable stream, you were in the center of a poor agricultural country; but you were the nerve center. Here you stand"—and he placed a lean finger at the wrist of the outspread hand—"and you have the strength of the nation behind you."

It was the second visit of the northern general's second visit to Atlanta, deferred long enough so that old wounds had had time to heal. A committee of officers who had once opposed him were gathered in a room in the old Kimball hotel. "With them was a boy, his father, who headed the reception committee, a former captain of artillery in the Confederate army.

To the boy it was a never-to-be-forgotten experience. At his age Sherman had been a sort of devil incarnate, whose eyes were poked out in the pictures in the history books by all sophomore schoolboys with a sense of fun and spirit. This one in particular might have had a peculiar reason for his antipathy, for he was born while his mother was a refugee from that terrible column that had "eaten its swath" from Atlanta to the sea.

But he found the general no ogre at all. His father and his mother's friends had been, for the same reasons, as they chatted over past campaigns, and finally put the question that brought forth the general's answer.

MEMORIES OF LONG AGO

OF BOY WHO HAS GROWN UP.

This week the "boy," now past his three score years and ten, recalled these remarks. As he puffed a slim cigar, he looked out toward the great building of the department of commerce, where he has begun the work of an investigation to end investigations. As America's new administrator, he is making the newspaper headlines again, and when they were, he was told that he had been the guest of General Fred Dent Grant and his wife.

In 1897 the full responsibility of the making of the newspaper descended on the shoulders of his new editor-in-chief, and he was soon elected to the presidency of the corporation. Immediately his activities began to be felt and his participation to this moment is one of Mr. Howell's characteristics. And the word activity is well chosen in this case, as his colleagues will testify. He is a power in the country.

One of the many campaigns which he inaugurated brought to the paper the Pulitzer prize for "meritorious service" to the community. This was the result of an attack on municipal conditions which resulted in a series of convictions of officials against the selection for the accomplishment of a task so very near the president's heart.

The story of the early days of The Constitution—the newspaper which took its name from the document which established its citizenship—is the story of an institution concentrated not to the perpetuation of the bitterness of the War Between the States, but to solid reunion of the nation. The part it played in clearing out the carpet-bagger and clearing away the attendant chaos of the reconstruction reflected the spirit of the men who controlled it.

One of these, Captain Evan Howell, was the father of the man who was to take up the reins when he laid them down. In this atmosphere the boy grew up, taught that the war was over when the peace was signed and that Blue and Grey must march together for the inevitable glory of a single flag.

There probably never was a time when young Howell didn't know what his future was to be. At least, he stepped into one apprenticeship for his task the moment he had completed his education at the University of Georgia, and with the graduation class of 1883, as he went straight to New York as reporter on the New York Times. From there he went to Philadelphia and got the night trick on the telegraph desk of the old Press.

The story of the early days of The Constitution—the newspaper which took its name from the document which established its citizenship—is the story of an institution concentrated not to the perpetuation of the bitterness of the War Between the States, but to solid reunion of the nation. The part it played in clearing out the carpet-bagger and clearing away the attendant chaos of the reconstruction reflected the spirit of the men who controlled it.

One of these, Captain Evan Howell, was the father of the man who was to take up the reins when he laid them down. In this atmosphere the boy grew up, taught that the war was over when the peace was signed and that Blue and Grey must march together for the inevitable glory of a single flag.

There probably never was a time when young Howell didn't know what his future was to be. At least, he heard about it was over the phone. The president called him up to wish him goodby, he said, before he took to ship for Hawaii, and added that he wanted to him to do something. When he asked what he was to do, he replied that what he didn't know about why he would take a book.

That, the president said, was exactly why he wanted him, for he wanted the business as well as the expert view. The president went on explaining tersely but fully what he hoped to do. He wanted to end recurring investigations. This one was to be the sixteenth and, if successful, the last.

He wanted the industry stabilized. If the end is accomplished, Clark Howell is now convinced—and he has been studying the subject from early morning until into the night ever since he got that call—"it will see the industry develop the next few years in a manner that will surpass the fondest dreams of transportation achievement."

And this is the job that Clark Howell has set himself to do with the help of his fellow commissioners. He will turn to Europe to study the administrative side of aviation there. The rest of the commission will tour this country. Hearings will be held, and by February they expect to be ready to report to Congress.

The last tropical days in Washington while the new commissioner has been organizing his activities revealed the man and his methods. There is a deliberate assurance and a certain persistence about his mode and manner which makes it easy to understand why his friends marvel at his gestures.

His gestures emphasize his points without distracting the thought of the observer; his pleasant affability puts one at instant ease. Minor distinctions pass unnoticed, cameras may take care of each interruption without allowing it to interrupt, and he gives the impression that he enjoys the good things of life as well. No doubt, more than one knotty problem of America's aeronautics will settle between the aperitif and the coffee without disturbing either the feast or reason or the flow of soul.

Tote Yo' Load

Is you in de dump, in darkness grope,
Has you los' yo' way; has you los' all hope?
Is you plumb' fe'got by de smilin' fate?
Am de day black dark, an' rough de road?
Run along, run along, tote yo' load.

Now don't complain; no time to stop;
Don' count down dis' drop by drop.
Don' count dis' miles of de long, rough road;

Run, run, run, tote yo' load.

On the voyage home, an incident occurred which seemed to typify the international friendliness expressed at the world's fair. Telling it, Dr. Newton said that it seems "a token of the apparent friendliness between the peoples of the world."

I was aboard the German liner

The Happenings of The Church World

BY HERMAN L. TURNER,
Pastor, Covenant Presbyterian Church,

"The Catholics of Germany," according to The Presbyterian Advance, "appear to have won in their fight for the religious training of their youth. The large Catholic youth organizations are to be changed into diocesan organizations, which will represent cultural exercises and sports as well as all quasi-military activities. The government is to guarantee the continuation of these organizations as Catholic educational institutions. Catholics have a way of getting things, but there will be no grounds for complaint that they have the courage to stand for the religious training of their youth. If Protestants had shown a similar courage and persistence in standing for their full rights they might have won similar privileges."

A growing interest in the Bible among the 25,000 Indians in the Pacific coast states has been reported to the American Bible Society by its Pacific agency. It has long been a question among these Indians as to whether or the Bible was a real religious help to them. They recognized the Bible as the white man's Book and they feared it would destroy their old and cherished Indian culture; but they have come to believe that the Bible reaches a forward-looking religion and possesses the promise of life that even soothsayers could not find. The younger people read the Bible in English but the older generation want the Scriptures in the language they understand. The American Bible Society has printed some part of the Bible in 15 different Indian dialects spoken throughout America.

"That?" was the somewhat surprised reply. "Why that's 'Marching Through Georgia.'"

The New York Times as the Christmas season approaches each year publishes its list of the "Hundred Neediest Cases"; it has gathered, and appeals for aid. The result is that these cases are always provided for and something over four millions of dollars has been received and distributed in this work. The question most often asked is, "How much is given?" The Presbyterian Banner, "what is the outcome of this work and does it really work a salvation of wrecked individuals and families that fully justify it?" This question occurred to The Times itself and it set about an investigation in which it followed these cases. The results are gratifying, as its reporter found, "After a considerable time spent in the study of these cases, the writer has always been distrustful of a person who is always asking for money, but he has learned that the same no matter whether the matter is laughable or not, he could not lose faith in this boy of the hills. Years have gone by since he went down the hill with the writer's dollar, but the boy of the hills still had the full confidence of this writer."

"Belong in the hills?" asked the writer.

"Yes," said the youth. "Am what you city fellers call a 'Hill Billy.' There was no resisting the honest-to-goodness face and the real good-will smile."

That boy contained two honest-to-goodness pints of honest-to-goodness "mountain dew!"

"Been to the store?" asked the

Visitor to West Virginia Hills Learns Trick Of Business from "Hill Billy" Youth, As Told in "Good Words," Prison Monthly

(Editor's Note: The following article of life in the West Virginia hills is from Good Words, the official organ of the inmates of the Atlanta federal prison, reprinted by permission from the editor and Warden A. C. Aderholt.)

THE HILL BILLY.

In the city of Wheeling, W. Va., on the eastern outskirts it is located a large rock formation which is known as the "hill." The writer happened on the hill one day, taking in the view of the city, when he saw approaching in his direction a very young man, clad in very short, blue overalls, a check shirt and dilapidated straw hat. He appeared to be several inches over six feet tall and was barefooted. As he came within speaking distance he began singing in a not unusual voice:

"Way up in the moun-tains,
Whar the snow hit falls in flakes,
We're the boys that fear no noise,
The West Virginian snakes.

The singer was evidently a youth from the hills, and the writer watched him with a deep, curious interest. The lad appeared to be of a very pleasing personality and possessed a smile which departed both confidence and glee.

He had a pasteboard box tied with a string under one arm. He stopped as he reached the writer, took off his straw hat, and fanning himself, said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

The writer had been personally acquainted with Tolliver and knew the date of his death by hanging.

"Well, that would make you just 17 years old this coming Friday,"

"By cracky, sigglykay, what the hill schoolmarm told me," said the boy.

The writer then asked the youth if he would tell him where a few pints of good corn liquor could be had and immediately received this answer:

"You could, mister, but it's wet."

And, buried to the middle in his whistling, he said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"Got any store-herbacker, mister?"

"I come right smart climb, mister."

The writer handed over his package of Mail Pouc, telling the boy that he must keep him, which he did to the tune of just one-half of the package. Not only did he show some generosity, but he had given the boy the remainder of the package.

After receiving the string from the box he reached the writer, took off his straw hat, and fanning himself, said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"What?" said the youth. "Am what you city fellers call a 'Hill Billy.' There was no resisting the honest-to-goodness face and the real good-will smile."

That boy contained two honest-to-goodness pints of honest-to-goodness "mountain dew!"

"Been to the store?" asked the writer, looking in the direction of the pasteboard box.

"Yep; got a new pair of shoes; going to get spliced next week," was the reply.

"How old are you?" inquired the writer.

"Say, mister, I hant much on figures. I wish you would help me a little. They tell me I was born the week they hung Ceng Toliver over in Kentucky. Can't yah figger out how old I am from that?" he wanted to know.

It so happened that the writer had been personally acquainted with Tolliver and knew the date of his death by hanging.

"Well, that would make you just 17 years old this coming Friday,"

"By cracky, sigglykay, what the hill schoolmarm told me," said the boy.

The writer then asked the youth if he would tell him where a few pints of good corn liquor could be had and immediately received this answer:

"You could, mister, but it's wet."

And, buried to the middle in his whistling, he said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"Got any store-herbacker, mister?"

"I come right smart climb, mister."

The writer handed over his package of Mail Pouc, telling the boy that he must keep him, which he did to the tune of just one-half of the package.

After receiving the string from the box he reached the writer, took off his straw hat, and fanning himself, said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"What?" said the youth. "Am what you city fellers call a 'Hill Billy.' There was no resisting the honest-to-goodness face and the real good-will smile."

That boy contained two honest-to-goodness pints of honest-to-goodness "mountain dew!"

"Been to the store?" asked the

writer, looking in the direction of the pasteboard box.

"Yep; got a new pair of shoes; going to get spliced next week," was the reply.

"How old are you?" inquired the writer.

"Say, mister, I hant much on figures. I wish you would help me a little. They tell me I was born the week they hung Ceng Toliver over in Kentucky. Can't yah figger out how old I am from that?" he wanted to know.

It so happened that the writer had been personally acquainted with Tolliver and knew the date of his death by hanging.

"Well, that would make you just 17 years old this coming Friday,"

"By cracky, sigglykay, what the hill schoolmarm told me," said the boy.

The writer then asked the youth if he would tell him where a few pints of good corn liquor could be had and immediately received this answer:

"You could, mister, but it's wet."

And, buried to the middle in his whistling, he said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"Got any store-herbacker, mister?"

"I come right smart climb, mister."

The writer handed over his package of Mail Pouc, telling the boy that he must keep him, which he did to the tune of just one-half of the package.

After receiving the string from the box he reached the writer, took off his straw hat, and fanning himself, said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

"What?" said the youth. "Am what you city fellers call a 'Hill Billy.' There was no resisting the honest-to-goodness face and the real good-will smile."

That boy contained two honest-to-goodness pints of honest-to-goodness "mountain dew!"

"Been to the store?" asked the writer, looking in the direction of the pasteboard box.

"Yep; got a new pair of shoes; going to get spliced next week," was the reply.

"How old are you?" inquired the writer.

"Say, mister, I hant much on figures. I wish you would help me a little. They tell me I was born the week they hung Ceng Toliver over in Kentucky. Can't yah figger out how old I am from that?" he wanted to know.

It so happened that the writer had been personally acquainted with Tolliver and knew the date of his death by hanging.

"Well, that would make you just 17 years old this coming Friday,"

"By cracky, sigglykay, what the hill schoolmarm told me," said the boy.

The writer then asked the youth if he would tell him where a few pints of good corn liquor could be had and immediately received this answer:

"You could, mister, but it's wet."

And, buried to the middle in his whistling, he said:

"I come right smart climb, mister."

WALLACE STUDIES LAVY BAN SCHEME IN YARD OF HOME

Cotton and Wheat Processing Taxes Subject of Conference With Davis.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—Added to the farm administration's drought troubles is the proposal by three senators that processing taxes on wheat and cotton be suspended and that prices on the commodities be "pegged" through loans.

The official word today at the administration offices was that the recommendations are being studied, but privately officials said they felt the plan was unwise in the main.

Secretary Wallace and his aids have been emphatic in their oppositions to suggestions that processing taxes be abandoned. They contend the levy feature is the heart of the agricultural adjustment act.

Senators Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma; Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, and Smith, democrat, South Carolina, urged that the taxes be temporarily abandoned during the marketing season for the two crops. They advocated that in advanced on wheat as on corn during the past year and that cotton loans of "at least 15 cents a pound" be made.

Wallace, Davis Confer.

Secretary Wallace called his administrator of the AAA, Chester C. Davis, who has just returned from a six-week tour through the midwest and far west, into conference with the proposal today. Both declined to discuss their talk, asserting further consideration must be given the proposal.

Thomas said he believed the removal of the processing tax on cotton and wheat and the establishment of a loan system to make it possible for the grower to hold his crop, would aid the farmer to get better prices.

The senators held yesterday the 4 1/2 cents a pound tax on cotton would raise the price to growers from 2 1/2 to 4 cents a pound, and lifting the 30 cents per bushel tax on wheat would increase farmers' returns from 15 to 30 cents.

The result would be accomplished, officials said, if he could assure the full benefit of the tax-lifting would be passed on to farmers.

Consumer Bears Brunt.

This assumption would, however, presuppose that the full amount of the processing tax is now being taken out of the price paid to farmers, they added and it is the belief of administration economists that part, and in some cases all, of these taxes are being passed on to consumers.

Administration studies have indicated that when supplies are large and prices low, the taxes are taken out of farmers' prices but when supplies are short and prices are high, which conditions are already present due to the situation, most of the tax is passed on to the consumer.

The administration already has under consideration a possible huge lending program on farm crops for next year, modeled after this year's plan of lending 45 cents a bushel on corn stored under government seal, and 10 cents a pound on cotton.

Wheat Tax Limitation.

There exists that the tax could be applied to wheat if it is stored on the farm. Wheat must be stored in air-tight bins which can be protected from weevil damage, and storage facilities on farms may not be available.

But serious study is being given to the proposal of the trio of senators that loans of 13 or 15 cents be advanced on cotton, since the crop is short and the 10-cent loan plan is a success.

The farm administration feeling about proposals to suspend the processing tax is that once the levies are lifted, other taxes might have to be suspended. The taxes are depended upon to raise money to pay farmers who voluntarily co-operate in acreage reduction.

Gray Hair Clutched in Hand Give Officers Only Clue.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 18.—(P)—A fiendish murder, the fifth in recent years involving young girls or women, started San Diego today with the finding of the body of attractive Celia Cota, 16, in the backyard of her home.

An autopsy this afternoon disclosed that the girl was criminally assaulted and choked to death. Several gray hairs, found clutched in her hands, proved to be from rabbits, kept near where the body was found. Police had hoped the hairs would provide a clue to the slayer.

Finding of the body ended a frantic night's search for the girl, daughter of Edward Cota, custom broker. She told her parents she was going for a few minutes' walk about 8 o'clock last night. A younger sister, Esther, remained behind, explaining she was too tired to go.

Hour after hour passed and when midnight struck and she had not returned police were notified.

Through the long hours before dawn they searched for Celia. Not a vacant lot was overlooked. Then after daylight, about 6:40 a.m., they found her where they probably never expected to look—in the backyard of her home. The discovery was made by Officers O'Brien, Stiles, and Leo Maguire, riding in a patrol car.

The gray hairs clutched in death were taken to coroner's chemists for examination. An old shank about 10 feet from the spot where the body was found, was to be examined for fingerprints.

First to be questioned by the police was Steve Ritter, an advertising man of the city. Officials said he was not officially a suspect but they hoped to gain information from him. He had not seen Celia for two days he told police.

The Cota family came to San Diego about 10 years ago. Formerly they had lived in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

The other violent deaths which have baffled criminal experts here were:

Virginia Brooks, 10-year-old schoolgirl, whose mutilated body was found in the spring of 1931, the first of the series.

Louise Teuber, 17, whose nude body was found swinging to an oak tree on Black Mountain, near here.

Hazel Bradshaw, pretty telephone operator, was found strangled to death.

Mrs. W. D. (Diamond Dolly) Bibens, found strangled to death.

DESERTER CONFESSES

MURDER OF WIDOW

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 18.—(P)—In a written statement to Gonzales county officials today, Frank Wick, 27, Randolph field deserter, confessed the fatal beating of Mrs. Clara Ploeger, wealthy Youkum widow, on a road near Gonzales this morning.

The statement related that Wick went to the widow's home about 9 o'clock last night and at midnight they started out for beer.

Four miles from Youkum, the statement said, a pint of whisky was purchased, which they started drinking. Near Gonzales the car was parked and a fight ensued.

REGISTRATION SEPT. 1 FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

Registration for the Fulton county school system will begin officially September 1 in the elementary schools and September 4 in high schools. Regular school work will begin Monday, September 10.

High school principals and teachers will meet Friday, August 31, at Fulton High to discuss plans for the year. Grammar school teachers will assemble Saturday morning, September 1, at Fulton High for the same purpose.

Examination will be given at the various schools Wednesday, September 2. Payment of book rental fees will be continued through the first week of September.

High school book rental fees have been fixed at $6, $7, $8 and $9 for the four years, respectively. Grammar school fees will remain the same as last year.

The following registration schedule has been announced by Jerry A. Wells, superintendent of schools: Tuesday, September 4, seniors; Wednesday, September 5, juniors; Thursday, September 6, sophomores; Friday, September 7, freshmen.

Credit memoranda for high school textbooks which have been in use will be issued during the last week of August.

ENGINEERS PROBE CAUSE OF SETTLING OF HOMES IN IOWA

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Aug. 18.—Engineers dug into Mother earth to find the cause for the sudden settling of houses in the south central and southwestern sections of the city.

Many of the houses have stood for 40 years or more and never before has such an underground mystery popped up. City Engineer Jack Boyne probed the earth to find the cause of the mystery. Much of the soil in the area is like clay and residents point out that the extreme heat, together with the long absence of rain, has resulted in the soil crystallizing into a fine dust-like sand.

Four dwellings, all of which were built about 40 years ago, were examined yesterday but no definite conclusion was reached. In these dwellings doors no longer close, windows no longer slide up and down and plaster has fallen from the walls and ceilings.

However, city officials see no danger of damage great enough to cause the houses to be condemned or to make them uninhabitable.

Damage from the settling process thus far is estimated at around $100,000 but no definite figures are available.

This estimate includes damage done to the Twentieth Avenue school, 20 blocks south of the position of the four houses thus far examined, where cracks have appeared in reinforced concrete walls.

The possibility of underground cavities formed as a result of the drought and the resulting subsidence and the possibility that the trouble might be due to the constant night traffic of heavily loaded live stock trucks are both under investigation.

Three Men Quizzed In Hanging of Youth

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—Three men were being held today while the coroner completed his investigation into the death of 14-year-old Dalton Poindexter, of Richmond, Va., who was found in his temporary home here yesterday afternoon with a hangman's noose about his neck and the odor of liquor on his lips.

Police said the men were drinking in a room adjoining that in which the body was found suspended by a clothes line.

Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald performed an autopsy last night and turned the contents of the youth's stomach over to the district chemist for analysis.

The men being held are Lona Long,

30; Thomas Fiddler, 37, and V. P.

Poindexter, 30, the dead boy's cousin.

The latter told police that he found the body when he went to investigate the boy's absence.

The three men denied they gave the

Stetson Presidency Offered Baylor Dean

DE LAND, Fla., Aug. 18.—(P)—

The board of directors of Stetson

University, meeting here today, offered the presidency of the institution to Dr. William Sims Allen, vice president and dean of Baylor University at Waco, Texas, and he is let them know his decision within four days.

Dr. Allen, who appeared before the board today, left for Texas tonight.

John B. Stetson Jr., president of the board, issued the following announcement:

"After careful deliberation by the board of trustees of Stetson University at Waco, Texas, and he is let them know his decision within four days.

The board anticipates an early response from Dr. Allen."

Should he accept the appointment, Dr. Allen would succeed Dr. Lincoln

Hulley, who died recently.

watt hours. He made a huge increase in USE at a nominal increase in COST.

MRS. A. M. LEE, 562 Formwalt Street, S. W.

At this home appears another striking example. Comparing the first six months of 1933 and 1934, Mrs. Lee's use of the service increased from 120 kilowatt hours to 244, but her total electric bills for the first six months increased only from $12 to $12.68. She got MORE THAN TWICE as much electricity, but it cost her a total of only 68 cents for the six months—an increase of only 5 2/3 per cent in cost, with an increase of over 100 per cent in use. Mrs. Lee now has the electric refrigerator she so long has wanted and is delighted with the new rates.

BLEWETT LEE, 355 Peachtree Battle Ave.

This customer has been out of the city for the past three months and as a result has used less electricity than usual. However, Mr. Lee, a large user of electric service, has saved a total of $21.43 for the first six months of this year. In other words, the electricity he has used this year would have cost him $21.43 more if the old rates had remained in effect.

C. E. LEE, 3215 West Shadowlawn Ave.: Mr. Lee's home, for the first six months of 1934, used 24 kilowatt hours MORE electricity than from January through June of 1933—and paid $4.33 LESS money for it. In January, February and June, due to the Free Electricity feature of the new rates, he could have used a total of 68 kilowatt hours more than he did use, at no added cost. He used SOME of his Free Electricity, but not all of it.

C. P. LEE, 2212 Boulevard Drive, N. E.

Here is a home that has MORE THAN TREBLED its use of electric service since the new low rates went into effect. From January through June of this year, it used 902 kilowatt hours, as compared with a total of 278 during the same months of 1933. And this big increase in use—permitting the addition of an electric range and a vacuum cleaner—cost Mr. Lee less than 5 cents a day increase in his electric bills. (Since the telephone directory was published, Mr. and Mrs. Lee have moved to 51 Doyle street, N. E.)

CARLTON LEE, 1173 Pryor Street, S. W.: This home has paid, for the first six months of 1934, $3.32 less for electric current than it paid during the same months of last year. But, for this smaller amount, it got 20 kilowatt hours MORE than it used last year.

DR. CARLTON A. LEE, 463 Collier Road, N. W.: Dr. Lee moved from this address for the summer months, but expects to resume his service September 1.

CHARLIE C. LEE, 717 Bernice Street, S. W.: This customer used 22 MORE kilowatt hours of electricity during June than in the same period of 1933—but paid $3.20 LESS in money for the increased amount than he paid for the smaller amount in 1933. Mrs. Lee now has a new vacuum cleaner and has increased her use of electric light.

DANA H. LEE, 786 Grant Street, S. E.: This is a new customer whose service began in May. In two months his electric bills were $1.18 less than they would have been under last year's rates. Mr. and Mrs. Lee have lived in Atlanta for many years but Mrs. Lee said they did without electric service until they found out about the new low electric rates. Now they are using plenty of electric lights, an electric iron and a radio. And their bills compare favorably, she says, with what they paid for old-fashioned methods.

MISS DOROTHY LEE, 1291 Gordon Street, S. W.: Miss Lee has taken advantage of the new low electric rates by increasing use of her service. And she has saved money, too. For the first six months of 1934, this home used 56 kilowatt hours MORE electric service than for the same period of 1933—and the total bills were $4.05 LESS than they were for the smaller amount used last year.

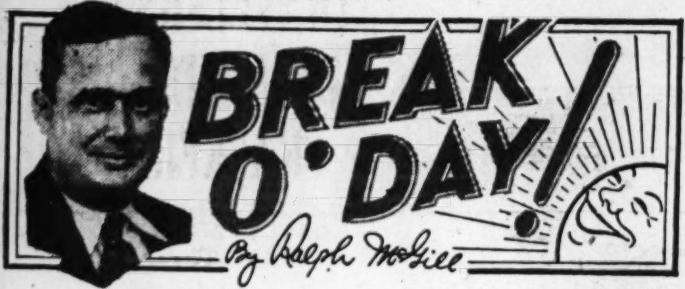

And so it goes—literally hundreds of thousands of dollars, in cash savings, have been added to Georgia's household treasures. In burdens lifted, labor saved and lives brightened—the benefits have been greater still.

WIN $100.00 FOR YOUR LETTER!
67 other cash prizes---$350.00 in all!

A first grand prize of $100.00—second grand prize of $50—third grand prize of $25—and 65 other money prizes await the winners on: "How the New Low Electric Rates Benefit My Home." Letters are pouring in—many already have been published. Get your letter in—the contest closes at midnight, Friday, August 31. Ask at any Georgia Power Company store for the full details or write 463 Electric Building, Atlanta.

Georgia Power Company

Recovery of Jack Phillips Brightens Tech's Hopes in Football

"He Practiced Sliding Until Blood Dripped From His Uniform!"

Ty Cobb, looking fresh and fit, bronzed by a thousand California suns, mellowed by the years of peace after more than a quarter of a century of baseball wars, looked younger and happier than ever before.

"Ty, how would this Detroit team compare with your old teams of 25 years ago?" I asked.

"You couldn't say," he replied. "This is a great team. But we were playing with a different ball. The game was different then. Mickey Cochrane is handling the team as well as any manager the game has seen, but you can't compare the two teams because the game isn't the same."

And that's true. The lively ball did more to baseball than merely add home runs. It changed almost entirely perspective of the game. It wrought a new performance. It created, in short, a new game.

The old style of play, the choke hitters, the hit-and-run and the squeeze play—all the old styles went by the boards.

There was no use playing for one run with the lively ball. There was no use employing strategy when even the weakest hitter on the club might take that bat in his hands and bunt the ball over the fence.

And so the game changed. The batters took the bat by the handle and swung from the flask pocket. All strategy and all baseball, as it used to be played, disappeared. The big idea was to give the ball a ride. And so the entire complexion of the game was changed.

Cobb had just come to Atlanta from seeing Detroit play. He thinks it a good ball club, one which will give the Giants a great battle should they meet in the series. Cobb is out of the wars now and wants to stay out. But I think he believes Detroit would beat the Giants in a series.

The present outfield of Pete Fox, Goose Goslin and Joyner White doesn't possess the speed and power the 1909 Tigers had when Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford were out there ranging far and wide. And McIntyre, the third member of the trio, was no slouch.

But the 1934 Tiger infield would better the old one of 1909. And Mickey Cochrane will compare with any catcher the game has had.

But, as Cobb says, you can't compare them. They didn't play the same game.

THE FIERY GENIUS OF THE GAME.

Cobb himself remains as one of the great figures of sport. As someone wrote of him, he stands alone as "the fiery genius of the game."

There have been players who could throw farther, hit longer balls, field better, but none ever came along who could match him for speed of mind and leg, for daring and for intelligence in his profession.

Looking at the man now, one can see that same trimness of line, like a racing yacht. There are more pounds on him now, but that look of daring and of eagerness is stamped on his face just the same.

He was the finest co-ordinated ball player the game has ever seen. I suspect that he and Bobby Jones and Bill Tilden are the three finest co-ordinated athletes the world has ever seen. Baseball never had before and hasn't had since a man who was the peer of Cobb.

NOT THE GREATEST, YET THE GREATEST.

There is strange paradox about his record.

He was not the fastest man of his day, yet he was the best base runner that ever lived, and he could steal bases faster and with more skill than any other man in the game.

He was not a great fielder, and yet he was the most dangerous and most spectacular one the game ever saw in action. Once he threw out three men at first in one game from his position in the outfield.

He was not a natural hitter such as Babe Ruth and yet he left the greatest batting record ever compiled in the long history of baseball.

Cobb has told me of his long and arduous toil to drive him self to the top. He worked in the mornings. He worked after games. He possesses a passion to be the best in anything he attempts. It isn't a bad ambition, this one which drives a man to master whatever he attempts.

And so he had just those two things—co-ordination and the will to go on and refuse to admit defeat.

That combination drove him to the top and left him as the undisputed genius of baseball.

THE ROAD TO THE TOP.

It has been told before. It will be told again. But it will always bear retelling.

That is the story of Cobb's arduous road to the top. He broke in with Augusta in 1904 and he was a poor fielder, a poor hitter and just a fair country ball player.

He hit just .237 in 37 games with Augusta and was traded to Anniston. He was in 22 games there and batted .370. In 1905 he was back with Augusta, and that will was driving him.

He went to work. He developed the hook slide and the fallaway and the fadeaway slides.

He practiced sliding until the blood dripped from his uniform. He chased fly balls all morning under hot suns and played in the afternoon.

Within a few years he was the terror of the opposition. Pitchers trembled when he came to bat. Once he was on base the battery was in complete terror. He stole bases. He scored from second on a sacrifice bunt. He went from first home on one. He purposely got himself trapped off base. He was a knife blade, a

ATLANTA SURE OF ONE ENTRY IN U.S. AMATEUR

Four Places Allotted District With Three Out-of-Town Players.

By Roy White.

Atlanta is assured of at least one entry in the national amateur tournament in September, but a dozen others and three visitors will seek to qualify over the No. 1 East Lake course in the annual sectional eliminations for the climax of the country's major golf events for the year.

This section has been allotted four places by the United States Golf Association and with only three out-of-town entries, one Atlantan is certain to make the grade. There are 16 entries for this district.

Tuesday's qualifying will be held simultaneously in United States to select 167 golfers along with the exempt players, who will battle for amateur crown.

OTHER TRIALS.

Nashville, Tenn., and Orlando, Fla., are other southeastern cities to hold the sectional eliminations in addition to Atlanta. There are five entries and two places in Nashville and 10 entries and four places at Orlando, giving southern boys 10 chances at the national title.

Charlie Yates, Georgia Tech's national intercollegiate champion, and Julian Hughes, city amateur and open champion, head the group of Atlanta entries. Others from the city are Tom Barnes, Jack Bothamley Jr., Bryan and Crawford Rainwater, M. Smith, Stacey Holditch, Morton Campbell, Dan Sage Jr., Charles Daniels Jr., S. E. Gill and Berrien Moore Jr.

The visiting entries are Dean Smith, Savannah; J. O. Lindsay, Greenville, S. C., and Frank Ford, Charleston.

There will be 36 holes in the qualifying round and the four lowest scores will be nominated from this district. The opening round will be played in the morning starting at 9 o'clock with the afternoon round scheduled for 2 o'clock. Both the morning and afternoon play will be in twosomes and the pairings and order of starting will be the same throughout the day.

There is an abundance of youth in the 1934 amateur entries, particularly in the Atlanta district, where not a single entry can be classed as a veteran player.

Yates, Moore, Hughes, Sage, Barnes and Gill have entered before and Yates had gone to the quarterfinals in the national eliminations.

FIRST CHANCE.

Brown and Crawford Rainwater, Holditch, Daniels and Bothamley will be seeking their first chance in Tuesday's play here. Bothamley was entered last year in one of the eastern sections where was visiting at the time, but, York, Hughes are conceded the best chance to lead the Atlantans, with the other places very much in doubt. Competition for all four places will be keen and harder fought than ever before, but the third and fourth places should produce a battle well worth the while.

Tuesday's entry is one of the largest ever recorded for Atlanta and helps to assure the national eliminations to a new record.

KOOTH CONWAY.

Members of the Capital City Country Club will hold another of their semi-monthly nine-hole tournaments this afternoon on the club course. It will be a nine-hole affair.

Play will start around 4 o'clock and the players may select their own partners.

Both players will be permitted to drive from each tee and they will select the best one to continue the play. That plan was first used several weeks ago and proved so popular that it will be in effect again today.

Howard Beckett, the club professional, will be in charge of the tourney and requests all participants to report to the club as soon as possible today.

Prizes will be given to the winner and runner-up.

EAST'S NETMEN LEAD WEST, 3-2

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 18. (UPI)—Aided by England's Fred Perry, world's champion tennis player, the east gained a 3-to-2 lead over the west in their annual inter-sectional battle at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club here today.

Perry defeated Jack Tidball, of California, former intercollegiate champion, 8-6, 6-3, and joined Frank H. D. Wilde, also of England, to defeat Vernon Kirby, of South Africa, and Rodriguez Menzel, Czechoslovakia Davis cup star, 6-4, 7-5.

J. Gilbert Hall, of New Jersey, defeated Robert (Lefty) Bryan, of Chattanooga, 6-4, 6-2.

Menzel admitted to the western squad to allow him practice for the coming national championships, defeated Manuel Alonso, of New York, 3-6, 6-3, and controlled the court all the way except the second when he experienced difficulty holding his footing on the wet grass. He is rated as a brainy driver with a reputation of practically always finishing a race well in the money.

NOT THE GREATEST, YET THE GREATEST.

There is strange paradox about his record.

He was not the fastest man of his day, yet he was the best base runner that ever lived, and he could steal bases faster and with more skill than any other man in the game.

He was not a great fielder, and yet he was the most dangerous and most spectacular one the game ever saw in action. Once he threw out three men at first in one game from his position in the outfield.

He was not a natural hitter such as Babe Ruth and yet he left the greatest batting record ever compiled in the long history of baseball.

Cobb has told me of his long and arduous toil to drive him self to the top. He worked in the mornings. He worked after games. He possesses a passion to be the best in anything he attempts. It isn't a bad ambition, this one which drives a man to master whatever he attempts.

And so he had just those two things—co-ordination and the will to go on and refuse to admit defeat.

That combination drove him to the top and left him as the undisputed genius of baseball.

Within a few years he was the terror of the opposition. Pitchers trembled when he came to bat. Once he was on base the battery was in complete terror. He stole bases. He scored from second on a sacrifice bunt. He went from first home on one. He purposely got himself trapped off base. He was a knife blade, a

BASEBALL Summary SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

THE STANDING.

CLUBS—W. L. Pet.—N. L. Pet.

New Orleans 25 14 .714 Knoxville 21 24 .493

Chattanooga 27 19 .587 ATLANTA 22 20 .451

Memphis 27 23 .519 Birmingham 20 28 .417

Nashville 22 26 .488 Little Rock 19 28 .404

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Chattanooga 1-0 New Orleans 2-0

Nashville 1-0 Memphis 2-0

Birmingham 0-1 Atlanta 2-0

TODAY'S GAMES.

ATLANTA at Little Rock (2).

Chattanooga at New Orleans.

Knoxville at Birmingham.

Nashville at Memphis.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

THE STANDING.

CLUBS—W. L. Pet.—N. L. Pet.

New York 74 44 .643 Pittsburgh 54 58 .482

Baltimore 67 49 .544 Philadelphia 48 53 .438

St. Louis 57 56 .504 Cincinnati 40 74 .381

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

New York 5-0 Cincinnati 0.

Brooklyn 6-2 Pittsburgh 2.

Baltimore 1-0 Philadelphia 1.

Philadelphia 0-0 Chicago 2.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Chicago 4-3 Washington 3-2

Cleveland 7-3 Pittsburgh 2-0

St. Louis 1-0 New York 2.

Detroit 7-1 Boston 8.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

THE STANDING.

CLUBS—W. L. Pet.—N. L. Pet.

Newark 80 49 .620 Buffalo 63 65 .390

Rochester 67 55 .549 Montreal 59 64 .487

St. Louis 68 56 .582 Toledo 53 66 .458

Albany 65 68 .508 Baltimore 48 52 .344

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Newark 5-0 Rochester 4.

Syracuse 2-3 Toronto 8-2.

Baltimore 9-0 Montreal 7.

Buffalo 10-8 Albany 2.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Newark at Rochester.

Baltimore at Montreal.

Albany at Buffalo.

ASSOCIATION.

THE STANDING.

CLUBS—W. L. Pet.—N. L. Pet.

Minneapolis 66 54 .550 Louisville 63 59 .517

Columbus 67 55 .549 Morris 59 64 .487

Id. nats 68 56 .582 Paul 53 66 .458

Waukesha 63 59 .516 Kan. City 52 70 .426

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Minneapolis 5-0 Rochester 4.

Syracuse 2-3 Toronto 8-2.

Baltimore 9-0 Montreal 7.

Buffalo

Marietta Defeats West End for North Georgia Golf League Title

Victory Marks Successful End of '34 Season

Max Pittard Leads Teams to Great 10 to 5 Victory Saturday.

By Roy White.

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 18.—Marietta's golfers won their first North Georgia Golf league championship here this afternoon in a play-off with the West End club, of Atlanta. Marietta defeated the Atlanta team, 10 to 5, and the victory made it 10 wins, two losses, and one tie for the season. West End won the league trophy two years ago.

West End due to the loss, finished in second place, one-half match ahead of Ansley Park in third place.

Today's match was a play-off of a tie between the two teams several weeks ago and was one of the hardest fought of the entire season.

PLAN RENEWAL.

The league has announced the most successful season in its history. It was abandoned last year after only two or three matches had been played, but revived with new spirit and new interest this spring. And plans already are in the making for a renewal of the schedule next year, with several teams to be added.

The match today was fitting climax to Marietta's best season of golf. The locals have not lost a single match on their home course and were beaten only twice in matches in Atlanta.

Following the match, Marietta was formally presented with the championship trophy and each member of the winning team was awarded a silver engraved tie clasp. The presentations were made at a farewell dinner at the Marietta Country Club.

A heavy rain delayed the opening of the championship match more than an hour and another rain several hours later sent the players to the clubhouse and again delayed the play.

None of the players had any serious scoring to do, although some greens were so heavy that niblicks were used in many instances.

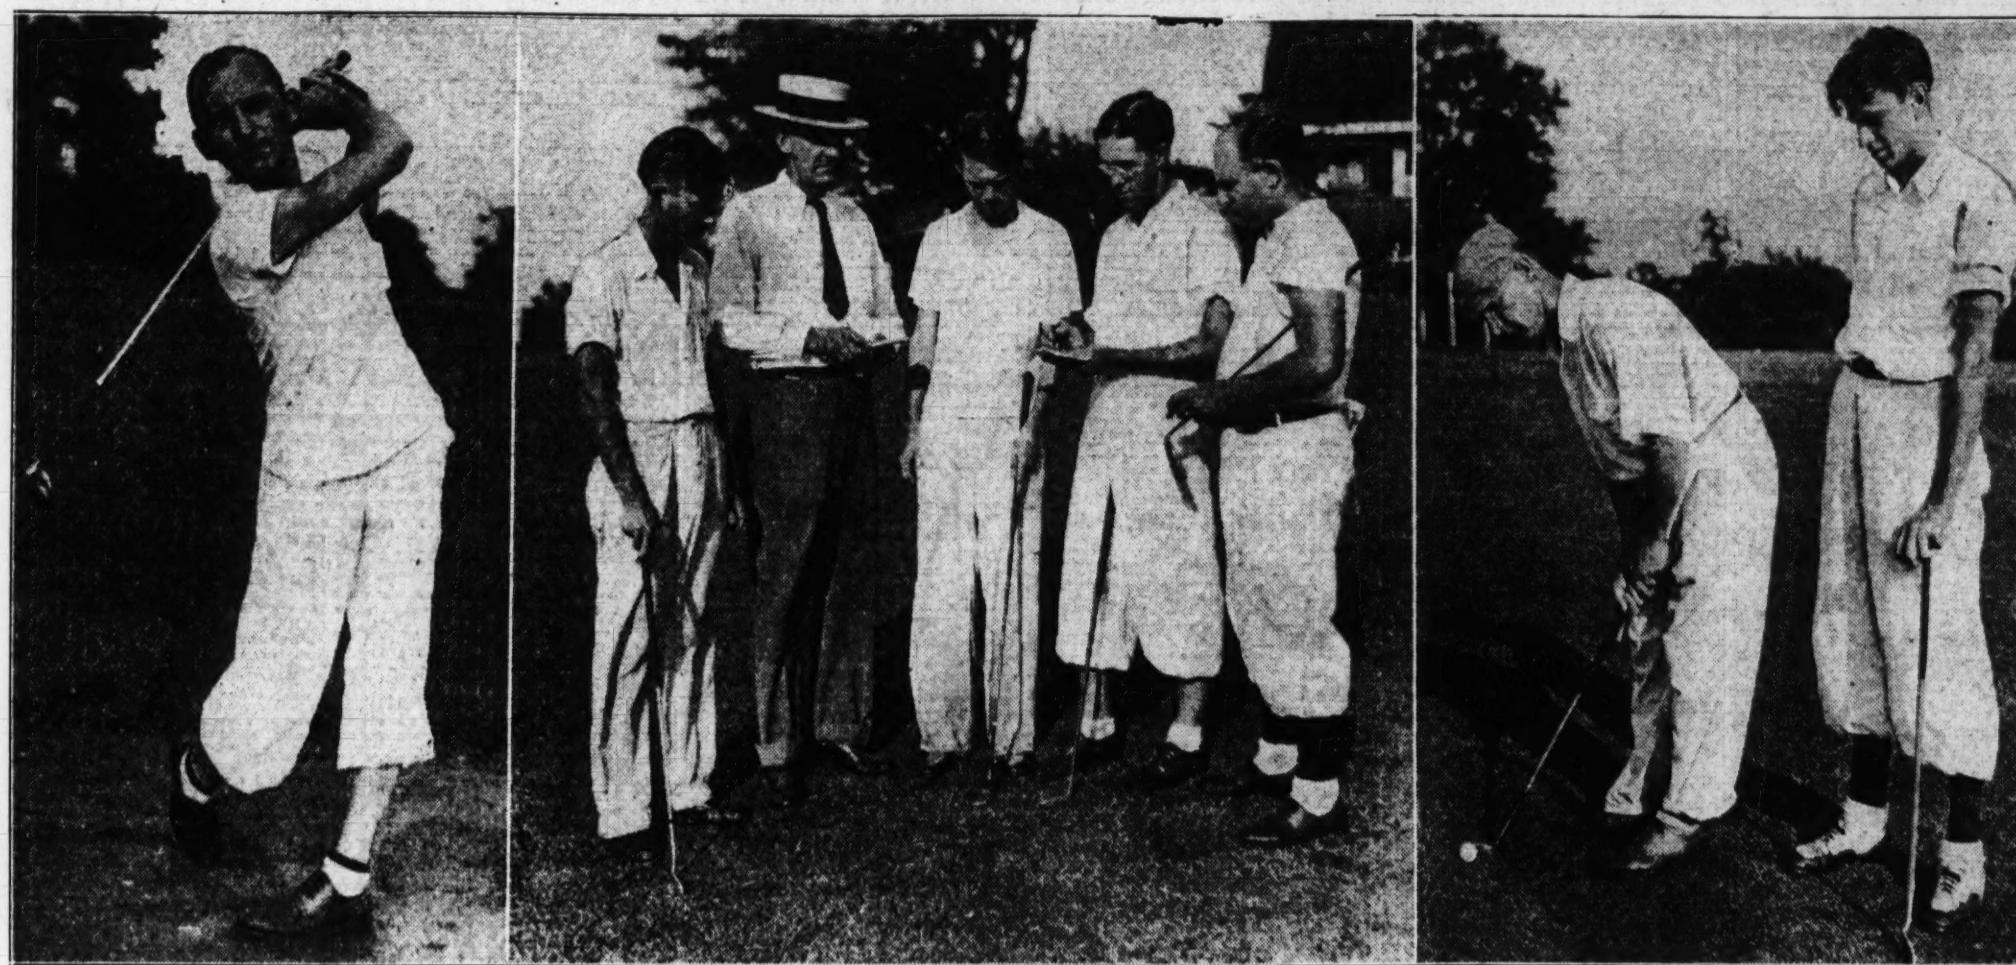

Marietta jumped into an early lead and at the end of nine holes were leading, five points to two, and another match was all square. The Cobb county golfers continued steady on the back nine, after waiting for the heavy rain to cease and soon closed out the match.

PEACE WINNERS.

Pete Barnes and Charlie Edwards gave West End three of its five points in winning over Arthur Williams and John Tate, of Marietta.

Ralph Barnes, Atlanta junior champion, and Red O'Neal, runner-up to Barnes in the junior tournament last year, gave West End the remaining two points with a victory over Bill Duree and Joe Fine, of Marietta. The West End youngsters are entered in the Atlanta junior tournament next week on the Ingleside course and will part as teammates. They have won many points for West End in the golf league.

Max Pittard, captain of the Marietta club, and former West End president, and Tom Kennedy, won two points over Jack Lively and J. R. McConnell, West End, and Captain George Thomas and Charlie DeFour gave Marietta three points in winning over C. D. Guerry and Mell Clark, of West End. In the center, John O'Neal, president of the

When Marietta Won the North Georgia Golf Championship.

Scenes at the Marietta Golf and Country Club Saturday afternoon when Marietta defeated West End, 10 to 5, and won the North Georgia Golf League championship. On the left Captain George Thomas, of the Marietta team, is driving from the sixth tee. He was paired with Charlie DeFour and won three points from C. D. Guerry and Mell Clark, of West End. In the center, John O'Neal, president of the West End Club, is checking over a score at the ninth green. Ralph Barnes, Atlanta junior champion, on the left, O'Neal with the score card and pencil. Next are, Red O'Neal, Bill Duree and Joe Fine, members of the Marietta team. Young O'Neal was runner-up to Barnes in the Atlanta junior tourney and these two won many points for West End this year.

They won two Saturday, but will part company next week in the city tourney at Atlanta. On the right, A. J. (Goat) Cochran, captain of the West End team, is sinking a putt with Ben Jones, Marietta, and medalist in the recent Tate invitation tourney, looking on. Cochran formerly was a pitcher with Cincinnati and later in the old Virginia league for several years.

Prep Gridmen Open 1034 Practice Season

Boys' High, Tech High and Marist Lead Parade; Great Season Is Expected With Strong Elevens.

Three Atlanta prep football teams will start the annual practice grind Monday in preparation for one of the longest seasons in history. Boys' High, Tech High and Marist will be the first to open practice, with a majority of the others following Monday week.

Boys' High candidates left the city Saturday and Sunday for Magness fishing camp at Lake Burton, where the fourth annual two-week training camp will open Monday morning. Shorty Doyal and Dickie Butler will be in charge of the mountain training.

Tech High candidates have been asked to meet Coaches Tolbert, Alexander and Dowis at 10 o'clock at the Henry Grady field.

Marist will assemble on the Ivy street campus at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon under the direction of Coach Louis Van Houten and Charlie Bedford.

EARLY STAND.

The three teams which are getting the early start incidentally will be the toughest schools ever mapped out. And those schools will start early, for those who spend only one week, whether it be the first or last. A definite day program has been arranged and those youngsters who adhere strictly to the schedule as outlined will have a decided advantage over those who do not attend camp when the regular parade during the last week in September.

Coach Doyal has divided the Boys' High program into two groups, one for the youngsters who will stay the entire time and another for those who spend only one week, whether it be the first or last. A definite day program has been arranged and those youngsters who adhere strictly to the schedule as outlined will have a decided advantage over those who do not attend camp when the regular parade during the last week in September.

Earlier stand will be the main object of Doyal's early practice, for it was in the forward wall that was hardest hit by graduation. The backfield will be practically intact with capable reserves to take the vacated places, in addition to the many new candidates. Tech High will have to rebuild practically a new team as the veterans who won the city and state championships last year have departed to seek places on various college freshman teams this fall.

STARTS ANEW.

Coach Tolbert will start anew, as units of last year were scheduled to return for another year. And Tech High faces its toughest schedule, in addition to a proposed inter-sectional game at Los Angeles in December.

Prospects at Marist appear to be much brighter than last year, according to Van Houten, in a check over of probable candidates. And it was due to the veterans returning that such a hard schedule was attempted.

day afternoon. Rainwater had a net 76, which was one stroke away from the winning bogey score of 76.

Four golfers tied for second place, one stroke away from Rainwater. They were T. J. Stewart, Jake Starr, J. J. McConnell and E. H. Tracy.

Other low scorers were J. W. Welch, J. R. Corrigan, M. D. Bellinger, J. C. Thompson, Wimberly Peeler, Willis Calloway, L. A. Scott, W. R. Keel and W. P. Branch. T. J. Wilhoit won a prize of one gold ball.

EAST LAKE STAGES Dog Fight Turney.

Another of the regular Sunday afternoon dog fight tournaments for members of the East Lake Country Club will be played this afternoon on the new course.

The play will start at 1:30 o'clock and George Sargent, the club professional, will be in charge.

JONES GOLFERS Complete Round.

Sam Reddick defeated Ben Brookshire, 6-5, and Billy Youngblood defeated E. A. Brown, 3-2, in the only matches played Saturday in the regular weekly night of the golf association. Bobby Jones course.

In the third flight Sol Epstein beat L. Tenenbaum.

All remaining matches in the first round must be completed today as the second round will open Monday afternoon.

CALHOUN LEADS SKEET SHOOTERS

Saturday three shooters turned out for the regular weekly shoot at the Capitol City Gun Club.

J. C. Calhoun led the skeet shooters with a score of 50. Guy Melchor, Hugh Nunnally and Benson Freeman all shot 48s.

In the 16-yard trophy shoot, Benson Freeman came first with a 48. Mrs. Donald McClain was next with 47.

E. G. Grant and J. C. Calhoun led the 21-yard handicap shooters with scores of 47.

SUMMARY.

Sept. 1—Reddick beat Stabler, 6-5. Dr. J. R. Edwards beat Forbes, 1 up. Sept. 2—J. R. Edwards beat Dr. J. G. McFadden, 4-2. Bill Hornbeck Jr. beat C. M. Bowden, 4-2. Bill Terrell beat Jack Bathamby Jr., 2-1. Jim Wilson beat Dr. George Fuller, 4-3. John Alexander beat Dr. J. C. Alexander, 4-3. Dr. J. Clark beat Carroll Jones, 1 up.

SECOND FLIGHT.

J. S. Cooper beat H. T. Dubois, 2-1. J. W. Brown beat Jack Fahn, 7-6.

George Sargent beat George Stoeling, 3-2.

N. Carroll beat Dr. M. Forbes, 2-2.

Dr. E. G. Ballenger beat Emmett Rush, 2-1.

Dr. C. W. Roberts beat J. S. Kalish, 3-4.

Ned Roberts was from Bill Ison, by default.

Allen Ford beat Horace Hinde, 4-3.

Rainwater Scores Double Victory.

Crawford Rainwater scored a double triumph Saturday afternoon on the No. 1 and Lake courses, as he won first prize in the regular weekly double bogey and also completed his practice for the national amateur sectional eliminations Tuesday.

HEALTH SPOT SHOES

Stretch Up Weak Feet

For Men and Women

MINOR SHOE CO.

Gout and Orthopedic Shoe Specialists

508 PONCE DE LEON

FERA Baseball

THE STANDINGS.

NORTH SIDE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Won Lost Pct.

Brookhaven Giants 14 2 .875

Seminoles 10 5 .667

Trojans 8 7 .533

White Sox 6 5 .500

Tigers 2 5 .286

Demons 0 2 .000

NORTH SIDE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Won Lost Pct.

White Sox 9 2 .818

Barnes 12 4 .750

Tigers 3 8 .250

Red Sox 2 10 .167

Junior Crackers 1 7 .143

North Side Braves 1 10 .125

Hawks 1 10 .091

Georgia Officials To Meet Monday

The first meeting of the Georgia Football Officials Association has been called for Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club by President J. Buck Craven.

All officials are urged to be on hand to discuss the various plans for the 1934 football season. New members desiring membership in the association are also urged to come to this meeting.

Instead of tightening the wrists and forearms for this shot, you should keep them plenty loose and free to flick the club down under the ball.

This doesn't mean that your grip

should be loose.

Your grip should be firm, your wrists entirely free to bend at the end of your backswing. If they'll bend properly at this stage of the swing, then all you have to do is to let the club downward and keep your chin back.

Try a few practice swings this way

in some long grass.

When your wrists are free and your chin is kept back you'll cut right

through the grass without any trouble.

Alex Morrison says:

A short pitch onto the green when your ball is caught in long grass just off the fairway requires plenty of wrist action.

Instead of tightening the wrists and forearms for this shot, you should keep them plenty loose and free to flick the club down under the ball.

This doesn't mean that your grip

should be loose.

Your grip should be firm, your wrists entirely free to bend at the end of your backswing. If they'll bend properly at this stage of

the swing, then all you have to do is to let the club downward and keep

your chin back.

Try a few practice swings this way

in some long grass.

When your wrists are free and your

chin is kept back you'll cut right

through the grass without any trouble.

Alex Morrison says:

A short pitch onto the green when

"PRINCE" OANA LEADS HOMERS WITH 12 CLOUTS

Memphis Leads in Team Batting While Pelicans Lead Fielding.

Joe Hutcheson, Memphis fly-chaser, continues to set the pace for batters in the Southern association with a mark of .348. A teammate, "Peck" Hamel, is second, with a percentage of .332, compiled in 115 games. Berger, New Orleans, .316; and Eppie, Birmingham, .316, are the other leaders. Chapman, Memphis, leads in runs scored, with 99 and has been at bat the most times, 502. French, Knoxville, leads in number of hits, with 151; Hamel has 150. Berger leads in total bases, with 220, and in two-base hits, with 44. Peck, Little Rock, has the most triples, 16. Oana, Atlanta, leads in home runs, with 12. Gill, Chattanooga, is the leader in runs batted in, with 81 to his credit. French and Ward, New Orleans, are having a tight race for base-stealing honors. French having stolen 26 and Ward 24.

Gable, New Orleans, has won nine games while losing two. Johnson, New Orleans, with 14 wins and five lost, for a percentage of .737, is second. Hughes, Birmingham, 16 and 6; Spee, Nashville, 18 and 7, and Kelly, Memphis, 19 and 8, are the other leading twirlers.

Memphis leads in team batting, with a mark of .290, while New Orleans, leads in fielding with a .977, and in double plays, with 58.

(Includes Afternoon Games of Thursday, August 16.)

TEAM BATTING.

	ab	h	rbi	pb
Memphis	1,622	521	469	13
New Orleans	1,690	524	456	13
Knoxville	1,582	500	432	10
Chattanooga	1,578	504	418	18
Birmingham	1,484	498	407	10
Little Rock	1,474	480	396	10
Atlanta	1,474	481	377	8
ATLANTA	1,667	482	19	20

TEAM FIELDING.

	ab	h	rbi	pb
New Orleans	.58	1	1249	304
Memphis	.59	1	1249	304
Atlanta	.63	2	1242	304
Knoxville	.62	2	1242	304
Chattanooga	.62	2	1242	304
Birmingham	.62	2	1242	304
Little Rock	.62	2	1242	304
ATLANTA	.62	2	1242	304

INDIVIDUAL BATTING.

	ab	h	rbi	pb
Taitt, Nash	152	48	34	374
Hodapp, Knox	69	22	2	10
Crawford, Chatt.	96	19	34	1
French, Atl.	100	24	54	327
Hamel, Phil.	88	22	6	337
Hamel, Milt.	452	79	150	0
Hughes, Atl.	178	56	22	328
Grantham, Nash.	67	22	2	14
Appleton, Nash.	108	22	18	286
Dickson, Nash.	165	54	33	327
Conio, Mem.	218	69	28	319
Berger, N. D.	132	36	10	265
Ferguson, N. D.	477	68	151	3
Chandler, Chatt.	41	14	6	317
Empey, Birn.	397	103	26	354
Gable, New.	395	63	118	10
Wain, Birn.	395	63	102	269
Trapp, L. R.	395	63	102	269
Conroy, Atl.	395	63	102	269
McKee, Atl.	140	41	55	280
Murphy, N. D.	137	37	12	280
Bryant, N. D.	87	11	27	3
H. Rice, Nash.	58	14	8	14
Trotter, Atl.	100	24	30	309
R. Wise, Atl.	200	37	61	345
Chapman, Mem.	502	92	152	5
Hughes, Atl.	496	88	148	1
Cunningham, Nash.	352	88	104	351
Weiss, Birn.	352	88	104	351
Monroe, J. R.	203	60	22	287
Monte, Atl.	203	60	22	287
Trapp, L. R.	203	60	22	287
Conroy, Atl.	203	60	22	287
Horne, Know.	413	88	34	282
Reed, New.	352	88	104	351
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282
Conroy, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Horne, Know.	154	32	48	282
Reed, New.	154	32	48	282
Montgomery, Atl.	154	32	48	282
Reddick, St. Louis	154	32	48	282
Wain, Birn.	154	32	48	282
Trapp, L. R.	154	32	48	282

Helen Jacobs Defeats Carolin Babcock, 7-5, 6-0, in Semi-Finals

SARAH PALFREY TO FACE QUEEN IN FINALS TODAY

Miss Jacobs Bids for Third Consecutive National Single Title.

By Bob Cavagnaro.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(P) Helen Jacobs, star of Sarah Palfrey, the stars who combined successfully to defend the international Wightman cup against Great Britain last June—today won their way to the championship round in the 47th national women's tennis tournament. They will play for the title tomorrow at 1:45, eastern standard time.

Lifting her game to great heights after falling flat first, Miss Jacobs, defending titleholder, quickly raced through the second set to conquer Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-0.

In command of the play most of the way, little Miss Palfrey, who hails from Brookline, Mass., and is on the crest of her biggest year in the game, disposed of husky Dorothy Andrus, of Stamford, Conn., in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

GOOD COMEBACK.

Miss Jacobs' victory assured for a previous defeat by Miss Babcock in the Seawright invitation tournament final three weeks ago and kept alive her hopes for her third consecutive national title and a place with the two immortals of women's tennis, Molla Mallory and Helen Wills Moody, who coped the title three years straight each.

Stringing the ball powerfully and at the same time recklessly, Miss Babcock and Miss Jacobs battled on even terms for the first four games, toeing their baselines and flailing the spheres until one of them erred. During that segment Miss Jacobs scored three earned points to one for Miss Babcock.

With her black hair glistening in the sun and as the gallery of 4,000 roared, Miss Babcock scored the first break in service, sending across whiplash forehand drives that the champion couldn't return in bounds. Miss Jacobs retaliated in the sixth game, winning it at deuce with a brilliant backhand placement scored while she ran across the baseline.

The next five games were won on service with Miss Jacobs leading 6-5 and then the champion pulled up from 15-40 to win the 12th game on a break as she got off two brilliant passing placements after luring Miss Babcock to the net.

JACOBS' STROKES.

The magnificence and rapidity of Miss Jacobs' stroke production combined with Miss Babcock's rapidly waning strength enabled Miss Jacobs to make a runaway of the second set without the loss of a point.

Although Miss Palfrey was the stronger of the two, for the first six games during which Miss Palfrey amassed a lead of 5-1, Miss Andrus played as if her hands were shackled. She recovered her form long enough to win the seventh and eighth games and then Miss Palfrey continued the ninth for the set. After trailing 5-3, she gained in the second set, Miss Palfrey rounded into form and finished the chapter with the loss of one more game.

Judging by Miss Palfrey's showing against Miss Andrus, Miss Jacobs was a heavy favorite to retain the championship. Miss Palfrey holds three decisions over Miss Jacobs, gained in the Seawright tournament final last year, the only time they opposed each other in a singles match.

UPSET.

An upset was scored in the semi-finals of the doubles championship when Miss Babcock and Miss Andrus combined to defeat the defending champions, Betty Nutball and Freda James, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

The Misses Babcock and Miss Palfrey will meet Miss Jacobs and Miss Andrus for the doubles championship tomorrow. The winners of the singles semi-finals paired to eliminate Elizabeth Ryan, of Santa Monica, Cal., and Muriel Thomas, of England, 6-3, 6-1.

Manush, Gehringen Gain in Big Six

The Big Six batsmen all hit steadily yesterday but the only gains recorded in the averages were of one run each. Charlie Manush and Charles Gehringen, Manush, got one hit in two times at bat for his rise while Gehringen hit twice in five attempts to break a second-place tie with Bill Terry. The Giants' manager also had two of five, but his greater number of hits at bat for the season made the averages work against him and he remained at .371.

Paul Waner lost a point, hitting once in four tries while Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig kept their marks unchanged, each hitting two out of five.

THE STANDING.

Mash: Senators .. 106 K ab r h pet 56 106 131 75 162 376

Terry, Giants .. 114 444 111 163 372

Gehrig, Yankees .. 113 438 109 156 368

P. Waner, Pirates .. 110 454 99 164 362

Ott, Giants .. 115 436 101 158 369

East Georgians Plan Fox Hunt

WASHINGTON, Ga., Aug. 17.—The first camp-hunt, field trial and bench show for members of East Georgia Fox Hunters' Association, representing lovers of the chase, from 10 counties, will be staged next week.

In Lincoln county, between the Savannah and Little rivers, where close for range, is in any other section of the state, is the place where the sport event begins Monday. Only members of the association may enter bounds in the several contests, and entrymen must be owners, T. P. Wootten, secretary of the association, said.

Home Runs .

YESTERDAY.

Fox, Athletics	28
Gehr, Yankees	37
Ott, Giants	32
Bethcock, Cardinals	28
Durocher, Cardinals	1
THE LEADERS.	1
American	323
National	343
LEAGUE TOTALS.	1,096

Ty Has Reunion With Mother Here

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the famous firebrand of the old Detroit Tigers, but now a peaceful family man of California, came back to Georgia, his old home state recently, to visit his mother, Mrs. W. H. Cobb, of 1155 Orme circle, shown with Ty above, and his sister, both of whom are now residing here. Staff photo by Rogers.

Atlanta Women in Sports

By Betty Mathis.

Yes, handicap golf is certainly the most difficult kind to play. Not only do you have to beat a person, but you have to beat him badly to win." This is Mrs. Ben Barrow's opinion of handicap golf tournaments.

And certainly Mrs. Barrow should know about it, for she has been playing golf for a long time. She has even played in tournaments with the best of them.

In Athens, Ga., her home town, it is the custom of the golf officials to stage a handicap tournament in which both men and women may participate. With the handicap allowing for the differences in length of drives, a woman stands an equal chance with a man. On short holes, if she is paying a steady game, she is more likely to beat him.

This type of play is especially good for women who play tournament golf.

If ever she finds herself matched against a long hitter, she is used to that and perfectly at ease.

Mrs. Barrow is an ardent sports woman, having played basketball, volleyball, and other games of that type. She is especially fond of swimming, and thinks nothing more enjoyable than a good tennis match. She expects to get out to the state tournaments, which begins at the Biltmore Tennis Club next week.

ONLY SPORT.

Golf is now the only sport in which she participates. "I was never fast enough for tennis, but golf, I can play my game, she laughs. "I am taking of my time, she laughs, but it is used to Mrs. Barrow has many long drives, which bear witness to her golfing ability. She last year won the cup offered by the Ansley Park Golf Club. She expects to play for it again this year.

"Do you know, I have often driven 50 or 60 miles just to get to play 18 holes of golf? When we were living in Millerville, the nearest course was at Macon. Now, every Sunday we drove up to play."

Mrs. Barrow lived in various parts of south Georgia for six years. There the courses were flat with sand underneath the sod. "I had to readjust my sense of distances. With no hills, what appeared to be 250-yard hole more often was a 450-yard one. I learned to play on around Athens.

"Then, too, until I came to Atlanta, I had never played on grass greens. You can't imagine how disconcerting it was to me at first to see the rolling fairways and grass greens here. After acoustimating myself to flat country, the hills looked like young mountains. Playing on grass is different all my life. I had to practice intensively to get the feel of putting on grass." Mrs. Barrow enjoys telling about her experiences in golf. Her genuine love for the game cannot be hidden in her enthusiastic description of past events.

Mrs. Barrow laughs when she tells about the way her friends chide her for not hitting her opponent's putt. But Mrs. Barrow has a perfectly good, logical reason not to look. If the other player misses his shot the natural thing is to diagnose his trouble. And unconsciously a person tends to play his ball as he thinks his opponent should have played his. That, duh, is a tip from one who knows.

WATCH THEMSELVES.

Maybe if golfers would take to watching their own ball, they would be considerably improved. People have to have iron nerves to be able to watch some game. Someone should invent blinds to be worn by golfers until they break 90. Afterwards they may be worse as desired.

All nonsense aside, Mrs. Barrow thinks her disregard for the felonies of his recent defeats by Frankie Parker (two) and Berkeley Bell that Grant, the nation's clay court champion, is vulnerable on grass; that his game is only ordinary on turf.

Well, maybe not ordinary, but well below the Grant standard. This may be true of his recent defeat by Frankie Parker (two) and Berkeley Bell that Grant, the nation's clay court champion, is vulnerable on grass; that his game is only ordinary on turf.

They're contending now in view of his recent defeat by Frankie Parker (two) and Berkeley Bell that Grant, the nation's clay court champion, is vulnerable on grass; that his game is only ordinary on turf.

He found himself receiving sixth and seventh endings where he usually was rated first and second. Grant skipped the doubles at Newport and headed home to rest.

A couple of weeks ago of forgetting about tennis, relaxation and the like should prepare Grant for the national singles.

He still has a real chance then to assert his ability on turf. He is far and away better on clay, but his game is improving on grass.

The most important of these is don't worry about your swing when

BYNUM HEADS AMATEUR CARD

The regular Monday night boxing card at Key arena will be headed by Paul Bynum, local light heavyweight, who has caused lots of talk in fight circles in the last two weeks.

Bynum won his first fight by stopping Chief Larimore, the popular Indian boy, in one round, and last week knocked out Charley Jacobson, star of the University of Georgia. This week he meets a tough customer in Dick Noble, of Tampa, Fla., and holder of several state titles.

He was a sensation last year at the Sulphur Springs meet near Tampa. He is a short, blond-headed boy and is plenty tough.

In the semi-final Jack Gray, the hard-punching Fulton Bag boy, will trade blows with Everett Langley, the Kirkwood southpaw. Last week Gray was unable to fight but will be on hand this Monday to do battle.

Billie, the 112 pounds of dynamite from Lakewood, will take on a tough boy who will give him a battle. Ruthie, son of Noble Hall, and Huber Sturkis, both winners of last week, will appear against opponents to be announced in Monday's paper.

Charlie Mansour, local Syrian boy, has entered and from all reports is a battler in the 130-pound class. Buster McNabb, of Ansley Park, along with Charley Hopkins of the same locality, will be on hand for fights.

Ned Ashton, Marion Rice, Kid Manders, Joe Cook, Eddie Johnson, Eddie Hollis, Simons, Johnny Farmer, Henry Wolf, Felton Wood, Lucius Timms, George Trickey, Cy Kain, Jim Head, Dobbs, Wilmot, Cain, Lewis, Craig, Edgar Loyd, Carson Dyer and lots of other boys will be on hand Monday night challenging anyone their weight.

133,000 Fans See Yank-Tiger Series

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—That five-game series with Detroit did the New York Yankees no particular good, but it likewise did the Yankee treasury no harm. Approximately 132,000 fans turned out for the five games squeezed into three playing days.

You are trying to hit the ball. Do you worry before the match, when you are practicing? Get your mind off the ball. Don't practice to hit it comes natural. Then go out and hit the ball. And try to make your mind a perfect blank and the ball and the club will take care of themselves.

MANUSH, GEHRINGEN GAIN IN BIG SIX

The Big Six batsmen all hit steadily yesterday but the only gains recorded in the averages were of one run each. Charlie Manush and Charles Gehringen, Manush, got one hit in two times at bat for his rise while Gehringen hit twice in five attempts to break a second-place tie with Bill Terry. The Giants' manager also had two of five, but his greater number of hits at bat for the season made the averages work against him and he remained at .371.

Paul Waner lost a point, hitting once in four tries while Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig kept their marks unchanged, each hitting two out of five.

THE STANDING.

Mash: Senators .. 106 K ab r h pet 56 106 131 75 162 376

Terry, Giants .. 114 444 111 163 372

Gehrig, Yankees .. 113 438 109 156 368

P. Waner, Pirates .. 110 454 99 164 362

Ott, Giants .. 115 436 101 158 369

LEAGUE TOTALS.

American .. 323

National .. 343

THE LEADERS.

Fox, Athletics .. 28

Gehr, Yankees .. 37

Ott, Giants .. 32

Bethcock, Cardinals .. 28

Durocher, Cardinals .. 1

THE LEADERS.

American .. 323

National .. 343

LEAGUE TOTALS.

Total .. 1,096

WILMER ALLISON NEWPORT WINNER AFTER 5 YEARS

Texan Turns Back Parker in Four-Set Finals Match.

By Bill King.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—(P)—Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, just about the outstanding player of the eastern court season, gained a tennis title he has been seeking for five years today when he turned back Frankie Parker, of Spring Lake, N. J., the most promising member of the young eastern tennis crop. In the first round in the final round of the historical Newport casino tennis tournament by scores of 6-1, 6-4, 6-7, 5-7.

Allison, who was seeded third, behind the Davis cup singles combination of Francis and Sidney Wood, battered down the sound backhand of Parker, prize protege of Mercer Beasley, to gain his first tennis title in half a decade.

VULNERABLE.

Parker, one of the most methodical players in the game, proved to be exceptionally vulnerable to the Texan's strokes to the far left corner. Allison, appearing in his second major final in as many weeks for last Saturday, defeated the greatly improved Ed Bell, of New York, in a four-set Longwood bowl final played against the youngster's only weakness, a deep shot to his backhand.

Allison started off in runaway fashion. He took the first two sets with seeming ease, so effective were his long drives to the far left corner. Parker, stung by Allison's early success, started up during the entire match but, in the third set Allison, who left half his court open when he rushed to the net, found himself being passed by Parker.

After sweeping the first two sets, Allison took the third, winning it in five straight games in the third set. Just when Parker was "hot," Allison recovered and whipped off four games in a row, only to drop an 8-6 service game after Parker reached set point for the fifth time.

BREAKS SERVICE.

Although Parker is one of the steadiest players in the tennis world Allison's attack against his back hand caused 10 breaks through his soft service. Allison yielded his seven times during the 30 games, which were spread over two hours and a quarter.

The victor's aggressive rushing tactics gave him most of the 45 placements he had put up during the match. Parker, who is content to play steady tennis and let his opponent mislead away the match, had the surprising total, for him, of 52 outs and 34 nets. Most of the over-drives were the prizes Allison won with his accurate barrage on the far left corner. He had 10 double faults and 11 aces but, made five double faults against two for his victim.

Allison, who ranks second to Shields nationally, was seeded third in the draw, made with 77 names, including 13 of the first 2

Georgia State Tennis Tourney Will Begin Here August 27

BILTMORE CLUB WILL BE SCENE OF TOURNAMENT

Ronald Kepkie, Professional, Is In Charge; Reese Absent.

By Jack Troy.

Ronald Kepkie, Biltmore and Piedmont clubs' professional, who has officiated in Atlanta tournaments for the last couple of years is going to get his chance at running one Monday a week at the Biltmore club.

Kepkie has undertaken the job of staging the annual Georgia state tournament, which is expected to draw a large field from tennis clubs of Georgia as well as the leading players of Atlanta.

POSTPONED.

The tournament was originally scheduled to start tomorrow, but was postponed by the Atlanta Tennis Club. But it developed that the club didn't want it and for a time it appeared as if the state fixture was to appear in the position of a man without a country.

Then it was that Kepkie stepped in and announced that he would run the tournament but would require a week in which to get out the necessary correspondence and make arrangements.

And he scheduled the tourney for Monday a week and expects a hurried influx of entries.

A new champion will emerge from the week of play. Billy Reese, who won the title last year, is not here to defend his title. Billy has been campaigning in the north and east since the city tournament.

Jim Halverstadt, city champion; Marion Courts, runner-up; Pierre Howard, recently crowned south Georgia champion; Lieutenant Dan Hedeck, Major Eddie Clegg, Captain Howard MacLennan, Red Eulon, Reg Fleet, Jack Simpson, Jack Mooney, Keis Boland, Tom Tumlin, Billy Dreger and Preston Chambers are some of the better Atlanta players selected to enter.

Billy Boggs will head the Macon threat. There will be several other fine players from over the state seeking Reese's vacated title.

WOMEN PLAY.

In the women's division Evangeline MacLennan, city champion; Etta Taylor Coyne, defending state champion; Gladys Vallabhan, another state champion competitor. In view of Miss MacLennan's great play in the city championship, Miss MacLennan is favored to win the state tournament.

Three divisions have been announced for the state—men's singles and men's doubles and women's singles. A reasonable entry fee will be charged.

FOX HUNTERS MEET AT TOCCOA

The North Georgia Association will stage a fox hunt at Toccoa, Ga., September 3. Headquarters for the hunters will be Toccoa Falls Institute. The school is located two miles from the city of Toccoa, which is on the main line of the Southern Railway and on Highway No. 13 that connects Atlanta to all points north and east.

J. H. Wilder, of Talladega, Ala., president of the National Fox Hunters' Association, will head the judges. Some of the entrants who have made reservations are Nat G. Taylor, Johnson City, Tenn., of the famous Governor Taylor family; other Walker men of note, T. Ross Alexander, Stevenson, Ala.; Sheriff C. C. Moore, of Rutherfordton, N. C.; Neiler brothers, of King's Mountain, N. C., and many others.

The Triggs men, of Oak Forrest Kennels, of Laurens, S. C., with their pack, headed by such noted hounds as Wallace Wade and Will Rogers, the Jim Men will include Ed Wright, of Charlotte, N. C., and H. C. Burke, of Clarksville, Ga., with Cinder and Min, winners of last year's meet.

Georgia League

ANOTHER CLOSE ONE. McKeithen-McNairson had a hard bat to break their losing streak, dropping another contest by one run. This time to the regulars of the Royal Baptist club. Jenkins, whining, hating, and was nicked for one less hit, but his ability to keep them spaced gave his edge. Thornton, his partner, per. Joe Shan and Thrall, of the winners, and T. Moore, of the losers, hit best. Bill Jones, of the Royal, .300. T. McKeithen .296; .000 100—3 7 3. T. Jenkins and Peppers, Thornton and Brandon, impure, Rollins.

ROSSELL IS WINNER. Roswell was successful in their invasion of the North division, defeating the Academy Chapel boys, 3 to 1. Wiles, on the mound for the north, Fulton boys was masterful throughout, fanning seven of the bats and keeping them spaced. Joe Motorelli led the winning bat attack with two hits in three tries. Brooks and Peppers, of the south, were .296. Roswell .296; .000 100—3 7 3. T. Jenkins and Peppers, Thornton and Brandon, impure, Rollins.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

TEAM PROBLEMS. They can't be the dark horse team of the year.

TEAM PROBLEMS. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

PEORIA IS WINNER. Peoria, the regulars, were the ones to beat the Academy Chapel boys, 3 to 1. Wiles, on the mound for the north, Fulton boys was masterful throughout, fanning seven of the bats and keeping them spaced. Joe Motorelli led the winning bat attack with two hits in three tries. Brooks and Peppers, of the south, were .296. Roswell .296; .000 100—3 7 3. T. Jenkins and Peppers, Thornton and Brandon, impure, Rollins.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

THE BAPTIST LEADERSHIP. If they can solve that Tulane game, the schedule of games in the Gate City League has been changed slightly so that Peoria and Buckhead Fifty Club can play on Saturday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m. The final game will be on Saturday

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED
ADVERTISING
Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 8 p.m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time 20 cents

Two times 17 cents

Three times 15 cents

Miscellaneous 2 lines (12 words)

In estimating the space to an ad figure its average width. Advertisers are advised to allow three or four days and stopped before expiration will not be charged for the number of the insertion. Judgments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be rectified immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All ads will be and are entitled to their proper classification. The Constitution reserves the right to review or reject any advertisement.

All ads offered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on memorandum charge only in return for their insertion. The advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

To Phone An Ad
Call WALnut 6565
Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information.
(Central Standard Time.)

TERMINAL STATION

Arrives— NEW ORLEANS—Montgomery Leaves 11:35 am

4:20 pm Montgomery Local 1:00 pm

5:20 pm New Orleans—Montgomery 6:00 pm

11:45 pm Birmingham 6:00 pm

Arrives— G. O. R. T. Leaves 5:35 pm Macon Savannah 7:25 pm

10:30 pm Columbus 7:45 pm

11:30 pm Atlanta 8:00 pm

12:20 am Macon 4:05 pm

1:20 am Columbus 5:00 pm

6:05 pm Atlanta 8:00 pm

6:40 pm Tampa-St. Petersburg 9:05 pm

3:00 pm Macon-Savannah-Albany 10:30 pm

Arrives— SEABOARD AIR LINE—Leaves 6:50 am Wash.-D. C. 7:45 am

8:40 pm N. Y. Wash.-Rich-Norfolk 11:55 am

11:50 pm Birmingham-Memphis 6:00 pm

12:40 am Birmingham 6:05 pm

1:20 am N.Y.-Wash.-Rich-Norfolk 9:30 pm

5:30 am Birmingham 11:45 pm

Arrives— SOUTHERN RAILWAY—Leaves 5:30 am Wash.-D. C. 7:45 am

7:15 pm Atlanta-Brownsville 6:35 am

8:10 pm Local-Greenville 7:00 pm

8:20 pm Detroit-Chicago 7:00 am

8:30 pm Atlanta-Brownsville 7:00 am

8:40 pm Piedmont Limited 8:00 am

8:50 pm Anniston-Birmingham 10:10 am

8:45 pm Jacksonville-Brownsville 10:30 pm

8:50 pm Birmingham 12:10 pm

8:55 pm Wash.-N. Y. 12:00 noon

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:25 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:35 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:25 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:35 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:55 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 11:00 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 11:15 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 11:30 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 11:45 pm

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 12:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 1:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 2:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 3:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 4:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 5:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 6:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 7:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:25 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:35 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 8:55 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:15 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:30 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 9:45 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:00 am

8:55 pm Birmingham 10:15 am

Financial

SALARIES BOUGHT 41
WHOA—HERE TIZ
MONEY—$4 to $50 to Salaries People.
213 GRANT BUILDINGS
MONEY—The salaried men and women and their day apparel for NATIONAL FINANCE CO.
508 Peters Blvd.
QUICK—READY—CASH
Money for Salaries Men and Women.
CAPITAL PURCHASING CO. INC.
314 Volunteer Life Bldg.
A GOOD PLACE TO DO BUSINESS,
Georgia Securities Co., Inc.
457 Candler Bldg., Annex
74 Pryor St., N. E.
204 Peters Blvd. $5.00 to $50.00
No Delay!

Live Stock

Baby Chicks
BABY chicks, young turkeys, guinea fowls, lawn Hatcheries, 510 Piedmont, W.A. 4095.
Cows
SEVERAL nice milk cows, also springers, young heifers, etc. H. H. Hammett's
Farm, Chamblee-Tucker Rd., RA. 2374.
PURE-BRED GUERNSEY cattle for sale.
All ages, male and female. T. D. Brown,
Salisbury, N. C.
GRADE Jersey milk cows for sale. Call
181 Marietta St. or phone JA. 2441.
Fishing
GOOD FISHING, Lake Anna Lee, 28 miles
Macon highway, near Hampton. Fresh water, bass, trout, perch, etc. Fee $10.
Puppies
THE BEST Irish setted puppies, excellent quality. Frank Fuller, 1549
Decatur Rd., DE. 3751.
BOSTON and FOX Terrier puppies; bargain
prices. John L. Callaway, 200 Piedmont, G.
MALE wire fox terrier hargan. Shady Dell
Farm, Clarkston, Ga.
MIXED Chows, nice pets. Very reasonable.
DE. 4871.

Pigeons

CASCADE PIGEON FARM—Cascade road.
Pigeons of quality. Solid red and yellow checkered. White, blue, black, etc. $10.
$2.50; grit, $1.50. R. W. Caldwell, RA. 8574.
FANCY pigeons. Selling out 200 fine birds.
10c, 15c, 20c, 25c in lots of 10. J. J.
Hargan's Farm, Chamblee-Tucker Road,
RA. 2374.

Wanted—Livestock

WANTED—Hatching eggs for next season from pure stock. Any and variety, see or write us at once. Blue Ribbon Hatchery, 215 Forsyth, S. W.

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51
TWIN BEDROOM SUITES AUGUST VALUES NOW
Two poster beds and large vanity, made of alabaster, by a high-grade manufacturer. $49.00
Twin beds, vanity and chest made of maple wood, $50.00
Twin beds, vanity and chest, carved wood, beautiful veneers, $60.00
Three-piece Colonial style mahogany vanity and chest, alabaster bed, $79.50
Vanities, two pieces, alabaster bed, $79.50
Two-piece Frisette sofa and chair, well tailored, antique brass, $79.50
Wonderful new valances and new pieces.
TERMS.
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.,
132 Whitehall St.

AUGUST—

BARGAINS
NEW AND USED FURNITURE

SEE

JIM DICKSON
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.
132 Whitehall—147 Mitchell St.

MID-SUMMER

CLEARANCE OF GOOD USED PIANOS
Becker Bros. & Son... $110
Schuman & Son... 115
Steinway... 115
Grand... 115
Marshall and Wendall... 115
Chickering... 95
TABLE PIANO COMPANY,
Table Bldg., 54 Broad, N. W.

ROOFING

...Special Bargain
PAINT, all colors, $1.19 Gal.
KALSOMINE... 6 lb.
DOUBLE STRENGTH WINDOW GLASS,
FOULDS, WIRE AND SPOILED CLOTH
RESTAURANT AND CAFE EQUIPMENT
JACOBS SALES CO.,
45-47 Decatur St. S. E. WA. 4429.

Last Call on New Gilders
$24.50 All-weather canvas gilder, $12.50
$22.50 canvas gilder, coil springs, $10.50
$10.00 canvas gilder, bright colors, $3.00
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.,
132 Whitehall.

Lumber, Lumber, Lumber
188, 188, 188, 1812,
234, 234, 234, 234, 234,
SALESMAN ON PREMISES,
280 Whitehall St., Corner Fair.

Pianos Wanted—In search of fine Baby Grand piano with promise of selling in order to save shipping expense.
Please send name and address, and write factory wholesale representative
P. O. Box 773, Atlanta, Ga.

FRUIT JARS, Complete
Pints Quarts 1/2 Gal.
50c 75c 100c
50c 75c 100c

We buy and sell, MA. 5632
The Dux Mixtures 799 Marietta St.

WOODWORKING MACHINERY.
MERSHON & RAY double end tenon saws; 36-inch hand saw; variety, etc.
100-man saw; man other items. P. W.
Box 300, Atlanta, Ga.

GARAGE EQUIPMENT.
WESTINGHOUSE 14-hp. 500 amp. 3-phase battery charged complete with battery power, motor, switch, etc. crane complete on truck, fine condition low price. F.W.
Box 30, Sta. E. Atlanta.

DIAMOND RING—Lady's beautiful setting, large ring, fine quality brilliant diamond.
Quinn, 100 Peachtree Street, downtown.
Attention, any place invited. No obligation.
Address: F-33, Constitution.

CAMPING EQUIPMENT, tents, tarps, canvas and steel mosquito nets, harnesses.

ARMY STORE
37 Broad St. S. W. JA. 0077.

ATTENTION COAL DRIVERS.
INTERNATIONAL time clock for recording coal and ice deliveries. Splendid condition.
Reas. WA. 3430.

RUGS FROM $20 to $25.00
THE RUG SHOP 137 Mitchell St.

DELICIOUS Concord grapes, fresh ripe; also taking orders for fresh juice. 50c gal.
10c per glass. Located southeast Cook's Crossing (College Park).

BEAUTIFUL UPHOLSTERING TERMS
CAN BE ARRANGED. MR. GUTHRIE,
J. M. HIGH CO., WA. 8651.

DELCO light plant, model 75 combination for 500 watts, 115 volt, 50 cycle. J.H.C.
National Radio Co., 100 Peachtree St., N.E.

GRAND PIANO, brand-new, apartment size, mahogany case, $250. Cable, 84 Broad,
N. W.

10 H. P. BURRIS portable fire box boiler, and engine. Peacock Cleaners, 972 W.
Peachtree St., N. E.

LUMBER, doors and other materials, 3.00 each, cheap. 258 Piedmont Ave., MA. 6257.

ARMY STORE DUCKETT, INC.
79 ALABAMA ST., N. E.

PEANUT, popcorn, peanut, complete, cost
$30. offer over $5 gets it. 1264 Alabama.

WE trade in old furniture for new. Rich's
Ans. 51 Forsyth St. S. W.

COMPLETELY REPAINTED, used, trophy seated chairs, tufted, other furniture. WA. 4088-A.

FOR SALE, antique sideboard, brass fan fin screen, reasonable. SS E. Calm St. Apt. 8.

$125 DIAMOND white gold ring. Sacrifice for $53. 157, Constitution.

BARBER chair for sale cheap. $33 Capri
Cleaner, 100 Peachtree St., N. E.

CLEAN Detroit Jewel range, $8. Eclipse box, $207. Crew St.

Typewriters & Office Equipment 54
WE BUY, sell and exchange. Office Out fitters, Inc., 31 N. Pryor St. MA. 8062.

Merchandise

Typewriters & Office Equipment 54
STUDENTS' TYPEWRITERS
ALL MAKES standard and portable. Special rental rates and terms of sale. We will dust off machine, clean type, furnish and install. See the NEW O. T. MODEL STANDARD
ROYAL PORTABLE AT $65.
QUICK SERVICE
TYPEWRITER CO.

We buy, sell, rent and repair all makes.
16 Peachtree Arcade, Phone WA. 1618.

REBULLY typewriters $25 up, all makes, except Royal. 16 Peachtree Arcade, Phone
WA. 1618.

AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO.
Established 1880. 87 Forest St., N. W. WA. 2860.

Household Goods 59

Large overstuffed easy chair, "A" value $12. 99. 912 Taupe Armchair rug... $12.00
Two-piece Queen Anne walnut dining room suite, round pedestal table, 79.00
Roll top desk 4 ft.... 7.50
Two-piece round suite... 24.50
Two-piece mahogany desk... 20.00
Duncan Phyfe living room table... 10.00
Two-piece solid mahogany frame rose wood... 10.00
Arm high-back rush seat chair... 5.00
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.
147 Mitchell St., S. W.

NEW HORSESHOE range, porch glider, living room suite, dining room, pedestal table, new rug, 9x12, large mail box, screen doors and windows, 3296 W. Shadowlawn Ave.,
N. E., CH. 2985.

ENGLISH baby couch $5. 19 Simmons mattress, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18 mirror vanity, bench to match $8; other nice household goods. 897 Forrest Rd.

HIGHGATE living, dining, bedroom, pedestal suite, rug, radio, refrigerator, gas, oil, wood stoves, machine, 10 rooms. Old
Steiner home. 294 Whitehall, MA. 6599.

4-PIECE bedroom suite, springs, mattress and box spring, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18 cash. RA. 8148 Sun., MA. 2310. Mon.
10x18, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18.

HENSEL baby grand piano and refrigerator, excellent condition, pric. new. VE. 2327.

Musical Merchandise 62

11 Tube organ, all wave, spec... $39.50
12 Steinway, 5 ft. 10 in. $1,000.00
special... 66.50
8 Tube Kolster, special... 39.50

5 Tube Hohner, special... 39.50

Radio Department—WA. 2188.

Rooms For Rent

Room Furnished 68

WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE—Lovely cool room, adj. bath, inner spring mattress, hot water, steam heat. $3. Alexander
10th St. SECTION. DESIRE CONGENIAL
BUSINESS GIRL... MODERN APT.:
COOKING PRIVILEGE, 15. HE. 5494-J.

FRONT room, 6 windows, $10; gentlemen;
adults, adults. 529 Boulevard, N. E.
Apartment 4.

687 Spring k'nette, gar. HE. 8598-M.

BEAUTIFUL room and bath, 14th St., two young men or business couple. HE. 1979.

75 Harris St., N. E.—Near theaters.
Rooms, $2.50-$3. apt. 59 up.

FURNISHED, inc., modern apt., 10x18
plus, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18, 10x18.

84 Piedmont, attractive front bedroom, lavatory, garage, Res. HE. 2522.

BROOKWOOD Hills—Lovely room, pri. home,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

NORTH SIDE—Lovely corner rm., adj. bath, all conv., res. HE. 4991-W.

OFF P'tree, room, adj. bath: st. heated apt.;
also roomette, lady, roomette, room.

307 P'tree, room, adj. bath: st. heated apt.;
also roomette, lady, roomette, room.

327 4th, N. E.—Nice, cool front room. P'tree
Res. WA. 1990.

643 W. PEACHTREE—Large rm., att. furn.,
Adj. bath. HE. 2474.

NICE ROOMS; CONVENiences. WA. 0111.

Housekeeping Rooms Furnished 69

LARGE room, kitchenette, sleeping porch,
Kirkwood, semi-private home, nice arrangement, settled women or couple. Call owner.
DE 3144.

620 W. PEACHTREE—Attractively furnished room, kitchenette, convenience, heat, best location; fine for businesswoman or couple. H. Endout, 6371.

ATTRACTIVE room, kitchenette, also room for maid. Res. HE. 7767.

NEAR Piedmont Park—Lovely rooms, pri. home, electric refrigerator, garage. HE. 2522.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 7727.

2000 BROOKWOOD—Large rm., att. furn.,
garage, heat, water, garage. HE. 77

Real Estate For Sale

Houses for Sale 84

North Side.

GARDEN HILLS
Near Fulton High School

Today's Best Value

$10,500—Attractive 2-story home, 4 bed-rooms, 2 full tile bath; nice shady lot; near Inman school. You will have to hurry, can't last long. Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 5311.

Haas, Howell & Dodd

Best Buy in City

Has No Equal

$14,250—TANDEM brick bungalow, 3 large bed-rooms, full tile bath; nice shady lot; near Inman school. You will have to hurry, can't last long. Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 5311.

Haas, Howell & Dodd

16 PARKWAY

$3,350—$250 CASH, assume $2,600 loan bearing 6% int.; 9 yrs. to run, 6% from date of loan, 10% from date of payoff. Needs redecorating. See the location today and call B. F. White, HE. 7479-J.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.

Realtors, WA. 3657.

852 MENTELLE DRIVE*

CHARCOAL brick bungalow, furnace, garage, nice east front lot, near Piedmont Park; has no loan, $300 cash. Mr. Blair, HE. 2229-J.

Adams-Cates Co., WA. 5477

OPEN TODAY 2 TO 6—No. 14 E. 14th St., between the Peachtree, handsome stately home, spacious, 3 large bedrooms, beautiful hardwood floors, laundry, 2 servants' rooms, automatic heat; double garage, complete, $10,000. Tel. 4900.

STOVALL, BLVD.—Beautiful 2-story brick, built for home, with all the home and comforts. Cosy owner over $20,000. With loan for $5,000, terms excellent. Buy it in this exclusive section. WA. 2534.

$4,500—MORNINGSIDE, 6-room brick.

$6,500—EDWARD HILLS, 6-room brick.

$7,500—FULTON HILLS, 6-room brick.

WE HAVE other bargains. Call John J. Thompson & Co., WA. 3365.

BEAUTIFUL Druid Hills home, best section, 2-story, red brick, 4 bedrooms, lots of light, spacious, no loan required, less than $10,000. Address Maxwell, P. O. Box 1734, phone HE. 4900.

LOVELY home; must be seen to be appreciated. Large, beautiful shrubbery; ideal location; real home, direct from owner. Bargain. Address L. M. Constitution.

2793 Piedmont Road

NEW 2-story brick bungalow. Open 10 a.m. to 6. Dorich Rea, Co. WA. 3465.

CONDITIONS force us to sell my home at reasonable price. Small, close to good schools. See or call Mrs. Sullivan, 577 Forrest Ave., WA. 4745.

4 ROOMS Bankhead, Grove Park section. Larger, 2-story, 4 bedrooms, less than $10,000. Tel. 3021-R.

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK—The wood-ed lot, 175x300, only $3,000. WA. 0188.

Morningide.

Ansley Park.

ANSLEY PARK

IF YOU are looking for a bargain in a comfortable, 5-room, white board bungalow, in excellent condition, automatic hot water heat, for $5,500. Call Mr. Brown, WA. 1511.

J. H. EWING & SONS

Realtors

Druid Hills.

1294 OXFORD ROAD

BEST BUY we have ever offered in one of the very best sections. $650 cash will handle. Investigate this before you rent, buy. Call John J. Thompson & Company, WA. 3036.

East Atlanta

SMALL home, nice lot, near stores. East Atlanta, $1,175. $150 cash, bal. $15 per mo. WA. 8000, DE. 3021-R.

4 ROOM, lot $1200. $1,450. $150 cash, $15 per mo. 358 Peachtree Arcade, WA. 8000, DE. 3021-R.

West End.

1714 Westwood Ave., S. W.

Open Today, 2 to 6 P. M.

ONE of the liveliest places in beautiful West End Park.

UNIVERSITY large floor plan, large living room across front, 18x23;

6 and breakfast room, built nearly new, situated on a large lot, ready to move in. Lot $900. plenty of shrubbery and flowers front and rear. You want to live in a conveniently arranged home be sure and see this.

NO LOAN—NO REFINANCING

RENTAL $125 per month, balance financed without cost to suit purchaser. W. D. Hillier, HE. 0788-J.

WA. 0814.

Miscellaneous.

$2,050

DANDY 8-room house, furn. heat; h'wood floors; east front lot. No loan. $350 cash, easy. Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 5311. Haas, Howell & Dodd.

Lots for Sale 85

CAMP on Bishop Lake, 16 miles out-boating, fishing, swimming privileges, all prices, easy. C. M. Bishop, HE. 2, 1000.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

$10 down, monthly. Tel. Act quickly.

LOT 100A, $900. Howell Dr., Adamsville, $95.

62 CITIES WILL HAVE NEW MATTRESS PLANTS

State FERA officials Saturday declared that 62 factories in as many cities in Georgia would soon be established for the manufacturing of mattresses by relief labor. The cities represented are as follows:

Baxley, Pearson, Milledgeville, Adairsville, Cartersville, Macon, Cochran, Quitman, Statesboro, Savannah, Ball Ground, Cedartown, Jonesboro, Homerville, Moultrie, Lenox, Newnan, Bainbridge, Stone Mountain, Douglasville, Blakely, Swainsboro, Claxton, Blue Ridge, Rome, Atlanta, Brunswick, Buford, Gainesville, Buchanan, Hiram, Marietta, Atlanta, Gainesville, Valdosta, Dahlonega, Thomasville, Woodbury, Camilla, Forsyth, Madison, Columbus, Hartwell, Fort Valley, Blackshear, Eatonton, Toccoa, Richland, Americus, McRae, Dawson, Tifton, Lafayette, Senoia, Dalton, Washington.

57 WHITEHALL ST.
Cor. Alabama—Over Baker's Shoe Store
Extractions. $5 For 10 Days
Gold
Crown
FREE
Repairs $1.00
HECOLITE PLATE $14.00
DR. E. C. COUSINS, Assoc.
New System Dentists
Ph. WA. 9361. Open Sun. Morn. 8-6 P. M.

Dodge Salesmen Complete Their Course

Forty-four new auto salesmen who have just completed a course in the Dodge Brothers Corporation training school which closed Friday night. The school was conducted by W. B. Lowe, regional merchandising manager, assisted by Roy M. Coffey, truck representative. Increase of the Dodge sales force was necessitated by the growing business of the Dodge corporation. Among those seated at the table is J. M. Harisop (who has died), general manager of J. M. Harrison & Co. At his right is George T. Curry, regional manager, and at Mr. Harrison's left at R. M. Coffey, truck representative, and W. B. Lowe, regional merchandising manager.

SIXTH CIRCUS MAN DIES OF TYPHOID

DETROIT, Aug. 18.—(AP)—James Gleco, of Sarasota, Fla., a manager with the Ringling Brothers-

Barnum & Bailey circus, died in a hospital here today, the sixth victim of an outbreak of typhoid fever which sent 77 members of the circus troupe to a hospital here a month ago. Two others of the troupe, Eugene

Fleck, of the Wallenda high wire company, and Earl Michael, are reported in critical condition, with 11 others still regarded as seriously ill. Twenty-five more are in the hospital and are reported improving.

Preacher Is Guilty Of Slaying Deacon

MOULTON, Ala., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Rev. L. P. Royer was convicted of murdering Frank Pickens, 83-year-old deacon, by a Lawrence county jury tonight. Life sentence was recommended after 4 1/2 hours deliberation.

Sentence will be imposed Monday. Judge W. W. Calahan announced in receiving the report of the jury of farmers.

The state had demanded the death penalty in arguments just before the jurors fled out at 7 p. m.

The minister was carried into the courtroom on a stretcher to hear the jury report, having collapsed that afternoon from his sojourn in jail due to exhaustion caused by the strain of his two-day trial. His brothers, Ted and Jerry Royer, and his eldest son, Spencer, carried the stretcher.

The preacher lay quietly on the stretcher as the verdict was read by Lawson Rogers, foreman of the jury.

He showed no sign of emotion.

GREENWICH, Conn. (UPI)—There's no "switching" drinks from Frank E. Vanderhorst's bottle. He has invented a bottle top cork which makes it impossible to pull bottle corks (milk, whisky or potion) unless you have the key. But then, it's been known to break off necks.

Another "lone man" has managed to slip out of this class through the relief money he received. His landlady reported to the social worker that she had seen him in town two months ago, paid his rent, and kept his bride on the $14 a month given him and has not asked to be changed to the family division. But the couple had no surplus funds to spend on a honeymoon.

Almost like a Horatio Alger story is the case-history of a Negro boy who worked his way up to the Edge office since 1933. During the year when he could find no employment he followed a course in watch-repairing offered by the state department. He has paid most of his debts and within two months will operate his own shop.

"Undershirt Ladies."

But the "lone men" division is only a small part of the duties of the office. Twenty-five hundred families must be provided with food and shelter. Clothes are given through the personal efforts of the social workers who have become known as the "undershirt ladies" to children in the neighborhood whose garments before have been limited to one piece.

Last week two of the staff members drove down to visit their clients. Like the Pied Piper's magic flute, their automobile proved a magnet to all the neighborhood children.

"Don't touch the back of the car,"

one of the social workers said warn-ingly. "It has just been oiled and you will get oil all over you."

The children backed away with startled expressions. A moment later a little boy who had not heard her came near and touched the bumper with an exploring finger.

"Jimmy, don't go close to it," one of the women cried. "The lady says you will get a dose of castor oil."

Each day at the office brings its quota of tales stretching from grim tragedy to slap-stick comedy. Not long ago a tipsy man staggered through the doorway. He wanted a new hat, the social worker scolded him and pointed to the piece of battered old cloth in his hands.

Police Station Etiquette.

Has remained obscure. His grocery order could be cancelled but it was absolutely necessary for him to have a new hat before sundown.

"You can see how drunk I am now, miss," he said. "Are you going to pick me up before tonight? They always do. And they number our clothes when we get put in the jug. Can't you see I've got to have a new hat by sunrise?"

He pointed to the greasy lining. It was completely covered with police identification numbers so completely that it was obviously no place for the next call. But he had to await his arrest in the old holding cell.

After a week filled with such startling cross-sections of life, there is little wonder that the social workers settle down for a quiet chat in late afternoon after the office has closed. But one night recently, a few minutes after the doors were closed, a rattling noise was heard outside. At one of the windows appeared a man gesticulating fiercely in deaf-mute language.

Recognizing the deaf-mute as a "client" but too weary to handle another case, the young woman nearest who was working shook her head vigorously.

The frantic signaling did not stop.

Presently a new face appeared at the window.

"Pardon me, lady, but I think he is trying to tell you what is going on. The last woman coming out of our door got caught in the door and she's hanging up here now."

W. T. Anderson's Car Crashes Into Wagon

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 18.—(AP)—

W. T. Anderson, publisher of the Macon Telegraph and News, while en route by automobile from Macon to Statesboro, struck an unlighted wagon on the highway five miles from Graymont-Summit, about 8 o'clock tonight and caused Raymond Sanders, driver of the wagon, to be injured, and one mile to be killed.

Mr. Sanders, who lives on the Watson road outside of Graymont-Summit, was taken to his home by a doctor, who reported that Mr. Sanders may have sustained internal injuries. The doctor will not be able to ascertain the full extent of Mr. Sanders' injuries until 24 hours have elapsed. Several children on the wagon suffered from shock but were otherwise unhurt.

"A car with bright lights was approaching me just before the accident," said Mr. Anderson, "and completely obscured the wagon, which had no lights." Mr. Anderson was not hurt, although his car was damaged to some extent.

After the accident Mr. Anderson was brought to a hospital in Statesboro, where Charles Hudlin, fell from his automobile with the wagon killed one of the two miles attached to it.

WHITLEY PAVED ROAD IS TO BE OPENED SOON

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 18.—

The Lamar county section of state route No. 7 has been paved, and will be thrown open to travel in about 10 days. This leaves only the Crawford county section of route unpaved between Barnesville and Perry.

The paving was done by the Whitley Construction Company and was completed in less than the time contracted for.

Airports for Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Ten-

new airports are to be opened in the future by the state of Tennessee emergency relief funds, will give it state and national link routes and a rating of third among southern states in number of airports.

Cards of Thanks.

We thank our friends for the kindness shown us in the days of our need; and for the beautiful floral offerings and use of cars.

MRS. FLORA ELLIOTT,
MR. J. L. BLOODWORTH,
M. G. M. BLOODWORTH.

Cards of Thanks.

We thank our many friends for the kindness shown us in the days of our need; and especially that of our beloved father and husband. We especially thank those for the use of their cars.

MRS. W. B. SIMPSON AND FAMILY.

Cards of Thanks.

We wish to express sincere appreciation to friends and relatives for the beautiful flowers and floral offerings and use of cars.

MR. AND MRS. F. W. STOKES
AND FAMILY.

(COLORED.)

BLACKMON.—The funeral of Mr. A. N. Blackmon will be announced later. David T. Howard & Co.

McGINNIS.—Funeral services for Mr. Tom McGinnis, of 25 Lincoln place, will be announced later. Hanley Co.

BROWN.—Mr. C. B. Brown passed away at his residence, 89 Martin avenue, South Atlanta, August 18.

Funeral announced later. Cor-

Bros. Co.

BELL.—The remains of Mr. Felton

Bell, of 599 Marietta street, will be taken by motor this Sunday morning to Good Hope, Ga., for funeral and interment. Hanley Co.

RAGLAND.—Funeral services for Mr.

Roy Ragland, of 103 Walnut street, will be held today at 3:30 p. m.

from our chapel. Interment South

View cemetery. Hanley Co.

FOSTER.—The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Eliza Foster, of 41

Fort St. S. E., are invited to attend her funeral today at 1:30 p. m.

from our chapel. Interment South

View cemetery. Hanley Co.

CANTRELL.—The friends and relatives of Mr. Robert Cantrell, of 755

West Princeton avenue, College

Park, are invited to attend his funeral today at 2:30 p. m. from Mt.

Zion Baptist church. Rev. J. H.

Johnson, assisted by Rev. Kaye, will officiate. Interment Oak Hill cemetery. Hanley Co.

SMITH.—The funeral services for Mr.

Thomas Smith will be held this

(Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from

Ree Street Baptist church. Rev. C. N.

Ellis will officiate. Interment South

View cemetery. Hanley Co.

HARRIS.—Relatives and friends of

Miss Minnie Lee Harris, of Bland-town, are invited to attend her funeral tomorrow (Monday) at 2 p. m.

from St. Peters Baptist church. Interment Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Co.

SMITH.—The funeral services for Mr.

Walter Holliday announced th at 2 o'clock Monday, August 20, a

Allen Temple A. M. church.

Rev. R. J. Jefferson will officiate.

Interment South View. Ivey Bros.

morticians.

(COLORED.)

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind words during the illness and death of our beloved son and brother; also for their cars and floral offerings.

(Signed)

MRS. ESSIE MAR HUDSON,

MISS HALLIE G. HUDSON,

MRS. ANNIE L. PEER.

Feline Film StarDies of Bad Teeth

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18.—(AP)—

Puzzums, a cat film star, died today.

Puzzums, in more pictures than his comedian dad, Dennis, can remember.

He became ill from an infected tooth

in "Handy Andy."

Labor and Material Included!

Re-Upholster 2-Pc. Living Room Suites

Recover your old furniture for the coming season. Newest fabrics and colorings for fall! Two-piece suite done for as low as—

$32.50

Call us—let us show you our interesting display of smartest upholstering fabrics.

DRAFFRIES, HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

63-Pc. Imported China Dinner Sets

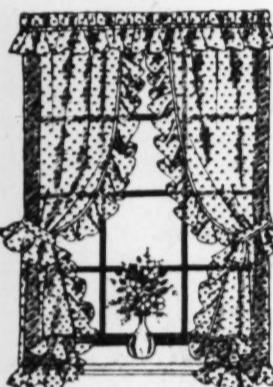

A charming floral design service complete for EIGHT persons! Choose this for the fall bride—for your own use—it's a home-value at just

$29.95

Chromium Sherbets, 6 for with etched glass liners. The perfect complement to your smartest desserts..... $1

CHINA, HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

$1.49-$1.69 Curtains

87¢

Change your outlook—re-curtain ALL your windows for fall! Cushion and pin dots—trim figures in fine quality marquise. Ruffled Priscilla style, complete with tie-backs. Pr.

FILET NET LACE CURTAINS, coarse or fine weaves in beautiful Renaissance designs. Ready to hang $2.69

$6 DAMASK DRAPES, pinch pleat tops, sateen lined. Rich colors. Pr. $4.98

98c WINDOW SHADES, Harishorn make, 3x12 ft. with fixtures. Ea. 69c

CHAIR SLIP COVERS, "Sure Fit" of green, rust, jasper or gay cretonnes. Standard English type chairs $1.98

DAVENPORT SLIP COVERS, "Sure Fit" in jaspe cloth or cretonne. Standard and English type davenport $2.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Imported Rugs! Reg. $49--- Oriental Reproductions

$39.50

Imported rugs in identical copies of gorgeous Orientals! Tree-of-life, Sarouk and Persian designs, deeply fringed—full of color and life. 9x12 ft.

FELT BASE RUGS, "Service Bond"—built for wear. Sizes 6x9 ft. $3.49

FELT BASE RUGS, "Service Bond" 9x12 $6.98

FLOOR COVERING, "Service Bond" felt base, cut from the roll. Square yard 49c

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$59.50 Living Room Suite

Similar to illustration. Restful, roomy and utterly lovely—sofa and chair upholstered in your choice of tapestries. Spring seat and back, reversible spring-filled cushions—your "buy" at just—

$39.50

$79.50 Bedroom Suite

A rich, dignified suite for your bedrooms—genuine walnut veneer! Heavy poster bed, large three-mirror vanity, massive chest of drawers complete the suite!

$59.50

FURNITURE, HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

J.M. HIGH CO.

Lavishly Furred Coats

...at August Sale Prices!

BADGER: MARMINK: MARTEN: BLACK FOX: POINTED FOX: MANCHURIAN WOLF: FRENCH BEAVER: LAPIN.

Suave, sleek lines—glorious furs that make luxurious frames for your face! New fabrics—bark and rib crepes—deep pile and lovely! A COMPLETE collection of the season's smartest models—at High's August Sale welcome LOW prices! Choose Monday from two price groups.

Group 1: Sale Price—

$38

Group 2: Sale Price—

$58

Sizes: 12 to 20
and 38 to 46

Lay-Away Plan

A small down payment—the remainder in easy payments—and YOUR coat is paid for by cold weather—when you want it!

HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Subtle Dignity--Rich Charm in New Fall Crepe-Back Satins

You'd Expect to Pay $1.59 yd.!

The choice of fashion for first fall wear. Satin dresses, satin suits, satin blouses—think of the numberless important things you'll make of this—add the savings at this LOW price! Yd.

98c

$1.19 New Fall Prints

Rough surface prints—the vogue for smart fall wear! Neat monotone patterns in browns, greens, navy and black. Yd.

69c

New Cotton Suitings

Grand for school and daytime wear! Big plaid, trim stripes and pretty figures in rich fall shades. Color fast, of course. Yd.

25c

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

See what's happening to prices in our AUGUST FURNITURE SALE!

Representative Values--Hundreds of Others!

Cost Has Been Forgotten!

$59.50 LIVING ROOM SUITE
$22.50 COFFEE TABLE, solid mahogany
$29.50 WRITING DESK, mahogany veneer
$89.50 MAPLE BEDROOM SUITE, twin beds....
$139.50 MAPLE BEDROOM SUITE, 4 pieces ...
$129.50 BURL WALNUT BEDROOM SUITE, 3 pc. $75.00
$34.50 KITCHEN CABINET, well-made, roomy... $19.50
LIVING ROOM SUITES, 4 only. "Trade-ins" $10.00
$14.50 WINDSOR BEDS, made of metal
$17.50 BREAKFAST ROOM SUITES, 5 pieces ...
SUMMER FURNITURE, entire stock reduced....
$59.50 GOV. WINTHROP SECRETARY, mahog'y $29.50
$4.95 MAGAZINE RACK, convenient and roomy.. $1.98
$16.50 CONSOLE TABLE, mahogany
$39.50 LARGE BOOK CASE, glass front.....$24.50
$14.95 OCCASIONAL CHAIRS, mahogany frames $8.95
$85 KARPEN WING CHAIR, claw feet

Many Items Below Cost!

$49.50 OCCASIONAL TABLE, marble top.....$25.00
$26.50 MAHOGANY DESK, dropleaf style.....$12.98
$49.50 DUNCAN PHYFE TABLE, drop leaf.....$34.50
$69.50 COGSWELL CHAIRS, large size.....$24.50
$49.50 PR. FRENCH TABLES, with lamps.....$19.50
$24.50 CONSOLE TABLE, mahogany
$16.50 TABLE LAMP, complete with shade.....$3.95
$49.50 BOUDOIR VANITIES, walnut
$10.95 BABY BEDS, with springs
$11.50 BOUDOIR CHAIRS, display soiled
$16.50 CLUB CHAIR, with ottoman.....$8.75
$29.50 LOVE SEAT, floor sample
$75 MAHOGANY HI-BOY, eight drawers.....$37.50
$6 to $9 CABINETS, for brooms, mops
$6.50-$12.50 DINING ROOM CHAIRS, choice... $2.95
$27.50 LOVE SEAT, built-in cedar chest
$169.50 DINING SUITE, crotch mahogany....$129.50

TERMS ARRANGED ON ANY PURCHASE : FREE STORAGE : NO CARRYING CHARGES

Tomorrow! Monday

Last Day FREE Monogramming
In August Linen Sale!

2-Year Sheets

Reg. $1.29!

88¢ ea.

Sizes:
63x99-in.; 81x99-in.

Fill your linen closet to the brim with these—they're "best sellers" in the August Sale—they're "best buys" for constant use. Laundry tested for TWO years' normal wear.

PILLOW CASES, 42x36 inches, to match 2 yr. guaranteed sheets, Ea. 22c

$7.98 Irish Linen Damask

Table Cloths

Gleaming double satin damask—every thread PURE Irish linen in four distinctive patterns. 2x2½ and 2x3 yd. sizes. Snowy white. NAPKINS, 22x22 in. Doz. $4.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Super-Specials

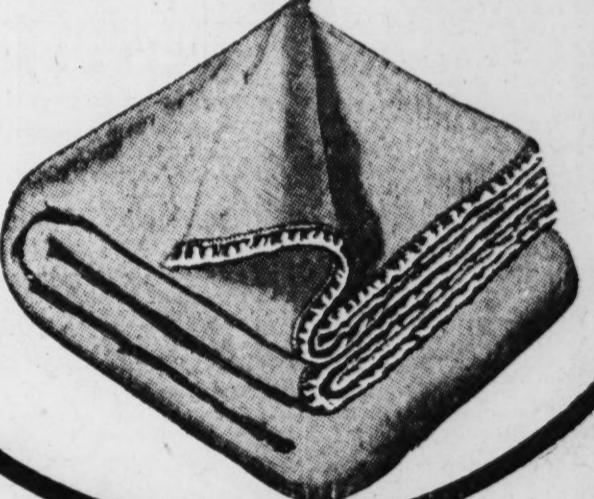

MUSLIN, 36-in. unbleached.	9c
MATTRESS COVERS, unbleached.	$1
Each
MATTRESS PADS, quilted.	$1.39
Each
FEATHER TICKING, A. C. A. make.	24c
Yard
SHEETING,	25c
81 in. unbleached.
Yard
DISH TOWELING, part linen.	10c
Yard

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$7.98 Reversible All-Wool Blankets

Feather-light—snug and comfortable all-wool blankets in two-toned solids. Warm boudoir shades, bound with silk-satin. 70x80 inches.

$2.19 "BEACON" BLANKETS, gay block plaids in bright colors. 70x80 inches, bound with matching satine. Ea. $1.69

$109.50 Dining Room Suite

Genuine walnut veneer—buffet, table, china cabinet. Arm chair and five side chairs, with upholstered detachable cushions! An outstanding feature of our Furniture Sale at—

$79.00

$70
Values!

Modern Bedroom Suites

Designed for modern homes in the spirit of the times! Similar to illustration in your choice of maple, black and ivory or bone white combinations!

$49.50

FURNITURE, HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

This Page Has Been for a quarter of a Century the Official Organ of the Georgia Federation

GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Organized in 1896—Membership 30,000—Joined General Federation in 1896—Motto: "Wisdom, Justice, Moderation"—Club Flower: Cherokee Rose

PRESIDENT, Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens; first vice president, Mrs. Albert Hill, of Greenville; second vice president, Mrs. A. B. Conger Jr., of Bainbridge; recording secretary, Mrs. Morris Bryan, of Jefferson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rufus Turner of Athens; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard McCall, of Atlanta; editor, Mrs. Bessie Shaw Stafford; General Federation director in Georgia, Mrs. J. W. Gholson, of Conyers; Georgia Federation headquarters, Parlor E. Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta, Telephone Main 2173; national headquarters, 1784 N Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

DISTRICT PRESIDENTS—First, Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, of Claxton; second, Mrs. A. B. Conger, of Bainbridge; third, Mrs. A. C. Moye Jr., of Cuthbert; fourth, Mrs. Hartford Green, of Zebulon; fifth, Mrs. John F. MacDougal, of Pace's Ferry road; sixth, Mrs. S. G. Lang, of Sandersville; seventh, Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; eighth, Mrs. R. G. Dickerson, of Homerville; ninth, Mrs. H. P. De La Perriere, of Hoschton; tenth, Mrs. Walter Armistead, of Crawford; Mrs. Harvie Jordan, state publicity chairman, Parlor E. Henry Grady hotel.

Lexington Clubwomen Compliment Mrs. Crawford and Citizens

On August 10 the Lexington Women's Club entertained in honor of their senior club member, Mrs. T. W. Crawford, by inviting as her guests all the senior citizens of the community. The home of Mrs. E. J. Maxwell, the president, was lovely for the occasion, being festive with baskets of gold and white golden glow, dahlias, zinnias and Japanease. The present invited her guests with words of welcome resounding with the gratification the club felt over the pleasure of honoring Mrs. T. W. Crawford and three gentlemen, Drs. W. H. McIntyre, Mr. Z. Faust and Editor W. A. Shackleford, whose service to the community spanned half a century. Club members greeted the guests with a song, the following words by Mrs. G. A. Barron, sung to the tune of "Old Black Joe":

Greetings we bring to you honored guest of today.
Our eastern we would like a word to say.
All have you who have stood for what is best.
We feel that we can sing your praise with glee and zest.

CHORUS:
We honor you—we love you,
And we know that you can feel
The depth of our souls' gratitude is deep and real.

If our club has brought anything worth while,
It's been you honored us as a child
To carry on in a simple honest way.
May God's blessings rest on each of you,
we pray.

III.

Always we'll keep memories of this hallowed
day.
When our grandchildren we can proudly
say
It was our privilege to a senior member
To sing to her a toast and pledge our faith again.

CHORUS II:
We honor you, we love her,
And we know that she can feel
The depth of our souls' gratitude is deep and real.

Mrs. Louise Brooks, president of the Junior Woman's Club and granddaughter of Mrs. T. W. Crawford, presented Mrs. T. W. Crawford with a corsage of rosebuds as a token of love and esteem from the juniors. Mrs. W. H. Maxwell paid tribute to Dr. W. Z. Faust in words expressive of the club members and community at large, appreciation of a magnificent person in their midst. She pictured him as he had served his community for 50 years, bringing to it rare quality of his service, the greatness of the man's ideals and intellect.

Miss Gussie Reese paid tribute to Dr. W. H. Reynolds, who has served for 50 years in his beloved profession in our community. She pictured him gentle, benign in his daily service to

Mrs. Ritchie Presents Health and Welfare Council Findings

Representing the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs at the July meeting of the State Child Health and Welfare Council, Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens, state president, presents the findings of that council and outlines the program suggested for organizing local county councils as follows:

"In every phase of social activity has greater appeal than that of child health and child welfare. On investigation one finds that every organization dedicated to social uplift has prominently on its program certain activities for the enhancement of child life. It has been found, furthermore, that the programs of many of these organizations overlap—there is much duplication of effort with little co-operation between various groups."

"Sensing the need of a more unified program for child health and child welfare in this state, a group of persons representing various organizations and agencies deeply interested in this phase of social welfare met in Atlanta in the spring of this year to formulate plans for a state-wide organization whose function primarily would be to sponsor and guide the various groups in their activities."

"On July 5, after several preliminary meetings, the constitution and by-laws of the child health and welfare council were adopted. The attempt was made to bring into the organization representatives of all groups interested in every phase of child welfare."

"The by-laws provide that the activities of the child health and welfare council shall concentrate upon the following projects in the problems, namely, public health, medical, welfare, and education. A chairman of each of these sections was elected, who, with the aid of his committee, has worked out a duplicate program for state-wide activity."

"In order to translate this program into action, the by-laws further provide for the organization of a local county council on the same pattern as that of the state council—the membership of the county council to include a representative of the county medical society, the county board of health, the county relief administrator, the home demonstration agent, G. E. R. Alcorn, and school and city superintendents of schools and representatives of the following organizations: Woman's Club, Parent-Teacher Association, Woman's Auxiliary of the Medical Association of Georgia, and all other civic groups interested in child welfare."

"It is proposed that the county council at its organizational meeting elect its officers and appoint the chairmen of the four major sections: Medical, public health, education and welfare, exactly similar to the state organization. The programs sponsored by the various state sectional chairmen and approved by the executive committee shall then be presented to the local sectional chairmen, who, with his committee, shall proceed to carry out their proposals."

"In order to accomplish the aims of the Child Health and Welfare Council it is absolutely necessary that the local county council function

Mrs. Poole Suggests Three Ways For Entering Fall Club Work

In her August message to club-women, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the general federation, suggests three ways in which one can enter the fall work, which are as follows: "One can make up her mind to do as little as possible, do the task in a negative rather than in a positive spirit, know when it starts out probably little progress will be made. I've seen many presidents approach their work that way and seem to take a real joy in the inevitable result of a negative administration."

"The second way to start the ball rolling is a slight improvement on the first. The president is just as loyal to her club, but terribly drab and life moves slowly and painfully under such motto power."

"Then there is the third way and by far the greatest number of our club leaders follow it. Life is an adventure, a glorious adventure; to be a part of it all, to dare to try new things, to learn, to give and take, to broaden the horizon of living, to grow mentally and spiritually, to draw in the circle of life, to meet every walk of life in the community—these are only a few of the compensations of this highest type of leadership. My, it takes courage and grit to attain it, but it means one truly lives in the full meaning of the word."

Support of NRA.

"Just a year ago you and I were getting pretty stirred up over the success of the NRA. The first gun in the new economic war had been fired and many were not pleased over the direction the battle was taking. Since that time we've learned many things, but through the ebb and flow of the known facts and the new industry, labor and the consumer. Our own Mrs. Fram has given us valuable assistance and we can offer you also a booklet recently published by the NRA, entitled "What Is the NRA?" It is the first comprehensive story of the reasons for and the aims of this NRA. This pamphlet gives information of the Montana, Colorado and Nevada federations meeting early in the fall, and the National conference meeting in Swampscott, Mass., and the conference for women leaders conducted by the New York Herald Tribune in the Waldorf-Astoria, after which she will return to Washington September 28.

Officials in Honolulu.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and several of her official family are attending the Pacific Woman's Conference in Honolulu.

Wives on the islands they will visit the three clubs belonging to the federation, the Hilo Woman's Club, the Lihue Kaumokihana Club and the Maui Woman's Club.

Mrs. Poole is a scheduled speaker at the conventions of the Montana, Colorado and Nevada federations meeting early in the fall, and the National conference meeting in Swampscott, Mass., and the conference for women leaders conducted by the New York Herald Tribune in the Waldorf-Astoria, after which she will return to Washington September 28.

smoothly and efficiently. It is probable that in certain counties the program as submitted by the sectional chairman must be modified to meet the peculiar needs of certain localities. Still in the main the general principles as laid down can be followed.

"The program of the welfare section deal with various phases of the problem of the underprivileged and handicapped child. Particular emphasis will be placed upon the need of juvenile courts, especially in the larger counties. Certain legislation sorely needed in the field of public welfare will be stressed. The program concerned mainly with the dissemination of knowledge concerning child health and welfare problems to the various civic groups. It will cooperate with the medical section in its attempt to enhance child health."

From Mrs. W. W. Armistead, president of the tenth district, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, comes the announcement that the Mattie Belle Gholston loving cup which was awarded to the tenth district at club institute, for having made the largest per capita gift to Tallulah Falls school in 1933, will be rewarded by the tenth district president to the club in her district which has made the greatest per capita gift to Tallulah by the district convention which meets in Conyers in October this year. This contest is only from May to October.

"The tenth district will receive the cup until the spring state convention at Valdosta, at which time it will be awarded again by the state to the district that merits it. The tenth district contributed $21,70 to Tallulah by May 31 of this year and yet her per capita gift was $3 cents, while that of some other districts was 83 cents. So the tenth district may be the one to receive the honor or another to another district. There is still time for the clubs contesting for the reward to swell their contributions. A number of $25 gifts were made this year from the individual clubs in celebration of Tallulah's silver anniversary, and since it has been proven what can be done, be not satisfied with doing less."

Scholarships Are Available Now.

Mr. Price Smith, of 69 Eleventh street, in Atlanta, Ga., state chairman of the scholarships for Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, states that scholarships are available to Brenau College, Gainesville; Georgia Vocational, Monroe; LaGrange Female College; Mercer University, Macon; Piedmont College, Demorest; Washington Seminary, Atlanta; Penn Hill, Chamberlain, Pa.; Blanks College for Girls, Blackstone, Va.; Sulions College, Bristol, Va.; Cornellia Cunningham Art.

Music scholarships may be applied for at Atlanta Conservatory; Miss Mary Douglas, violin; Miss Carroll Summer; Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, voice; Barbara School of Music, violin and piano; Miss Edna Bichlow, piano; Miss Ethel Beyer, organ; Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs, harp; Miss Margaret Hecht, voice; Miss Nana Tucker, piano; Miss Lula Clark King, voice; and Rosa Mueller, piano.

Yearbook Changes.

Mrs. Chapple Chandler is president of the Millen Woman's Club and club women are asked to make this correction in the new federation year book. At the August meeting of the Claxton Woman's Club the following officers were elected: Mrs. Jane Varnedoe, president; Mrs. A. J. Downs, recording secretary; Mrs. Will Kicklighter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Waldo Bradley, treasurer. Mrs. Varnedoe is on the state executive board, having the chairmanship of rural education, and is the school superintendent of Evans county. The first district will hold its fall convention in Savannah, the date to be announced.

Crouch-Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Varn and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee announce the marriage of their sister, Catherine Louise Hughes of Statesboro, Ga., to Dr. Samuel Julius Crouch, also of Statesboro, at a quiet ceremony on Thursday evening, August 16.

A more effective turnout for early autumn wear without a coat, and later if it will be with a well-fitted jacket over a warm outer garment. You could make it in wool as well as silk and it would lose nothing by being transferred into the heavier fabric.

Pattern 1874 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabrics and 1 1/4 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 cents for each Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

And while you are writing, why not include an order for a fascinating book, crammed from cover to cover with stunning illustrations and captivating descriptions of new fashions, fabrics and other things that make a woman chic. The winter issue of the Lillian Mae pattern book is 15 cents.

Address orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Federation Membership Is Discussed At Council Meeting at Hot Springs

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.' As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Every clubmember has an unusual opportunity to contribute something of lasting value to our history and to the welfare of tomorrow's world. Through our children and parents instilled into the youth of today, through our children, we must perpetuate the ideals and traditions of our nation, since they are the only link we have with the future.

Every clubmember has an unusual opportunity to contribute something of lasting value to our history and to the welfare of tomorrow's world. Through our children and parents instilled into the youth of today, through our children, we must perpetuate the ideals and traditions of our nation, since they are the only link we have with the future.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive programs leading to the development of better homes and families. Its organizations, local, state and national, are planned to offer unlimited service in all forward-looking movements.

Through federation, vision is made nation-wide; through the departments, divisions and committees the most vital questions of the day are studied and comprehensive programs are outlined for the use of federated club-

women. The standards of living may change but the standards of life do not.

"In the report on membership given at the General Federation Council meeting at Hot Springs by the chairman, Mrs. Jonathan B. Carter, of Wilson, Kan., are these excerpts: The General Federation of Women's Clubs is chartered for educational, philanthropic, scientific and other purposes. Its common goal is 'the encouragement of life through the application of human relations.'

As an organization it has received the approval of both men and women to penetrate the surface and see beneath the purpose and possibilities for constructive

Meetings

Electa Chapter No. 6, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, August 21, at 8 o'clock, 423 1/2 Marietta street, northwest.

The annual election of officers will be the feature of the business meeting of the T. E. L. class of the Baptist Tabernacle to be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at the church.

Y. W. A. of Capitol Avenue Baptist church meets Monday evening, August 20, at 8 o'clock, with Miss Fannie Rudisill, 650 Hill street, S. E.

Executive board of the W. M. S. of Capitol Avenue Baptist church will meet Monday morning, August 20, at Mozley Park. A picnic lunch will be served before the meeting, and all members of the W. M. S. are invited. The members planning to attend are asked to meet at the church at 10:30 o'clock.

Atlanta Truth Center meets Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock on mezzanine floor of the Biltmore hotel, and the evening class will meet at 6 o'clock at The Open Door, No. 205 Mortgage Guarantee building. The Atlanta Truth Center meets Thursday evening, class at 1 o'clock, at The Open Door, No. 205 Mortgage Guarantee building. Classes on Monday and Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Venus Temple No. 22, Pythian Sisters, meets Wednesday evening, August 22, at 7:30 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall at 289 1/2 Peachtree street.

Inman chapter No. 112, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, August 21, at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple at Inman Yards.

Ladies' Auxiliary of Bricklayers' Union No. 48, of Georgia, meets Tuesday morning, August 21, at 10 o'clock in Rich's conference room. All R. M. and P. I. N. are invited.

West End Garden Club meets Tuesday, August 21, at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. J. Griggs, 445 Langhorn street, S. W. Mrs. R. W. Underwood will act as co-hostess. Mrs. Thomas Whetzel will give the calendar for the month and suggestions for the garden will be had as the program for the fall and winter work. Luncheon will be served in Mrs. Griggs' garden.

Kle Club meets at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, August 22, at the Elks' Club, 736 Peachtree street, N. E. Matters of vital importance will be discussed at the meeting and the president, Mrs. George C. James, urges members to attend.

Center Hill chapter, No. 235, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, August 21, at 8 o'clock, in Masonic temple, on Bankhead highway. After a short business meeting the chapter will be open to the public. At the same time, the Little League, Sarah Louise Bosler, will be introduced and installed. Other honor guests will be little Jo Anne Camp, Norma Moon and Harrold Hogg. A cordial invitation is extended to members and friends.

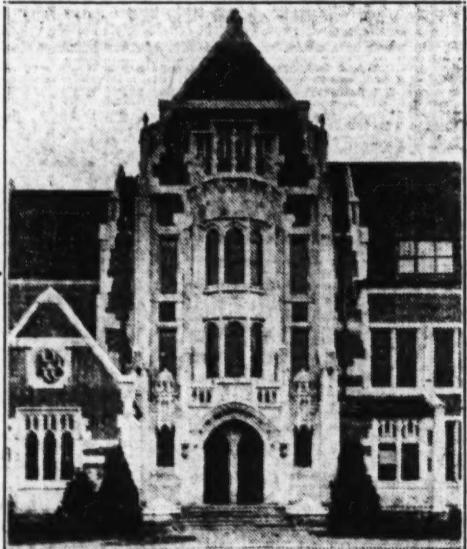

John P. Wilkinson Chapter, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock in the chapter hall, corner Bankhead avenue and Ashby street, on August 20. Mrs. Ruth Whitfield,

Ladies' Purse (Bags)
$1.00-$1.98, $2.95 and up
Good Values—New Styles
W. Z. TURNER LUGGAGE CO.
219 Peachtree St.

HEALTH SPOT SHOES
Straighten Up Weak Feet
For MEN and WOMEN
MINOR SHOE CO.
Sewing and Orthopedic
Shoe Specialists
508 PONCE DE LEON

How About Your Eyes?
We Make the Necessary Examination

JNO. L.
MORE
E SONS, INC.
70 FORSYTH ST., N. W.

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE

A Distinguished College for Women

AGNES SCOTT specializes in trying to prepare young women for the vocation in which they may be interested. Its graduates have done successful work in more than fifty leading occupations. Among the professions that have enlisted the largest numbers are teaching, social service, library work, church service, advertising, newspaper activities, and business.

For Further Information Write or Phone

Registrar, Box No. C

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE
DECATUR, GA.

PHONE DE. 4976

September Bride-Elect

The above photo is of Miss Sara Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., whose engagement was recently announced to LeRoy Edward Hamilton, the marriage to be solemnized in September.

worthy matron, extends an invitation to all members of the order to attend.

At the third Monday business and missionary meeting of Druid Hills Baptist, W. M. S. on Monday, August 20, in the T. E. L. room at 3 o'clock, Dr. L. D. Newton, pastor, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Newton returns this week from Berlin, where he attended the Baptist World Alliance, presenting Atlanta's invitation to entertain the alliance in 1935, which was accepted. Mrs. Nancy P. Clark, circular, will be in charge of the refreshments, and Mrs. Luther Byrd will render music. Mrs. W. H. McClain, program chairman, urges members of the circles to hear Dr. Newton's address.

The Georgia Sewing Club, Georgia Chapter 127, O. E. S., will meet at Grant park, Berne street pavilion, on Tuesday afternoon, August 21, at 2:30 o'clock.

Georgia Chapter No. 127, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock in the chapter hall, corner Bankhead avenue and Ashby street, on August 20. Mrs. Ruth Whitfield, Cherokee Rose Lodge, No. 606, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, meets Thursday, August 23, 2:30 o'clock at 11 N. Forsyth street, N. W.

North Atlanta Chapter No. 36 meets on Thursday evening, August 23, at 8 o'clock.

A called meeting of the Past Matrons' and Patrons' Association will be held Wednesday evening, August 22, at 7:30 o'clock at 11 N. Forsyth street, N. W.

Executive board of W. M. S. of Druid Hills Methodist church meets

PERSONALS

Miss Beth Williams, of Quitman, is visiting Miss Mary Singleton, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Adair have returned from High Hampton Inn, North Carolina.

Captain Thomas A. Austin, U. S. A., and Mrs. Austin of Montgomery, Ala., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Adair at their home on Park drive.

Miss Agnes McGlone and Miss Frances House have recently returned from Jacksonville Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Lowry Arnold and her sister, Mrs. Harvey Johnson, are at Connaught inn, at North Hatley, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Jones are spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Jones Jr. at their summer home at Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. Robert V. Roper is visiting Mrs. T. S. Grammer at her home in Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Louise Frix, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Oscar Frix, left Saturday for California and other points of interest in the west.

Miss Esther M. Harris has returned to the city after having spent the summer in Boston, Mass., where she attended the summer session of the school of medicine of Harvard University, taking special courses in physiotherapy. Later Miss Harris spent several days with her former colleague, Mrs. Harry McDuffie, at her summer place at Duxbury, Mass., on Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Milner and Mr. and Mrs. James Donough left Friday for Chicago, to visit relatives and the Century of Progress.

Mrs. J. B. Jeffers and daughter, Miss Eleanor Jeffers, of Birmingham, Ala., are guests for the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trent.

Mrs. W. T. Walker, of Nashville, Tenn., will be the guest next week of her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Fowler. Mrs. Walker will be joined later by her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Duke, also of Nashville.

Mrs. R. S. Burch and Miss Ruth Hargrove, Thomasville, Ga., and Miss Thyrza Bear and Miss Edna Ahly, of Miami and Chicago, are guests of Mrs. Mary George Black for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Curtis left Atlanta Saturday for a day's absence at the Hotel Lincoln in New York city. They will visit several other eastern cities before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Paul left yesterday for Chicago, where they will attend the Century of Progress Exposition. Before returning to Atlanta in early September, Mrs. and Mrs. Paul will visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Paul in Superior, Neb.

Misses Margaret and Betty Mock have returned to their home in Albany, Ga., after spending several weeks there with relatives.

Miss Miriam Pope and Miss Rosemary Hawk, who have been visiting relatives and friends at Daytona Beach and Orlando, Fla., for the past two months, have returned to Atlanta. During their visit they were the central figures at a series of interesting social affairs.

Mr. John Harmon of Bordeaux, S. C., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Octie Eppes, and her brothers, W. A. Pelet, W. O. Pelet and J. F. Pelet at their home on Augusta avenue.

July 21, Dr. Givens left Thursday for New York from where he will sail today aboard the Berengaria for England where he will attend the London School of Economics.

Mrs. J. M. Lewis and Miss Vera Stanton will motor to Union Springs, Ala., on Sunday to spend a few days.

Miss Marion Bradshaw, of Norfolk, Va., arrived on Saturday to visit Miss Clara Bright.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson E. McJennin, Sr., 516 East Paces Ferry road, Atlanta, announce the birth of a daughter at Crawford W. Long hospital. The baby was born on June 9. The baby's name is Mary Chastain. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kern, of Greenville, S. C.

Among guests at the Biltmore are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Simrall, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Miss Maude Van Woy, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Irsgang, of Kilgore, Fla.; William Biggs, of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Blumenthal, of New Orleans, La.; Leifur E. Ingolfsson, Miss Jane Sidney Blumenthal, of New York, La.; W. R. Dawson, of Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. Barrett, of Augusta, Ga.; John Garriques, of New York; E. G. Middleton, of Walden, Ga.; George E. Wilkinson, of Newark, N. J.

Miss Helen Parker, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Parker, 719 Milligan street, N. W., returned home Friday after a six-week visit to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Wheeler at their home on Third street. Mrs. Baskin was formerly Miss Lydia Wheeler.

William E. Chapin is at the Marlboro-Blenheim hotel, at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy are at the Marlboro-Blenheim hotel at Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Marie Echols has returned from visiting points of interest in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stauffacher Jr., of Covington, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Turner, of College Park, Ga., are spending some time at the World's Fair, in Chicago. En route home they will visit other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Bray will return today from Highlands, N. C., where they spent the past two weeks.

Mrs. William O. Martin Sr. has returned from Sapphire, N. C., and Clayton, Ga., where she spent the past month, having stayed at Beechwood Inn at the latter place.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Richardson will leave today after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Caldwell for Winston-Salem, N. C., where they will join Miss Joseph A. Higgins, accompanied by several friends, left on Friday for Charleston, from which point she will go to New York. Before returning to Atlanta, they will visit the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Vickery announce the birth of a daughter on August 18, at the Georgia Baptist hospital, who has been given the name Virginia Gordon. Mrs. Vickery was before her marriage, Miss Evelyn Cauble, and the baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Z. Cauble, of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vickery, of Decatur, Georgia.

Mrs. Don Pardee and Miss Mary Kingsbury are visiting Mrs. James H. Nunnally at her summer home at Tuxaway, N. C. They motored to North Carolina last week.

Miss Jean Egart and Miss Kate Murphy are spending several weeks in New York.

Gentle as Indian Summer Sunshine

Garments Are Actually Flooded in ZORIC Fluid

New Method Laundry Co.

560 Benjamin Street

ZORIC
GARMENT CLEANING SYSTEM

Every Fiber Is Freed From Soil and Stain

Engagement Announced Today

Miss Mary Ellen Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Nash, whose engagement is announced to John Homer Murdoch, the marriage to be solemnized in October. Photograph by Thurston Hatcher.

Miss Harrison Weds Mr. Burt.

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Aug. 18.—A marriage characterized by exquisite beauty and of interest to a host of friends is that of Miss Jessie Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burt, of Crawford, Ga., to Ralph B. Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burt, of Dawsonville, Ga., which was solemnized quietly Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Captain and Mrs. Fred Seagraves on West Hanover street in Atlanta, Ga. Rev. John Taylor of Athens, performed the ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The bride wore crepe de soie ensemble of white. A white felt hat and matching accessories completed the smart costume. The bride's bouquet was of sweetheart roses, swansong and tuber roses. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Seagraves entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt left for a wedding trip including St. Simons Island, Jacksonville Beach and other seacoast towns, after which they will be at home in Swainsboro, Ga., where Mr. Burt holds a position with the Swainsboro school system.

Miss Allen Weds Sam Dunlap.

LITHONIA, Ga., July 18.—The marriage of Miss Mamie Sue Allen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Allen and Sam Giles Dunlap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dunlap, of Atlanta, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, August 11, in Lithonia, with the Rev. T. D. Buice, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

Mrs. Dunlap is a sister of Mrs. R. J. Kerr, of Cartersville; Mrs. W. T. Entrekin, of Douglasville; C. D. Allen and J. P. Allen, of Atlanta. She is a graduate of Girls' High school, where she was an outstanding student in art and literature.

Mr. Dunlap's parents are among the oldest residents of Kirkwood. He has two brothers, James Giles and Howard Giles. He is a graduate of Tech High school and continued his studies at evening school of the University of Georgia. He is now connected with the Flights Southern Neon Electric Sign Company in a responsible capacity. They will make their home at 145 Douglas street.

Hoover presided over the wedding, which was performed at the First Baptist church, of which Mrs. Mamie Sue Allen is a member. The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. W. Allen, and Mrs. Sam Dunlap, of Atlanta; vice-president and counselor to president, corresponding secretary and counselor to local treasurers, Mrs. H. L. Miller, Waycross; recording secretary and counselor to district presidents, Mrs. B. H. McDaniel, of Macon; and treasurer, Mrs. W. Solomon Street, Griffin; counselor to local treasurers, Mrs. Wilber Brown, 363 Johnson avenue, Macon.

Miss May McGinnis will be in charge of the program and Mrs. Charles La Fontaine will present a group of numbers. Miss Helen Battle will accompany Jimmie Calhoun, soloist. Those desiring reservations are requested to telephone Mrs. Colvin at Walnut 1889.

Mrs. Lee Honored.

Mrs. Edward E. Barrett entertained at an informal luncheon on Saturday for Mrs. Agnes Lee, a bride-elect of the year. Covers were placed for Misses Louise and Inez Womack, Mary Ruth DeBardelaben, Roberta Callahan, Lucile Orr, Velia Bivins, Dolly Callahan, Lucile Orr, Mac Henley, Mary Croft, Blodwyn Davis, Julie Patton, and Mesdames Agnes Lee, H. J. Cathey, Bert Friedman, E. L. Baker, C. O. Witcher, Edward Rider, Robert R. Wood and Edward E. Barrett.

ice or revenge. Other national patriotic celebrations carry with them rejoicing for one country at the cost of defeat for another. Armistice Day can scarcely be celebrated by all peoples, but the seventeenth of February recalls only the memory of the wonderful woman who gave so much of her life to rid the world from the social evils and from the horrors of war. On that day all the earth may be in misery, peace together, and it is only by thinking peace instead of war that arbitration will ever take the place of armament and Christian countries be truly Christ-like. The W. C. T. U. was a pioneer in presenting a peace program," said Mrs. Boole, "for Frances Willard said, 'It was a true thought of Mrs. Boole's to have a day set aside where all the peoples of the earth may turn their thoughts toward peace without thought of the majority to realize the good of life.'

The fifty-first annual convention of the Georgia W. C. T. U. will be held in Decatur on the middle of October, with speakers on intelligence and other attractive features. The evening speakers will be the famous World War hero, Alvin York. He will be present Sunday, October 14. Great crowds are expected to fill all the engagements for 12 days, but she is in the midst of heavy work in her own state and probably conduct some classes.

An editorial entitled "A New Light on the Path to Peace," in the Union Signal, says: "It was a true inspiration of Mrs. Boole's to have a day set aside where all the peoples of the earth may turn their thoughts toward peace without thought of malice."

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, who is speaking in Virginia now, will come to be a convention speaker in her home town of Franklin, Tenn., on Saturday, Aug. 25. She is campaigning in six other states. Her presence and participation never fails to make a gathering more interesting.

</div

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED by RALPH T. JONES

GRAND HAS MASTERLY INTERPRETATION OF "TREASURE ISLAND"

Jack Holt Plays Lawyer Role In 'The Defense Rests' at Rialto

"The Defense Rests," feature attraction of the week at the Rialto theater, presents Jack Holt in the role of an utterly unscrupulous criminal attorney, a character that suits him better than anything he has done for quite a long time. As Matthew Mitchell, the two-fist defender of criminals whose only idea is whether or not he can win the fight in court, regardless of the guilt or innocence of his clients, he gives a performance never to be forgotten.

Jean Arthur makes a beautiful leading lady, handling her role of the notorious lawyer's secretary with a finesse, restraint and touch of genius that makes it really live upon the screen. The strong supporting cast includes such popular players as Nat Pendleton, Arthur Hoyt, Shirley Green, Raymond Hackett, John Murray, J. Carson, Naich and many others. Lambert Hillyer directed.

The story revolves about the efforts of Jean Arthur, the secretary to show her employer the error of his unethical ways. He makes a woman client, charged with murder, plead self-defense although she insists she did not shoot the slain man. But Holt wins his case, with a combination of the betrayal-of-the-innocent-country-maiden story and his client's good-looking legs. The secretary, however, sees that by this trick the really guilty man goes free and she is revolted. Although she is in love with Holt she resigns her position in his office.

Later, when Holt is defending a kidnaper, the girl secures evidence that proves beyond question the guilt of his client. She goes to the lawyer with her evidence and he at last sees what he is wrong. He goes before the court, withdraws as attorney for the kidnaper and presents the proof of guilt.

But the lawyer himself now faces prosecution and it is only by a clever, and perfectly legal, development that the story is brought to a happy and thoroughly satisfactory ending.

With a clever group of short subjects as added attractions the Rialto program this week is one of the best offerings of screen entertainment seen in the city for some time.

Edward G. Robinson Is at Fox In 'The Man With Two Faces'

When "Dark Tower," the murder mystery from the pens of the noted playwrights, George S. Kaufman and Alexander Woollcott, was produced on Broadway last season, it became an instant success and at the same time the subject of much controversy. None denied its intense appeal, its grip on the interest of the spectator, its unusually thrilling qualities. People did argue, however, whether it out-Tribled "Trilby," most famous of stage productions a generation ago.

Now comes Edward G. Robinson, undoubtedly one of the most finished and talented actors on stage or screen, in the film adaptation of the play to which First National has given the name "The Man With Two Faces." Supported by a brilliant cast including Ricardo Cortez, Mary Astor, Mae Clarke, Louis Calhern, Arthur Byron and others, he furnishes an evening of delightful entertainment to everyone who likes mystery stories replete with love interest, who is thrilled by an excellent story, original situations, clever lines and magnificent acting.

"The Man With Two Faces," which opened at the Fox theater Friday for its local premiere, more than made good the promises of its producers and exhibitors. It is a dramatic masterpiece, finely acted.

The story tells of a theatrical family, the son an actor and producer, the daughter a popular singer, the talented women on the stage. This girl married a scoundrel who exercises a hypnotic power that well nigh kills her career. Apparently she can act only when motivated by the sinister influence of her husband and when he disappears it almost destroys her. She has about overcome this influence when the scoundrel returns from prison, resumes control over her mind and is sending her to utter ruin when he is murdered.

The mystery of the murder forms the base for the plot and it is not until the very end of the play that the audience knows the identity of the slayer or the motives for the act.

Robinson is as the brother and as Mr. Chautard creates a double role in a masterly manner.

To complete the program there is a Grandland Rice Sportlight, an all-color Betty Boop cartoon entitled "Poor Cinderella," and a comedy entitled "Pugs and Kisses."

Buckhead Presents Fine Feature Today

An especially fine picture is offered today at the Buckhead theater, which continues its new policy of the same prices all day—Sundays only. On Sunday afternoons the opening of the Scottish Rite hospital adults are admitted at any time for 15 cents and children for 10 cents. The picture is that dramatic hit, "Sisters Under the Skin," with the beautiful and gifted Elissa Landi in the principal role and Frank Morgan topping the supporting cast.

Monday and Tuesday the Buckhead presents "Stingaree," with Richard Dix bringing to screen life Hornung's world-famous character of the Australian highwayman. Irene Dunne is lovely as the opera star who loves the outlaw.

On Wednesday, for one day only, the feature in "One Sunday Afternoon," a brilliant story of the day, with Gary Cooper and Fay Wray.

Thursday and Friday the Buckhead will present "Stand Up and Cheer," one of the finest smart comedies of the screen, with Warner Baxter and Madge Evans, while the new program ends Saturday with "Madam Spy," one of the best of the war-time espionage stories, with Fay Wray as the unscrupulous woman spy and Nils Asther as the enemy officer who falls in love with her and who finds, after they are married, that she is working for his country's enemies.

Short subjects for all programs are selected from the extreme care always exercised by the Buckhead management, a care that has resulted in making this popular suburban house known all over the city for the general excellence of its screen entertainment from start to finish of all its programs.

True, she has lived abroad, off and on, for 12 years, and still studies abroad. But like Lawrence Tibbett, she is truly an American product.

These were stories of temperamental clashes during the filming of her first grand opera picture, but those who worked with her will tell you the reverse was true.

"Well, if you can catch fighting for what you think right temperament, I'm temperamental, I guess," she said. Then she went on with Harry Cohn, Columbia's president, but they were friendly battles.

"Besides, temperamental clashes, name-calling and such, will ruin any singer's throat."

Miss Moore began her career as a choir singer in Chattanooga. She went on the New York stage and reached stardom in the Music Box review. Throughout her career she continued her great opera training and is one of the few American girls who climbs to the top without the so-called benefit of foreign training.

True, she has lived abroad, off and on, for 12 years, and still studies abroad. But like Lawrence Tibbett, she is truly an American product.

These were stories of temperamental clashes during the filming of her first grand opera picture, but those who worked with her will tell you the reverse was true.

"Well, if you can catch fighting for what you think right temperament, I'm temperamental, I guess," she said. Then she went on with Harry Cohn, Columbia's president, but they were friendly battles.

"Besides, temperamental clashes, name-calling and such, will ruin any singer's throat."

Miss Moore will leave in a few days for New York to attend the opening of her picture, and after 22 engagements, will return to Hollywood in December to make a new film for Columbia.

In private life, Miss Moore is the wife of Valentino Parera. Is Miss Moore valuable to her studio? Well, her life has been insured for $250,000, with the possibility that the ante may be doubled.

"Sing, Sinner, Sing" with Paul Lukas and Leila Hyams will be offered Thursday and Friday. There are several good songs hits in this musical that will appeal to all audiences. There is also a bit of mystery, when the girl arrives together with a gunman from Philadelphia who has come to silence Curly and the dean who has just got wind of the affair.

The ludicrous mix-up that results almost causes the explosion of the gumballs to their defense and a happy solution is reached for all, with the dancer in the movies, Crosby in love with the dean's daughter and the missing quiet restored beneath Princeton's dreamy skies.

Appearing in supporting roles are Henry Stephenson, Warren Hymer, Roberta Sherwood, Judith Allen, George Barbier and Vince Barnett. Credit for an excellent directional performance goes to Elliott Nugent.

An unusually good short feature program offers a Grandland Rice Sportlight, a Betty Boop all-color cartoon and the always interesting Fox Movietone News.

RIALTO

A Brilliant Criminal Lawyer and His Love Affairs!

JACK HOLT JEAN ARTHUR IN "THE DEFENSE RESTS"

BUCKHEAD

Today—Sunday—Only
Adults 15c, Children 10c All Day
"Sisters Under the Skin"

ELISSA LANDI—FRANK MORGAN
Monday and Tuesday
"Stingaree!"

RICHARD DIX—IRENE DUNNE

Wednesday
"One Sunday Afternoon"
GARY COOPER—FAY WRAY

Thursday and Friday
"Stand Up and Cheer"
WARNER BAXTER—MADGE EVANS

Saturday
"Madam Spy"
NILS ASTHER—FAY WRAY

EMPIRE

Ga. Ave. at Crew St. MA. 8430

TODAY ONLY:
George Raft is
"The Trumpet Blows"

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
The Poor Rich

WEDNESDAY
Doctor Bull

ALSO
The Last Mile

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
Sing Sinner, Sing

SATURDAY
Whirlpool

THURSDAY
"Death Takes a Holiday"
With Fredric March

COOL NEWS GRAND

DOORS OPEN 1:45 P. M. TODAY

BENEFIT SCOTTISH RITE HOSPITAL

Balcony

25c

All

Day

NOW

WALLACE BEERY JACKIE COOPER

In Robert Louis Stevenson's

TREASURE ISLAND

M-G-M Masterpiece with

LIONEL BARRYMORE

LEWIS STONE OTTO KRUGER

ADDED

Fitzpatrick M-G-M • NEARST Travelog Cartoon News

NEXT! ROBERT MONTGOMERY in "HIDE OUT!"

PONCE DE LEON

TODAY (SUNDAY)
The Command Performance

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
The Poor Rich

WEDNESDAY
Doctor Bull

ALSO
The Last Mile

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
Sing Sinner, Sing

SATURDAY Whirlpool

THURSDAY
"Death Takes a Holiday"
With Fredric March

MONDAY
"Take a Chance"

THURSDAY
"Death Takes a Holiday"
With Fredric March

MONDAY
"Death Takes a Holiday"
With Fredric March

By THE SAYINGAME EDITOR.
Today The Constitution's Sayingsame, which has reached the pinnacle of popularity, ends in blaze of glory kindled by the high-pitched enthusiasm of all of its many followers.

Sayingsame entrants will want to know the names of the winners as quickly as possible after Saturday, September 1. The Constitution wants to mail checks as quickly as possible, so entrants of groups will in speed up the checking and judging and hasten the day for distributing the prizes, if they will abide strictly by the rules and lend willing ears to these suggestions:

1. Take your time! Now that pictures No. 80 have appeared in days will be allowed for contestants to check their answers and submit their sets. The final deadline is not until midnight, Saturday, September 1. No sets will be judged before all of them have been received. Contestants who send their sets in early will have no advantage whatsoever over those who wait until the last day to prize.

2. Arrange your pictures and answer-blanks in numerical order, placing No. 1 first or on top. If unavoidable, do not crease or roll them.

3. Be sure that your set consists of the entire series of 80 pictures and answer-blanks. Sets that have more or less than that number will be rejected.

4. Be sure that solutions and your name and address are written on the answer-blanks in the spaces provided for that purpose.

5. Be sure that you haven't written more than one solution on any one answer-blank.

6. Be sure that your solutions are reasonable. If you're in doubt about any of them, take full advantage of the rule which permits a contestant to submit as many complete sets as he or she desires. Extra solutions may be given on extra sets, affording more than one opportunity of winning.

7. Remember, the compilation of sayings contained in the free newspaper section does not have all of the most appropriate solutions for the whole series of pictures, as explained in a boxed statement in the lower right hand corner of page 1. The book "Sayingsome of the Wise," does have all of the solutions, and it is the official contest book. Sayings are not found between its covers will not be considered appropriate for any of the pictures, as provided by the rules.

8. Remember, it is not required that pictures and answer-blanks be pasted in books, bound, stapled, or decorated, although they are acceptable in these forms.

9. Remember, duplicates of all pictures may be obtained promptly at The Constitution circulation department.

10. Contestants may bring their sets to the Sayingsame headquarters of The Atlanta Constitution, Alabama and Forsyth streets, or they may mail them in. Sets that are mailed should be addressed to The Sayingsame Editor.

The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga., and they must bear a postmark date of not later than Saturday, September 1.

11. Sets, regardless of the kind of envelope or wrapping used, must bear first-class postage when submitted by mail. They may be sent by parcel post under any other classification.

First-class mail deposited in Atlanta for delivery to The Atlanta Constitution is carried for 2 cents an ounce; first-class mail posted beyond the city limits for delivery to 2 cents an ounce. If you're in doubt about the weight of your envelope or package, and the amount of postage required, consult your postmaster. Sets that bear insufficient postage will be returned to the sender.

SAYINGAME INFORMATION.

"Sayingsome of the Wise" is the official contest book, containing all of the most appropriate old sayings for the series of 80 pictures. This book is 50 cents a copy, or 54 cents by mail.

Entries are for replacing those that have been lost or sold, or for making up additional sets, are kept on hand in the circulation department. Single copies are 5 cents apiece, the price of the individual issues of The Constitution in which they were published. Any eight pictures may be had for 30 cents, 40 pictures (half the series) for $1.25, or the full set of 80 pictures for $2. Mail orders should include 3 cents extra for postage, or 21 cents postage if pictures are to be mailed first class.

By SARA WILSON.

Born on the island of Cyprus of a Greek mother and a German father and reared as a citizen of Egypt in Cairo, Christodoulou Michel, grandson of Pelakatos, can swear at his cook stove in nine languages. But in the bare hotel room to which he returns after a day's job-hunting through the streets of Atlanta, there is no cook stove to invite his imprecations.

During the 47 years of his life "Mr. Mitchell" has served as maître d'hôtel and chef all over the world. He has cooked bouillabaisse in Marseille, French dishes flanked with Edam cheese in Rotterdam. He made weird stews and broths in Port Said and Alexandria.

"Oh, yes," he said Friday, "I can make all things. But best I like to make the American cooking mixed with French and a little German put in flavor."

For 12 years he has been in the United States and has cooked his way from Chicago to New Orleans. His last place of business was the Blue Pelican, a famous rendezvous for Manhattan gourmets before the Wall Street smash made a $2 min-

Bride of August

Mrs. John Bryson Tanner, of Athens, Ga., who was before her recent marriage Miss Walterette Arwood, daughter of Mrs. Odah Perker-son, of this city. Photograph by Lewis studio.

Chef Can Talk in Nine Languages, Cooks Divinely, But Can't Find Job

By SARA WILSON.

Born on the island of Cyprus of a Greek mother and a German father and reared as a citizen of Egypt in Cairo, Christodoulou Michel, grandson of Pelakatos, can swear at his cook stove in nine languages. But in the bare hotel room to which he returns after a day's job-hunting through the streets of Atlanta, there is no cook stove to invite his imprecations.

During the 47 years of his life "Mr. Mitchell" has served as maître d'hôtel and chef all over the world. He has cooked bouillabaisse in Marseille, French dishes flanked with Edam cheese in Rotterdam. He made weird stews and broths in Port Said and Alexandria.

"Oh, yes," he said Friday, "I can make all things. But best I like to make the American cooking mixed with French and a little German put in flavor."

For 12 years he has been in the United States and has cooked his way from Chicago to New Orleans. His last place of business was the Blue Pelican, a famous rendezvous for Manhattan gourmets before the Wall Street smash made a $2 minimum charge for a meal too high for even an ex-millionaire.

But many changes have taken place since those days. The flourishing moustache with waxed ends after the fashion of Kaiser Wilhelm has been shaved away. The black hair is thinning fast. Only a sharp scar on his forehead remains to tell of the days when he fought as a major in the Greek army against the Turks in 1912.

Mr. Mitchell has served as chief steward on liners flying nearly every flag. Once David Lloyd George traveled on the liner on which he was working. Lloyd George chattered with him during the whole voyage "because he wanted to talk Egyptian."

But he likes little about these glamorous days. His conversation is centered around the gentle art of frying and boiling. He goes into rhapsodies about the delicacy of sauces "with a soul in them." He beams at the mention of a cheese soufflé. When idle chatter turns to business his face clouds.

"I don't understand why," he said. "I never gamble on cards. I never watch race horses. I never drink. I put all the money in the business and she go just the same."

100,000 Visitors Expected Here For Maccabees' Fraternal Work

Arrangements are being perfected for an outdoor fraternal order ceremonial to be held in Atlanta the week of November 12, under auspices of the Atlanta Maccabees, which approximately 100,000 persons are expected to attend from all sections of the United States.

According to an announcement made last week by M. D. Gleason, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is a Maccabee, has been invited to attend.

The big event of the ceremonial week will be the presentation of an outdoor play, "Judea Maccaebaeus," which is taken from the Bible. It will portray the first victory won by Maccabees for religious freedom.

Approximately 5,000 persons will be in the cast, according to Mr. Gleason, 4,000 of them being regular army and national guardmen. These will represent in the second act King Antiochus' army. For the actual parts in the drama, the leading ritualistic men in the Maccabees in America and Canada will reinforce the Atlanta Maccabees' Supreme Commander, E. Thompson, who will take the part of the commander in fourth act, and to help select the outstanding men in the order from the different states and provinces to assist in the production.

The big play is to be held in Piedmont park and the spectators will be seated in the slopes above the spot where the drama will be presented.

In addition, entertainment for the week will include tennis and golf tournaments, a clay pigeon shoot, wrestling matches, horse and bicycle racing and other diversions, said Mr. Gleason.

Joining the other British colonies which recently have had new stamp issues, the island of Ascension in the South Atlantic has just printed 10 pictorials which include various scenes and a map of the island.

Cyprus, another British colony, has made preparations for a new set of stamps. They will be pictorial in 11 denominations.

Another stamp in connection with the reissue by Germany of the von Hindenburg group, with color changes and the use of the swastika in multiplex watermark, is a 40-pfennig red violet.

Switzerland has just completed a group of seven pictorials using woodcut style engraving and ranging from 3 to 30 centimes. They provide a definite indication of the scenic beauty of this mountain country.

Cyprus, another British colony, has made preparations for a new set of stamps. They will be pictorial in 11 denominations.

For this special occasion, the club will meet in the Mountain room of the Henry Grady hotel. The meeting will open at 7:45 o'clock.

The Atlanta Stamp Society will be invited to join with the club that night in meeting Congressman Ramspack. A large crowd is expected and arrangements to take care of 50 or more members of the two clubs and an equal number of visitors are being made.

Tomorrow night, at 7:30 o'clock, the club will meet in the Peachtree Arcade assembly room on the corner where Russell Mead will have charge of the program. He has been asked to give highlights of his years of collecting stamps.

The Atlanta Stamp Society will be invited to join with the club that night in meeting Congressman Ramspack. A large crowd is expected and arrangements to take care of 50 or more members of the two clubs and an equal number of visitors are being made.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cotton, of Phenix City, Ala., the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on August 11, in Phenix City, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, of Columbus, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ena Elizabeth French, to Frederick Arthur Henson Jr., of Atlanta, the ceremony having

Decatur Personals
Are of Interest

Mrs. L. A. Scott and son, Scott Jr., left Thursday to visit her sister in Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramspeck and two daughters, Misses Dorothy and Betty Ramspeck, will leave soon for a trip to Daytona Beach.

Mrs. W. C. McLain has returned from a trip of several weeks to Claytor Lake.

Mrs. Holland Fagan entertained members of her contract club Thursday at her home.

Mrs. W. S. Elkin Jr. was hostess yesterday at a birthday luncheon in honor of her daughter, Miss Kathleen Elkin, at her home on Ponce de Leon place. The guests included Misses Lillie Shepherd Davis, Lorene Kirkman, Alyce Walker, Kitty and Minnie Allen, Camilla Huguley, Jane Turk and Charlotte Behn.

Mrs. Lillian Fagan, of Macon, has returned after a visit to her son, Mrs. C. E. Allen.

Mrs. Charles Weeks entertained at a bridge-luncheon Monday in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Chicago, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. E. Mix. The guests were Mesdames Gordon, A. E. Mix, Kate Hellams, George Burt, Lawrence Everhart, Walter McDaniel, Robert Ramspeck, Marshall George, Barney Barrett, Russell Leonard, L. J. Gray and Miss Riddle Everhart.

Mrs. Wiley Jones entertained at a luncheon Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. Al Stebbins, of Punta Gorda, Fla., and Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Chicago. The guests included Mesdames Luther Holenbach, Cyna Walker, Lewis Sales, Lawrence Everhart, E. C. Bell, A. E. Mix, Louis E. Jack Johnson, J. W. Dobbins, W. S. Elkin Jr. and the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Murphrey Candler and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Candler Jr., who will return today from a trip to Jacksonville Beach.

Mrs. F. V. Hall was hostess Wednesday at a bridge-tea complimenting Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Chicago, who is the guest of Mrs. A. E. Mix. The guests included Mesdames Gordon, Mix, Kate Hellams, Charles Weeks, Lawrence Everhart, William Keler, George Burt, James Guerren, Joe Regenstein and William Shearman.

Mrs. J. H. Hatcher and two children, of Harlemon, Ga., arrived Thursday to visit Mrs. W. T. Bell on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. J. B. Gaddis entertained a small group of friends honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Chicago, Tuesday at an attractive luncheon. The guests included Mesdames Gordon, A. E. Mix, Kate Hellams, Russell Leonard, Milton Voss and L. Bushfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard and children are visiting relatives in Crawfordville.

Mrs. Betty Decker has returned from a visit to New York and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Barber and daughter, Miss Margaret Barber, are visiting relatives in Louisiana.

Miss Mary Walker, of Mobile, is visiting Miss Frances Hendee.

Mrs. J. W. Hall was hostess to members of her book club Friday at her country home.

Mrs. George Manley and son, William, left Saturday for a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. S. G. Stukes entertained members of her sewing club Wednesday.

Forest Park News.

The Tanner family reunion will be held at Grant Park on August 26. This has been an annual affair since 1923, the first meeting at the old home of John and Mrs. John H. Tanner. Dr. Tanner is president of this organization and Mrs. Letha Reeves Tanner is secretary.

Protracted services will begin at Jones Chapel M. E. church next Sunday evening with Rev. Allison, of Greenville, assisting the pastor, Rev. Clinch.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joe H. Williamson announce the arrival of a son on August 7, whom they have named Kenneth Hall.

Harrison Mabry is attending Salem camp meeting in Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Cowen, of Ocala, are absent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas while en route to Chicago and points in Canada.

Mrs. E. H. Mathews, of West End, was a recent guest of Mrs. Henry Huie.

Mrs. Fred Davis, of Tampa, Fla., is visiting relatives here and in Atlanta.

At Haverty's Tomorrow!

Will Pay
For a

Genuine

Simmons Beautyrest

Here Is Our Plan!

Simply come in ... pick out your Beautyrest in any of the new pastel shades of rose, green, orchid, blue or beige. Say, "I want the 30 day free trial offer." We deliver the mattress. At the end of 30 days, if you are not satisfied, we will take it back and refund your money. You take no risk. You have the opportunity of knowing what perfect sleep can do for you. You may own one of these world-famous mattresses on the lowest terms ever offered.

7 Hours on a Beau-tyrest—You Look Better—Feel Better.

HAVERTY FURNITURE CO.

Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor Street

September Bride-Elect

Miss Emily Mae Busha, whose engagement is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Busha, to Edmund L. Norton, the marriage to take place in September.

St. Mark's Missionary Society to Entertain.

St. Mark's Missionary Society will entertain Walnut Grove Women's Society at meeting and box lunch on Monday, August 20. The circles will have the individual meetings in the Sunday school class rooms at 10:30 o'clock. At 11 o'clock the general meeting will be held in the assembly room. Circle No. 8, Mrs. A. H. Stevens, chairman, and Mrs. Charlie Atkinson, co-chairman, will be the hosts.

Mrs. A. C. Clay, who is the inspiration of the work at Walnut Grove, and Mrs. S. M. Woodruff, the president of the Walnut Grove Missionary Society, with five of their members, will motor to Atlanta to attend the meeting. Mrs. I. C. Wade will give the devotional. Mrs. John Stewart will introduce the new mission study books. There will be interesting speakers, including Mrs. M. H. Hoge, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Hall, will talk on stewardship. Mrs. S. M. Woodruff, president of her society, will tell of the work at Walnut Grove. Mrs. Grady Clay, as chairman of rural work, has arranged for the joint meeting.

At 12:30 the box lunch which will be served in the Tech Bible class room. All St. Mark's women are asked to come and bring a simple box lunch which should be left with the hostess committee. Mesdames M. A. Tilly and C. D. Good, conference officers, will be guests. Mrs. John Hurt, president, and Mrs. J. H. Speas, general chairman of circles, will preside. Mrs. L. D. King will have charge of music and Mrs. James W. Austin is program chairman.

Mrs. Betty Decker has returned from a visit to New York and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Barber and daughter, Miss Margaret Barber, are visiting relatives in Louisiana.

Miss Mary Walker, of Mobile, is visiting Miss Frances Hendee.

Mrs. J. W. Hall was hostess to members of her book club Friday at her country home.

Mrs. George Manley and son, William, left Saturday for a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. S. G. Stukes entertained members of her sewing club Wednesday.

Spring Hill Garden Club Holds Meeting.

The Spring Hill Garden Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hutchings, and the president, Mrs. R. M. McDaniel, presided. The poem, "Thought in a Garden," was recited. Mrs. Pearce Matthews, author of the poem, was present. The following visitors were welcomed: Mesdames Edwin Warner, William Holmes, Atlanta; Miss Lucy Hohenstein, Monroe, Ga.; Mrs. Mary McGuire, Columbus; Mrs. Mesdames J. Johnson and A. B. McCrary, Spring Hill. The song, "Cherokee Rose of Georgia," was sung by Eleanor Louise Hoyt.

Mrs. Edwin Warner, of Atlanta, gave an interesting talk on gardens of the world which she visited during a foreign tour, and colored photographs and cards of the lovely gardens described were shown. The attendance prize, a pottery bowl, was won by Mrs. W. R. Hoyt. In the monthly flower exhibit, Mrs. S. R. McGillivray won first place. Mrs. Pauline Mathews was second and third. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. M. Collier on September 14, 3 o'clock.

TRUCK LOADS OF BARGAINS FOR OUR AUGUST FURNITURE SALE

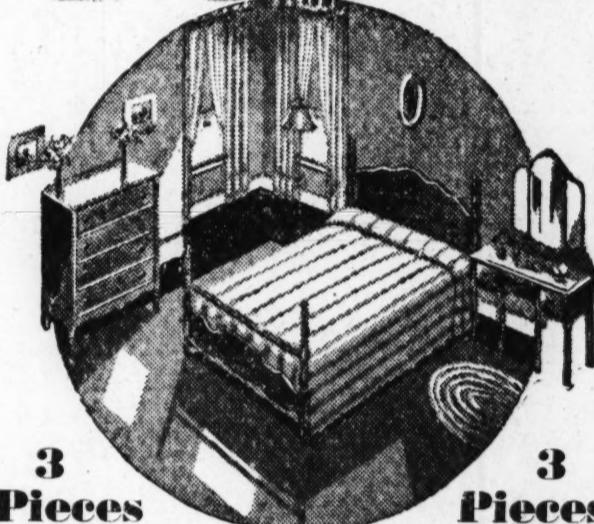

USE YOUR CREDIT FREELY
NO INTEREST OR CARRYING CHARGES

If you haven't yet attended HAVERTY'S sensational August Sale, you haven't really seen the utmost in quality, style and smartness! Really amazing price-cuts for this annual event—more wonderful than ever before! Many trucks loads of smart, new Furniture arriving each week. It's your big opportunity to profit by store-wide reduction. Compare our values—Shop at HAVERTY'S tomorrow and Save!

$1.00 DELIVERS YOUR CHOICE

Purchases Held for FUTURE DELIVERY

3 Pieces

IF YOU NEED A NEW BEDROOM SUITE PROFIT BY THIS UNUSUAL OFFER

$39.95

$2.00 DELIVERS YOUR CHOICE

HERE'S A REAL VALUE LEADER!
3-PIECE SOLID PEGGED MAPLE SUITE

$49.50

(Should Sell for $69.50)

A spectacular feature value, a reproduction of traditional charm of Colonial—truly an August sensation. Panel posted bed, hanging mirrored vanity, spacious chest—finely detailed. Solid maple—solid wood—solid wood antique pieces. See this sensation tomorrow.

$2.00 DELIVERS $1.00 WEEKLY PAYS

$3.00 DELIVERS YOUR CHOICE

Deliveries to RURAL & SUBURBAN Points

Two Pieces

TAPESTRY LIVING ROOM SUITE STYLE RIGHT AND SPECIAL PRICE

$39.95

An example from our Living Room Department—at this price it's the ultimate in value—comfortable, well built. Settee and Club Chair.

$3.00 DELIVERS $1.00 WEEKLY PAYS

Famous! New!
"Speedi-Baker"
COAL RANGE

Looks Like a Gas Range

Burns Wood or Coal

$59.50

Insulated Oven

The cooking sensation of 1934 included in our August Sale. Speedi-Baker cook stove, looks like a gas Range yet burns either wood or coal. Insulated oven. Buy this money-saver tomorrow!

$2.00 DELIVERS $1.00 WEEKLY PAYS

PHILCO 1935 TABLE MODELS

The medium size table model will give you fine reception. You'll like the two-tone woods.

$24.50

This model has the tone and volume control—in very selective.

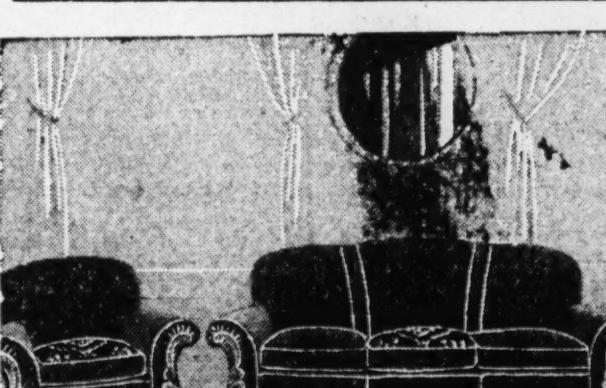

The speaker has the same non-shatter as the larger models....

$39.50

you $59.50

$3.00 DELIVERS $1.00 WEEKLY

$3.00 DELIVERS $1.00 WEEKLY

$149.50 QUALITY! NEW! STYLISH 8-PIECE LIVING ROOM GROUP—TOMORROW Only

(Choice of Tapestry or Mohair)

• Hammock carved frame suite
• Luxurious carved frame hi-back chair
• Colorful tapestry occasional chair
• 2 Revolving sofa tables
• 2 Matching side tables with glass tray
• 2 Beautiful Table Lamps

$98.50

OUR GREATEST MODERN VALUE
12 LOVELY! POPULAR PIECES

This unusual modern bedroom group is unquestionably one that will catch the eye because of its distinctive design. A group selected especially for this outstanding group at HAVERTY'S tomorrow.

• Modern bed • Modern chest • Mattress
• Modern vanity • Bench • Vanity lamps
• Bedside lamp • Table lamps
• Pillows

$3.00 DELIVERS $2.00 WEEKLY PAYS

HAVERTY FURNITURE Co.

Corner Edgewood Avenue and Pryor Street

Just a Few Steps from Five Points

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVII., No. 68.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 19, 1934.

✓ Passed by RICH'S School Board

School Opens Monday
September 10th

Rich's School Shops Open
Monday, August 20th

Rich's School Board—composed of representative women of Atlanta—again sets its seal of approval on Rich's Clothes for School Children! From dozens of garments, which they tested for wearability, smartness and value, they chose these as the honor-winners! And into each one goes the priceless label—"Passed by Rich's School Board"—which assures satisfaction.

Rich's School Board

Mrs. Oscar Palmour
Mrs. Ernest Morrison
Mrs. A. R. Colcord

Mrs. Wright Bryan
Mrs. J. F. Messick
Mrs. Roy Jones
Mrs. W. D. Williamson
Mrs. Howard McCall Sr.

These Garments Bear the Label;— ✓ Passed by RICH'S School Board

Girls' Jumper Dress
Navy, brown, wine Wool Crepe with rayon taffeta blouse, 10 to 16.
Second Floor $3.98

Girls' Gym Suit
Blue suiting shoulder fastening—elastic knee, 8 to 20.
Second Floor $1.39

Girls' Polo Coat
Shanmont coating, red, navy, cocoa. Erl-Glo lining swagger, 7-16.
Second Floor $13.95

Prep School Suit
Tweeds and mixtures single-breasted, with 2 long pants.
Second Floor $15.95

Two-Pants Suit
Brown, blue, grey woolens in two-knicker, by-swing coat, 8 to 15.
Second Floor $10.95

Model Shirts
Whites, tans, blues, all sizes, 79c.
Blue Cheviot Longies, 10-20.
Second Floor $2.98

Girls' Wash Dress
Navy poplin with Roman stripe trim, smartly styled, 10 to 16.
Second Floor $2.98

2-Pc. Knit Dress
Solid color skirt blouse in contrasting stripes, sizes 7 to 12.
Second Floor $2.98

School Print Dress
Everfast broadcloth, in brown, red, blue print, sizes 7 to 14.
Second Floor $1.98

Phoenix School Sox
Plain or fancy tops, for both boys and girls—new colors.
Street Floor pr. 29c

Boys' Raincoat
Tan Gabardine, in Trench style, belted leather buttons, 8 to 20.
Second Floor $2.98

Leatherette Jacket
Best quality, lined with sheepskin, real Wombatine collar, 8 to 18.
Second Floor $3.98

Girls' Sport Coat
Tweed in brown, green, blue, with rich Raccoon collar, 10 to 16.
Second Floor $16.75

Twin Sweater Set
Includes long and short-sleeve sweater, in color combinations.
Second Floor $2.98

Girls' Raincoat
Waterproof Suedine fabric blues, red, green, buttons high, 7 to 16.
Second Floor $2.98

School Hat
Wool fabric in all the fall colors; headsizes 21, 21½ and 22! A honey
Second Floor $1.98

Boys' Sweater
Pullover V-neck style in elastic rib weave; all wool; sizes 30 to 38.
Second Floor $1.98

Zipper Jacket
Wool knit with full length zipper front, in sizes 6 to 16 years.
Second Floor $3.98

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

KAMPER—MILLER.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edgar Kamper announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Surrage, to Henry Johnson Miller, the marriage to be solemnized September 22 at St. Luke's Episcopal church.

HENDERSON—ROBERTS.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott Henderson, of Savannah, formerly of Atlanta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Arline, to Arthur Frederic Roberts, of Atlanta and Nashville, Tenn., the marriage to be solemnized on August 30 at All Saints' Episcopal church in Atlanta at 6 o'clock.

WOLTZ—GREENE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edgar Woltz, of Gastonia, N. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Katharine, to Holcombe Tucker Greene, of Atlanta, the marriage to take place on October 16 at Main Street Methodist church in Gastonia.

JUSTI—BEST.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Justi announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Shallus, to Rev. Paul Raymond Best, of Petersburg, Va., the marriage to be solemnized in October.

ELLIOTT—SLUHAN.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elliott announce the engagement of their daughter, Marian Frances, to Clyde Albert Sluhan, of Atlanta, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, the marriage to be solemnized on September 5 at the Post chapel at Fort McPherson.

LOWMAN—MATHews.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Lowman announce the engagement of their daughter, Georgia Ruth, to Byron B. Mathews, of Andalusia, Ala., the marriage to take place in September. No cards.

WOOLF—BROWN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Woolf announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to John Calvin Brown Jr., of the United States naval air station, Pensacola, Fla., the marriage to take place in early fall.

CARTLEDGE—FALLOW.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Cartledge announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn, to C. L. Fallow, the marriage to be solemnized August 31.

BUSAH—NORTON.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Busha announce the engagement of their daughter, Emily Mae, to Edmund L. Norton, the marriage to take place in September.

TURNER—RASNKE.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Luther Turner announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Elizabeth, to James Hamilton Rasnake, of Clayton, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in October.

CLEIN—BERGMAN.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Clein announce the engagement of their daughter, Polly, to Charles W. Bergman, the marriage to be solemnized on October 21.

NUTT—MARLOW.

Mrs. W. M. Nutt announces the engagement of her daughter, Louise, to Russell P. Marlow, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

BUNN—ROTH.

T. N. Bunn, of McDonough, Ga., announces the engagement of his daughter, Eula Clara, of Atlanta, to Arthur E. Roth, also of Atlanta, formerly of New York, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

LITTLE—BROOKS.

Mrs. George Little, of Crawford, announces the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy George, to George Benjamin Brooks, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

MRS. WILLIAM LYCETT, INC.

287 PEACHTREE ST., N. E.

CHINA and CRYSTAL

See our new and attractive patterns now on display.

SCHOOL girls scatter to the four winds, each to the college she prefers, but when it comes to clothes—snappy, saucy clothes for college—Leon's is their unanimous choice. Leon's is their society of style—and the things they learn at Leon's are fashion facts not theories—and the clothes they get at Leon's give them the highest degree of fashion with all requirements for any college entrance.

Accessories
You can get your bags, hats, gloves, handkerchiefs and hose here at Leon's to go with the clothes that will go with you to college.

CAMPUS
At Leon's there are jaunty jacket suits, tweeds, knits and woolens, dress coats and swagger sports coats of fur, silk dresses, afternoon dresses and evening dresses with a youthful sophistication, college girls adore. Leon's ready to help you, or make your choice, select your own, you won't need a college board at Leon's.

leon-frohsin
225-27 PEACHTREE

Mr. and Mrs. Trott Honor Miss Brosnan And Mr. McAlpin

One of the most interesting affairs of the week was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Trott at their home on Sherwood road on Saturday evening honoring Miss Catherine Brosnan, whose marriage to William J. McAlpin will be a social event of August 22.

The attractive home was beautifully decorated to represent a Japanese tea garden. Japanese tea cloths graced the tables and gay Japanese umbrellas arose from mounds of garden flowers centered the tables. The bride's table was covered in a lace doily and centered with a yellow basket formed of frosting and holding yellow tea roses. Tall silver tapers were placed in low silver candlesticks.

Japanese lanterns in colorful patterns covered the lights and garlands of wisteria added an effective color note. Mrs. Trott was attired in a gown of blue and white mouseline de soie. Miss Brosnan wore pink lace. Following dinner dancing was enjoyed.

The guests included Misses Catherine Brosnan, Sarah Brosnan, Ellen Adair, Mrs. W. D. Brosnan Jr., Mrs. Mae McAlpin, Miss Mary Mock, Miss Marie Maurer, Mr. and Mrs. Green R. Adair, William McAlpin, William Farrel, T. A. Sullivan, DeSales Brosnan, Victor Corrigan, Arthur Daniels, John Higgins and Hugh Adair.

Miss Lila Brown Weds Mr. Frederick.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, of Riverview, Chattanooga, Tenn., announce the marriage of their daughter, Lula Farror, to Felder John Frederick, of Marshallville, at the church of St. James, Pennington, on Thursday evening, August 16. Rev. James B. Lawrence, a well-known performer in the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Frederick, of Fort Valley, attended the wedding.

The bride's father is a prominent lawyer in Chattanooga and a former congressman from Tennessee. Her grandfather, Foster Brown, was at one time a member of the House of Representatives.

Her mother was Hester Jefferson McCloud, of Lebanon, Tenn. Mrs. Frederick is a graduate of Brown University in Providence, R. I.

Mr. Frederick is a son of Mrs. Minnie Booton Frederick and the late Felder J. Frederick whose families have been connected with the history of Marshallville since its foundation. Mr. Frederick's sisters and brothers are Mrs. John J. Heflin, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Walter T. Forbes Jr., of Chattanooga, and Sinclair Frederick, of Fort Valley.

He was graduated from the University of Georgia and attended the University of Princeton. Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick left after the wedding for a trip to Tennessee, and upon their return will reside in Marshallville.

Cientat—Cheatham.

Mrs. Charlotte Cientat announces the marriage of her daughter, Magdalene, to John A. Cheatham Jr., the marriage having taken place on November 18, 1930, in the home of Rev. Robert M. Mann, in Opelika, Ala.

The marriage was not disclosed until their education was completed. The young couple will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cheatham Sr., in Atlanta.

Miss Woltz Weds Mr. Green At October Rites in Gastonia, N. C.

Miss Ann Rocker Of Statesboro, Ga., Weds Mr. King

STATESBORO, Ga., Aug. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Rocker, of Statesboro, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ann Rocker, to George S. King, of Greenville, S. C., which took place on June 30. The ceremony was quietly performed at the home of Dr. Ryland Knight on Peachtree road at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

The bride's only sibling was her sister, Mrs. W. L. Davis, and Mr. Davis acted as best man. The bride was attired in a dark blue ensemble with matching accessories, and wore a shoulder cluster of gardenias and swansonsia. Mrs. Davis was gowned in a dark blue crepe with which she wore a wide lace border of sweet-heart roses and gardenias.

Many parties have been given for the lovely bride including a trousseau tea given by Mrs. Davis at her home on Rosedale road, a bridge luncheon by Mrs. R. T. Aiken at the Tavern tea room, and a bridge party by Miss Eva Van Sandt at her home on Rosedale park.

Mr. King and his bride are at Sea Island beach. They will go to Greenville, S. C., where they will make their home.

Hammett-Meadows Wedding Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hammett announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Anita Marie Hammett, to Wesley Meadows. The marriage was witnessed August 11 at Fort Payne, Ala. The young couple motored to Chattanooga, Tenn., for a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Meadows attended Girls High school and is a popular member of the Gamma Delta Beta sorority, having served as president and treasurer of the society. She is the wife of Miss Evelyn Hammett, Mrs. Charles D. Wilson and Mrs. R. N. Jordan.

On her maternal side she is descended from the Ivey and Hicks families, pioneer citizens of Atlanta. Her great-grandfather, Hardy Ivey, whose name is prominently connected with the early history and development of Atlanta. On her paternal side she is related to the Hammett and Hurt families, who came to Georgia from South Carolina after the Civil War.

Her father, G. W. Hammett, is a prominent businessman. Her mother was formerly Miss Edna Ivey, the eldest daughter of S. L. Ivey.

The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. L. Meadows. He is a graduate of Tech High school and attended Tech Evening School of Commerce. He has one brother, P. L. Meadows, who is a prominent accountant in the city. His sisters are Misses Christine and Chloe Meadows and Mrs. Felton E. Price of Tifton, Ga.

On his maternal side he is descended from the Wagner and Haddock families of Putnam county. On his paternal side he is related to the Meadows and Princehett families of Pulaski county. He is a descendant of the Riddle and Agnes of Germany, who was one of the first settlers in the country he ever known.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meadows are making their home at present with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Meadows, on Moreland avenue.

Grimes-Padrick Rites Take Place.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., Aug. 19.—The wedding of Misses Grimes and Padrick took place on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Fort Valley, before an assemblage of relatives and friends by Dr. Aquilla Chambliss, president of Bessie Tift College. The pulpit was blanketed with ferns and foliage of white lilies. The organ was entered against the white wall and floor baskets held white sweet peas. On either side were arrangements of white flowers alternating with cathedral candleabra. A basket of calla lilies showered with perennial sweet peas, formed the central coronet. The pastor, Professor Horace Russell, at the pipe organ, rendered a program of music. The candle-lighters were Miss Frances Grimes, sister of the bride, and Miss Geraldine Crawford, who were dressed alike, wearing green organdy over satin, the ruffled capes tying with a bow at the throat. They carried lighted tapers in holders, which were filled with chiffon and flowers. Ushers were C. B. Grimes, Clifford Grimes, George Anderson, of Fort Valley, and William Snellson of Tifton.

The bride's sister, Miss Sara Grimes, was her only attendant and wore a pink organdy with which she wore a pink ribbon sash. Her hair was pink felt and she carried a bouquet of pink gladioli tied with pink ribbon.

The bride, who descended the aisle with her father, C. B. Grimes Sr., by whom she was given in marriage, was gowned in a smart traveling suit of midnight blue sheer crepe, carried a bouquet of white Easter lilies with pink lilies and a spray of perennial sweet peas. Her hat was of navy as were other accessories. The bridegroom was attended by his best man, O. J. Woodward, of Tifton. Robert Crandall sang "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Padrick taught school in Tifton in the past year. She has graduated from the Fort Valley High school and Rosalind Tift College. Mr. Padrick is an employee of the government and after a wedding trip they will reside in Tifton.

Rainwater—Dobbins.

Mrs. C. E. Rainwater, of College Park, announces the marriage of her daughter, Annie Evelyn, to Charles Nolan Dobbins, of Atlanta. The marriage was solemnized August 18 and Rev. J. M. Preston officiated in the presence of friends of the couple.

Mrs. E. Rainwater, of College Park, assisted by Mrs. J. L. Adams, of Atlanta, entertained at a shower on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Dobbins, the former Miss Evelyn Rainwater. The house was decorated with cut flowers and games and candies were enjoyed by the shower guests.

Mrs. F. Rainwater, L. J. Adams, B. M. Whitehead, J. T. Harper, Horace Lester, Rex Pierce, E. D. Rainwater, Bishop Simpson, Dr. Long, Horace Walton, D. P. Henderson, Lewis Stephenson, U. L. Farance, Hopie Maynard, W. L. Hillier, A. C. Collins, T. O. Creel, Carolyn Waddell, Carlos Rainwater, Tombs McGaughey and Misses Ruth Phillips and Rebecca Hart, and Manon Long.

Darsey—Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Darsey, of Ponchatoula, announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Pearl, to Thomas J. Hill, of Griffin, the marriage having occurred in Atlanta on Saturday evening, August 4, at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of Rev. E. C. Wilson, who officiated.

JACOBS—JOLLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman A. Jacobs, of Grayson, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Elizabeth, to Clyde W. Jolley, of Taylorsville, Ga., the marriage to take place in September.

SHELL—HARDMAN.

Dr. Henry Hilliard Shell, of Bainbridge, announces the engagement of his daughter, Dorothy Bolton, to Lamartine Griffin Hardman Jr., of Commerce, son of former Governor L. G. Hardman and Mrs. Hardman, the marriage to be solemnized in October.

COHEN—SHULMISTER.

Mrs. Cohen, of Chattanooga, Tenn., announces the engagement of her daughter, Lubbie, to Willie Shulmister, of Atlanta, the wedding to take place in the near future.

HONEYCUTT—BOWEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Heamon Honeycutt, of Clinton, N. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Genaria, to William Abner Bowen, of Portal, Ga., the marriage to take place on September 18.

WOODS—HARDWICK.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woods Sr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Jimmie Lucile, to Garland Reeves Hardwick, the marriage to take place at an early date.

BLACKSTOCK—HENCLY.

A. M. Blackstock, of Conley, announces the engagement of his daughter, Gladys June, to Andrew Kelly Henclay, of Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

NASH—MURDOCH.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Nash announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to John Homer Murdoch, the marriage to be solemnized in October.

DAVIS—PURCELL.

Mrs. Leona Davis announces the engagement of her daughter, Ruby Lee, to George Cecil Purcell, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

JONES—MCRAE.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Burdette Jones, of Fort Gaines, announce the engagement of their daughter, Crystal Evelyn, to William Holmes McRae, the marriage to take place in the late autumn.

WEISKOPF—NEWMAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Weiskopf, of Buffalo, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice Barbara, to Harold Leon Newman, of Atlanta, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

FREEMAN'S
The House of Distinctive Wedding Gifts
STERLING SILVER
FINE SHEFFIELD REPRODUCTIONS
CHINA AND GLASSWARE
Myron E. Freeman & Bro.
JEWELERS
103 Peachtree Street.

$88
TOWNLEY
Scores a Sensation in SILVER FOX

Nothing can equal the arrogant luxury of a waist-deep shawl of gleaming silver fox! Even Townley has never equalled an $88 price on such superbly furred coats! These values are proving to women of the South that there is common-sense economy in buying during Muse's August Sale of Townley Coats.

Take advantage of our lay-away plan!

Peachtree : Walton : Broad

Autumn Weddings

Require the prompt placing of orders for engraved invitations. Our samples represent the very latest shapes and forms that have been accepted by fashionable society. We LEAD in originating artistic effects with fine material. Our prices are low. Send for samples, which will be supplied upon request.

J. P. Stevens Engraving Co., Wedding Stationery Engravers, 103 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

*Atlantans Take Part In Horse Show
At Camp Nakanawa*

MAYLAND, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Excellent horsemanship was exhibited by Atlanta girls in the horse show held Wednesday afternoon at Camp Nakanawa with Lieutenant C. R. Smith, U. S. A., as head judge. A "Polo" feature, "varied styles and steeds" opened the show with the girls representing a polo player, a jockey, an Indian, a circus rider, a cowboy, a gentleman of the gay nineties, a hunter, a plantation hand on a mule and a finished equestrienne of modern times. Each rider showed the style used for that type of riding. Miss Mary Calhoun won honorable mention in the pair class with the intermediates.

Saturday evening a dance pageant was given by the junior and senior dances, participated. Misses Mary Dismore and Jane Kelley were in the Beethoven number. The dance pageant was presented by Miss Hazel Roy Butler, of Atlanta.

At sunset Sunday evening a pageant was given by the girls who have shown the best posture during the season, assisted by the members of the Croquet club. Miss Edna participated in this pageant, which was given on the docks beside the lake and followed an old Indian legend.

In the recent rifle matches Jane Kelley made a high score. Miss Pebley recently passed her senior life savings test with the highest grade in the class.

In the aquatics meet held in senior camp Saturday Misses Kelley and Dismore took part in the 100 foot back crawl; Miss Kelley was also in the 300 foot medley relay, while Miss Dismore was in the 50 foot breast stroke. Miss Elizabeth Mitchell was in the 150-foot free style and the back crawl.

Patricia Adams took part in the recent tennis round robin. In the junior swimming meet Patricia Adams was in the front crawl event and Edith Reed was in the back crawl.

*Weddings Interest
Griffin Residents*

GRIFFIN, Ga., Aug. 18.—Miss Frances Virginia Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Scott, of near Griffin, and Roger Rawls, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Rawls, of Williamson, were married yesterday morning. The Rev. W. T. Hinncutt, presiding elder of the Griffin district, performed the ceremony at his home here.

The bride was lovely in a smart ensemble of navy blue flat crepe worn with matching accessories and a shoulder spray of talisman roses and valley lilies. After the quiet ceremony, which was attended by a few intimate friends, the young couple left for Mount Vernon, N. Y., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Rawls has been a very popular young girl in this section. Her father is a prominent farmer in Line Creek district. Her mother was formerly Miss Mary Kimpner. She has three brothers, Harvey Scott, Francis Scott and Marian Scott. Mr. Rawls' family is also prominent in middle Georgia. He has three sisters, Miss Agnes Rawls, Miss Mary Rawls and Mrs. W. T. Rawls, and two brothers, Otis Rawls, all of near Griffin, and Dr. Bryant Rawls, of New York city. He is probably connected in the medical business in Mount Vernon, where he and his bride will be important additions to the younger married contingent.

Miss Clara Smith was married Sunday morning to Hulett Skipper at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Skipper, of Griffin. The Rev. P. H. Stokes performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and a few close friends. The ceremony was performed in the living room in front of an improvised altar of ferns and tall floor baskets of summer flowers.

The lovely bride was gowned in a frothy blue crepe worn with white accessories. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained with a bridal luncheon. Later Mr. and Mrs. Skipper left on their wedding trip, following which they will make their home in Griffin. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams, who is a young woman. She attended the Griffin and Spalding schools, where she took a prominent part in all activities. Mr. Skipper is the son of J. N. Skipper and the late Mrs. Fanny Moody Skipper. He is a splendid musician and is admired by all who know him.

Miss Louise Smith, of Zebulon, and Mr. J. Mercer, of Griffin, were married Sunday night at the home of Judge Steve Wallace, ordinary of Spalding county, in Griffin. The bride's brunet beauty was enhanced by her gown of blue crepe worn with matching accessories. After they return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer will reside in Griffin. Mrs. Mercer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, of Zebulon. She is a former student of Zebulon schools and is a popular member of her set there. Mr. Mercer is the son of Mrs. Effie Mercer and the late Sam Mercer, of Griffin. He attended Griffin schools and is now engaged in business.

The marriage of Miss Clara Lowry, daughter of Mrs. W. S. Lowry and the late J. W. Lowry, of Ashburn, and Paul Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harrison, of Griffin, was an interesting occasion. The ceremony was performed by Judge Steve Wallace, ordinary of Spalding county, and his bride, a striking brunet, was lovely in navy blue georgette trimmed with touches of light blue and worn with accessories of navy blue. The bride's mother was formerly Miss Rebecca Collier, of Spalding county, and she has many friends here who will be delighted to meet her daughter when she will make her home in Griffin. Mr. Harrison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harrison, of Griffin.

*Miss Louise Smith
Weds Mr. McGee.*

Mrs. Oscar O. Smith announced the marriage of her daughter, Louella Louise, to Jesse Clifford McGee, which took place Saturday afternoon, August 11, at the home of the bride's mother, 38 West Lake avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. M. Barnett in the living room before an improvised altar of palms and garden flowers.

The attendants were the bride's two sisters, Misses Lorraine and Berna Smith, and Cooper Morris and Paul McBrayer.

The bride was attired in a fall model of navy blue crepe with blue and white accessories, and she wore a bouquet of sweethearts roses and lilies of the valley.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hardman and family, of Orangeburg, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. T. Hardman and family, of Millidgeville, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long, of Decatur; Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. C. Wheeler, of Woodstock, and Miss Myrtle McGee, of Stockton.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a motor trip through the Carolinas. Upon their return they will reside at 38 West Lake avenue.

ALLEN'S CHEER LEADERS FOR COLLEGE!

Here they are! The Cheer Leaders . . . the Campus Leaders . . . the Fashion Leaders for Collegiates! Your School Attire is glorified at Allen's, yet entirely suitable and serviceable. In Allen's College Shop and throughout the store are the clothes that will make you leaders wherever you go!

TWEED SUITS—SNYDER KNITS

Rah! Rah! Rah! for the new Tweeds! They have full length coats, sweaters (or blouses), and skirts! What could be more serviceable for every-day College wear? Left is an antique green Suit with gold turtle neck sweater, extreme right is a blue tweed with Raccoon collar!

The Knits this season deserve a great big hand! They are simply as cute as they can be! At left center is a three-piece suit of Rose Angora. Its sweater has a brown monogram, and interesting brown laces at the neck. Its jacket is colorful with brown, yellow and rose in its bright plaid!

GLOVES
$1.25

Other smart new gloves $1 to $1.98
STREET FLOOR

WOOL DRESSES—SILK DRESSES

The woolen dresses have a great deal of "sis boom bah!" Their colors are brightly appealing . . . such things as Madcap Blue, Leaf Green and Caribea. Sketched just below is a cariooca in the softest wool, with the widest ascot you ever saw! The belt is black patent.

A couple of "Zowies" for our new Silks! Chassis Crepe, Fiancee Crepe, Tigerette and Velgara, not to mention lots of others. And notice the smart style of them, in the brown one at right with its pink metal bows and pleated ruffles, and the red one below, with buttons and belt of brown beads!

COLLEGE SHOP . . . SECOND FLOOR

All-Wool Flannel

ROBES . . . $4.98

Especialy useful for school girls; in open, rose, wine, light green; collar, sash and other trim in contrasting colors. Hand-made fringe on sash. Sizes 14 to 20.

English Broadcloth

PAJAMAS . . . $2.98

Man tailored, "shirt front" styles with high neck. Figured or plaid designs. Other styles from $1.98 to $4.98. Sizes 12 to 18.

Tulane (Pure Dye)

SLIPS . . . $1.98

Beautifully fitting slips with yoke of Alencon lace pattern, also lace trim skirt. Sizes 32 to 42.

THIRD FLOOR

BAGS
$2.98

These new Pouch Bags will be a delight to you. They are easy to carry and new and smart. In black and brown.

Other styles in other colors at $2.98

STREET FLOOR

SHOES

"The Claudette"

$10.50

Grey Suede and Brown Gabardine combination. Also Grey and Black combination. For town wear "Claudettes" are neatly smart.

"The Bootee"

$10.50

This Shoe is new and collegiate. Black Kid and Gabardine combination with buckle to match or in Brown Kid with Gabardine combination.

STREET FLOOR

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

Miss Duncan Becomes Bride Of Mr. Branch at Lovely Ceremony

At a beautiful ceremony solemnized Saturday afternoon at Morningside Presbyterian church by Rev. Dr. William H. Huck, Miss Evelyn Duncan became the bride of John Emanuel Branch, Sr., in the presence of relatives and close friends.

The nuptial vows were taken before an improvised altar of palms. Centering the altar was a large basket of white gladiolus and on either side were placed seven-branched candelabra holding burning white tapers.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Ocie Matthews, Miss Leah McFadden, "I Promise You," and "I Love You Truly."

The bridal party entered to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march. McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony.

Miss Martha Rees Sanders, the bridesmaid, was attractively gowned

Gen. Moseley Honors Mrs. Saffarrans At Driving Club

Mrs. William Saffarrans, of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Paine at their home on Peachtree Battle avenue, was central figure on Saturday evening when Major General George Van Horn Moseley, U. S. A., entertained at the dinner-dance at the Pleiades Driving Club. His guests included a small group of close friends of the honor guest.

Seated at a table was a party including Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickland, Mrs. Ross Tressler, Dr. Bernard Cline and Winifred Ramsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Robinson and Dr. and Mrs. John Fitts dined together.

Miss Dorothy Turner Will Wed James H. Rasnake in October

Photo by Lewis Photo Studio.
MISS DOROTHY ELIZABETH TURNER.

Miss Evelyn Mills Is Honor Guest

A charming commitment to Miss Evelyn Mills, popular bride-elect of October 3, was the beautifully appointed dinner at which B. W. Mills entertained on Saturday evening at the Frances Virginia tea room followed by a theater party. An artistic arrangement of sunflowers, blue hydrangeas, valley lilies and tube roses completed the bridal ensemble.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother, Mrs. Octavia Howard, and the late Mr. Howard of Decatur, to Harry C. Wolf Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., which was solemnized on Saturday morning, August 18, in the home of the bride's mother, Scott College, Dean, Rainundo de Ovies performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

C. W. Dieckmann, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride, wearing a deco-style gown of white chiffon with white accessories and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses, was dressed in blue crepe with a brown belt and accessories in matching tones.

A shoulder spray of gardenias completed her costume.

Out-of-Town Guests.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Wolf Sr., Misses Virginia and Cecile Wolf, of Charleston, S. C.; Dr. and Mrs. Julius C. Smith, of Wilmington; Miss Marion Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Frances Smith, of Wilmington; Mr. and Elizabeth Howard, of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Munford and family, of Cartersville, Ga.; Mrs. W. Young, Miss Caroline Young and Mrs. Dave Harvey, of Cartersville; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lumpkin, Jr., and Mrs. William Lumpkin of Decatur; William Boyce, of Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. H. G. Gooding and Miss Martha Tompkins, of Columbia, S. C., and Miss May Cabiness, of Forsyth, Ga.

Miss Shell, of Bainbridge, Ga., To Wed Lamartine G. Hardman Jr.

Beautiful Bride.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of bridal satin fashioned along princess lines. The bodice featured a slightly low neck line and deep cuffs extending in points from the hands. The skirt flared below the knee and formed a brief train.

Her veil was of pink horse hair and her sandals were pink satin.

She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies tied with pink satin ribbon. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, Grayson Wolf. They met the bride and her brother, J. B. Howard, who gave her in marriage at the alter.

Radio Program.

Much interest is being shown in the parent-teacher programs given over

WGST Friday mornings at 9 o'clock.

"The Attitude of the Teacher Toward the Child Is One of Guidance" will be presented Friday, August 24, in dialogue form by Miss Jessie Ruffin and an O'Keefe student, George H.

Slapay, chairman of the organization.

Miss Phillips Honored.

Miss Leora Phillips, bride-elect of a luncheon at the Piedmont Coffee

Shop, given by Helen Bell and Miss Geraldine Barber. Guests included the honoree, Misses Eleanor

Plaxico, Elizabeth Herzberg, Sue Hun-

singer, Eloise Phillips, Mary Crawford, Virginia Crawford, Julia Mizelle,

Julia Plaxico, Ruby Stewart, Claudia

Stewart, Helen Babu, Geraldine Barber and Mesdames Louise Moore,

Hazel Jolly and Sue Body.

school, where she was an outstanding student in scholastic work and athletics. He received his B. S. degree from the University of Georgia in the class of 1931. Mrs. Rasnake is now connected with the United States forest service and is stationed at Clayton, Ga.

Mr. Rasnake attended Tech High school, where he was an outstanding

student in scholastic work and athletics. He received his B. S. degree from the University of Georgia in the class of 1931. Mrs. Rasnake is now connected with the United States forest service and is stationed at Clayton, Ga.

Mr. Hardman is the son of the former Governor and Mrs. Lamartine

Griffith Hardman, of Commerce, Ga.

He is descended from wellknown families. Mr. Hardman's mother, one of Georgia's most beloved "first ladies,"

Miss Josephine Staten Griffin, daughter of Jasper Newton Griffin, and the late

W. B. J. Hardman and Susan

Elizabeth Colquitt Hardman, of Commerce. His father is an outstanding businessman and has been prominent in the practice of medicine for many years.

The bridegroom-elect received his B.

S. degree from the University of Georgia, where he was an outstanding member of the Phi Delta Theta fra-nchy. Since his graduation he has become prominently identified with the business interests of Mobile, Ala.

He is the paternal granddaughter of the late George C. Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

He is also the son of the late

Henry Hilliard Shell and Sarah Dozier

Shell, of Georgians, Ala. Miss Shell

is the sister of Henry Hilliard

Shell Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla.

Cracrow Cottage
Is Popular Mecca
For Atlantans

Hospitality in the truest sense has been dispensed this summer by those genial hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Martin, at Cracrow, attractive mountain home of the Atlantans. Nestling in the valley between high peaks forming Tate Mountain, the dark green clapboard home is situated in a secluded spot, reached by a side road that connects with the highway leading atop Tate Mountain Estates. Within a few feet of the front steps across the yard is a sparkling stream of water which trickles for many miles down the opposite mountain side. Flagstone walks around the home afford comfortable hikes for the owners of Cracrow and their guests, who sometimes leave the stone walk and wander into the mountain forests where refreshing and cool breezes and beauty abound.

Upon entering the house by traversing a wide porch, one finds all the comfort and charm of a city abode, for herein the furnishings and decoration may be classed as luxurious for a mountain home. Boasting a spacious living room, where comfy corners attract one to drop down into a big cushioned chair for rest and refreshment, the lower floor is ideally planned for enter-

Continued in Page 7, Column 1.

Junior Leaguers
Are Welcoming
Mrs. John Pitts

Atlanta Junior Leaguers are welcoming into their exclusive ranks lovely Mrs. John S. Pitts III, of Montgomery and New York, who, with her husband, has moved to Atlanta, and occupy an apartment at Peachtree terrace, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, on Peachtree road. She is the former Miss Frances Nimmo Greene, and joined the Montgomery Junior League shortly after her marriage to Mr. Pitts, which took place when Mrs. Pitts was 17 years of age. Her beauty combines brown hair shot with reddish glints, her eyes are green in color, and her complexion is of the most exquisite texture.

Mrs. Pitts is an accomplished artist, portrait painting being her special delight, and aside from that remarkable talent she possesses a soprano voice of unusual tone and quality. She was a member of the choir of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension in Montgomery.

Her study of portraiture was done under such noted teachers as Arthur Kelly Fitzpatrick, of Montgomery; Anne Goldthwaite, of New York and Montgomery, and Weyman Adams, of New York, and her portraits of Mrs. Felix Tankersley and Mrs. George Mark Wood, of Montgomery, stamp Mrs. Pitts as an exceedingly gifted artist.

Mrs. Pitts was educated at the Montgomery High school and graduated from the University of Alabama, of which Mr. Pitts is an alumnus, being a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Mrs. Pitts is the namesake of her celebrated aunt, Frances Nimmo Greene, playwright and author, who is a native of Montgomery, but resides in New York at the present moment.

Augusta Children Form
Wash Rag Club.

A pair of Augusta sisters, Virginia and Elizabeth Whitmire, children of Mrs. Charles Whitmire, are setting a splendid example for other children to follow in the centering of their interest in north Georgia mountain children. Over the entrance to their log cabin playhouse at their mother's summer home at Porter Springs hangs a sign, "Wash Rag Club," and thereby hangs the story of this scone.

In order to gain the attention of mountain children living near-by their summer home, Virginia and Elizabeth conceived the idea of forming a neighborhood club in which wash rags and soap were destined to play the leading roles. The Whitmire children observed that living conditions in the mountains were not suggestive of cleanliness, and that soap and water were not being used as frequently as necessary. After gaining Mrs. Whitmire's consent to carry out their original plans, Virginia and Elizabeth invited the mountain children to a party at their playhouse, and in a very diplomatic manner, after serving cake and lemonade, they suggested the formation of a "wash rag club," and offered to give points to each, for taking a bath, washing the feet every night, and keeping the hands clean.

Cakes of soap and colorful wash rags are distributed, and prizes are awarded each week. Each Friday the club members meet and give an accurate account of the number of baths taken during the week. Points are counted, refreshments are always served at the gatherings, and the two prizes awarded are coveted possessions of the club members. Every night before the mountain children retire for the night, well buckets filled with water can be heard being drawn from the depths of the wells, to the music of clanking iron chains so that baths and foot-washings can be the order of the night.

SOCIETY

Miss Laura Smith

Mrs.
John S.
Pitts III

Braselton-Gillespie Rites Planned For August 23

BRASELTON, Ga., Aug. 18.—Interest centers in the approaching marriage of Miss Rosalyn Braselton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Green Braselton, of Braselton, to Dr. Charles Gillespie, of Atlanta, the wedding to be solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, August 23, at home. The ring ceremony will be performed by Dr. B. F. Fraser, of Atlanta.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Green Braselton, and her youngest sister, Mrs. Earl Laird, will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will include Miss Ruth Lott, of Braselton; Miss Helen Roberts, of Atlanta; Misses Katie Moore and Kathryn Taylor, of Greensboro;

Miss Frances Stapleton, of Decatur, and Miss Nell Braselton, sister of the bride-to-be. Drawing the ribbons for the bridal aisle will be little Miss Shirley Hollingsworth, niece of the bride-groom-elect, and Master Claude Fowler Jr., Miss Lucy Allen and Master John Oliver Braselton.

Miss Arline Henderson, of Savannah and Atlanta, have been chosen to light the tapers. Dr. Gillespie will be accompanied by his best man, Dr. Frank Justice, of Atlanta, and has selected as his groomsmen Dr.

Miss
Nancy Kamper

Miss Anne Boyd Croxton, of Birmingham, Ala.

MISS SMITH was snapped by the photographer in a graceful pose standing under the trellis in the garden of her home in Tuxedo Park. Miss Kamper's engagement is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Kamper, to Henry Johnson Miller, the marriage to be solemnized on September 22 at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Miss Croxton will arrive at an early date to spend the winter with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edwards, at their home on Piedmont avenue and will be numbered among this season's prospective debutantes. Miss Henderson's marriage to Arthur Frederic Roberts takes place on August 30 at All Saints' Episcopal church. Mrs. Pitts, who was before her marriage Miss Frances Nimmo Greene, of Montgomery, Ala., and New York, and a member of the Montgomery Junior League, moved to Atlanta recently for residence and she and Mr. Pitts are at home in the Peachtree Terrace apartment. Photograph of Miss Smith by Neblett; of Miss Henderson by Foltz, of Savannah, and of Miss Kamper by Neblett.

Continued in Page 7, Column 4.

Miss Kamper
To Be Bride
Of Mr. Miller

Enlisting the interest of a wide circle of friends is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edgar Kamper of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Surrage Kamper, to Henry Johnson Miller, the marriage to take place September 22 at St. Luke's Episcopal church. The bride-elect and her fiance are numbered among Atlanta's most popular members of younger society, and both are representatives of prominent families.

Miss Kamper is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kamper, whose mother before her marriage was Miss Vera Reins. Her sister is Mrs. Garland Radford, of Birmingham, Ala. The bride-elect attended Hollins College in Virginia and completed her education at Agnes Scott College. She is a member of the Pi Sigma sorority and of the Girls' Cotillion Club.

Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Miller, whose mother before her marriage was Miss Lila Johnson, of Americus, Ga. The groom-to-be is a graduate of Emory University and of Harvard Law School. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, the Piedmont Driving Club and the Nine O'Clocks. He is associated with the law firm of Alston, Alston, Foster & Moise.

Miss Henderson
Weds Mr. Roberts
On August 30

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 18.—Of interest in Georgia and Tennessee is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott Henderson Jr., of Savannah, formerly of Atlanta, of the engagement of their lovely and attractive daughter, Miss Arline Henderson, to Arthur Frederic Roberts, of Atlanta, and Nashville, Tenn.

The wedding, to which no invitations will be issued, will take place quietly at All Saints' Episcopal church in Atlanta on Thursday, August 30, at 6 o'clock. After their marriage Mr. Roberts and his bride will reside in Atlanta, where Mr. Roberts is connected with the W. R. Smith Publishing Company.

Miss Henderson is the eldest daughter of her parents, her two sisters being Miss Ruth and Miss Sara Henderson. She is a graduate of Washington Seminary in Atlanta, where she took two years' post-graduate work in French music.

Mr. Roberts is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roberts, of Nashville, and is a brother of James C. Roberts, of Nashville and Albert Roberts Jr., of St. Petersburg, Fla. Mr. Roberts attended preparatory school at Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville and is also a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta social fraternity and of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity. He has taken an active interest in journalism at school, having been editor of the year book at Montgomery Bell Academy and also editor of the Blue Print, the annual of Georgia Tech.

Mrs. Gertman Wins Bridge Tournament.

Capturing laurels at a bridge tournament played aboard the S. S. Bremen in midocean proved an interesting experience for Mrs. W. M. Gertman, who has recently returned from a European tour. Paired with a youthful Amherst graduate, Evans Davis, from Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. Gertman fought her way to the semi-finals after a three-day tournament.

Meeting the Alabama beauty, Mrs. Eugenia Bankhead Hoyte, and her partner, the attractive Monsieur Durafour, in the finals, Mrs. Gertman and Mr. Davis proved too capable for the oft-married Mrs. Hoyte and her French partner. The captain of the Bremen awarded the trophy to smiling Mrs. Gertman and her equally happy partner.

Landing in Southampton, Mrs. Gertman made a perfectly fascinating tour of foreign countries. She visited Austria, Belgium, England, and attended the Passion Play in Switzerland, and early in August embarked aboard the S. S. Europa for New York.

Baby Bryant To Be Christened Here.

Tiny Thomas Earle Bryant Jr. received cordial welcome from friends and relatives upon his arrival upon this mundane sphere on Friday, August 10, in Lebanon, Tenn., where his parents reside. The baby's mother is the former Miss Margaret Turner, of Atlanta. His maternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Herman L. Turner, of Atlanta, and his paternal grandparents are Mrs. James E. Bryant and the late Mr. Bryant of Shelbyville, Tenn.

Upon the occasion of his christening, which will take place in October in the Covenant Presbyterian church in Atlanta, of which the baby's grandfather, Dr. Turner, is minister, the baby will wear an exquisite dress which was worn by his maternal grandmother on the occasion of her christening. The dress, which is quite long, is fashioned of sheerest batiste linen trimmed with tiny handmade tucks and French embroidery. Mrs. Turner is the former Miss Ann Grace Hartung, of Decatur, Ala.

Miss Arline Henderson, of Savannah and Atlanta.

have been chosen to light the tapers. Dr. Gillespie will be accompanied by his best man, Dr. Frank Justice, of Atlanta, and has selected as his groomsmen Dr.

Weiskopf-Newman
Rites Announced

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 18.—An announcement of their interest to a wide circle of friends was made today by Mr. and Mrs. Alex. W. Powers of the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Barbara Weiskopf, to Harold Leon Newman, of Atlanta, Ga. The date of their marriage will be announced later.

Born and reared in Buffalo, the bride-elect is a graduate of Cornell College, in Buffalo, from which institution she graduated with honors and was very active in sorority circles. Later she attended Emory University, Atlanta, where she took a course in library work. She now holds the position of librarian at Forestry College, St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Newman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Newman, of Atlanta, formerly of Griffin, Ga. His mother was, before her marriage, Miss Annie Ruskin, who is well known both in Griffin and Atlanta. The bridegroom-elect was born and received his early education in Griffin, where he resided until five years ago, being a graduate of Georgia Tech in the class of 1932 and holds membership in Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, the Sigma Gamma, the B'nai Brith, and the Jewish Progressive Club. He is well known in Atlanta, where he is connected with the Atlanta Linen Supply Company. He and his bride will reside here following their marriage.

Cracrow Cottage
Is Popular Mecca
For Atlantans

Continued from Page 6.

Tainment. To the left of the living room is the dining room and kitchen, the latter having all modern conveniences, including electric range and refrigerator. Large, airy bedrooms and white-tiled baths form the upper floor, with broad windows looking out across the near-by range of mountains.

Recent guests at Cracrow were surprised to learn that the name of the home was given to it by a pair of carpenters, who settled in the valley soon after the Civil War and built a one-room cabin on the site and called it Cracrow. It is thought by some who are informed as to the history of that section, that the name was taken from certain syllables in the names of the two carpenters. But, regardless of the origin of the name, those who have visited the home state that the name admirably suits the charming mountain house of Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

Providing much amusement for the guests at Cracrow is "Bud," the handsome German police dog whose antics are almost human in their performance and reveal the cleverness of Mrs. Martin, who has spent many hours training her adored canine. Much amusement is afforded the guests when the chateleine of Cracrow requests "Bud" to play the piano. With a quick leap the dog jumps to the piano bench and sounds the keys across the entire keyboard of the baby grand with his front paws until his mistress calls him to come down.

In addition to being a perfect hostess and gifted in many ways, the attractive Mrs. Martin is fast becoming an expert equestrienne. Almost each day during the summer she has ridden horseback over winding mountain trails. She thinks nothing of riding three or four miles every morning, and even sometimes she indulges in two rides daily. Often times in riding across country and around beautiful Lake Sequoyah, Mrs. Martin can be seen putting her horse through the paces—but she confesses that the canter is her favorite gait. Critics who have seen her ride, as she conveys messages from cottage to cottage, due to the absence of telephones, proclaim her as a female Paul Revere.

Diamond Brooch Has History.

Adding a note of sentiment to the exquisite wedding ensemble chosen by Miss Clyde Partlow when she became the bride of William A. Ward Jr., at an impressive ceremony taking place on Tuesday afternoon was an exquisite brooch. Fashioned of diamonds set in platinum, the handsome pin was a gift of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. A. Ward Sr., to her new daughter.

The gems forming the setting for the pin were presented to Mrs. Ward when she was the former Miss Jessie Zellars by her father and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Zellars, aristocratic residents of Grantville, Ga. Mounted in antique gold, the stones originally formed a set of jewelry including a pin and earrings worn by Mrs. Ward.

Upon the announcement of her son's engagement to the beautiful Miss Partlow, Mrs. Ward had the stones re-set into the platinum mounting to be given to the bride upon her wedding day on August 14, the impressive ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. P. Allen, on Fifteenth street. Mrs. Ward Jr. numbers the gift among the most treasured possessions, both for its beauty and its sentimental value.

Miss Davis Weds
L. C. Litesey.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Aug. 18.—Miss Sara Black Davis and Lester Clark Litesey were united in marriage today in the home of the bride's parents, only immediate families of the young couple were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Turner, of Dalton, presiding elder of the Dalton district, an uncle of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Davis, of Cedartown, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Litesey, of Cedartown. Mr. and Mrs. Litesey will be at home, 124 College street, following their wedding trip.

Wright—Arrington.

J. F. Wright, of Douglasville, announces the engagement of his daughter, Louise, to George Hubert Arrington, the marriage to take place at an early date.

Miss Jackson and Mr. Tounley
Wed in Albany on September 15

MISS MARY MERCER JACKSON, OF AUGUSTA.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 15.—The engagement of Miss Mary Mercer Jackson, of Augusta, to Charlton Douglass Tounley, of Albany, is announced today by Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Fenwick Jackson, parents of the bride-elect. The marriage will be solemnized on September 15, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, in Albany. Miss Jackson's former home, Miss Jackson and Mr. Tounley are natives of Georgia but have lived in Florida and North Carolina at various times.

Miss Jackson is a great-granddaughter of Colonel Nelson Tift, founder of Albany, while Mr. Tounley is a direct descendant of Dr. Thomas Wightman Ellis, one of the original group of settlers of Valdosta, Ga., the site of the wedding. September 15 is the birthday of the bride-elect and the groom-elect, and was also the birth-anniversary of the groom's father, the late Samuel Salter Tounley, and will be solemnized at noon in St. Paul's Episcopal church, in Albany. Rev. H. H. S. Collier officiated. After a wedding trip they will make their home in Albany.

Miss Jackson is the youngest daughter of Edmund Fenwick and Irene Woolfolk Jackson, and on her maternal side is the granddaughter of Thomas Nelson and Clara Tift. She is a great-granddaughter of Col. John Tift, who founded Albany in 1836, and of Maria Byrd Nelson and William Gordon Woolfolk, of Columbus, who are numbered among the pioneer settlers of Georgia and Virginia.

Miss Jackson was born in Albany and spent the early years of her childhood there, later moving to Augusta where she graduated from Tubman

Miss Frances Powers
Weds Lester Harper

The marriage of Miss Frances Armstrong Powers and Lester E. Harper was quietly solemnized Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Powers Jr., in College Park, with the Rev. Walter S. Robinson officiating.

The home was decorated throughout with late summer flowers, and the ring ceremony was performed in the living room in the presence of relatives and close friends. The altar was arranged before the mantel. On either side of the altar were large wicker baskets filled with dahlias flanked by candelabra holding burning tapers.

As a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Dorothy Love, Miss Louise Harris, of College Park, and Miss Beulah Caldwell, of Monroe, Ga., lighted the candles. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Betty Parks sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride and bridegroom were unattended and entered together. The bride was becomingly attired in cream lace with hat and accessories to match. A corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies completed the costume. Lester is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Powers Jr., of College Park, Ga.

Mr. Harper is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harper, of Miami, Fla., formerly of East Point, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Harper left for a motor trip to Florida and upon their return they will make their home with the bride's parents on Columbia avenue, in College Park, Ga.

Braselton-Gillespie
Rites Planned
For August 23

Continued from Page 6.

Laird, of Hoschton; "Red" Chambers, of Atlanta, and Harry Braselton, of Braselton.

Acting as junior bridesmaid and bridesman will be Miss Jane Lott and Master Herbert Brown Braselton, brother of the bride-to-be. Little Miss Frances Baird will serve as flower girl, and Master Henry Edward Braselton will be train bearer.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party a musical program will be rendered today by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elliott, of Fort McPherson, of the management of their daughter, Miss Marian Frances Elliott, pianist; Mrs. Carl Free, violinist, and Miss Letta Braselton, vocalist. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Braselton will entertain at a reception.

Straub-Robison.

Miss Anna Mary Straub and Robert E. Robison were married at a quiet ceremony on Saturday, August 11. The bride was lovely in her navy blue ensemble with matching accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Only very few close friends attended the wedding.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Robison left for a short trip in the mountains of North Georgia and upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Robison will be at home at the Terminal hotel.

theater and allied arts, Mr. Tounley was one of the founders and charter members of the Little Theater Players of Albany and was active head of that organization during the first year of its existence. He has been a member of the board of trustees of Albany Carnegie Library for several years and is vice-chairman of that body, as well as a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church of Albany.

He has been reporter, sports editor, city editor and managing editor of that newspaper, but about a year ago he resigned his editorial duties to take the position in the business office of the Herald, and at present is cashier and acting secretary-treasurer of the Herald Publishing Company. Interested for many years in the

Miss Marian Elliott To Wed
Clyde Sluhan at Post Chapel

Photograph by Rich's Photo Reflex studio.

MISS MARIAN FRANCES ELLIOTT.

Centering social interest in military and civilian circles is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elliott, of Fort McPherson, of the management of their daughter, Miss Marian Frances Elliott, pianist.

Miss Elliott is the only daughter of her parents and her brother is John Elliott Jr., who was graduated from Wesleyan College for Women at Marion and has continued her musical education under Atlanta teachers. She is prominently identified with the Atlanta Philharmonic Choral Club and is exceedingly popular with the younger social contingent.

The bridegroom-elect is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sluhan, of Ohio. He was educated at Ohio schools and was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. His sisters are Mrs. Roy Krueger and Miss Muriel Sluhan, both of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Sluhan is connected with the Stouff Textile Company with station in Atlanta.

Ayers—Crowe.

HARTWELL, Ga., Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Thornton, of Hartwell, announce the marriage of their niece, Frances Zouelia Ayers, to William Haron Crowe, of Rome, Monday, July 16, 1934, at Centre, Ala., the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. A. Parker.

Morris—Aydelott.

Mrs. B. F. Hill, of Chipley, announces the marriage of her granddaughter, Elizabeth Morris, of Atlanta, to Zeal Aydelott, of Orlando, Fla., on August 14, 1934.

Announcement

Children up to 14 years old who are photographed in our PHOTOREFLEX STUDIO between August 13th and September 15th automatically become eligible to win one of the 323 cash awards in the

Third Children's National Photograph Contest

CASH AWARDS of $2000.00

No Fuss...No Red Tape...and a contest in which every child has an equal chance...

Try PhotoReflex Now!

It's the new and better way to be photographed. It's the easiest way you, yourself, can select just the pose and expression you want. It's the only way you can see exactly what your finished picture will look like before it's taken! Proofs submitted. No appointment required.

*Contest under the auspices of Nat'l Ass'n of Dept. Store Studios

SIXTH FLOOR

RICH'S

SIXTH FLOOR

Last two weeks of Rich's August Coat Sale

Check this Sale Summary!

Beautiful Coats in all of 1934's newest and smartest fashions!

Sumptuous Fur Trims—Persian, Fox, Beaver, Kolinsky, Fitch.

Perfectly tailored—beautifully lined—distinction in every one!

Black and brown leading, green second, wine shades third!

Your Monogram in your coat without extra charge!

Marvelous coats that are definitely $79.50 and $89.50 values.

And you can use Rich's Coat Account—pay $9.50 down and $10 a month.

$59.50

COAT SALON THIRD FLOOR

RICH'S

Fall Vitality health shoes are Cut High

$6 and $6.75

CYNTHIA—Black or Brown Kid....$6.75

NORMA—Black or Brown Suede, Black, Brown or Blue Kid. Also Patent.....$6

ROBERTA—Black or Brown Suede, matching calf trim$6.75

VILMA—Black, Brown or Green Suede, matching calf trim$6.75

BOLERO—Black or Brown Suede, calf trim, leather heel$6.75

SABOT—Black or Brown genuine Seal skin, leather heel$6.75

WRITE FOR 1934 FALL AND WINTER CATALOG.

In keeping with a steady march of progress, Vitality Health Shoes again herald the season ahead with tailored outlines designed in unusually new shapes and distinctive detailed trimmings.

Sizes 2 to 11—AAAAA to B.

MAIL SERVICE

RICH'S

STREET FLOOR

Einstein-Pilcher Wedding Rites Are Solemnized in Camilla, Ga.

CAMILLA, Ga., Aug. 18.—A marriage of interest throughout the state was that of Miss Christine Einstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Lewis, and Crawford Long Pilcher of Warrenton, which was solemnized Saturday at the Camilla Methodist church.

Rev. Isaac P. Tyson, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends.

Combining beauty and simplicity, the church decorations consisted of palms and ferns banked high at the back of the chancel and choir stand, and interspersed with tall floor baskets filled with rose and orchid asters.

A musical program was rendered by Miss Sadie Fowler, of Atlanta, pianist; and J. C. Palmer, as violinist.

Mrs. J. H. McIlvaine, of Pensacola, Fla., sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," by Gounod. Just before the ceremony Carlisle Milligan, of Fort Pierce, Fla., sang "Because," by Dardel.

Miss Jeannette Roles, sister of the bride, and Tom Lasseter, of Jacksonville, Fla., cousin of the bride, were junior attendants. Miss Roles wore a becoming fall costume of navy crepe with trimmings of white taffeta. Her hat was of navy felt and her shoulder bouquet was of pink rosebuds and swansons. The groomsmen were Tom Lasseter, of Ashland, and Julius Jackson. Miss Suzy Smith was maid of honor, wearing a modish fall frock of brown crepe trimmed with tan moire. A velvet beret and a shoulder spray was of yellow rosebuds and swansons. Little Miss Jacqueline Pilcher, niece of the bride-groom, was flower girl, wearing a dainty flounced frock of green mousey, and carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of orchid and rose asters.

The bride entered with her father, Albert R. Roles, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were joined at the altar by Rev. George L. and his best man, Fielding Picklen of Washington. The bride's daintiness blonde beauty was enhanced by her smart costume of duck-egg blue jewel crepe, with silver trimmings, worn with a beret of navy velvet with touches of silver. Navy accessories and shoulder spray of sweethearts roses and lilies of the valley completed her attractive costume.

Following the ceremony at the church Mr. and Mrs. Pilcher entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a wedding breakfast at their home. Mrs. Eugene Hackett received the guests at the door. Miss Ruth Stevens kept the bride's book. Serving in the dining room were Mrs. George M. Perry, Mrs. Barnwell Hughes, and Mrs. Julian Upshaw. Other assistants were Mrs. T. B. Twiss, Mrs. M. C. Pugh, Mrs. Mrs. J. C. Smith, Frank Cardell, Mrs. M. B. Mock and Mrs. R. H. Hurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Pilcher left on a short wedding trip to North Carolina and on their return will make their home in Warrenton.

Among the out-of-town guests attended the wedding were Mrs. J. H. McIlvaine, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Neva Lasseter, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. E. C. Milligan Sr., E. C. Milligan Jr., Fort Pierce, Fla.; Miss Marion Faircloth, Quitman; Miss Virginia Parker, Mrs. J. F. Russell, Thomasville; Miss Willard Ragan, Hawkinsville; Miss Sadie Fowler, Mrs. T. B. Perry, Harry Stein, Virgil Moore, and Mrs. Mrs. Malcolm Finch, Macon. Tipton Thrasher, Asbury; Fielding Picklen, Washington, Ga.; Mrs. W. W. Pilcher, Miss Miriam Pilcher, Jacqueline Pilcher, Mrs. W. T. Pilcher, Miss Dorothy Dupuis, Warrenton; Mrs. Ellison Garrett, Sandersville, and Miss Marian Lee, Albany.

Second-Ponce de Leon Circles To Meet.

Woman's Missionary Society of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church will hold meetings as follows:

Circle No. 1—Mrs. Albert S. Anderson, chairman, will meet with Mrs. C. G. Aycock, 890 Penn avenue, N. E., Monday at 3 o'clock. Mission book, "Missions and the Bible," will be studied. Mrs. R. A. Garner will be assistant hostess.

Circle No. 2—Mrs. Carlton W. Binns, chairman, with the chairman at her home, 830 Myrtle street, N. E., Monday, at 3 o'clock.

Circle No. 3—Mrs. John K. Ottley Jr., chairman, with Mrs. Chap Cooper, 1442 Oglethorpe avenue, S. W., Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Circle No. 4—Mrs. Fred W. Patterson, and Mrs. Harold Conledge, chairman, with Mrs. Patterson at her home at 3161 Habersham road, N. W., Monday at 4 o'clock.

Circle No. 5—Mrs. S. B. Naff, chairman, with Mrs. W. A. Rhodes, 3442 Piedmont road, N. E., Monday at 3 o'clock.

Circle No. 6—Mr. M. L. Brittain, chairman, will meet at the church Monday at 3 o'clock.

Circle No. 7—Mrs. R. G. Dunwoody, chairman, with the chairman at her home, 946 Piedmont road, N. E., Monday at 4 o'clock.

Circle No. 8—Mrs. H. P. McElroy, chairman, with Mrs. W. F. Dix, 370 Piedmont road, N. E., Monday at 4 o'clock.

Circle No. 9—Mrs. A. E. Griffith, chairman, with Miss Mattie L. Clements, 728 Myrtle street, N. E., Monday at 3 o'clock.

Circle No. 10—Mrs. J. H. Zachry, chairman, with Mrs. T. W. Reeves, 677 Cumberland circle, N. E., Monday at 3:30 o'clock.

Circle No. 11—Mrs. Frank R. Mitchell, chairman, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the church.

Circle No. 12—Mrs. Collinsworth, chairman, with Mrs. George Klier, 910 Forrest road, N. E., Monday at 3 o'clock.

For Mrs. Vaughan.

Mrs. Charles T. MacGregor was hostess at a bridge-supper at her home on Clifton road Friday evening in compliment to Mrs. William Vaughan, who was the guest of honor. Entertaining were Miss Frances Johnson. Summer flowers were profusion throughout the living room, music room and dining room where the guests were assembled. Mrs. MacGregor was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. R. J. Sulter.

Invited were Mesdames H. K. Branston, William Steiglitz, S. W. Perry, J. H. Bostwick, LeRoy Brown, Eugene Nash, T. H. Thompson, Margaret Massengale, Lucile Huff, M. L. Boswell; Misses Elizabeth Johnson, Carolyn Phildren, Daisy Lovelace, Mildred Bugg and Winnie Winn.

School Luggage

Packing Trunks $6.50 Up
Gladstone Bags $7.95 and Up
Zipper Bags... $2.95 and Up
Wardrobe Trunks $19.95 Up
Week-End Cases $2.95 and Up

W. T. TURNER LUGGAGE CO.

219 Peachtree St.

ISAACSON'S

August Sale of FURS

Extremely Worthwhile Savings In the Advance Selling of Furs!

Since nothing can so confirm a woman's reputation for chic as a perfectly chosen fur coat, we have gone to great lengths to make this an outstanding collection. We assure you that they are not ordinary SALE FURS, but a gorgeous collection of precious furs that you can't hope to duplicate later for anything like our August Sale prices.

Lapin Jackets	$24.50	Russian Pony Coats, Natural Kappa and	$98.50
Imported Lapin	$59.50	Black, From...	$98.50
Northern Seal Coats (Dyed Coney)	$69.50	Kid Caracul	$125.00
Muskat Coats	$89.50	Dyed Squirrel From...	$125.00
Leopard Cat	$98.50	Jap Mink	$295.00
Swagger Coats		Genuine Silver Foxes	$59.50
OTHER COATS UP TO $1,800

CONVENIENT TERMS MAY BE ARRANGED WITH REFRIGERATOR STORAGE UNTIL FALL

LOUIS ISAACSON INC.
FURS OF FASHION

HENRY GRADY HOTEL
210 PEACHTREE ST.

WA. 9776

Attractive Georgians as Recent Brides

A sextet of lovely Georgians is pictured above who were married at recent ceremonies. Mrs. Gustaf Borg, who prior to her recent marriage was Miss Jeannette Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hudson Lewis, of Decatur, is pictured at the upper left. Mrs. Harry W. Gorman, the former Miss Clara Copeland, is shown at the upper right. A photograph of Mrs. Thomas W. Ezzard, formerly Miss Bertha Mae Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Johnson, appears in the second row at the left, while Mrs. Roland Miller, who prior to her wedding on June 29, was Miss Minnie Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ambrose, is pictured at the right. In the lower row, at the left, appears a likeness of Mrs. E. G. McDonald, formerly Miss Louise Gordy, the marriage having been solemnized on July 14 at St. Phillips Pro-Cathedral. Mrs. W. H. Ray's picture is shown at the lower right. Mrs. Ray, prior to her marriage, which was solemnized at the Druid Hills Baptist church, was Miss Mary Elizabeth McMillan. Mrs. Borg's photograph was made by Reeves studio. Elliott's Peachtree studio made Mrs. Gorman's picture, and McCrary's studio photographed Mrs. Miller and Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. Ezzard's photograph was made by the Little studio, and the Alfa Lomax studio made Mrs. Ray's photograph.

Gladiolus Club Holds Meeting.

Gladiolus Club met on Friday at the home of Mrs. E. H. Pickett, on Kirkwood road, with Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, the president, presiding. Mrs. A. M. Dunn spoke on "Personals" and Mrs. Frank L. Davis, of Mountain View, Ga., gave a group of humorous stories for members of the year. Mrs. E. H. Pickett, chairman of the Jonesboro Garden Club for several years.

The Gladiolus Club promises to take an active part in garden club circles of the state. Mrs. Crenshaw, the president, was the organizer of the garden division of the Atlanta Woman's Club and was chairman of the garden club for numerous years. Mrs. J. B. Bachman, vice president, has been most active in garden club work, having organized 20 garden clubs in Georgia. Mrs. F. W. Teipke is secretary and Mrs. John G. Russell, chairman of tours and publicity. The membership is composed of residents of East Lake and Decatur.

FAMILY REUNION.

History of the Harris family was read by Miss Mary Mae Harris, secretary of the Harris Family Association, which held its 10th annual reunion last Wednesday at Grant park. The largest family attendance was that of Mrs. G. L. Harris, of Palmetto, who attended with 43 members of her immediate family, the youngest member to attend was little Richard Hugh Garvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Garvin, of Atlanta, three granddaughters of Mrs. G. L. Harris. Thirty new members were added.

Before Baby Comes

Turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort

You can now buy the latest in pregnancy painless and after regreys by preparing your body for that dear baby's coming.

Special cream and mildure skin lubricant called Mother's Friend helps to relieve and prevent skin tightness, abdominal tissue break down, after delivery wrinkles. Mother's Friend refreshes and tones the skin, tissues and muscles it makes them supple, plump and elastic.

Composition—composed of special oils and highly fragrant ingredients—externally applied—pure and safe. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Helps prevent unnecessary doctor's visits. Time tested for over 60 years. Millions of bottles sold. Try it tonight. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend. The Bradfield Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CONVENIENT TERMS MAY BE ARRANGED WITH REFRIGERATOR STORAGE UNTIL FALL

LOUIS ISAACSON INC.
FURS OF FASHION

HENRY GRADY HOTEL
210 PEACHTREE ST.

WA. 9776

Miss Rosalee Moore Weds Mr. Levinson.

CARROLLTON, Ga., Aug. 18.—The marriage of Miss Rosalee Moore to Joseph Levinson took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Neuner, of Plant City, Fla.

The bride was colonized at White Sulphur Springs Saturday morning in the presence of members of the immediate families. The bride and bridegroom were unattended and were met at the foot of the stairs by Rev. T. T. Davis, a life-long friend, now pastor of the Mount Vernon Avenue Baptist church, of Atlanta, Ga., who performed the ceremony.

Flowers were used to form the altar. Two wicker floor baskets held pink and white dahlias and an artistic arrangement of pink and white roses was used throughout the living room.

A musical program was furnished by Mrs. Edgar C. Johnson, pianist, and Mrs. H. G. Stokes, violinist, of Atlanta, and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used as a processional.

The groom entered with his brother, Sidney Levinson, of St. Louis, Mo., who was best man. Mrs. Felix Diamond, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sister of the bride, was first matron of honor.

She was gowned in a becoming model of pansy blue crepe and gold trimmings and a corsage of pink roses and snapdragons.

Miss Ethel May, of Goldwater, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sister of the groom, was a second matron of honor and wore a fall model of brown crepe with gold trimmings and a finger tip coat of blue satin with snapdragons.

Miss Ethel May, of Goldwater, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sister of the groom, was a second matron of honor and wore a fall model of brown crepe with gold trimmings and a finger tip coat of blue satin with snapdragons.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white triple sheer crepe with matching accessories. Her shoulder bouquet was old-fashioned garden flowers and was centered by large ferns and basket filled with snapdragons. To the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," played by Miss Jewell McNair, the bridal party entered. During the ceremony Miss McNair played "I Love You Truly," "Wedding March."

The bride wore a navy sheer dress trimmings to match. Her shoulder bouquet was sweethearts roses and valentine lilies. She had as bridesmaid Miss Eula Duncan, who wore a green and brown print dress with a novelty collar of brown linen, her flowers was rosebuds and snapdragons.

Miss Ethel May, of Goldwater, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sister of the groom, was a second matron of honor and wore a fall model of brown crepe with gold trimmings and a finger tip coat of blue satin with snapdragons.

To the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," the bride, a perfect blonde, entered with her father, Harry Moore, who gave her in marriage, and she was gowned in a model of baby blue crepe. The skirt was of straight lines and a finger tip coat of the same material, with short pleated cap sleeves and a wide hemline, which was more becoming to her slender figure. She wore a close-fitting, off-the-face hat, with shoes and gloves to match. Her bouquet was white bride's roses showered with swansons, tied with white satin ribbons.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Harry Moore, entered with her father and M. S. Klein, of Atlanta. She was in a pinked triple sheer crepe and had a sprig of white roses and valentine lilies. She had as bridesmaid Miss Ethel May, of Goldwater, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sister of the groom, who was a second matron of honor and wore a fall model of brown crepe with gold trimmings and a finger tip coat of blue satin with snapdragons.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Moore were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Levinson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Diamond, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Leonard, and Miss Frances Moore. The table was arranged with a handsome lace cover. The centerpiece was a tiered wedding cake, adorned with pink roses and silver leaves and topped with a miniature bride and groom. At either end of the table were silver candelabra tinted with pink tulles, holding white burning tapers. Misses Billie Mose and Billie Duffey presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Levinson left for Charleston, S. C., where they sailed for New York. For traveling Mrs. Levinson chose an early fall model of brown and white satin with accessories to match. The bride is a graduate of Carrollton High school, later attending the University of Georgia, and Mrs. Levinson will reside in Chattanooga.

Furniture of Character

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

•

SUNDAY, AUGUST 19, 1934

McClelland Barclay's "GLAMOROUS GIRLS"

Beauty Between Dances
Under the Moon

Trade Mark Registration Applied For.

(McClelland Barclay)

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB*IN THE MOONLIGHT—

Sitting it out between dances, letting the evening breezes fondle her hair and kiss her tender cheeks, relaxed, at ease.

Summer won't be with us long now, and those gorgeous beams of night will dull and chill. The late August moon, to me, seems always the most mellow and yellow and

Copyright, 1934, by luminous and romantic, somehow.

It is then, I think, a beautiful girl is most adorable—then and there—

IN THE MOONLIGHT!

McC. B.

"CHINESE YOUTH FIGHTS FOR ITS RIGHT TO FLAME"

See story on page three.

WHEN JUSTICE TRIUMPHED

*How Camera Aided
In Capture of Most Dangerous Outlaws*

By PETER LEVINS.

IF THE life of a fugitive outlaw has become a furtive and unenjoyable affair—and John Dillinger's last days so indicate—then we may credit that popular invention, the camera. Time and again, since the advent of picture newspapers and illustrated detective magazines, desperadoes have come to grief because of their photographs. Dillinger's efforts to change his features show how much he feared a repetition of what happened in Altona.

That misfortune was directly traceable to photographs. The outlaw had long since fled the Lima, Ohio, jail and resumed a career of banditry. Newspapers and magazines were printing his picture, as well as the pictures of certain of his associates. Then, last January, Dillinger, with Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley, Russell Clark and a bevy of girl friends headed south for a vacation. They had enough cash to carry them along for months.

But on January 23 firemen in Tucson, Ariz., recognized rogues gallery photographs of Clark and Makley, printed in a detective magazine. They recalled seeing these faces the day before during the Congress hotel fire. Makley and Clark had appealed to them to save their baggage and had tipped the fire laddies $12.

Within a few hours the gang was behind bars.

After his second escape—the famous wooden gun act at the Lake county, Indiana, jail—pictures of Dillinger flooded the country. For all his arrogance in posing with officials of Lake county, the camera forced him to live the life of a rat. Day and night the fear of recognition never left him. Money was of little use to him save for furtive visits to the movies.

Offer of Reward
The Final Blow.

And when the government offered a handsome reward for his capture, that gave the final touch to his ceaseless uneasiness.

Several years ago a story in this series figured in the capture of James Nannery, much-hunted killer who had escaped from Sing Sing almost three years before. The article started—

"Justice appears to be headed for a triumph at last in the case of Fred Burke, recently captured assassin, whose criminal exploits were recounted in this series last fall, but we are still waiting for the police to snare the young man known as New York's worst desperado, the dapper and cunning James Nannery."

The story, which included a large picture of Nannery, was published April 12, 1931. Just two weeks later, on April 26, Patrolman Charles Ripley, of Dover, N. J., recognized the fugitive as he sat in an expensive car at Bergen and Blackwell streets, in Dover. The officer, without betraying himself, walked over to the car keeping his hand on his pistol hidden under his rubber raincoat.

"Two weeks ago, Nannery said, he had read a newspaper article chiding the police for not capturing him. He became alarmed, sold his house (in Parsippany, N. J.) and furniture, bought a $2,400 car, and he and Patricia

The camera proved most useful in capture of Dillinger and pals in Arizona—and the camera made his life miserable in his last days.

Say, you're parked in bus stand space," said Ripley. "I ought to give you a ticket. Where's your license?"

Nannery smiled and reached toward the nearest car pocket. The alert officer beat him to it.

"Nothing doing on that!" said Ripley, jamming his gun into the killer's ribs. "Get out here on the sidewalk!"

Nannery was taken completely by surprise. Later he snarled that he hadn't expected to be taken alive by any policeman, much less a "hick flatfoot with a poker face."

Said The Herald-Tribune, in an account of an interview with the captive:

"Two weeks ago, Nannery said, he had read a newspaper article chiding the police for not capturing him. He became alarmed, sold his house (in Parsippany, N. J.) and furniture, bought a $2,400 car, and he and Patricia (his girl friend, Patricia Burke) began riding. They went into New York, cruised about Westchester, then came back into northern New Jersey. At night they stopped wherever they happened to be. At no time did they pass two nights in the same town."

Maybe He Should Have Stayed Home.

Maybe if that article hadn't scared him so, and if he had stuck to the seclusion of Parsippany, Killer Nannery would have done much better for himself.

One evening in December, 1927, an actress, Enneiline Harrington, was murdered in her apartment on West 190th street, Manhattan. Other tenants heard screams at the time, but it was not until six days later that the crime was discovered. There were no clues except that the motive appeared to have been robbery. Her coat and jewels were missing.

About 10 days later some of the stolen property turned up in New Haven, Conn.

The police learned that a man had stopped at the Hotel Taft in New Haven, accompanied by a young woman. He had departed without paying his bill, and had left behind Mrs. Harrington's fur coat and some of her jewelry. The man was traced to near-by cities. At one point, in fleeing from a taxi cab, he dropped a wallet containing several thousand dollars' worth of negotiable bonds and some more jewelry.

Within a few hours the New York police announced that they were seeking Frederick W. Edel, an ex-convict of about 40, who had been a crook and murderer almost since childhood. Veteran New York officers described him as one of the most dangerous criminals at large.

They said he had killed Mrs. Harrington while negotiating with her for the purchase of her furnishings, for she had planned to move, and had advertised in the newspapers.

Late the following March a young woman in St. Paul, Minn., became acquainted with a man known to her as Richard Hall. Unknown to her, Mr. Hall obtained his living expenses by purchasing small money orders and then raising them to 10 times the original amount. In the midst of all this the woman saw a photograph of Frederick Edel.

The next day, March 28, Frederick Edel, alias Richard Hall, was arrested in Hopkins, Minn. He was subsequently convicted of the Harrington murder and is now serving life imprisonment.

Several years ago 18 states wanted Fred Burke, "the most dangerous man alive." At least 20 killings were charged against him, including the St. Valentine's Day gang massacre in Chicago. Rewards totaled about $100,000. But the police of the country could not lay a hand on the notorious assassin and bank robber.

One evening in March, 1931, Joseph Hunsacker, 30-year-old truck driver of Green City, Mo., was reading "True Detective Mystery" when he came upon a picture of Burke. It occurred to him that Killer Burke strongly resembled Richard F. White, who had lately come to live with his father-in-law, Bailey Porter, on the latter's farm in Milan, Mo.

Drooping Mouth
Was the Same.

White wore a mustache and seemed much older and a bit stouter than the face in the magazine. But the drooping mouth was the same and the eyes bore a striking likeness. Moreover, Hunsacker recalled that White carried himself with a certain watchfulness, and seldom mingled with the townspeople.

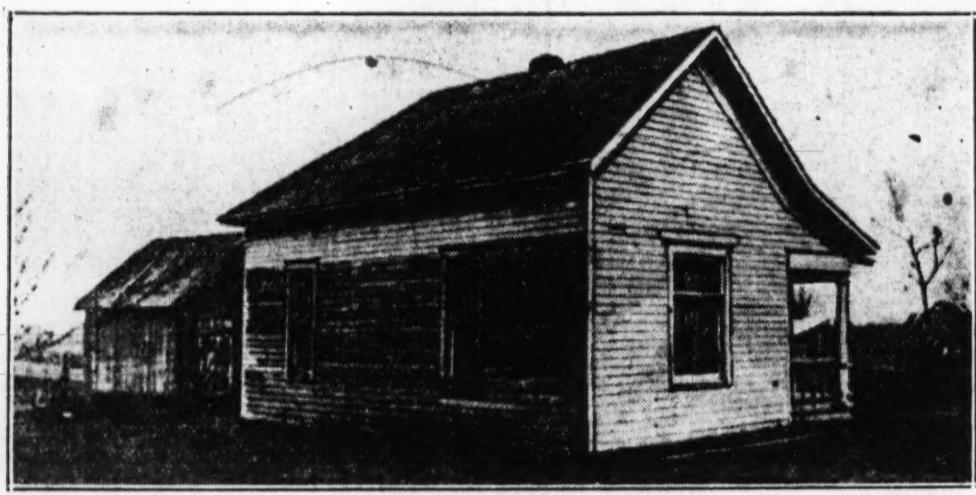

The more he studied the picture

Everett Frank Lindsey, trapped by . . .

. . . amateur sleuthing of William Sandberg.

Farmhouse in Milan, Mo., where a "Richard F. White" lived with his young wife and in-laws, and which officers surrounded one night and seized "the most dangerous man alive"—Fred Burke, who was wanted by eighteen States for long list of murders and robberies.

Hunsacker compared face of Fred Burke at left with face of Richard White (right) and decided they were the same man. Investigation proved that suspect carried bills of large denomination and traveled with a bodyguard.

The more he studied the picture

Hunsacker Gets A Meager Reward.

As the rewards had been offered in connection with other crimes, notably the Chicago massacre, all Hunsacker got for his work was a banquet.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsey disappeared from Seattle, Wash., on February 19, 1930. Her husband, Everett Frank Lindsey, told neighbors that she had left to visit relatives in Scotland. But the weeks passed and no one heard from Mrs. Lindsey. The neighbors wondered.

Police began an investigation and Lindsey left Seattle with his 11-year-old foster-daughter, Pearl. On the first day of May the body of Mrs. Lindsey was unearthed in the rear garden of her home. She had been murdered and mutilated.

The same day a rooming house keeper in Oakland, Cal., found a note left by a man who had been living there with his daughter. The note read—

"I must go to the wife. Please take care of the daughter."

The daughter was Pearl Lindsey.

Investigation disclosed that Lindsey's real name was Charles E. Murphy and that he was wanted for the murder of a farmer near Woodland, Wash., in 1920; for attacks upon an 11-year-old Napa, Cal., girl, and for desertion from the United States and Canadian armies. After Pearl was found, an additional criminal assault charge was brought against him.

But no trace of the man was found. He appeared to have vanished from sight completely.

In the spring of 1931 William Sandberg, owner of a small restaurant in Los Angeles, hired a cook, who a short time later left his employ. Subsequently Sandberg read in a detective magazine about the Lindsey case of Seattle and formed a definite suspicion that Lindsey and the cook he had hired were the same man.

Not only were their faces similar, but their traits were much alike.

Like Hunsacker in the Burke case, Sandberg decided to do some detective work on his own account.

Rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the fugitive totaled $3,000—and Sandberg felt he could use $3,000 very nicely.

He therefore renewed his acquaintance with the suspect and finally tricked him into leaving his fingerprints on a card. The prints were Lindsey's prints.

He is now serving a life term in the Washington state prison at Wallawalla.

Texas Jim Baker, slayer of Henry Gaw and nine other men (according to his boast), couldn't wait for somebody to recognize his picture in the newspapers. He simply had to point it out himself.

Henry Gaw was found dead of cyanide on the morning of December 27, 1928. His killer had visited him the previous evening at the Guggenheim laboratory on 10th avenue, Manhattan, and apparently for the sheer thrill of seeing a man writhing in death had fed him the poison in a cup of coffee.

Detective Hears Of Boaster.

Thirteen months later Detective Thomas A. Smith, of New York, went to Detroit in connection with another case. While there he heard about a young man, living on a farm 15 miles west of town, who had boasted that he was wanted by the police for a crime back in the east.

To prove his claim, the young man had exhibited a newspaper clipping showing his picture.

Detective Smith visited the farm. While the suspect was away he searched his room and found the clipping with its portrait of Jim Baker. Later the detective got a glimpse of the young man himself. Sure enough, he was the murder-loving fugitive.

Texas Jim must now confine his boasts to the inmates and employees of Sing Sing, where he is serving 40 years.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

James Baker exhibited his picture in newspaper to prove he was hunted poisoner.

It was a story about James Nannery in this series that started him back to Sing Sing.

Highlights of Broadway

THE morals of Broadway, essentially those of the freshwater village, can stretch to cover headline-spicy gaucheries and contract into bizarre crucibles of rectitude. Take the case of Billy Rose and his "Lonely Hearts."

Billy newest prophet of night club and guishes with his vast Casino de Paree and his huge music hall—both former legit theaters from which the seats were ripped, to be replaced by acres of table tops—green garnetions on the lapels of a corps of personable young men and set them to roving among the unescorted (or inadequately escorted) lady customers.

Frankly he called them gigolos. There was a tolerant giggle along Broadway over the idea, but no storms of normal indignation brewed either in the press or pulpit so far as I can ascertain. More surprisingly, the comely lads caused a minimum of altercation and a maximum of dowager enthusiasm.

Then Professor Rose reasoned, not without logic, that if gigolos could gig without damage to tender sensibilities of Broadway, a platoon of beauties "Lonely Hearts"—girls who actually appeared in the tableau numbers of the cabaret show and were yet available to men in the audience as companions at dinner and for dancing—would be the biggest wow up to that point.

Billy was wrong. Why he was wrong the average paying guest couldn't tell you. The physiognomical miners up at Columbia University might put the finger on the answer for you. I know the late great Charles Frohman could have stethoscoped the faulty valve in Billy's Lonely Hearts. And it wasn't the mild moral cloud which formed inconsistently about the scheme.

Mr. Frohman would have said that the public insists on having its showgirls wrapped in a cellophane glamour, if cellophane had then existed. He would have pointed out that all men who go to night clubs are Stage Door Johnnies at heart. They may profess to hanker to have this or that front-line cutie trip down from the stage a few feet—and a million miles—away, to clink glasses and submit to a mail-order rhumba version. Actually, they want to brought any lass to any table—now indite mushy messages on the edges of menus and send them backstage prayerfully.

Greasepaint Pairs.

They will tell you that being an actor and staying married to an actress is a juggling feat few have been able to perform consistently. That may be. But it is also true that Hollywood props have formed the background for many a marital venture as successful as most.

I refer, of course, to couples who are on the stage or screen concurrently and often together. No other profession, perhaps, boasts as many husbands and wives drawing similar salaries, commuting each morning to the same "office" and managing to live together without the certain hurricanes of jealousy that would founder the ship of the average surgeon-couple or dentist-couple or even writing-couple.

There are others. To flick a few from the surface of apparent felicity—Charles Laughton and his wife, Elsa Lanchester, models of celluloid happiness. Bruce Cabot and Adrienne Ames seem perfectly matched—after an earlier unhappy try on Adrienne's part to be happy outside the profession with a Wall Streeter. Her marriage to Stephen Ames was dissolved and she and Cabot hope to co-star together some day.

Joel McCrea and Frances Dee have been featured together and their offset Mr. and Mrs. arrangement seems as successful as their story wedding in "One Man's Journey," in which they played opposite each other. There are Stuart Erwin and June Collyer; George Arliss and Florence Montgomery; Ruby Keeler and Al Jolson—perhaps the most incessant bidders and coopers of them all; Cary Grant and Virginia Cherrill; Barbara Stanwyck and Frankie Fay; Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne . . . The list grows endless.

But if in the interim between the collision of these typewriter keys with paper and the hum of presses on one or more of the above doves cotes collapses—take a good look at the new principals. The chances are they will be active actor folk still. If it's true that actors and actresses can't be happy though married, it must be a parallel truism that they never learn anything by experience.

Iddiosyncrasies—

A new overbubbling of trotting horse enthusiasm has weaned many circled-eyed denizens of the Rialto make pilgrimage to the little village of Goshen, N. Y. The shades of old Alfred Vanderbilt and O. H. P. Belmont would be pleased to see the fever of sport that overtakes Goshen—with its normal 3,400 souls . . . Incidentally, the Hambletonian, classic $40,000 event of the trotters, is probably the most misspelled and mispronounced word in the lexicon of sport . . . Nine out of 10 scribblers insist on rendering it "Hamilton."

Harold Lloyd actually learned something more than a smattering of Chinese for his latest film, "The Catapaw" . . . Tutors arrived at the Lloyd home every evening and checked their mandarin coats with the butler before giving Harold a thorough workout in "the most difficult language in the world."

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Free For Asthma and Hay Fever

If you suffer with attacks of Asthma so terrible you choke and gasp for breath, if Hay Fever keeps you sneezing and sniffling while your eyes water and nose drip, if you are sensitive to pollen, if you are allergic to dust, if you are sensitive to mold, if you are sensitive to cats, dogs, birds, etc., if you are sensitive to flowers, etc., if you are sensitive to hay, grass, weeds, etc., if you are sensitive to trees, etc., if you are sensitive to fruits, etc., if you are sensitive to vegetables, etc., if you are sensitive to nuts, etc., if you are sensitive to shellfish, etc., if you are sensitive to fish, etc., if you are sensitive to meat, etc., if you are sensitive to dairy products, etc., if you are sensitive to eggs, etc., if you are sensitive to bread, etc., if you are sensitive to flour, etc., if you are sensitive to sugar, etc., if you are sensitive to coffee, etc., if you are sensitive to tea, etc., if you are sensitive to chocolate, etc., if you are sensitive to spices, etc., if you are sensitive to perfume, etc., if you are sensitive to cosmetics, etc., if you are sensitive to laundry detergents, etc., if you are sensitive to cleaning products, etc., if you are sensitive to paint, etc., if you are sensitive to varnish, etc., if you are sensitive

CHINESE YOUTH Fights for Its Right to FLAME

SHANGHAI

CHINA has been the battleground between the old and the new, the East and the West, for many years, but the battle is now entering a new field with the emancipation of China's flowered womanhood.

It isn't a question of votes for women, as nobody, man, woman or child, has a vote in this Chinese "Republic," but the battle goes on none-the-less around such hot issues as bobbed hair, public dances, open companionship with young men, selection of their own choice for a partner in nuptial bliss, and other such questions.

In many ways the struggle continues with all the gusto and vehemence and noise that characterized the inauguration of the "flapper era" in the United States just after the war—but with several Oriental trimmings, such as acid-throwing and deportations.

The customs and traditions that surrounded the Chinese maiden during the days of the Celestial Empire, the Flower Kingdom, widely varied with the different provinces but all were centered upon the idea of excessive modesty.

In most sections no self-respecting girl ever dared appear on the streets alone or with a man, even her husband. If she wished to travel through the streets of a city she was carried in an enclosed sedan chair on the backs of coolies. She could peep through slotted apertures in the covering of the sedan chair and see out without being seen. Women of the laboring classes were bound by no such inhibitions but virtually all others were.

THESSE customs prevail in the interior to a considerable degree today, but western ideas are slowly but surely creeping into the more accessible districts by way of the treaty ports—not, however, without a struggle. The introduction of foreign-style clothes and the employment of Chinese dancing partners and hostesses in night clubs, cabarets and dance halls are the two chief points of contention and dispute at the present time.

Foreign-style dress finds no favor with Chinese officialdom today, as the government is conducting a nation-wide campaign to make the people more race- and nation-conscious, and the latest styles from Paris have no place in this program.

From the central headquarters of the "National Bloody Group for the Extermination of Traitors" in Hangchow recently came the edict that members of the organization, which has branches in most cities of north China, should

Despite governmental edicts against bobbed hair, and fanatics who throw acid on foreign-made modern dresses, the once-shy Oriental maidens have rebelled against tradition and now flaunt sex appeal all over the place throw acid upon foreign clothes worn by Chinese women. This organization, composed mostly of fanatical patriots, has caused more than a little consternation among the frail sex with its edict.

Here's a modern dancing girl in one of the up-to-date pleasure spots in a Chinese treaty port.

The modern Chinese girl, however, prefers her own costume to that of the westerner and not without reason. The old costume of jacket and pants has disappeared largely from the treaty ports and in its place has come a modern Chinese gown of grace and beauty—a long, slinky, Oriental affair with very high collar, reaching down to the ankles, extremely simply fashioned in two places, clinging closely to the form of the body and accentuating every curve and dimple.

Under a western coat, this one-time sing-song girl wears the new distinctive dress of the modern Chinese girl.

It has slits on each side reaching up, in some cases, to the calf, and, in others, to a point two or three inches above the knees. Soft velvet, tiger-faced shoes, bobbed hair with an exotic flower in it, and long pendant earrings complete the ensemble of the modern Chinese girl for street wear.

EVEN this modernization has not been accomplished without trouble.

In Peiping, authorities issued an order forbidding Chinese women to bob their hair. In Shantung Province, the provincial governor, Han Fu-chu, went even further. He ordered the immediate arrest of all women with curled hair on the grounds that curled hair has a bad moral effect upon youth. Women thus caught within the toils of the law were given headshaves and turned out bald-headed.

In Canton, the form-fitting dress was barred from the streets under penalty of arrest.

But even with all these threats and official orders, China's "flaming youth" has progressed along its road to modernism. With a defiant sparkle in her dark eyes and a stamp of her velvet-slipped foot, the Chinese girl continues her defiance, and is slowly winning her right to curl her hair, powder her amber cheeks and rouge her bee-stung lips.

In the matter of working in cafes and cabarets she is finding a more difficult wall of opposition to hurdle. Chinese girls are forbidden to act as hostesses or dancing partners in the old capital, Peiping, and many militant and defiant girls have been deported to Tientsin and Shanghai for disobeying the official orders.

There are no such restrictions in most of the treaty ports and none in the foreign concessions of Shanghai, Hongkong or the outports. Dance halls and cabarets may be the pet anathemas of officialdom in Chinese territory, but not so in foreign-controlled areas.

NUMEROUS appeals have been made to the authorities of Canton for permission to hold public dances in that city, second largest in China, but always the answer is "thumbs down." Chinese authorities assert that young Chinese frequently exercise insufficient self-control and that they spend their hard-earned money in cabarets, indulging in resultant follies that often lead to suicide.

They state that young folks should contribute their cash to the government for the extermination of the enemy if surplus funds are burning holes in their pockets. And, when the matter is thus placed, the youths are made to feel they are traitors to China when they trip the light fantastic to the wailing of the saxophone and the thumping of the piano.

There are several hundred cabarets and dance halls in Shanghai alone, ranging from the "joints" in Rue Chu Pao San in the French Concession, variously known as "Blood Alley,"

"Skull Orchard" and the "Sawdust Trail," to the swankier cabarets where a man is out of place without long coat-tails, plug hat and booted shirt.

All cabarets and night clubs in this "Paris of the Orient," with less than half a dozen exceptions, employ dancing partners for the amusement, entertainment and frolicsome pleasure of customers. These dancing partners, or "taxi-dancers," comprise all nationalities, creeds and colors with the Chinese, Russian, Japanese and Korean femmes taking the lead in popularity.

Japanese and Korean partners are most popular in the majority of cabarets in Shanghai's famous Hongkew district, while Russian girls, exiles from their own country by the fortunes of war and revolution, are the favorites in most places in the Yangtzeopoo and Rue Chu Pao San districts. Elsewhere, with few exceptions, the Chinese beauty is the reigning queen among the cabaret patrons.

In the cabarets of the upper social crust—three dance tickets for a dollar—a Chinese dancing girl may earn as much as $500 or $600 Mex on good nights and it's cash business too. It is not uncommon for a rich taipan or wealthy Chinese to spend two or three thousand dollars on some sloe-eyed parchment-skinned princess during one evening.

So lucrative is the business of dancing in one of these smart places that the night clubs and cabarets are luring the finest talent and the most gorgeous beauty from the famed sing-song houses—an institution which the government has never frowned upon. Trained from infancy in the arts of entertainment à la sing-song, these girls find more pleasure and more money in the westernized cabaret, and as a result the day of the sing-song house is now on the wane.

One reason for this wholesale desertion from the sing-song house is the old custom of deferred payments. In the cabarets, the dancer gets cash every night. In the sing-song houses she is not paid until the next settlement day, which occurs three times a year, on the Spring Festival, Dragon Boat Festival and Harvest Festival.

THUS is China being modernized in the treaty ports. The infiltration of western ideas and customs is much slower in the interior, of course, where cabarets, dance halls and night clubs, modern theaters and other forms of western entertainment are unknown. These things are steadily encroaching upon all parts of the Celestial Empire and it won't be long now.

This westernization of the Chinese Sheba is not confined to the matter of dress and social activity alone, but has spread to the field of her thought and philosophy.

According to custom, the Chinese wife calls her husband "my lord" or the more simple term of "master," as if she were his chattel slave. If he went out for an evening of relaxation and amusement, he wouldn't dream of taking his wife along. It would be unthinkable for her to appear so publicly.

But not so today, in the treaty ports. She demands an even break. She demands to see her betrothed before she marries him. She wants to know where he is going, when he leaves the house, and where he has gone, when he returns. She demands, in short, the freedom of the western girl.

Who's Who and Why and Where in the Amazing N

A New York Society Reporter Reveals the Mysteries, Background and Characters of the Old Classic "400"—THIS WEEK: Tony Biddle's Valiant But Folly to Modernize Newport, Jimmy Cromwell's Pugilistic Whoopee and the Battle of the Hostesses to Keep the Blase Bluebloods Entertained

HEREWITH is presented the seventh and final instalment of a series of articles, by a veteran society reporter, analyzing the shifting currents, the strange twists and turns of what makes up the aristocracy today.

The author paints an amazing and authentic picture of the various patrician strata, and in this chapter she draws a piquant contrast between the staid antics of The Mauve Decade and the "madder music and stronger wine" of the post-war era.

By MARY CRANE MELLISH

"And a good time was had by all—"

HOW many millions of times has this ludicrous bromide been used by society editors as the final descriptive phrase of innumerable dull parties? A really amusing time is had by so few people in society! Hectic times, yes; good, bad and indifferent times—but how few amusing times!

One need only turn to the histories of New York of a hundred years ago to see that not only society but everything about society has undergone tremendous changes. What is one man's meat is another man's poison and what was great-great-grandma's idea of a good time is granddaughter's conception of a pain in the neck.

One of the explanations, of course, is that while society was a compact, homogeneous little group a hundred years ago, it now is a sprawling body that covers all sorts and types of men and women.

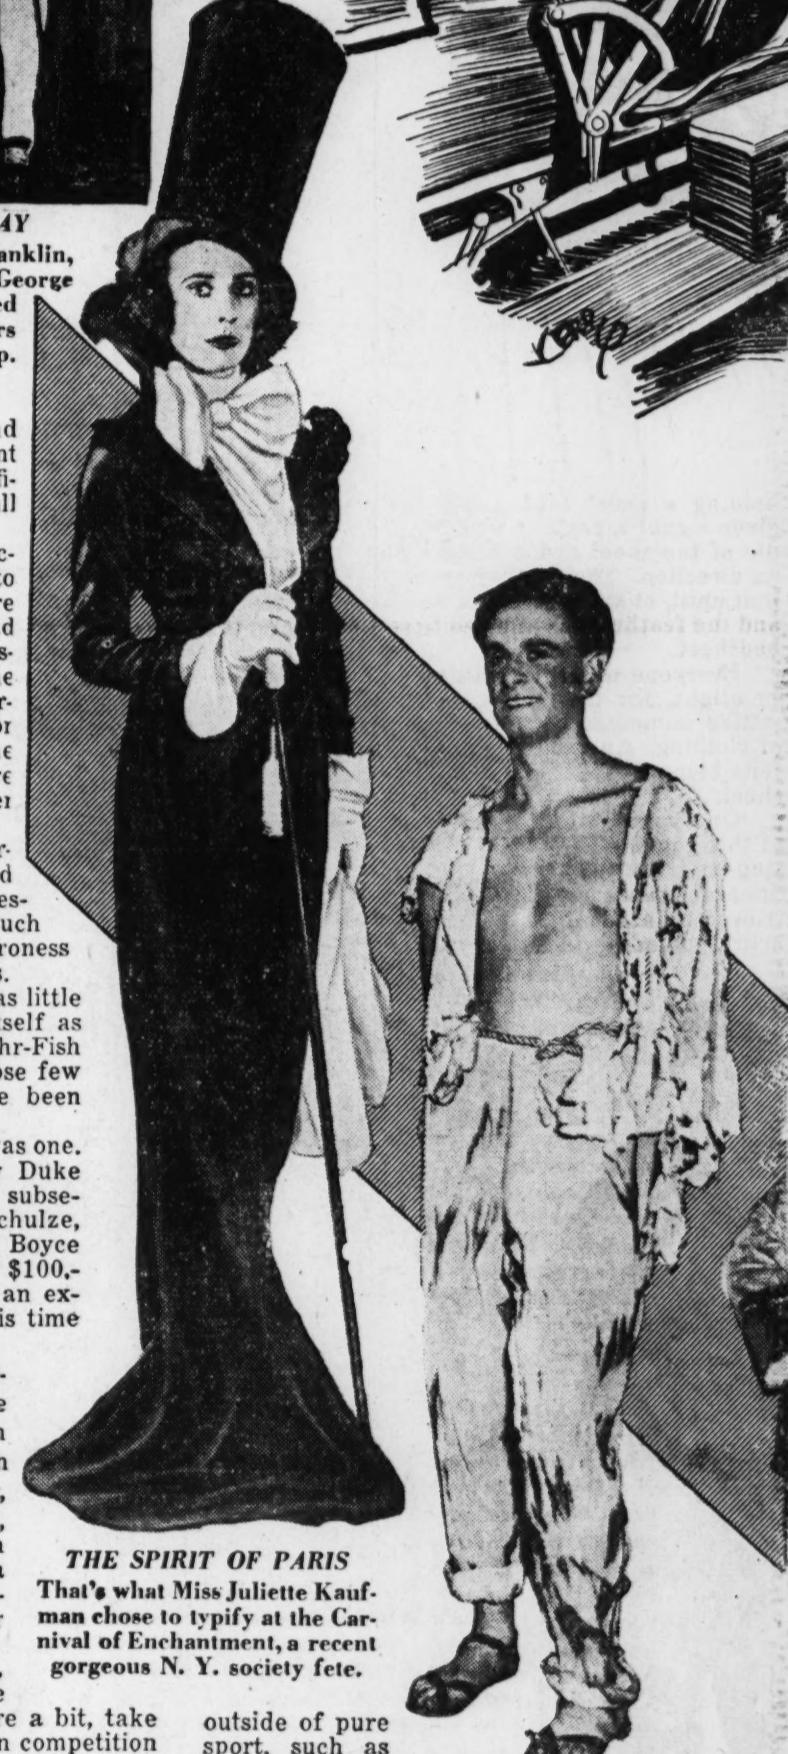

It has been a gradual development. One of the very earliest ringmasters was Ward McAllister. He was followed by Harry Lehr, who carried out most of his high jinks under the auto Modernize Newport, Jimmy Cromwell's Pugilistic Whoopee and the Battle of the Hostesses to Keep the Blase Bluebloods Entertained

BLUEBLOODS MUST PLAY

Jas M. Hewlett (left) as Ben Franklin, and Kenneth Murchison as George Washington, at the recently revived Beaux Arts Ball. Even adult members of society love to get all dressed up.

THE SPIRIT OF PARIS

That's what Miss Juliette Kaufman chose to typify at the Carnival of Enchantment, a recent gorgeous N. Y. society fete.

—AND IN CONTRAST

Aubrey Van Nostrand as "Youth" at the "Adventure Carnival," staged in Manhattan lately.

outside of pure sport, such as hunting and polo, are born of boredom. The result is that they usually are either puerile or ostentatious.

Last season the sons and daughters of Newport's haughtiest clans livened up what is to the youngsters always a dull spot, by playing an ultra-modern game that combined the best features of forfeits and strip poker.

The players sat, tailor fashion, on the floor,

THE CONSTITUTION NOW OFFERS ITS READERS

Every month a new pattern book will be offered by THE STYLIST---this book to be devoted to styles for a particular age or to fit a certain wardrobe. The first of these books will be called "THE CO-ED," and its 32 pages will contain only designs for those girls wearing sizes 11 to 19 and 14 to 20. Here is your chance to plan one of the smartest wardrobes you have ever had, and at a small cost. These patterns have never before ap-

New Deal Shuffle of Free-for-All New York Society

Changes of 1934's Mixed Aristocracy, in Bizarre Contrast

Futile Attempt

SHE CRACKS THE WHIP
Cobina Wright, whose picturesque circus society finds "just too amusing, my dear." Her sole rival as an entertainer is Elsa Maxwell.

holding a sheet taut under their chins. At a given signal a feather was dropped in the middle of the sheet and everyone blew like mad in its direction. The feather gyrated this way and that until, at another signal, the blowing stopped and the feather was allowed to settle back on the bedsheet.

Everyone waited breathlessly for the feather to alight, for the person in front of whom it settled immediately had to discard some article of clothing. And so the game went on, with forfeits being tossed right and left from under the sheet.

One young woman has a priceless souvenir of this game. The step-ins that she discarded were retrieved by a young artist, popular in

KIDDING THE NEWCOMER
"Jimmy Cromwell commandeered a 25-year-old auto, then rounded up a number of friends, got them to dress in costumes of 1910 and paraded to the railway station. At the head of the procession was a tatterdemalion negro band. As the limited snorted to a standstill and Bendix appeared on the Pullman steps, the band started a serenade and Jimmy and his pals a volley of cheers."

Drawing by George Kerr.

twenty-five year old automobile that still rested in the garage of his mother's palatial home, then rounded up a number of friends, including Mrs. Irving Netcher (Rozika Dolly) got them to dress in the costumes of 1910, and paraded to the railway station. At the head of the procession was the tatterdemalion negro band that has become a landmark in Palm Beach.

As the limited snorted to a standstill and Bendix appeared on the steps of his Pullman, the band started its serenade and Jimmy and his pals let loose a volley of cheers and choice greetings. They swooped down on the bewildered Bendix, deposited him in the old barouche, forced him to make a speech and then presented him with the keys of the city. Then the parade, still led by the band, started through the busy streets of West Palm Beach, crossed the bridge and paraded through Palm Beach proper to "Maison," Jimmy's bachelor quarters on the Stotesbury estate.

At first Bendix was nonplussed and slightly concerned. He was a relative newcomer to society and he feared that such a circus stunt might offend some of his more conservative acquaintances. But when some of the staidest matrons and most substantial men of the colony opined that it was "the most amusing reception they ever had seen," Vincent sighed with relief.

One year, incidentally, Bendix built and occupied a sumptuous ocean-front villa (since sold to Mrs. E. F. Albee, widow of the theatrical magnate) and, under the tutelage of the socially registered Caleb Bragg, took an active part in Palm Beach life. The high point of his entertaining was the dinner party he gave in the patio of one of Palm Beach's giddy night-club restaurants. In the center of the open patio a prize ring was erected and all during dinner, guests were entertained with boxing bouts. Between bouts the ring was used for dancing!

It is in Palm Beach that one sees giddy entertaining. Hosts and hostesses go out and buy up the most elaborate and unusual entertainment that they can imagine. Mrs. Edward F. Hutton, for example, hired an entire traveling circus for one of her soirees. And when she discovered that the company did not include a "kootch" dancer, she ordered the proprietor to import one—in a hurry.

There is a vast difference between parties of this sort—which depend solely on the entertainment that can be bought and the degree of lavishness with which the hostess can surround her party—and the parties that have brought fame to the present ringmasters, Cobina Wright and Elsa Maxwell. They require that their guests entertain themselves, which, to a large degree, is what McAllister and Lehr did in their day.

Cobina Wright, for example, stages the Circus Ball (the proceeds of which go to charity) and society enjoys it not because the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria is gaily decorated and fringed with side shows, but because society must enter into the spirit of the thing to the extent of wearing a circus costume and acting the part.

Cobina has a keen sense of mob psychology; she believes that gaiety,

like a yawn, spreads.

The first requisite of every party, she says, is a gay, vivi-

cious hostess who looks and acts as if she's having the time of her life.

Elsa Maxwell's

philosophy differs but slightly. She labors over her guest lists, for the one thing that she will not tolerate is a bore.

be it an Astor, a Vanderbilt or a Zilch.

One of her particular faculties is mixing

society and the arts and making both of them love it. She makes a Jimmy

Durante the sensation of Park Avenue's swankiest parties.

She, too, believes in making people amuse themselves. One of her most famous parties was the one at which everyone came disguised as someone else. Elsa, short and rotund, was a perfect replica of Herbert Hoover while Ina Claire came as Bishop Manning and Bishop Manning didn't come at all! Mrs. Vincent Astor appeared as Mae West and so it went—hilariously.

Society is exhibitionistic. Its members love to wear fancy costumes.

Over a period of years

nothing has been more successful than the Beaux

Arts Ball and pageant, staged under the supervision of Kenneth Murchison, who seems as good as a stage director as he is an architect. Lila Agnew

Stewart never has any trouble recruiting volunteers for her annual Judson Health Center benefit pageant. The skating Club of New York

Miss Anna La Chappelle and Reuben Crane at the Beaux Arts Ball. (and don't think THAT isn't highly social) goes in for pageantry on ice skates and its members eat it up.

Some of the restaurateurs and night-club proprietors, both in New York and in society resorts, have become highly popular because they organize society's amusements. John Persona, at his Westchester Bath Club, has inaugurated roller skating and bicycle polo. It is played on the huge outdoor dining terrace which adjoins the pool. More than one young blade, pedaling like fury down the "field" intent on making a goal, has found himself unable to stop and has plunged over the handle bars into the pool.

Do you still have the social bee in your bonnet? If this series hasn't cured you of the ambition to be in "The Four Hundred," why, good luck. At least it has explained how the new deal shuffle works and how with money, the ability to entertain and the capacity to take a lot of punishment, almost anyone can be "in society."

NEXT WEEK—What if YOUR son or daughter committed a crime? Would you be loyal to Justice, or would you cheat, lie and blacken your own name to save your offspring? Read a famous psychologist's analysis of this gripping problem.

Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken, society dowager, in a fantastic ensemble of furbelows and feathers.

Elsa Maxwell in a Chinese costume she designed.

At Palm Beach this year, the colony was highly entertained by the reception staged by Jimmy Cromwell for one of his house guests, Vincent Bendix, the automobile and aviation tycoon from South Bend.

Jimmy, the son of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, ("Queen of Palm Beach"), commanded a

A NEW, SPECIALIZED PATTERN SERVICE

peared in The Constitution; they are inexpensive and they may be ordered through The Constitution. Every type of style is offered through THE CO-ED in its easiest-to-make form. See the first offer in the woman's section of today's Constitution and place your order now, addressed to THE STYLIST, CARE THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, enclosing ten cents. Be sure to specify that you wish a copy of THE CO-ED.

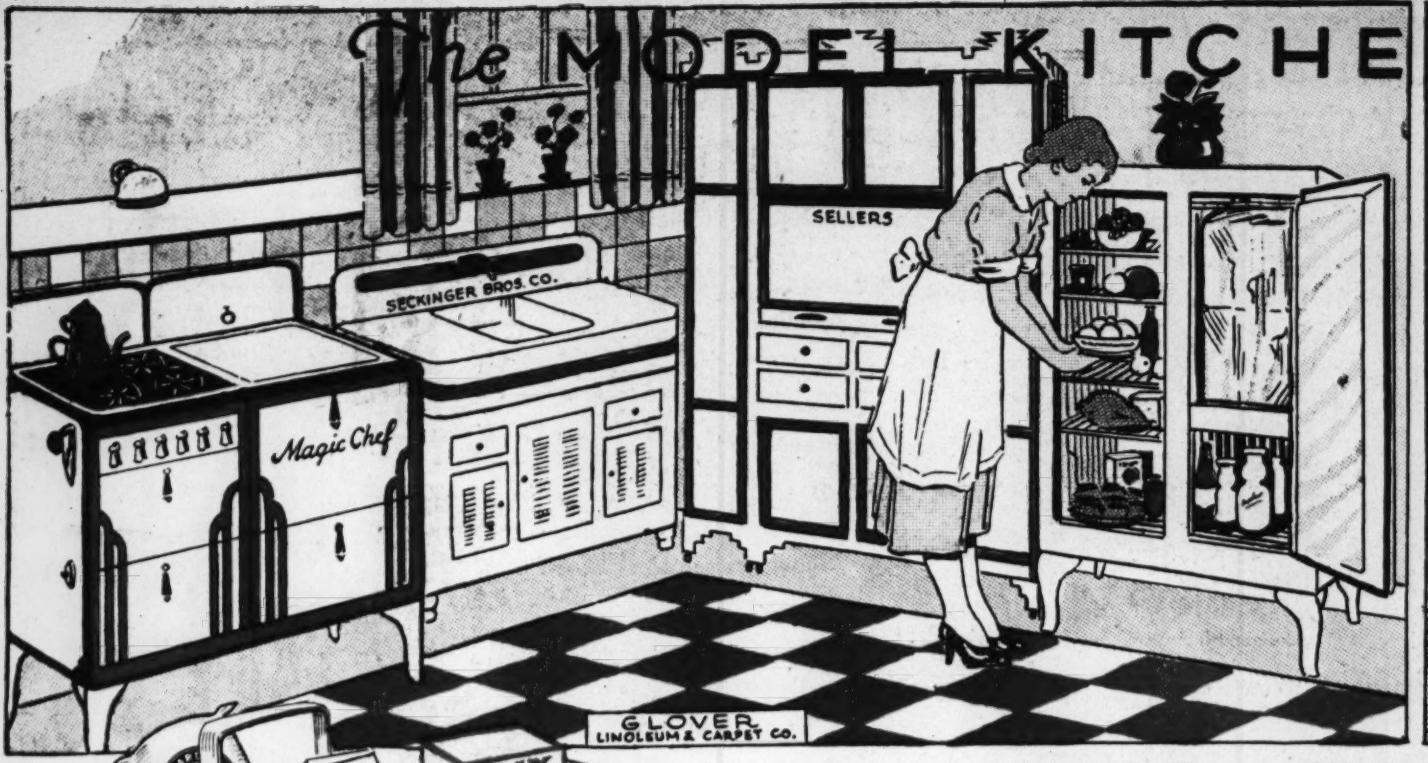

FOR THE CAMPUS, a charming reefer of rust brown monks cloth cut on slender lines and with strong double seams is practical for sport and all weather. It is worn with an adorable alpine hat of pea green celtacil, sketched at the lower right.

P.D.

★

P.D.

JAY,
ST 19,
4

"Wise Housewives Trade at Rogers!"

(Submitted by Mrs. Homer Carter, 1411 Woodward Ave., C.)

"I never guess! I make sure of QUALITY by always shopping at Rogers Stores. Here I find high quality at low cost to be a well-known and outstanding feature."

"Then there's the knowledge that only foods from Rogers are on my table—then I know I'm serving quality that always brings hearty encore; purity that's synonymous with good cheer; and economy that boosts the family budget."

"Rogers' High Quality at Low Cost service takes my worries away . . . subtracts from my household worries . . . multiplies the pleasure of meal preparation . . . and divides the cost of living!"

"Baked-In" Flavor Bread

Pure, wholesome bread. There is no better food for children or grown-ups. When you buy Merita, you are sure of bread made with the finest ingredients. But that isn't all. The new Merita Twist Loaf is so richly delicious, so generously flavored, it makes everything taste better.

Merita bread to the family for a few days then see if they will ever be satisfied with any other kind. And, remember, the Merita Twist Loaf costs no more than ordinary breads.

Get Merita "Baked-In" flavor bread fresh daily — at your Grocers.

Savings Threatened?

It may be that you need a little cash right at this time, and you are reluctantly considering "raid" on your savings.

This is not necessary. Pleasant and satisfactory arrangements can be made for you at the Southland Loan and Investment Company. You can rely on the advice and assistance this company is prepared to give you. Southland is a Southern institution that merits the prestige it has established by years of faithful service.

207 Volunteer Bldg., W.A. 4289.

START TODAY!

Start today to have lighter, fluffier biscuits, flakier pastries, better bakings of all kinds—by using Ballard's Obelisk Flour! This fine flour brings new whiteness and tenderness to bakings, because of its superior grain-ingredient.

Obelisk is made of the choice plump grains of selected winter wheat! It keeps bakings fresh longer, it requires less shortening, less kneading. You can't buy a finer flour at any price.

Obelisk has been the standard of the South for over 50 years. It is sold everywhere at grocers. Ask for it by name—look for the Obelisk trade-mark on every package.

New On Our Page . . .

But Not New To Millions

We are to have the pleasure of telling you about America's favorite candy bar, Baby Ruth! If you don't already know how good Baby Ruth is? Why, there were 1,475 one-cent Baby Ruth bars eaten every minute during 1933. Doesn't that prove that people "know about Baby Ruth?" Of course, but we want to remind you that millions have chosen Baby Ruth for its superior qualities, made possible because only the best materials go into its making.

Candy bars come and go, but Baby Ruth leads on! Build up energy and vitality by eating Baby Ruth every day—delicious and wholesome!

Foods Need Fresh Air—Only Ice Refrigeration Provides It!

Fruits and vegetables in their natural condition just as they are maturated by nature are at their best. To keep them in an appetizing and wholesome condition, air that surrounds them in your refrigerator must be fresh, clean and vitalizing . . . constantly circulating air, that has been freed from the odors and gases given off by all perishable foods . . . air that contains just the proper amount of moisture to prevent drying out or dehydrating.

Foods need plenty of pure, fresh, cold air that can be found only in an approved ice refrigerator.

Investigate the advantage of ice refrigeration over any other form. It costs far less. Ask your man about the modern, beautifully styled, low-priced 1934 ice refrigerators.

Skidoo Cleans with Creamy Lather

No soil on hard surfaces can resist Skidoo, it is not harsh. And so easy to use—just a touch of Skidoo on a damp cloth keeps pots and pans, stoves, tiles, aluminum, chromium, porcelain, plumbing fixture, linoleum—everything like new!

Milk Promotes Longevity

A doctor at Yale University has made the statement that there are a larger number of persons, 100 or more years of age, in countries where milk is a chief article of diet, than there are few who die before this age in countries where the consumption of milk is not so common.

To increase good health which add to the joy in living, and to guard against the invasion of premature death, his advice is to drink milk—but make sure that it is pure and from a dairy that is sanitary and very reliable.

Such a product is Aristocrat Milk, brought to you by the Aristocrat Dairies, rich in the elements which nourish and build healthy bodies.

... And the Twain Shall Meet

In a cup of delightful tea! If you have read the remarkable history of tea, how complicated it is to produce our tea, where and when the best tea is grown, how ingenious is the art of perfect blending, then—no doubt you are one of the thousands who appreciate the unusual qualities of Tetley Tea.

You may know, the tea shoot has four leaves, decreasing in size as they near the tip of the shoot, when the leaves are full. The leaf near the tip is smallest and most tender—it is Orange Pekoe. Next comes Pekoe, Pekoe Souchong, and Souchong—the large coarse leaf at the lower part of the plant. Now glance at your Tetley Tea package—you see that you are getting the leaves richest in volatile oils, for only the slenderest Pekoe and Pekoe leaves are used.

From the cool slopes of the orient, where tea grows best, the Joseph Tetley agents select for you the finest tea in the world . . . its flavor is subtle and enchanting.

If you are not already a Tetley Tea enthusiast, try one package and you will join the ranks of those who enjoy it daily.

To try custard, stick the blade of a silver knife into it. If it comes out clean, the custard is done.

Winners for July 29 IN ARISTOCRAT ICE CREAM CONTEST.

FIRST: Mrs. W. E. Butler, Jr., 1915 Piedmont Road, N.E., City, $5.00.

SECOND: Miss Edna Earle Cameron, Y. W. C. A., City, $3.00.

THIRD: Mrs. W. A. Quarles, Smyrna, Ga., $2.00.

Designed To Win a Woman's Heart

The Magic Chef possesses the exquisite charm and grace of fine furniture. Like an attractive radio, it is ingeniously designed to conceal the working parts. Its service character is cleverly and artistically hidden; yet, Magic Chef has more modern service features than are combined in any other range.

Finally, as has been aptly said, "The inviting kitchen of today is distinctly a social asset," and the foremost contribution to the modern kitchen is Magic Chef.

Canova is "Oven-fresh"

Why do so many coffee lovers invariably think of Canova when vacuum packing of coffee is discussed? Because they know that ten years ago Canova adopted the vacuum pack as the one sure way to preserve the oven-fresh fragrance; flavor and full body of fine coffee.

Switch to Canova for coffee content.

Brookfield Deviled Crabs

(Submitted by Mrs. Kenneth Lawing, 120 Crawford St., Thomasville, Ga.)

Two dozen crabs, 1 pint Aristocrat cream, 1 pound Brookfield Butter, Carey's Salt, pepper, cayenne pepper, Tabasco sauce.

Pick the crabs carefully after they are boiled, and season with a part of Brookfield Butter, cayenne pepper and Carey's salt to taste. Melt remaining Brookfield Butter and add Aristocrat cream and some fine stale Merita bread crumbs. Fill the shells and put a top of each one and sprinkle crumbs over them, then brown in a hot Magic Chef oven. Serve hot with Tabasco sauce.

Call for Comet Rice by name!

Call for Comet Rice

A BEAR FOR FOOD—The bear, let's see, which one IS the bear? Oh yes the bear is at the left. The bear lost a watermelon eating contest to Tubby Walton, Atlanta sandlot baseball promoter. And note how the bear feels—and looks—about it. The bear is owned by Allen Darden of Norcross. (Bill Mason)

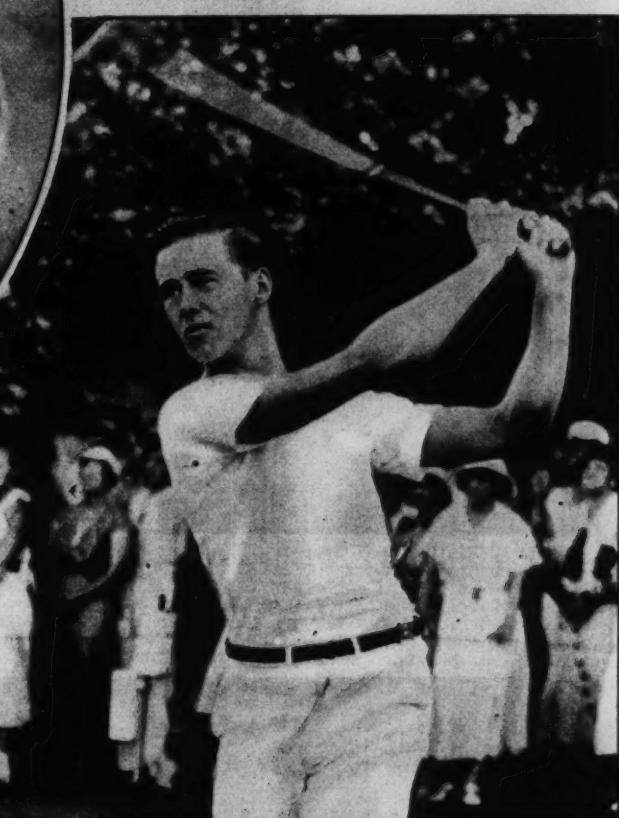

THE LATEST IS CANNED ROSES. California florists have perfected a process whereby roses may be canned and shipped throughout the country. They say it will soon be possible to purchase a can of the flowers which when opened are as fresh as those just picked from the garden.

WEDDING PARTY of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stephen Callahan photographed at the brilliant dinner-dance that followed their recent wedding. The bride was formerly Miss Mary Jo Bird, daughter of Mrs. B. W. Bird, Sr., of Atlanta. Left, right, R. E. Hodges, best man; Miss Evelyn Bird, maid of honor, and the bride and groom. (Turner Hiers)

ONE OF THE BEST action pictures ever made of a bicycle race and spill was made at the Wisconsin fair. A second later all of the riders were in a heap.

A NEW BOBBY JONES—Here is 16-year-old Bobby Jones—no relation of Bobby, the Great—who has caused a sensation in the eastern junior championships at Hinsdale, Ill. His followers have hopes that he will some day assume the golf stature of the Atlanta "grand slam" champion.

WITH A CAP WAVE and a smile Babe Ruth bids farewell to the Boston fans. He probably will never play there again as a regular ball player. The Bambino announced recently that he would end his active baseball career with the close of the current season.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS PEACH BALL, QUEEN—Miss Lucy Cara Ham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ham of Cairo, Ga., will represent that city at Century of Progress on Georgia Day. Atlanta's peach queen will be selected at the "Peach Ball" to be held at the Piedmont Driving Club, September 14.

CONSTITUTION FINALS—Al Martin, left, beat A. J. Martin, right, out of the 19th hole in Atlanta newspaper golf tournament when Martin's shot from trap struck Mrs. Kaiser on the shoulder, the ball falling near the hole. Mrs. Kaiser was in the gallery. Both golfers are Constitution employees. (Kenneth Rogers)

THE LATEST CRAZE IN RACING is well illustrated in this picture. The Miami racing dogs and monkeys enter with enthusiasm into the spirit of the thing.

HERE IS HOW A HAIL STORM near Morrison, Colo., piled up the frozen pellets when a cloud burst poured tons of hail over a wide portion of the drought area.

W. A. WATSON, OF THOMSON, GA., caught by the camera as he offered up a blessing before the thousands who attended the recent Talmadge rally in that city. He is a brother of the late Senator Tom Watson. (Turner Hiers)

THE FIRST PHOTOGRAPH of the supreme court of Georgia as it is now constituted. From left to right are Justice R. C. Bell, Justice Marcus W. Beck, Chief Justice Richard B. Russell Sr., Justice Samuel H. Atkinson, Justice Price Gilbert, and Justice John B. Hutcheson.
(George Cornett.)

THIS STRIKING BUST OF J. J. HAVERTY, prominent Atlantan, will be exhibited at the High Art Museum this fall. It is the latest work of Julian H. Harris, local sculptor, who stands at right. Jim Haerty McGaughy, grandson of Mr. Havertry is on the left.
(Paul Robinson)

WHEN VIRGIL KING, 10-year-old Atlanta winner of the "Soap Box" Derby, visited the George Muse Clothing Company to be awarded a complete wardrobe for his trip to the derby finals at Dayton, Ohio, he received an unexpected surprise. Tom Sanders, Muse advertising department artist, sketched his likeness in crayon. Standing, left to right, are Roy Prather, Robert E. Martin, Muse's advertising manager, and W. L. Flemister, Muse's boy's department manager.

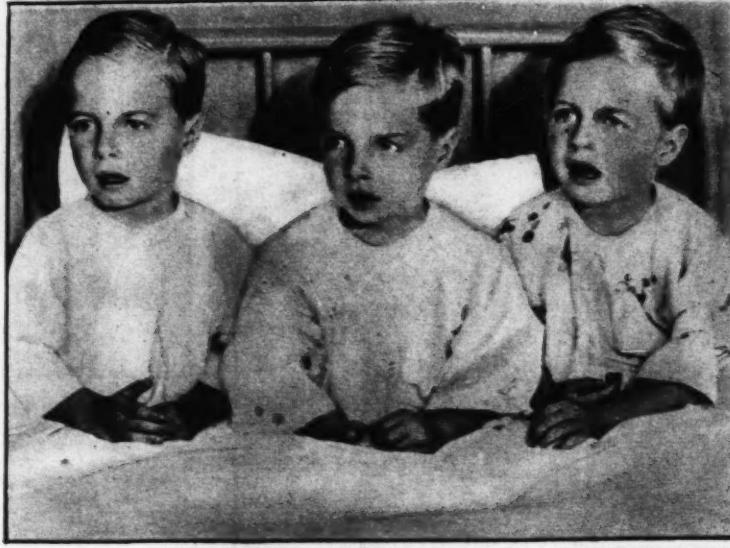

BIRDS-EYE VIEW OF A NEW DANCE. The dancing masters assembled at their 51st annual convention in New York, watched Audrey Denniston, and Leo Kehl perform the gyrations of the streamline fox trot, a new dance to be introduced this fall.

PEACH QUEEN. Miss Louise Eiford, recently elected queen of the Albany Century of Progress Peach Ball. She will represent Albany at the Georgia Day festivities at the World's Fair in Chicago.

(Left) MISS SALLY McRAE, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Max L. McRae of Monroe, Ga., who is the official hostess of the Georgia exhibit at the Chicago Century of Progress.

FIRST LADY WITH HER NEWEST DAUGHTER-IN-LAW. One of the few photographs ever made of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her newest daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt.

"ALL FOR ONE—ONE FOR ALL." Like the "Three Musketeers," the famous Robertson triplets, of Orange, N. J., are one. When one gets something, they all get it, seemingly, and we show them sharing a bed in a hospital after tonsil operations.

(Left) MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH V. FREITAG, of Atlanta, vacationing at Lake Louise, Alberta, Canada. In the background is the Victoria Glacier.

HERE'S AL LATINGER, 23-year-old sailor waving farewell to friends on shore at Daytona Beach, Fla., as he sailed for Spain.

Photographed by Kenneth Rogers.

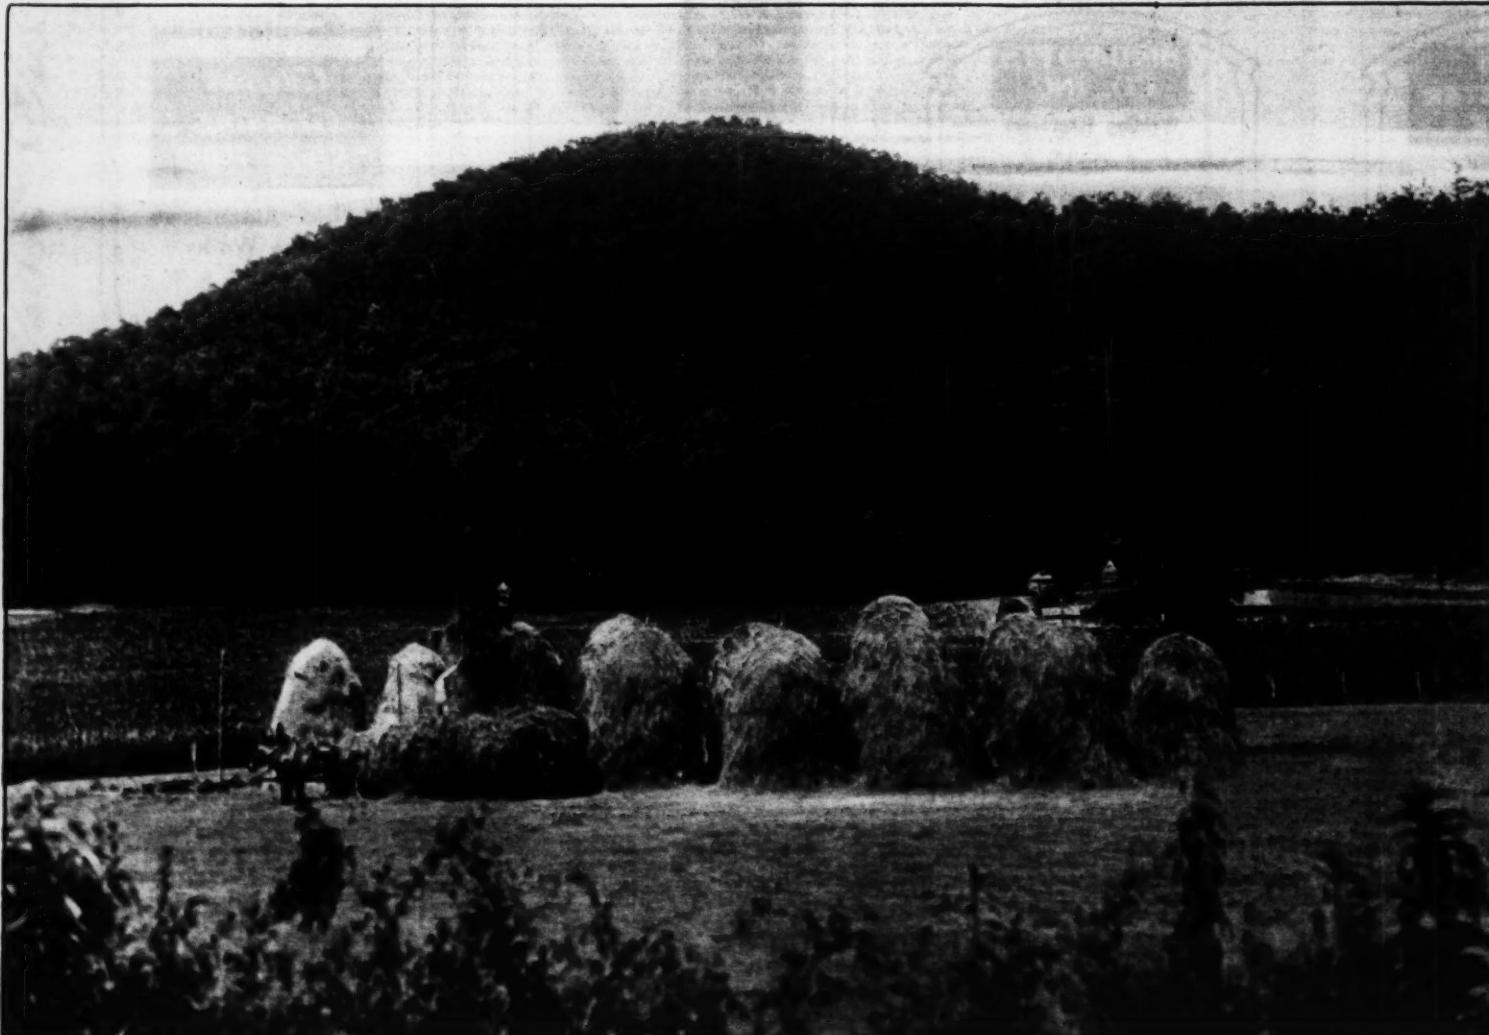

THE CONSTITUTION ROVING FORD on the Chatsworth-Ellijay highway. This still unfinished road above the clouds will be one of eastern America's finest scenic highways when completed. Skirting the mountainside the views that unfold before the traveler are unsurpassed.

DOESN'T THIS PICTURE make you yearn for the ripple of a friendly brook? It is a sight you may see any day during the hot months along north Georgia streams.

ON THIS MOUNTAIN PEAK, above Chatsworth, De Soto built a fort the walls of which still stand. The point marked by the flag is where his Spanish adventurers kept watch over the Indian villages in the valley below.

MAKING HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES—No more fertile land exists than the sheltered valleys of the Georgia Blue Ridge. This scene was made near Clayton.

THE GEORGIA MOUNTAINS offer a wonderful location to those who like an out-of-door life. These vacationists from Florida are spending a month high in the hills.

THIS BEAUTIFUL NOOK is on Clay creek near Dahlonega.

CHA TSWORTH, nestled in the Blue Ridge, is the western terminus of one of Georgia's most spectacular highways. The road is still under construction.

$50
IN CASH
TO READERS
OF THIS PAGE

THE BEST IN EVERY LINE FOR YOUR AUTOMOBILE

PRODUCTS AND SERVICES OF EXCEPTIONAL MERIT THAT GIVES COMPLETE SATISFACTION TO EVERY AUTOMOBILE, TRUCK AND MOTORCYCLE OWNER ARE SHOWN ON THIS PAGE.

In one advertisement on this page telephone number of advertiser is incorrect—in one advertisement the name of advertiser is not spelled correctly—in six advertisements address of the advertiser is incorrect. TWENTY DOLLARS IN CASH will be given for the best one-hundred-word article on the advantages of buying from or using the products or services of the advertiser whose phone number is incorrect. SIX DOLLARS IN CASH will be given for the best one-hundred-word article on the advantages of buying from or using the products or services of the advertiser whose name is not spelled correctly. FOUR DOLLARS IN CASH WILL BE GIVEN FOR THE SIX BEST one-hundred-word articles on the advantages of buying from or using the products or services of the six advertisers whose street address is incorrect:

CONTEST RULES: Article must not be more than one hundred words and corrected advertisement must be attached to your article. Write plainly in ink on one side of the page ONLY. Sign your name and address at bottom of page. Employees of The Constitution and the advertisers on this page, as well as members of their families, are not eligible.

Address articles to Rotogravure Prize Editor, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. All answers must be mailed or brought to The Constitution before September 5, 1934. The six prize-winning articles will be published in The Constitution September 10, 1934.

$50
IN CASH
TO READERS OF THIS PAGE

AUTO TOPS
RE-COVERING SEAT COVERS
UPHOLSTERING
TRIMMING
WOODWORK REPAIRED

A. L. QUINN AUTO
TOP & BODY CO.
780 Gordon St., S. W.
RA. 9337

HOOD'S HI-TEST
PYROIL LUBRICATING
GASOLINE
Hold by Independent Service Stations
Mileage-Metered
Hyvis Motor Oils
DISTRIBUTED EXCLUSIVELY BY
Hood Oil Co.
398 Lamberts St., N. W. MA. 8136-8137.

General Electric
Auto Radios
SALES—SERVICE
Two Remarkable New Sets.
New Performance.
$40.50 Up
"Don't Cuss—Phone Us"
PRIOR TIRE CO.
WA. 8875

REPAIRS TO ALL MAKES OF CARS

A specialized, personal service that guarantees satisfaction on every transaction. Ask about Our Finance Plan for Reconditioning.

WRECKER SERVICE
BANNISTER AND BENNETT

555 W. Whitehall St., S. W.
RA. 1912
24-HOUR SERVICE

AUTO GLASS REPLACED IN A FEW MINUTES

F. J. COOLEIDGE & SONS
AUTO GLASS DEPARTMENT
400 MARIETTA ST.
WA. 4206

THE BEST CHROMIUM PLATING
For all automobile parts
Table silver and hollowware correctly done.
Expert silver repairing a specialty.
Phone for estimates.
Atlanta Plating Works, Inc.
1078 Washington St., S. W. MA. 8285

FENDERS AND BODIES

Our experts—men with years of experience—true artists in sheet metal and wood—restore bent fenders and bodies, replace broken or faulty woodwork.
IMPERIAL BODY WORKS
C. M. BOWDEN, Mgr.
JOE KILIAN, Buyl.
17 Piedmont Ave., N. E.
WA. 5242

It's Good Business to Have Adequate
Auto and Personal
Insurance Protection

Auto owners will find it a profitable investment to consult us on their insurance problems.
Spratlin, Harrington and Thomas
"Protection Plus Service"
72 Marietta St., N. W.
WA. 6147

RADIATORS REPAIRED REBUILT
15 Years of Satisfactory Radiator Service
DIXIE RADIATOR AND WELDING CO.
E. E. "RED" PARKER
PROPRIETOR
23 Ivy St., N. E.
WA. 2341
"DON'T FORGET OLD DIXIE"

AUTOMOTIVE ELECTRICIANS
GOODYEAR
TIRES
We Feature the Celebrated
"G-3"
45% More
Miles at
No Extra Cost to
You.
"MOLLY" WILLIAMSON
618 North Avenue
Herrick 10,000

BRAKE SERVICE
ELECTRIC
BRAKE TESTER
Harris Rim & Wheel Co., Inc.
404-406 W. Peachtree St.
JA. 4320

UNITED SPEEDOMETER SERVICE
B. F. STARR
PROPRIETOR
Atlanta's Only
Exclusive Speedometer
Specialist
Repair All Makes Speedometers.
A 90-Day Guarantee on All Work—Lowest Possible Cost.
300 Peachtree St., N. E.
JA. 2618

BIRD-POTTS
CO., INC.
Welding Engineers
"We Lead—Others Follow"
ANY KIND OF WELDING
Springs—Radiators
Tanks—Boilers—
Smokestacks—Machine
Shop—Blacksmith Shop
375-81 MARIETTA ST.
1400 SOUTH PRYOR ST.
Phone JA. 6954 MAIN 3870
Oldest Welding and Repair Co. in the South

Expect
More of CORDS
Hi-Speed Oil and Compression
RINGS
Dealerships open in a few locations. Call or write Cords Piston Ring
Sales Co., Inc.
71 CURRIER ST.
Atlanta—Phone WA. 8198

ENGINE ReManufacturing
Custom
Grinding
"Since 1905"
McNeal Automotive Engine Works
300 Rawson St., S. W.
WA. 6407

NEW AND USED PARTS
Ready for Immediate Delivery
Cleaned and Inspected
L. W. D. AUTO PARTS CO.
WHOLESALE & RETAIL
200 Peters Street—WA. 8261

AUTOMOBILE
RE-FINANCING
We will pay your automobile contract and rearrange the notes over a longer period, so that they will be more convenient.
AMERICAN DISCOUNT CO.
203 SPRING ST., N. W.
WA. 1147

GENERATORS REPAIRED, REBUILT
Guaranteed Rebuilt Generators Installed.
ARMATURES REWOUND
STARTER SERVICE AND REPAIRS
JONES ARMATURE WORKS
180 IVY ST., N. E.
JA. 8784

Harley-Davidson for Pleasure, Police and
Special Delivery
Driver and Motorcycle Delivery Service Furnished on Weekly or Monthly Basis.
HARLEY-DAVIDSON
SALES—SERVICE—PARTS
Cunningham Motorcycle Co.
17 HUNNICKET ST., N. W.—JA. 8200
ATLANTA, GA. COLUMBUS, GA. GREENVILLE, S. C.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTION FOR EVERY AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE OWNER
WHEN YOU USE THE PRODUCTS AND SERVICES SHOWN ON THIS PAGE

AXLES—FRAMES—WHEELS
STRAIGHTENED AND REPAIRED
FREE INSPECTION
Wheel & Axle Alignment Co.
A. H. MURRELL D. F. TREADWELL
"Atlanta's Only Alignment Specialists"
214 Spring St., N. W.—WA. 3421

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st
COMIC SECTION

1st
COMIC
SECTION

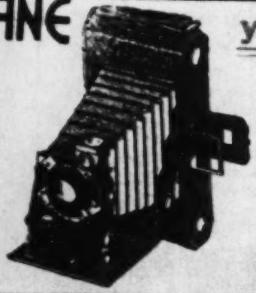

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, AUGUST 19, 1934.

LANE

your HEADQUARTERS

... for Kodaks, films and supplies—Low prices are a tremendous help to amateur photographers—and our expert laboratory facilities are at your service!

ONE - DAY
SERVICE!

Films brought in before 9 A. M. are ready for delivery by 5 P. M.—We guarantee our prints NOT to FADE!

"Always the Best"

LANE
DRUG STORES

Choice of Many Special Flavors

20¢ pt. • delivered
pkg. to you • Two
for 35¢

Southern Dairies Ice Cream

—the only ice cream approved by Good Housekeeping! The only cream that has not been sacrificed in quality to meet a price!

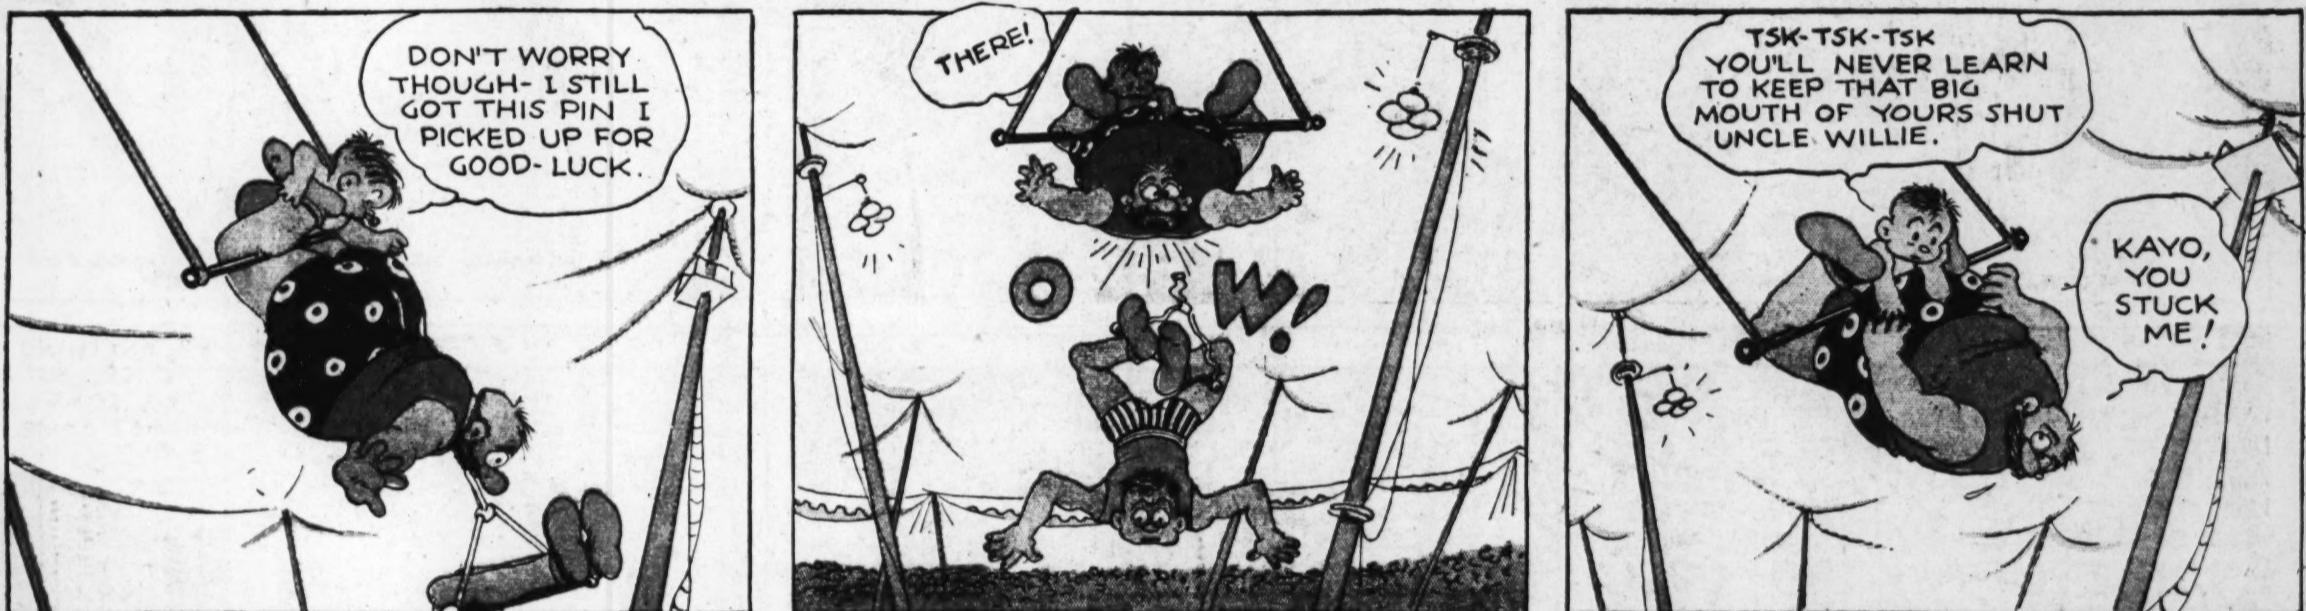

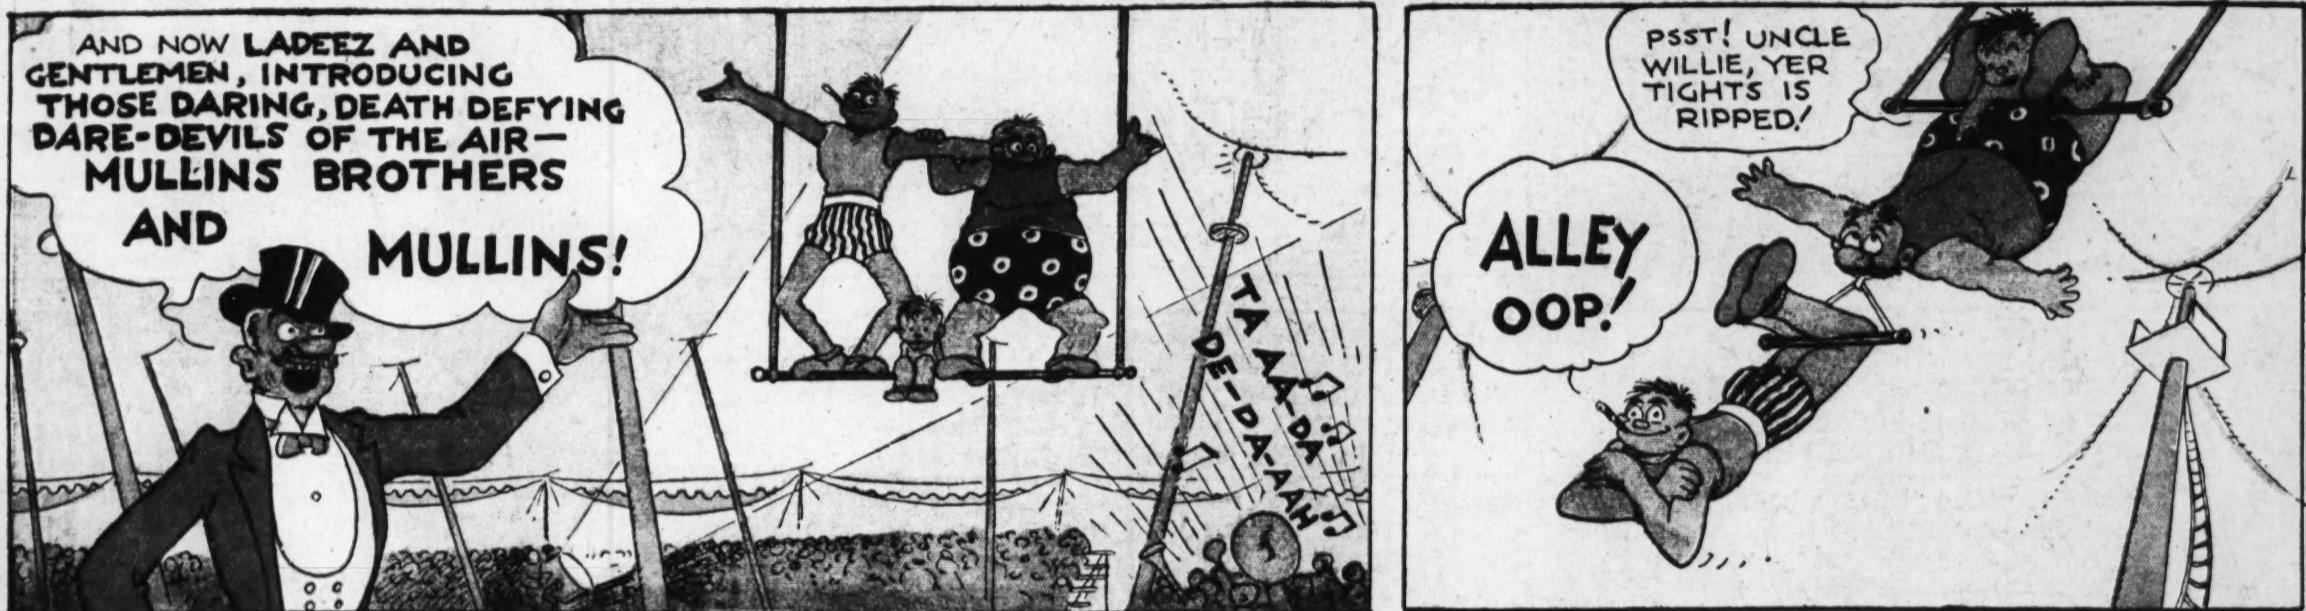

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

2nd
COMIC SECTION

2nd
COMIC
SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, AUGUST 19, 1934.

MILE-A-MINUTE MARTY

—by—

"Ernie" Beaudry

We don't believe everything we hear about cars going great distances on next to no-gas-at-all, but we DO know that the mechanically perfect car is the least expensive to run. Motorists have found our cars economical---PLUS!

HOW DOES SOCIETY ENTERTAIN ITSELF?

What are its pleasures and its amusements? The careers of some of society's famous "court jesters" are reviewed in page four of today's CONSTITUTION MAGAZINE, in the concluding chapter of "Who's Who and Why and Where in the Amazing New Deal Shuffle of Free-for-All New York Society."

THE WORLD'S

The Atlanta Constitution, Sunday, August 19, 1934.

GREATEST COMICS

IN CALIFORNIA AT LAST! AND ACTUALLY APPROACHING THE ROADSIDE LUNCH ROOM OF JUNIOR TRACY'S MOTHER, LARCENY LU AND MORTIMER CONTEMPLATE THEIR NEXT MOVE IN THE NEFAIRIOUS SCHEME TO TAKE THE WOMAN TO HER SON IN RETURN FOR HALF OF THE BOY'S LEGACY.

SO THAT'S WHERE JUNIOR TRACY'S MOTHER IS SUPPOSED TO BE RUNNING A HOT DOG STAND, EH?

YES, THAT'S THE PLACE! "THE COFFEE POT."

WELL, SHALL WE STOP - FOR A CUP OF COFFEE AND LOOK THE LAYOUT OVER?

NO - NO - NOT NOW! KEEP ON GOING, YOU SAP.

LET'S GO ON INTO TOWN TO A HOTEL, GET ROOMS, GET CLEANED UP AND THINK OUR PLANS OUT BETTER. THEN COME OUT HERE TOMORROW.

OKAY, LU.

MEANWHILE AMONG OUR FRIENDS BACK AT HEADQUARTERS, A VERY NEW AND WHOLLY UNEXPECTED SITUATION IS DEVELOPING... WITH PAT PATTON THE CENTER OF ATTENTION.

THAT'S WHAT HE SAID, TRACY! HE'S GOING TO RESIGN FROM THE FORCE AND QUIT THE DETECTIVE GAME.

PAT! DO YOU MEAN TO TELL ME YOU'RE A QUITTER? YOU'RE GIVING UP?

WHY NOT, TRACY? I'VE KNOWN FOR MONTHS I WAS A WASHOUT AS A DICK. WHY I HAVEN'T MADE AN IMPORTANT ARREST IN TWO YEARS.

DO YOU KNOW WHY YOU HAVEN'T MADE AN IMPORTANT ARREST? YOU DON'T USE YOUR NOODLE. YOU OUGHT TO STUDY CRIMINOLOGY FROM A SCIENTIFIC ANGLE.

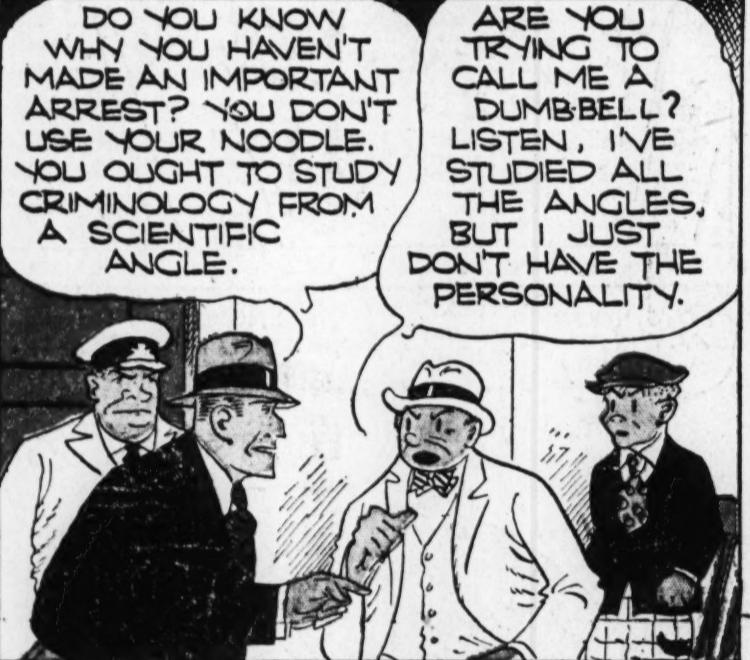

ARE YOU TRYING TO CALL ME A DUMBBELL? LISTEN, I'VE STUDIED ALL THE ANGLES, BUT I JUST DON'T HAVE THE PERSONALITY.

LOOK HERE, PAT! FOR AN EXAMPLE - I'LL BET YOU CAN'T HANDLE THIS AUTOMATIC OF YOURS SO THAT I CAN'T GET YOUR FINGERPRINTS OFF OF IT.

DON'T BE CRAZY! THAT'S A CINCH!

ALL I'VE GOT TO DO IS TAKE MY HANDKERCHIEF - WIPE EVERY BIT OF THE ROD'S SURFACE AND MY PRINTS ARE GONE. THERE.

OKAY.

THE DRINK THAT KEEPS YOU GOING

Order by the case (24 bottles) from your dealer.... Keep it cold and ready to serve in your refrigerator.
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
Atlanta, Ga.

JA. 1507

THE WORLD'S

The Atlanta Constitution, Sunday, August 19, 1934.

GREATEST COMICS

Look

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION FURNISHES YOUR BEST AUDIENCE! IT CONSISTS OF 40,063 FAMILIES TO WHOM THE CONSTITUTION IS HOME-DELIVERED, THIS BEING 6,553 MORE FAMILIES THAN THE SECOND LOCAL NEWSPAPER AND 9,831 MORE THAN THE THIRD REACHES DAILY.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS
COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA. SUNDAY, AUGUST 19, 1984

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

© 1934, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc.—TM, Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

TARZAN'S COMBAT

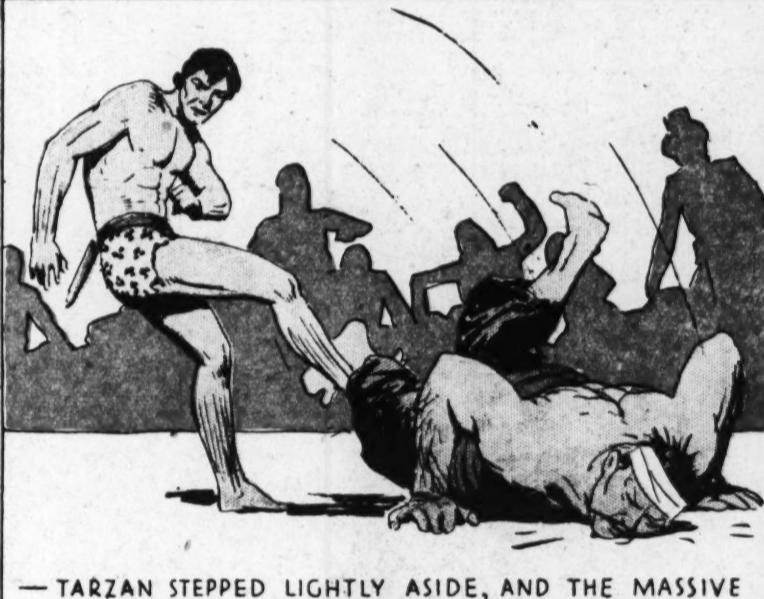

BY THE SULTAN'S COMMAND TARZAN PREPARED TO MEET HOUSAN, CHAMPION WRESTLER OF THE REALM. IF HE WON, HE AND THE MAIDEN WOULD GO FREE — IF HE LOST, THEY WOULD LOSE THEIR HEADS!

THE GREAT HALL FILLED WITH HIGH OFFICIALS OF THE COURT, WHO HAD BEEN INVITED TO WITNESS THE SPECTACULAR COMBAT.

IN A SHADOWY CORNER STOOD THE MAIDEN, CLOSELY GUARDED, AWAITING THE BATTLE THAT WOULD DETERMINE HER FATE

THEN THE SULTAN GAVE THE SIGNAL TO BEGIN! HOUSAN MADE A FLYING LEAP AT THE APE-MAN, BUT —

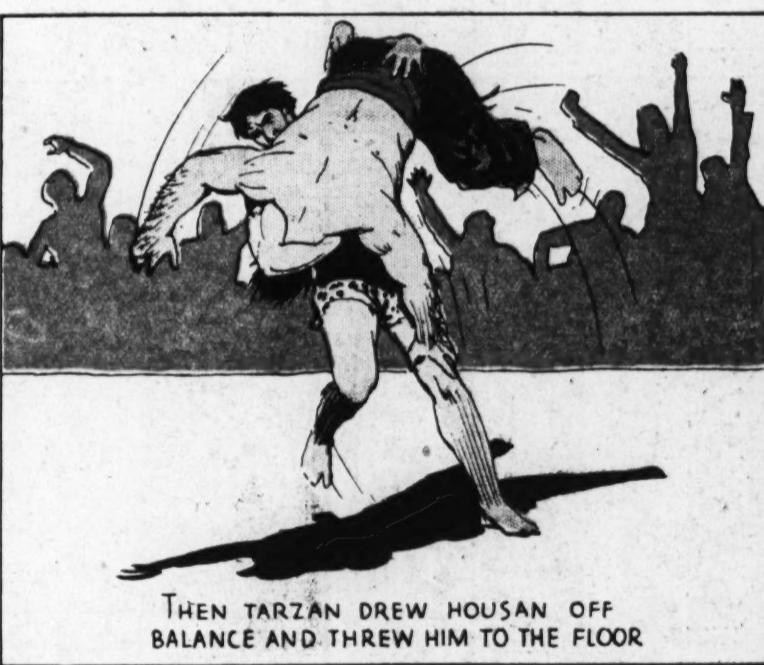

— TARZAN STEPPED LIGHTLY ASIDE, AND THE MASSIVE WRESTLER FELL SPRAWLING TO THE FLOOR

HOUSAN AROSE, AND THE TWO COMBATANTS SOON WERE LOCKED IN A FURIOUS STRUGGLE

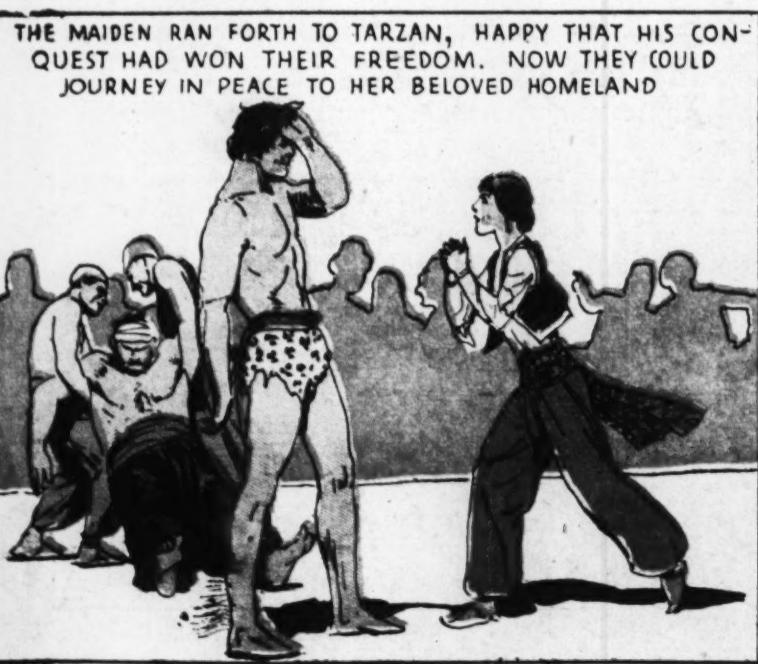

THE AWKWARD GIANT, ACCUSTOMED TO QUICK VICTORY BY FORCE OF HIS WEIGHT, GREW WEARY UNDER THE WRY APE-MAN'S LIGHTNING ATTACK.

THEN TARZAN DREW HOUSAN OFF BALANCE AND THREW HIM TO THE FLOOR

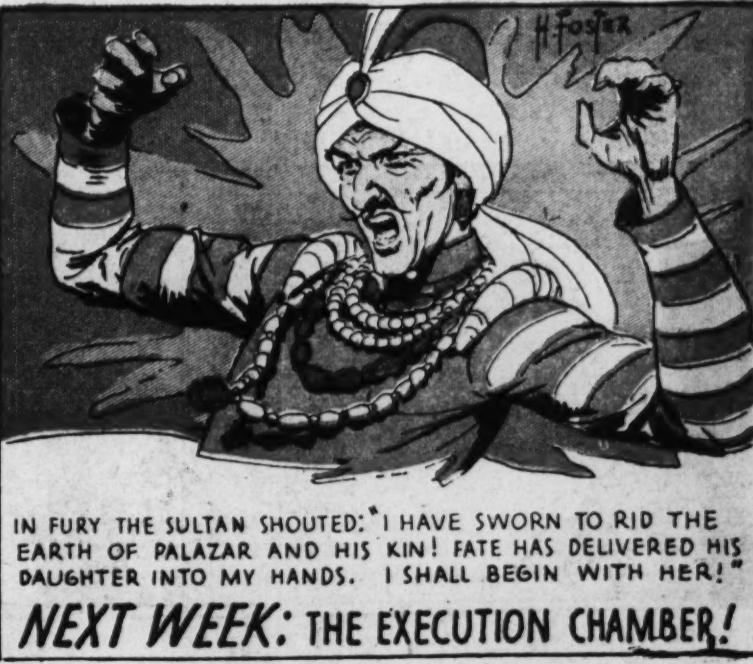

AT LAST THE GREAT HALL RANG WITH TARZAN'S APE-CRY OF VICTORY

THE MAIDEN RAN FORTH TO TARZAN, HAPPY THAT HIS CONQUEST HAD WON THEIR FREEDOM. NOW THEY COULD JOURNEY IN PEACE TO HER BELOVED HOMELAND

JUST THEN THE GRAND VIZIER SAW HER. HE CRIED: "SHE IS PRINCESS MIHRAMA, DAUGHTER OF THE SULTAN PALAZAR, OUR ENEMY! DO NOT LET HER ESCAPE!"

IN FURY THE SULTAN SHOUTED: "I HAVE SWORN TO RID THE EARTH OF PALAZAR AND HIS KIN! FATE HAS DELIVERED HIS DAUGHTER INTO MY HANDS. I SHALL BEGIN WITH HER!"

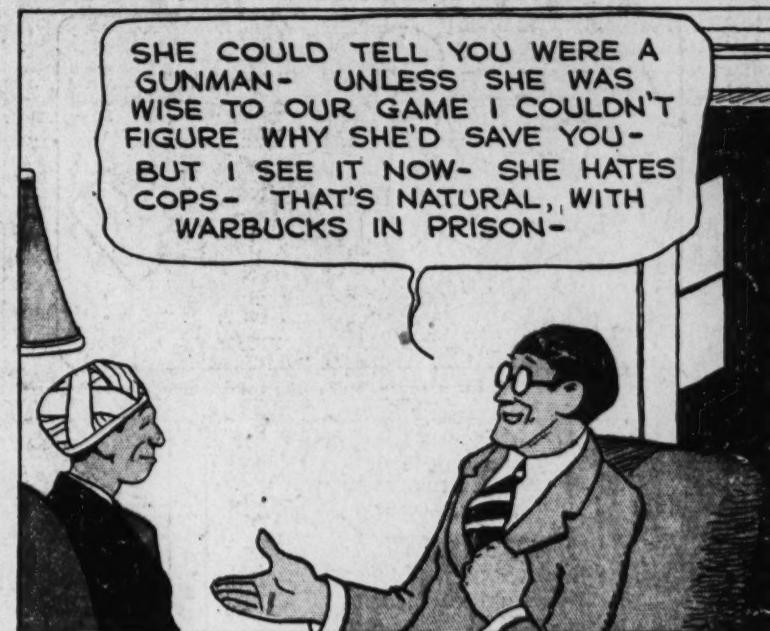

NEXT WEEK: THE EXECUTION CHAMBER!

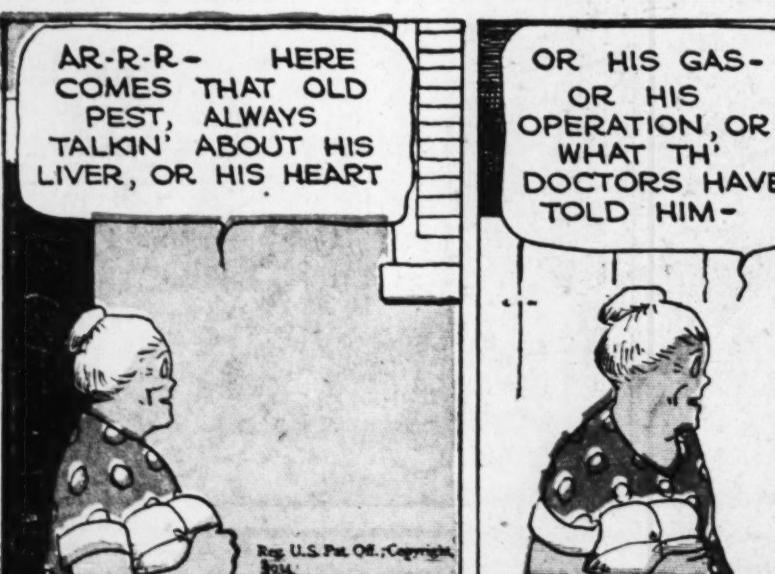

ALWAYS REFRESHING
MORE REAL PLEASURE

BEECH-NUT GUM

"CELLOPHANE" PROTECTS ITS FINE FLAVOR

Maw Green

WOMEN PREFER THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION!

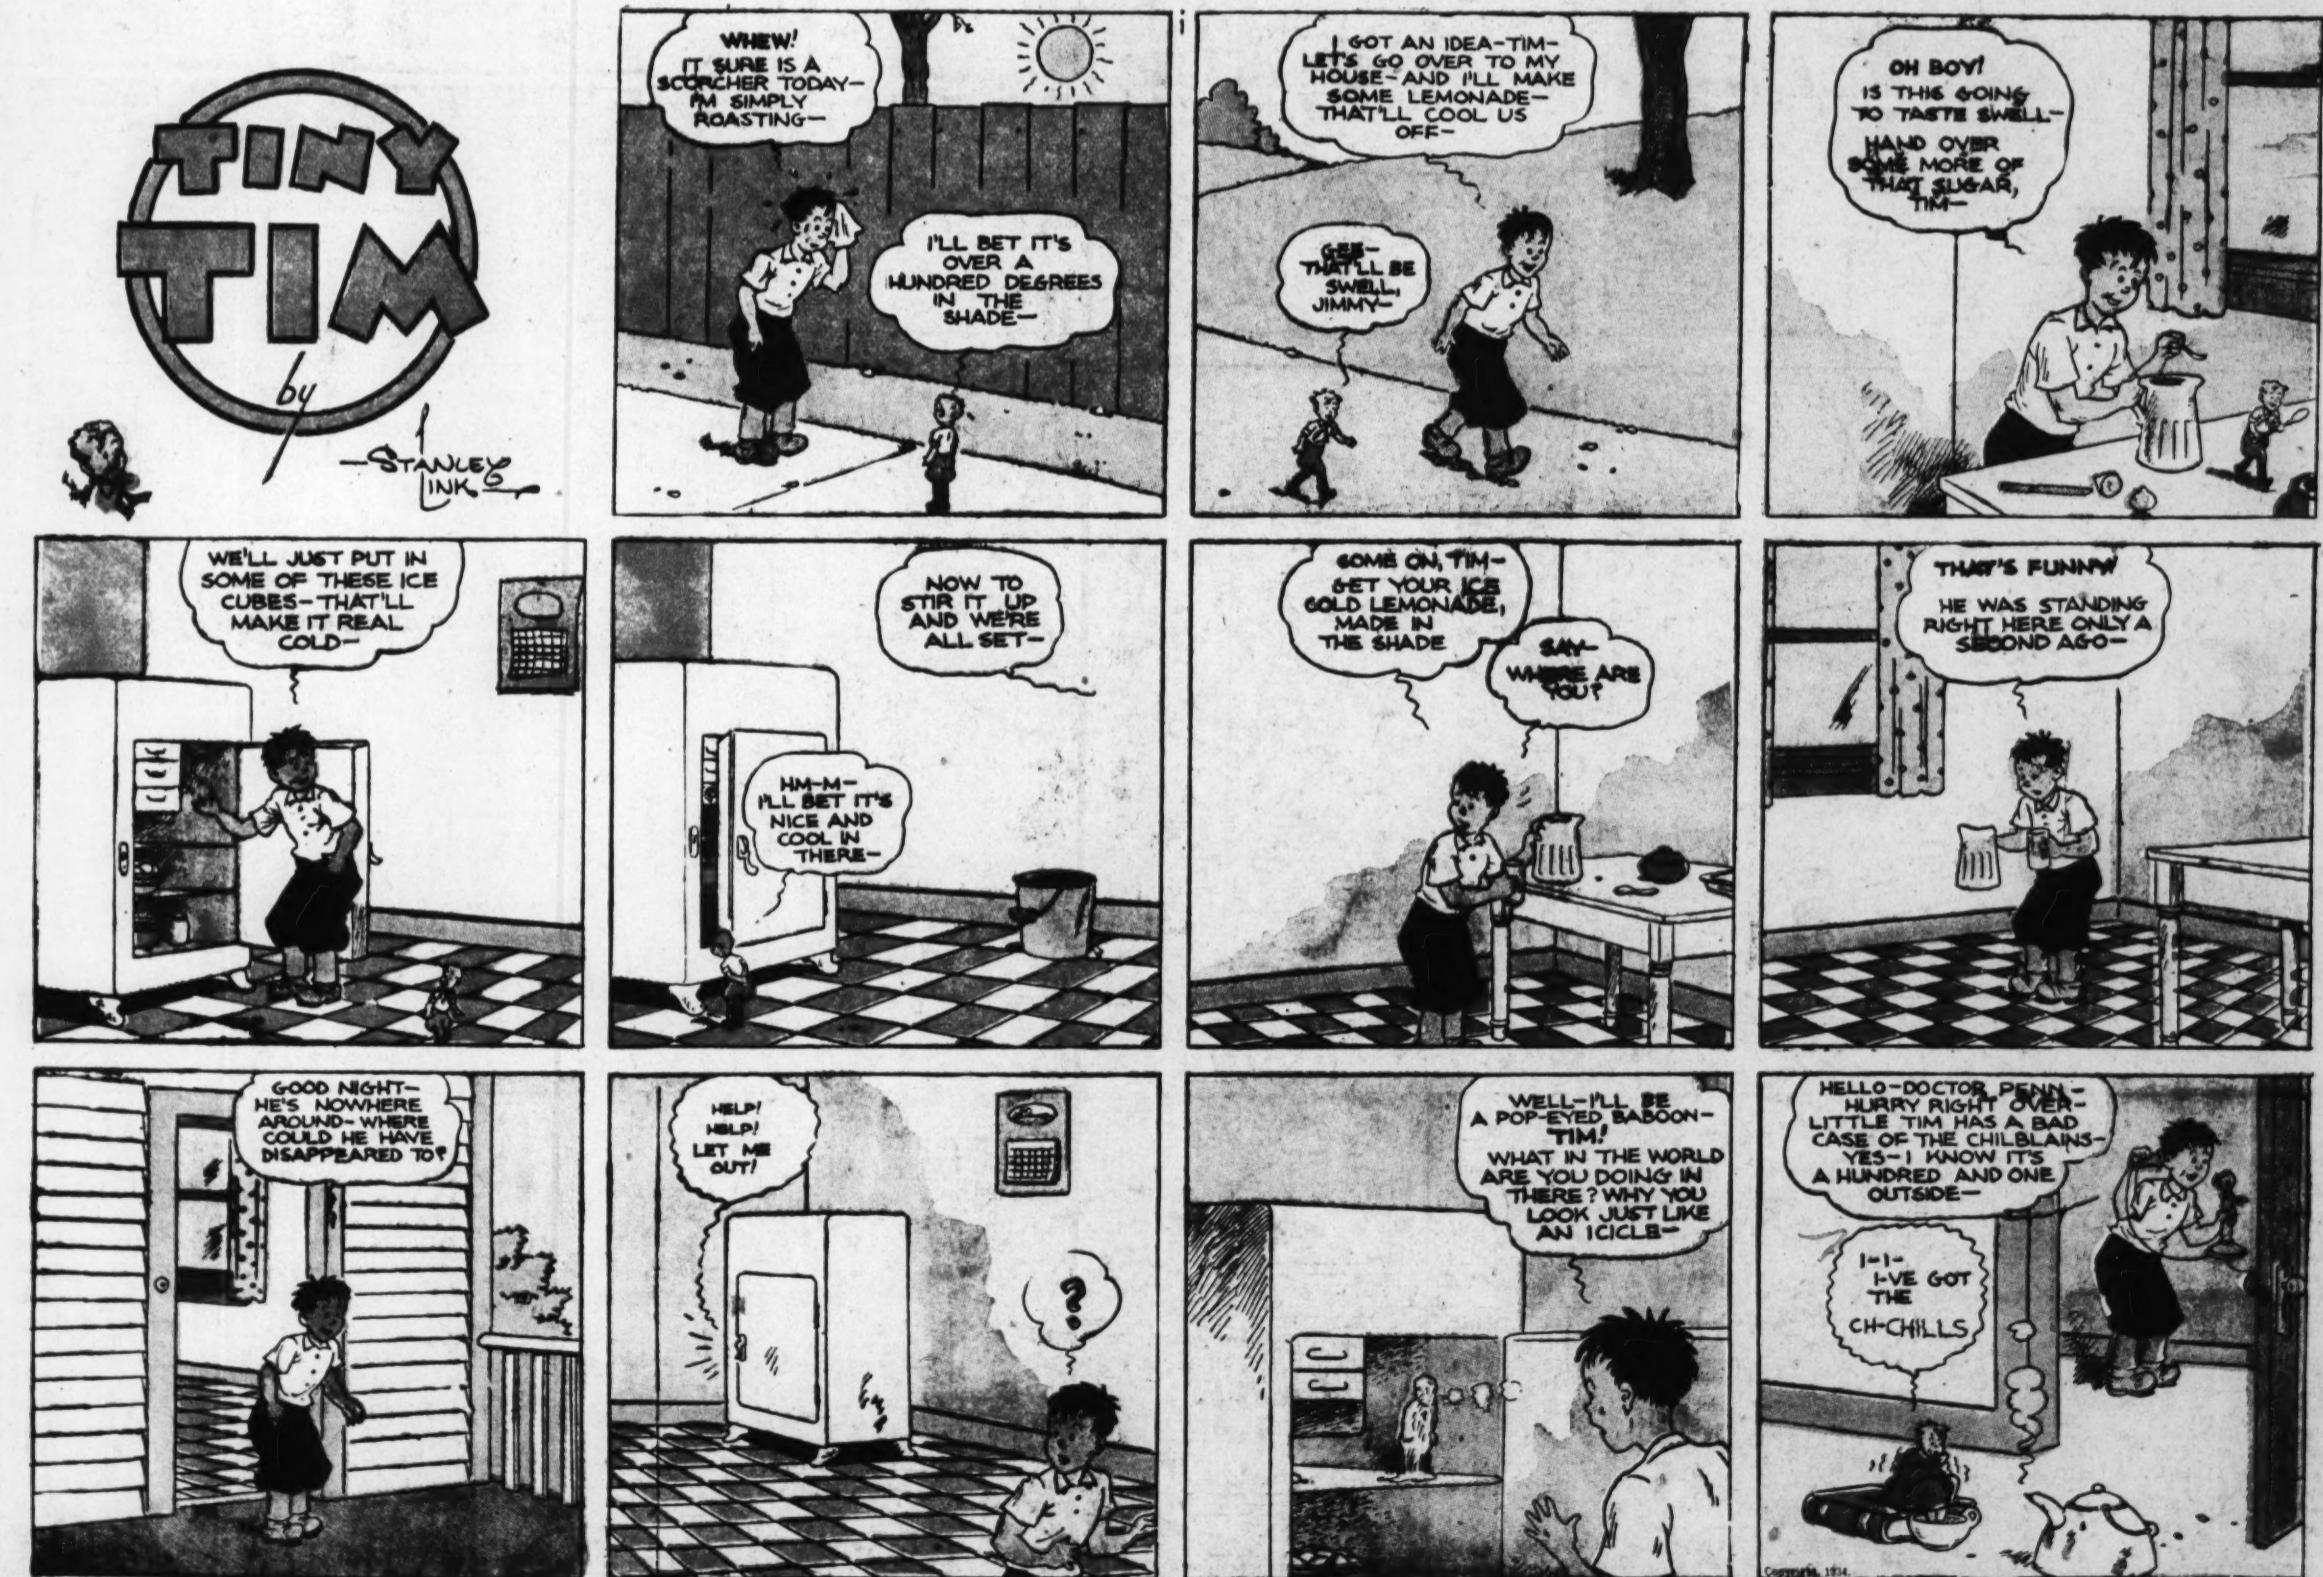

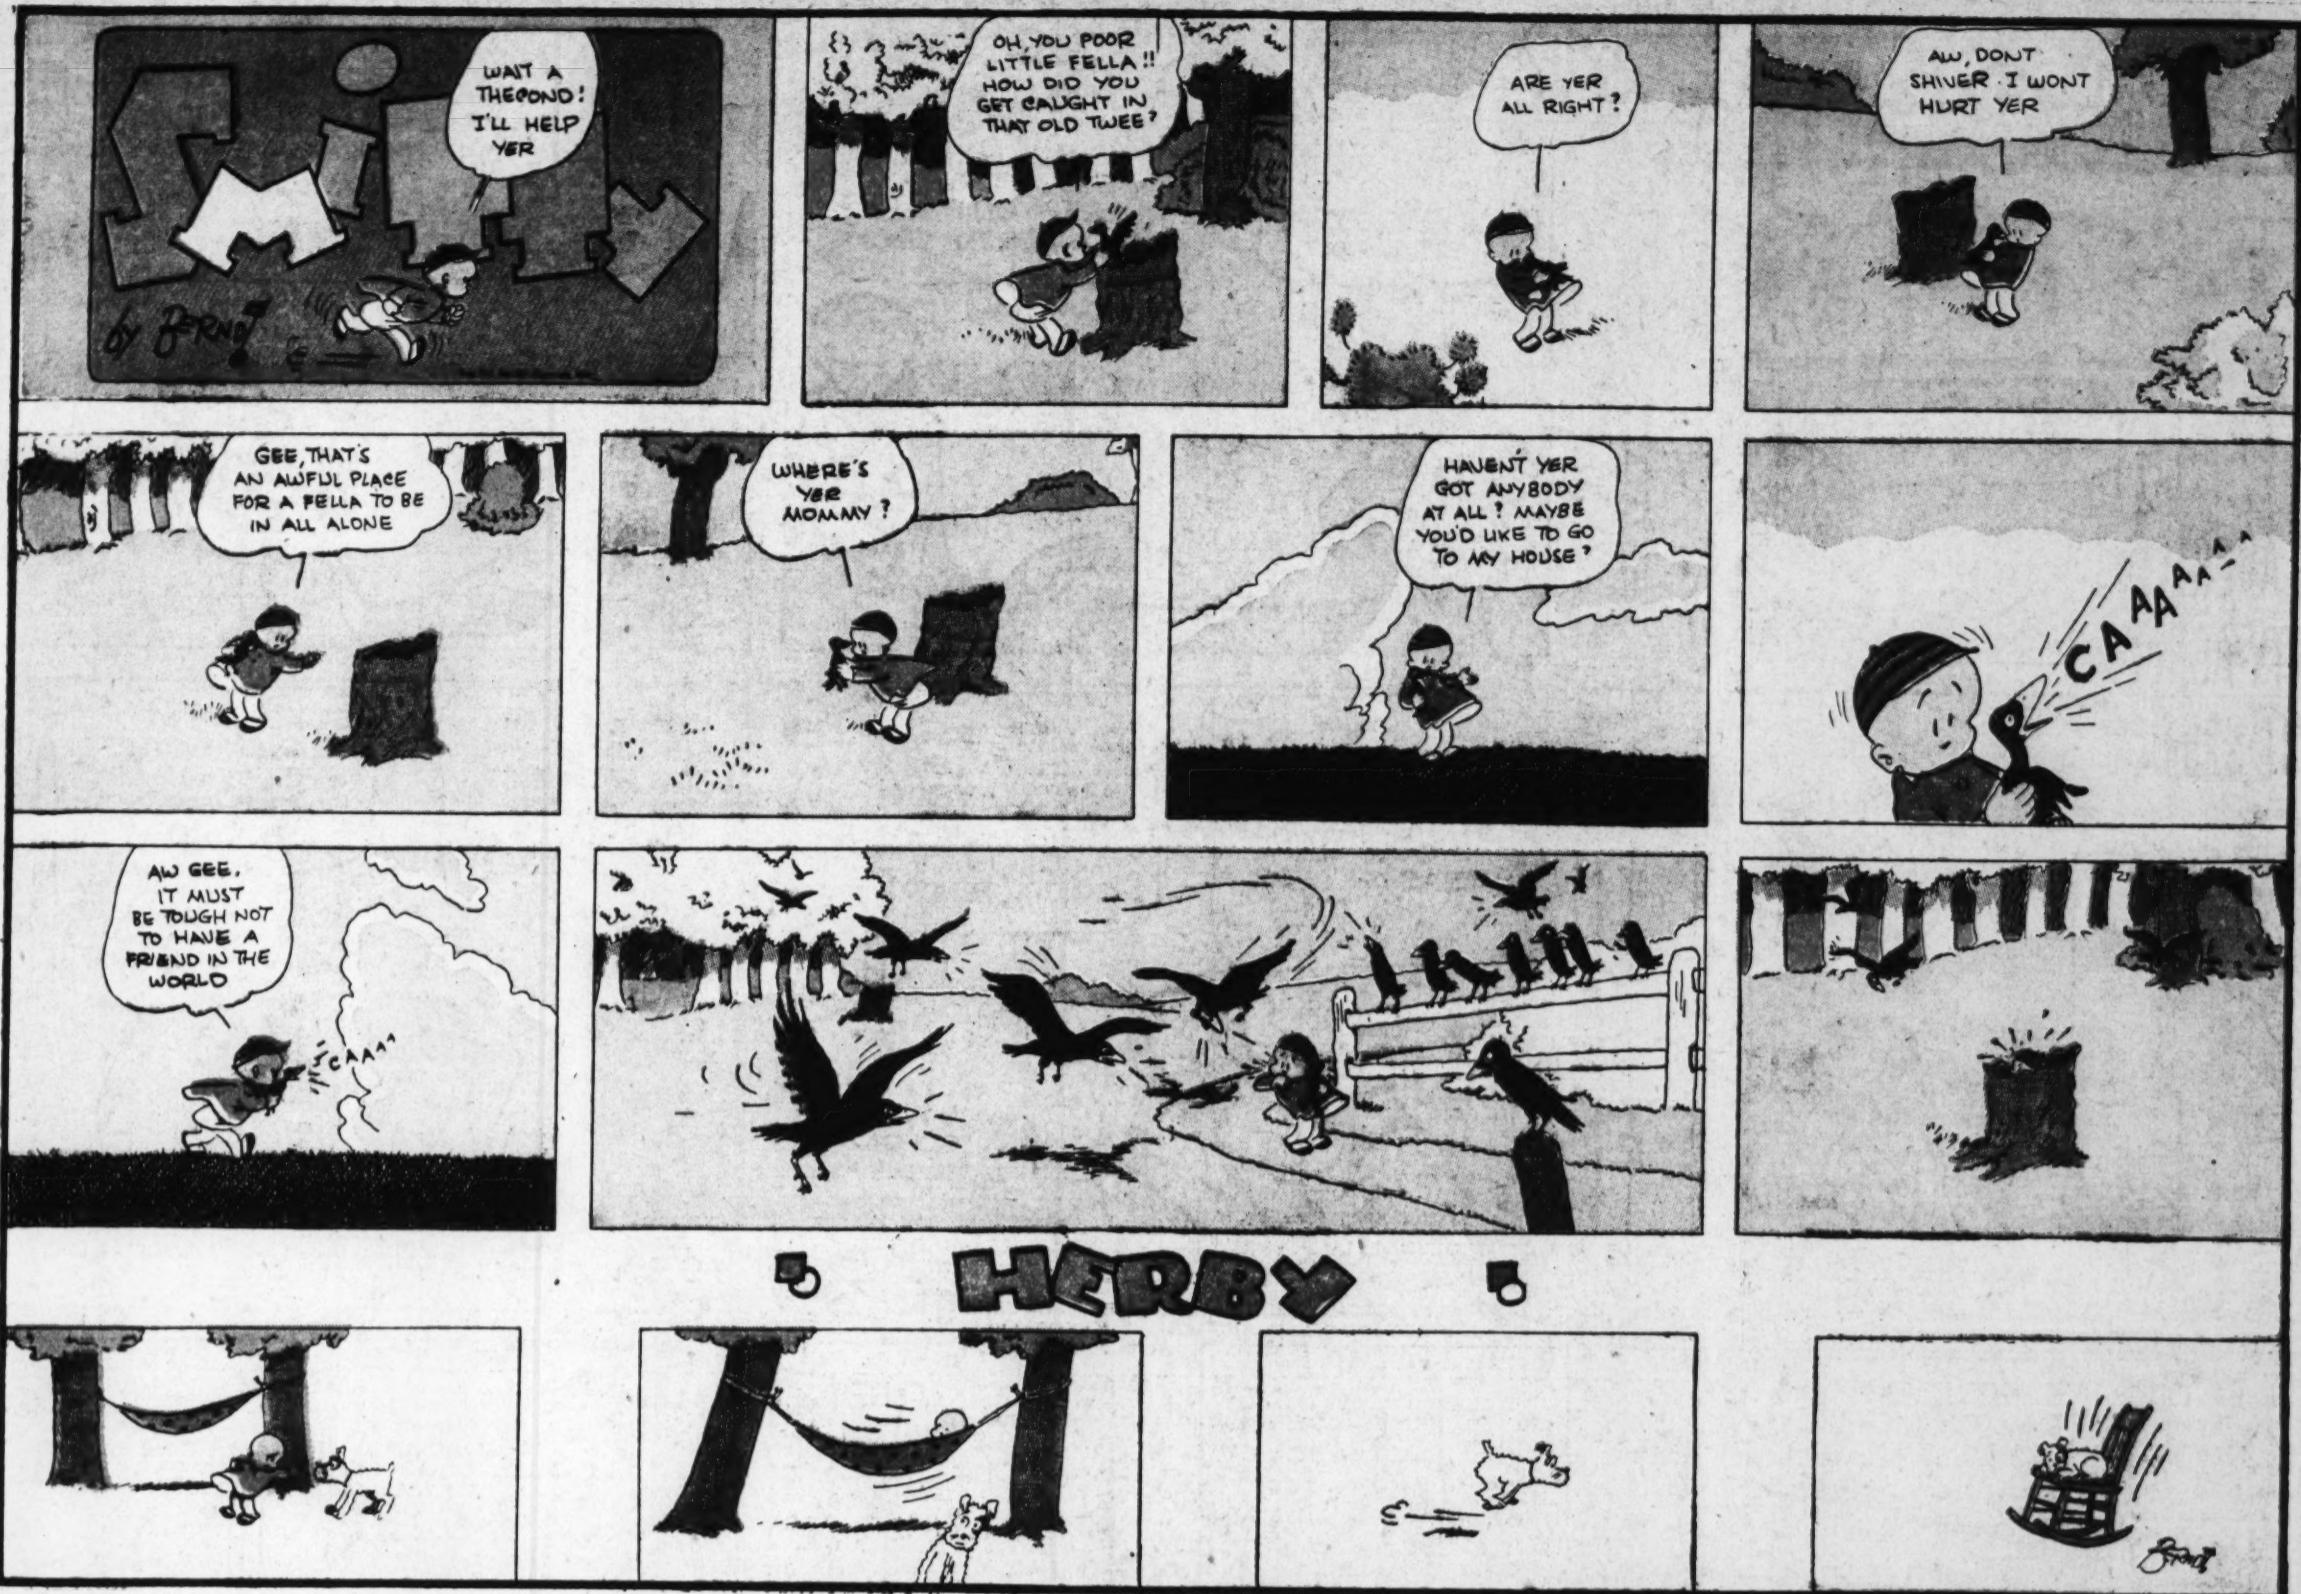

WOMEN PREFER TO SHOP THROUGH THE COLUMNS OF THE CONSTITUTION! THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION DAILY IS PREFERRED BY AN EXCESS OF 11,000 MORE HOMES THAN ANY OTHER ATLANTA NEWSPAPER.

COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, AUGUST 19, 1934.

BETTER THAN EVER DRINK A FAVORITE WITH MILLIONS

Nugrape-Soda